1. From the Synod of Kentucky:

The Synod of Kentucky overtures the General Assembly to amend the Form of Government by adding two new chapters as follows:

UNION SYNODS

A Synod of this church may unite to form a union Synod with a Synod of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America) with the approval of each General Assembly, provided that the following Plan of Union is adopted by the Union Synod so formed:

a. This plan of union is adopted by the Synod of ..... and the Synod of ....., effective as of ..... when each of the Synods has approved the plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a stated meeting, the matter having been published beforehand on its docket, or at a meeting specifically called for such a purpose; and when the union and the particular plan have been ratified by a majority vote in two-thirds of the Presbyteries of each uniting Synod; and when the particular plan has been approved by each General Assembly.

b. The purpose of the union shall be the furtherance of a united witness and mission for all churches and presbyteries within the union Synod; the administration of a single program of nurture and service; and the responsible fulfillment of the functions and duties of a synod as specified in the constitutions of both Churches.

c. The union Synod shall be subject to the constitutions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America as set forth below:

(1) The Synod shall submit its records at least annually, and whenever requested, to both General Assemblies.

(2) The union Synod shall be under the discipline of the General Assemblies according to standing rules agreed upon in harmony with the constitutions of the two denominations where they coincide; and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the laws of either church where the other is permissive; and at the choice of the Synod where they may be contradictory.

(3) Wherever the constitutions of the two denominations differ, the mandatory provisions of the one shall apply in all cases where the other is permissive. Wherever there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in (2) above), the union Synod shall overture the General Assemblies of both denominations to resolve the conflict, either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

(4) Complaints against the actions of the Synod shall be made to one General Assembly only, at the choice of the Synod, and its decisions shall be binding on all parties to such action.

d. The membership of the union Synod shall consist of all ministers and churches of all the presbyteries within the area encompassed by the uniting Synods. The union Synod may decide to organize itself as a delegated Synod under the general provisions of C. (3) above.

e. By this act of uniting synods of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, all churches and presbyteries within the jurisdiction of the uniting synods shall become union churches and union presbyteries, and shall be governed according to the applicable provisions of this constitution.

f. The union Synod shall cause a corporation to be formed under the appropriate laws of the state (where permissible), which corporation shall include in its articles or charter the substance of Sections a, b, and c above. All property of the uniting Synods, real and personal, shall be transferred to the corporation (or corporations) formed under this section. The new corporation shall be the legal successor of the corporations, if any, of the uniting synods, and it shall be bound to administer any trust property or monies received in accordance with the provisions of the original establishment of the trust. All liabilities of either uniting Synod shall be liabilities of the union Synod. In any state where a church corporation is forbidden, the purpose of this paragraph shall be achieved in harmony with the law of that state.

g. If the union Synod should at any time cease to operate under this plan of union as it is or as it may be modified by both denominations acting concurrently, all property, real and personal, of the union Synod shall be divided between the denomniations or their courts of jurisdiction on the basis of the origin of said property, if such is determinable. If the origin be not determinable, then the property shall be divided equally between the denominations or their courts of jurisdiction, as may be proper.

h. The union Synod shall adopt standing rules which shall define the operation of Synod in such manner as to fulfill the functions of synods as defined in the constitutions of both denominations.

i. Each minister in a Synod staff position shall be, or become, a member of a presbytery within Synod.

j. No provision in this plan of union shall be construed as modifying or amending the Constitution of this Church in its application to any but union Synods organized under this Chapter.

UNION PRESBYTERIES (Classes)

Note: The text for this proposed chapter in the Constitution is identical with that proposed by the Presbytery of Central Texas, and therefore is not printed here again.

2. From the Synod of Missouri

Whereas, the Synod of Missouri of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Synod of Missouri, Presbyterian Church in the United States, have a common background historically, with churches in both synods, now in the latter part of the second century of continual existence, witnessing to this common origin; and

Whereas, during the more than one hundred years of separation a common Reformed doctrine has maintained with theology and constitution, Book of Common Worship and Discipline congruent; and

Whereas, our mission is identical and compatible as evidence in our various joint work and joint support of such institutions as Westminster College, the Missouri Presbyterian Children's Home at Farmington, the Columbia and other student centers and Presbyterian Home-Life; and

Whereas, our two denominations are not sufficiently strong when functioning separately to adequately carry out the proper mission of Presbyterians in the state; and

Whereas, ministers in Missouri move easily and naturally between the two branches and members make such transfers with little knowledge or concern with the different denominational lines; and

Whereas, the challenge and need of this area call for the most effective and united witness to our faith; and

Whereas, the General Assemblies of both Churches have recognized the validity and wisdom of union through their approval of united churches whereby local congregations in many areas of the Assembly have united under this plan to achieve a more effective witness:

Now, therefore, the Synod of Missouri respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to amend the Book of Church Order by the addition of a chapter to the Form of Government permitting the union of Synods and Presbyteries of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

3. From the Presbytery of Missouri:

The Presbytery of Missouri respectfully overtures the General Assembly that the Book of Church Order be amended to add the following chapter to the Form of Government:

(Note: The text of this proposed chapter on union Synods is the same as that proposed by the overture of the Synod of Kentucky to the 1967 General Assembly. See Overture 1.)

4. From the Presbytery of Potosi:

The Presbytery of Potosi overtures the General Assembly that the Book of Church Order be amended to add the following chapter to the Form of Government:

(Note: The text of this proposed chapter on union Synods is the same as that proposed by the overture of the Synod of Kentucky to the 1967 General Assembly. See Overture 1.)

77. From the Synod of Oklahoma:

Whereas, in the providence of God, the Synod of Oklahoma, Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Synod of Oklahoma-Arkansas UPUSA in the geographical area of the State of Oklahoma have been charged with similar or the same responsibilities; and,

Whereas, a larger parish containing churches from each Synod, a history of program co-operation, ministers of each are in association with one another, and the Synods have affirmed their intent to work together wherever possible; and,

Whereas, ministers move between the two Presbyterian Church bodies freely; and,

Whereas, our mission being identical, we are compelled to seek every means possible for cooperation; and,

Whereas, during the more than one hundred years of separation a common Reformed Doctrine, Theology and Constitution, Book of Common Worship and Discipline has been maintained;

Now therefore, the Synod of Oklahoma respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to amend the Book of Church Order to provide for union Synods and union Presbyteries.

5. From the Synod of Mississippi:

Whereas the 106th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church US, made our denomination a participating member of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU), commonly referred to as the "Blake-Pike Plan"; and

Whereas this plan involves plans for union with other ecclesiastical bodies whose doctrines and order are not that of Reformed and Presbyterian churches; and

Whereas over one-half of the church membership of the denominations participating are members of churches which are Arminian in doctrine; and

Whereas the recent consultation of COCU, in Dallas, Texas, resulted in stated implications that the prospective union of the member churches would involve a bishopric in the espiscopal sense, a doctrinal position that would require no adherence to any certain creed, and the stated possibility of new future creeds; and

Whereas there is doubt as to the constitutionality of power of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church US to effect a union with churches not holding the doctrine and order of the Presbyterian Church US, Book of Church Order, Chapter 18-6 (17);

Therefore, be it resolved that the Synod of Mississippi, in accordance with its powers listed in the Book of Church Order, paragraph 17-5 (9), (6), and (7)

1. Overture the 1967 General Assembly to rescind the action of the 106th General Assembly, which made the Presbyterian Church US a participant in the Consultation on Church Union.
2. Appoint a committee to study the implications of the action of the 106th General Assembly in involving our church in consultations on church union with non-Reformed churches as these bear upon (a) the integrity of the Reformed faith; (b) the relationship of this Synod to the Presbyterian Church US, should our denomination move from consultation for such union to actual act of merger.

6. From the Presbytery of the Everglades:

Whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States at its 106th annual session held April 21-26th in Montreat, North Carolina, voted to become a full participant in the Consultation On Church Union (COCU) more popularly known as the "Blake-Pike Plan," and

Whereas this Presbytery believes that such action is inimical to the interest of our Church and contrary to its Standards

Now—therefore, the Presbytery of the Everglades respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to take immediate and decisive action terminating our relationship to the Consultation On Church Union and continuing plans already in progress looking toward union with the Reformed Church in America.

7. From the Presbytery of Knoxville:

The Presbytery of Knoxville respectfully overtures the 1967 General Assembly to have its Judicial Commission make a study of the constitutionality of membership in the Consultation on Church Union.

8. From the Presbytery of Asheville:

In view of the ambiguity of the situation facing our church due to the General Assembly's action that we join in "full participation" in COCU, and the advanced stage of negotiations with that organization into which we have been precipitated:

And because the entire issue of our church's participation in negotiations with COCU involves a constitutional question posed by the clear statement of our Book of Church Order that the General Assembly has authority "to unite with other ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed to the doctrines and order of this church," none of which is assured in the proposed United Church:

And because four previous General Assemblies have upheld the constitutional questions quoted above:

And because this entire matter is gravely disrupting the peace and harmony of our church:

The Presbytery of Asheville hereby overtures the General Assembly requesting that the outline of church union already adopted, officially, entitled "Principles of Church Union," be sent down to the presbyteries during the next year for approval or disapproval.

9. From the Presbytery of East Alabama:

Whereas, on April 26, 1966, The General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church, U. S. passed a resolution to become a full participant of the Consultation on Church Union (Blake-Pike plan); and,

Whereas, This action was taken upon a resolution properly introduced by six Commissioners to such Assembly; but no Presbytery had sent any overture asking the Assembly to participate; and,

Whereas, it is in proper order and decorum under The Presbyterian System of Church Government for a Court of The Church such as East Alabama Presbytery, here duly assembled to speak its sense on such participation; and,

Whereas, we have no attitude of hostility toward any other denomination but have a genuine love and mutual respect for all our brothers in Christ; and,

Whereas, we too long for the day when "every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess" that Christ Jesus is the Lord; but we sincerely believe that before there can be One Church there must be One Faith; and,

Whereas, because of that conviction, we are a confessional church with a tremendous zeal for our system of doctrine which principle limits our ability and willingness to unite with other ecclesiastical bodies as is clearly set out in our Constitution in The Book of Church Order, Sec. 18-6 (17) which gives The General Assembly the power, only after the consent of three-fourths (¾) of the Presbyteries.

> "to unite with other ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed to the doctrines and order of this Church" (emphasis supplied); and,

Whereas, thus the Constitution of The Presbyterian Church in the United States positively precludes our denomination from entering into organic system of doctrine and form of government, as other General Assemblies have recently ruled (see Minutes 1961 General Assembly, Page 72, Minutes 1962 General Assembly Pages 30 and 73, Minutes 1963 General Assembly Page 37, and Minutes 1964 General Assembly Page 65); and,

Whereas, many of the participants in the Church Union historically have such divergent views from our Church, and The Principles on Church Union already approved and published by such participants are not in conformity but in conflict with much of the doctrine and order of the Presbyterian Church in The United States; and,

Whereas, for us to proceed with such full participation in proposed plans for such a union without first amending the Constitution of our Church would be a mischievous innovation, destructive of sound discipline and inimical to proper procedure; and,

Whereas, this aforementioned action of the 106th General Assembly ignored and violated the Constitution of our Church and the Constitutional precedents of previous General Assemblies.

Now Therefore, these premises considered, East Alabama Presbytery hereby overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in The United States to discontinue forthwith all participation in the Consultation on Church Union.

10. From the Presbytery of Harmony:

Whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States at its last meeting voted to become a participant in the Consultation on Church Union (COCU) more popularly known as the "Blake Pike Plan," and

Whereas, under the constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the General Assembly is only authorized to unite with other ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed with the doctrines and order of this church, and then such union may be effected only by the mode of procedure defined in the form of government of this church, and

Whereas, such a union would involve a renunciation of the Presbyterian Faith and Order to which we by solemn ordination vows are committeed to defend,

Now Therefore, Harmony Presbytery, synod of South Carolina respectfully overtures the General Assembly to urge the Judicial Commission to make a careful study of the constitutionality of all the matters pertaining to our denomination becoming one of the uniting churches under the plan now proposed in COCU.

11. From the Presbytery of Tuscaloosa:

Whereas we believe our constitution nowhere gives our General Assembly authority to vote our Presbyterian Church U.S. to be a participant in the Consultation on Church Union; and

Whereas our Book of Church Order, Par. 18-6 (17) says, "The General Assembly shall have power: 'To unite with other ecclesiastical bodies whose ORGANIZATION IS CONFORMED TO THE DOCTRINES AND ORDER of this Church' "; and

Whereas the Consultation on Church Union is NOT so conformed;

Therefore the Presbytery of Tuscaloosa overtures the 107th General Assembly to withdraw immediately from all participation by the Presbyterian Church U.S. in the Consultation on Church Union.

26. From the Synod of Appalachia:

In view of the recent action of our General Assembly making us a full participant in the Consultation on Church Union and in light of the fact that the Joint Committee of Twenty-four had cancelled the plan to have a presentation and a discussion of the negotiations between our Church and the Reformed Church before each Synod of our Church and the particular Synods of the Reformed Church;

Therefore, the Synod of Appalachia respectfully overtures the General Assembly to withdraw its representatives from the Consultation on Church Union.

27. From the Synod of Appalachia:

Whereas, the 106th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States determined to commit this Church to full participation in the Consultation on Church Union and appointed a committee of nine to implement its decision, and

Whereas, the Synod of Appalachia is uncertain as to whether the full implication of this action is clearly apparent to the entire constituency of our communion, especially with respect to the firm commitment of the other participating denominations to a statement of "principles of union" requiring commitment which is irrevocable and irreversible on such matters as unification of ministry and membership and the historic episcopate, and

Whereas, the Synod of Appalachia believes that action of such far reaching significance should be the subject of widespread study and evaluation by the whole church and considered in depth by the presbyteries and

Whereas, the Synod of Appalachia believes that final commitment to the fixed principles of the Consultation of Church Union should be made only after deliberate study and consideration and the full and complete understanding of the action taken by the Consultation on Church Union at its Dallas meeting in May 1966 and proposed for its next meeting in 1967.

Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved that the Synod of Appalachia respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly to advise the officials of the Consultation on Church Union that pending a study in depth of the "principles of church union" already agreed upon and all that is involved in these principles, the Presbyterian Church in the United States is not prepared to continue as a "full participant" but will continue to send observers to all meetings as in the past.

28. From the Synod of South Carolina:

The Synod of South Carolina respectfully overtures the General Assembly to withdraw from active participation in the Consultation On Church Union and restore the policy of sending observers.

29. From the Presbytery of Augusta-Macon:

The Presbytery of Augusta-Macon overtures the General Assembly of 1967 of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to submit to a vote of the Presbyteries the question of whether or not the Presbyterian Church in the United States should continue to participate in the Consultation on Church Union.

30. From the Presbytery of Florida:

The Presbytery of Florida overtures the 107th General Assembly to rescind the action of the 106th General Assembly making the Church a participating member of the Consultation On Church Unioin."

31. From the Presbytery of South Carolina:

The Presbytery of South Carolina overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. to rescind the action of the 1966 Assembly whereby our church became an active participant in the Consultation on Church Union, thus returning to the status of observer only.

32. From the Presbytery of South Mississippi:

Whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States at its 106th annual session voted to become a full participant in the Consultation On Church Union, and,

Whereas the direction and the agreements that have been accepted thus far in the Consultation On Church Union are contrary to the polity and indifferent toward the doctrinal positions of our Church, to which we as officers in the Presbyterian Church in the United States are committed in our ordination vows, and,

Whereas the Consultation on Church Union has not given clear indication that it intends to consider adequately the doctrinical basis for Church union before actually affecting organic union among its members.

Therefore, the Presbytery of South Mississippi respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly to terminate its role as a full participant in the Consultation On Church Union.

79. From the Session of First Church, Rock Hill, S. C., under Standing Rule 7.4:

Whereas, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in Assembly at Montreat, N. C., on April 26, 1966, did vote to become a full participant in the Consultation on Church Union; and

Whereas, representatives of this Church were appointed and did attend the meeting of said Consultation as participants at Dallas, Texas, on May 2-5, 1966; and

Whereas, the documents issued by the Consultation on Church Union while claiming to present a Plan of Union for a United Church which will be "truly catholic, truly evangelical and truly reformed," actually represent a radical departure from the Reformed doctrines and government of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; and

Whereas, the ruling and teaching elders of our Church have sworn to receive and adopt the Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms of this Church as containing the system of doctrine as taught in the Holy Scriptures; and

Whereas, the position of the Consultation on Church Union is out of accord with these standards; and

Whereas, if such union of Churches should be consummated, the renunciation of our officers' ordination vows would be a necessary adjunct; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Session of the First Presbyterian Church, Rock Hill, South Carolina, Presbytery overture the One-Hundredth-Seventh General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to withdraw from further participation in the Consultation on Church Union.

33. From the Presbytery of Brazos:

Whereas the 106th General Assembly voted to become an active participant in the consultation on Church Union,

And Whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church U. S. is very deeply committed to union negotiations with the Reformed Church in America,

Therefore Be It Resolved that the Presbytery of Brazos in the Synod of Texas commend the General Assembly's action in becoming an active participant in the Consultation on Church Union, and gives thanks to Almighty God for the guidance of the Holy Spirit which led this assembly to this momentous and historic decision:

And Be It Further Resolved that the Presbytery of Brazos overture the General Assembly to give every assurance to the Reformed Church in America that this action in no way lessens this denomination's hope for union with their denomination in the near future.

34. From the Presbytery of Potomac:

Whereas the 106th General Assembly affirmed by three significant actions its determination to explore fully the opportunities for reconciliation toward which the Holy Spirit may be calling us, namely:

1. Continuing negotiations with the Reformed Church in America;
2. Full participation in the Consultation on Church Union;
3. Continuing exploration of the problems and possibilities of our future relationships with the United Presbyterian Church; and

Whereas the 179th session of the Synod of Virginia commended with prayerful gratitude this determination;

Therefore be it resolved that the Presbytery of Potomac, affirming the mutually supportive relationship of these three ventures, ask the General Assembly to instruct the Presbyterian, U. S. members of the Committee of Twenty-four, its delegation to the Consultation on Church Union, and its Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations, to keep the church fully informed 1) of progress in their respective assignments; and 2) of ways in which these three ventures might be constructively related.

35. From the Presbytery of Lexington:

Whereas the 106th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. authorized our Church to become a full participant in the Consultation of Church Union and appointed appropriate representatives of our Church to the Consultation and,

Whereas the 179th Session of the Synod of Virginia has communicated to the proper committees of our General Assembly its approval of this action,

Lexington Presbytery overtures the 107th General Assembly commending this forward looking action taken and urges the 107th General Assembly to instruct its proper commtitees to keep our churches fully informed as to the progress of this consultation.

36. From the Presbytery of Lexington:

Whereas in recent years there has been evidenced a spirit of reformation within the Roman Catholic producing certain changes in theological stance and organizational structure and,

Whereas this reformation has been accompanied by a concern for deepening fellowship with Christians of other backgrounds,

Be It Therefore Resolved that Lexington Presbytery overtures the 107th General Assembly to instruct its Permanent Theological Committee to study and inform our Church concerning the changes that have taken place in the theological perspectives of the Roman Catholic Church and to that end that they establish effective dialogue with responsible representatives of that Church.

37. From the Presbytery of Augusta-Macon:

Whereas, the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States of America has continuously made pronouncements and statements of policy upon highly controversial social, political and economic issues, appearing to represent the views and policies of its constituent member churches and the great body of Christian believers composing the membership of its constituent member churches; and

Whereas, in addition to the said public pronouncements and statements of policy, it has, through its various boards, committees, agencies, and other subdivisions of its body, sponsored programs and activities in purely social and political fields, some of which produces dissension between churches within denominations and jeopardizes the peace and unity of the membership of its constituent churches, and serves to invalidate the purposes of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States; and

Whereas, the Presbytery of Augusta-Macon feels that the services rendered by National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States are essential and are of such nature that they will always require some form of interdenominational organization and accordingly, feels that positive action should be taken to preserve the desirable qualities of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States, and to divest it of those characteristics and elements that are destructive of its effectiveness, and produce disharmony within denominations.

Therefore, the Presbytery of Augusta-Macon overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to initiate and continue to seek through its representatives to the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States, action to accomplish the following:

(a) To prohibit the General Assembly or the general board of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States from issuing any pronouncement or other statement upon social, political or economic issues;

(b) To obtain a more wholesome organizational structure of National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States, particularly in the matters of lay and pastoral participation and the quorum of the board;

(c) To correct the apparent trend in the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States toward a disproportionate emphasis upon social, political and economic issues; and

(d) Discontinue the maintenance of the Washington office of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States and all other activities for the purpose of influencing legislation and in particular, legislation in the fields of labor management and foreign policy.

38. From the Presbytery of St. Andrew:

Whereas, The Presbytery of St. Andrew recognizes the fact that the National Council of Churches could be an effective organization in promoting Christian fellowship, and realizes that the National Council of Churches has the potential of being a very worthwhile undertaking, we feel however, that the National Council of Churches has gradually departed from the original ideas and purposes of its existence, and

Whereas, the National Council of Churches finances and sponsors programs and endeavors which are highly controversial and in particular cases are detrimental to the peace and purity of the Presbyterian Church, and

Whereas, the National Council of Churches continues to engage itself, particularly in the State of Mississippi, in areas far removed from what the members of this Presbytery consider the spiritual ministry of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., and

Whereas, the continuing membership of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., in the National Council of Churches is causing considerable dissention among the members of this body and is vitally hindering the effective work of the church, and

Whereas, it is the belief of the Members of this body that it is not best for the Presbyterian Church, U. S., to belong to or subscribe funds to the National Council of Churches,

Now, Therefore, the Presbytery of St. Andrew respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., to withdraw all financial support of and participation in the National Council of Churches.

73. From the Presbytery of Central Texas:

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church in the United States through its General Assembly has repeatedly encouraged the possibility of a union between our denomination and other Reformed ecclesiastical bodies; and

Whereas, the General Assembly is presently engaged in negotiations with the Reformed Church in America; and

Whereas, the General Assembly since 1861 has repeatedly investigated the possibility of reunion with the Presbyterian Church in the United State of America and its successor the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., so much so that for the forty-two (42) years of its existence since 1861 the General Assembly has been in actual negotiations looking toward reunion; and

Whereas, many of the actions and doctrinal amendments of the Presbyterian Church in the United States have been taken in conscious awareness of our common heritage with other prior to 1861; and

Whereas, there is an announced desire on the part of many in the Presbyterian Church in the United States to express their feeling of the national character of the Reformed and Presbyterian Church; and

Whereas, large areas of the Presbyterian Church in the United States overlap the jurisdiction of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. so that not to have a constitutional relation with these brethren is detrimental to the best interests of the Church; and

Whereas, it is imperative to many that any union into which the Presbyterian Church in the United States enters, if it is to have meaning in the context of history and contemporary reality, must include in its intent and plan a stated constitutional relationship, either full organic union or some other possibility, with the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in order to be acceptable; and

Whereas, the argument that the plan of union with the Reformed Church in America is the only possible arrangement deals with the question of its validity on the basis of expediency in preference to necessity or justification in right; and

Whereas, there lies within the present situation the possibility of a broader union and reunion of all bodies of the Reformed faith in this nation who may wish to participate; and

Whereas, it is better to seek a truly inclusive Reformed national union or reunion than hastily to consumate a partial union;

Now, therefore, the Presbytery of Central Texas respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

1. To look with favor on the broadening of the present negotiations with the Reformed Church in America by invitation to other Reformed Churches, and specifically to include the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

2. To instruct its agencies and all committees empowered to negotiate church unions to include in any plan of union a constitutional relationship with the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.
3. To instruct any committee negotiating a proposed union to pursue vigorously the inclusion of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in such a union and report its success to the proceeding General Assembly.
4. To delay if necessary the culmination of present union negotiations with the Reformed Church in America to allow negotiations which would include the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

84. From the Presbytery of Asheville:

Whereas the Committee of 24, which is perfecting a plan of union between the Presbyterian Church US and the Reformed Church in America, has sent to all the churches a "Proposed Form of Government" for study and comment; and

Whereas all courts of the Church have been asked to participate in study and comment upon the various parts of the projected plan of union, as they appear.

Now therefore the Presbytery of Asheville does hereby record its concern in the following particulars and respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church US to concur in a similar expression of concern and transmit the same to the Committee of 24:

1. The Form of Government of the proposed Presbyterian Reformed Church should make provision for the vow taken by officers, so as to include questions containing the following or similar substance: (Sections 28-6, 30-3)

a) Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?
b) Do you sincerely adopt the constitutional documents of this Church as embodying the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?

2. Sections 7-1 and 7-6 of the "Proposed Form of Government" seems to grant to a congregation only the beneficial ownership of its property, and that only upon good behavior as this may be decided by superior courts of the Church. This section should be changed to safeguard congregational ownership of church property as in the present Book of Church Order of the Presbyterian Church US.

3. Sections 31-1, 31-2 and 31-3 of the "Proposed Form of Government" provide that constitutional changes, and union with other Churches, may be accomplished with a two-thirds vote of the presbyteries. It would seem to safeguard peace and harmony in the Church to preserve the rule requiring a three-fourths vote in the presbyteries, as under the present Book of Church Order.

4. The office of "General Pastor" provided for in Section 22-1 has dubious Reformed precedence and would seem to be possible of misunderstanding and of mistreatment in practice. Because Presbyterian churches have not accepted the office of bishop, or viewed with approval any office approaching thereto, it would seem that this provision could well be eliminated from the "Proposed Form of Government."

86. From the Presbytery of St. Johns:

Whereas, a special ad-interim committee was appointed almost two years ago by the Session of the First Presbyterian Church, Orlando, Florida, to make a study of the structure and operations of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in America; and

Whereas, the results of the study are compiled in the attached report which is respectfully submitted for consideration;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Presbytery of St. Johns overture the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, that

1. The Presbyterian Church in the United States continue participation in the National Council of Churches as we feel it is an effective organization serving the member denominations in many areas of Christian life, and

2. That we see no merit in attempts to withhold funds which might indirectly reach the National Council; and

3. That we request our General Assembly to inform the National Council of Churches:

(a) Of its disapproval of methods of presenting policy statements as indicative of our denomination's thinking.

(b) Of the failure of the National Council to insure that its policy statements or public utterances must be approved and come only from the General Assembly and not from any committee, study, or staff.

88. From the Presbytery of Mecklenburg:

The Presbytery of Mecklenburg respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States requesting that it seek to establish a Union Church Agreement between the Presbyterian Church, U.S. and the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church.

To the Standing Committee on the General Council, 12, 39-42

12. From the Presbytery of Harmony:

Harmony Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to abolish the Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. in as much as the procedures of this Committee are not in keeping with the rules, regulations and policies of our Presbyterian form of government in their circularizing the Church and members. This Report should have been made to the General Assembly for its opinions, consideration, and disposition in that it should not have been sent first to individuals, church members and lower courts for consideration, opinions and actions since we deem this a violation of the rules of the General Assembly. See A Digest of the Acts and Proceedings of the General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in The United States, 1861-1965, pages 115-117. Examples on page 115 are:

1880, p. 212. Pamphlets, bearing upon questions pending before the Assembly, having been put in circulation among the members, the Assembly expresses its disapproval of this method of attempting to influence its decisions as disrespectful to this body and an infringement upon its prerogatives.

1934, p. 32. Overture, asking the Assembly to reiterate its pronouncement against the practice of circularizing ministers and presbyteries in the interest of favorite projects, answered in the affirmative.
(Later Assemblies have reaffirmed this position of the Assembly.)

39. From the Presbytery of East Alabama:

Whereas, we believe that the Ad Interim Committee on New Wineskins? of the General Assembly is trying to solve problems that exist in our Church by using the wrong method, namely centralization, after a modified Episcopal system: and

Whereas, we feel that the institutional structures that need to be improved can be done so within the existing framework of our Presbyterian system as contained in the Book of Church Order,

Therefore, The Presbytery of East Alabama respectfully overtures the General Assembly to withdraw the said pamphlet from circulation and discharge its Ad Interim Committee.

40. From the Presbytery of Hanover:

Whereas under the present system of apportioning benevolence quotas, there is endless confusion concerning Assembly, Synod, and Presbytery askings, and

Whereas, a Presbytery because of its interest in Assembly's Causes, may feel a need to accept Assembly's asking in full even though the Synod of which it is a part has not fully accepted the Assembly's askings, thus creating confusion, a divided loyalty and curbing enthusiasm, and

Whereas we believe that a Synod could more efficiently and effectively carry on its work if that work were confined and limited to the care of the agencies and institutions under its own control, and

Whereas the Presbytery enjoys a direct relationship to the General Assembly through the election of commissioners to the General Assembly by its presbyteries, and

Whereas the General Assembly's promotion of stewardship causes is more sharply and immediately directed to Presbyteries rather than Synods, Therefore, be it resolved that the Presbytery of Hanover respectfully overtures the General Assembly to take appropriate action to provide for the sending of benevolence askings directly to the Presbyteries rather than through the Synods.

41. From the Presbytery of Nashville:

Whereas, the decision of the 1964 General Assembly to adopt "The Benevolence Program of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., "including the Central Treasury Plan of Benevolence Distribution (found on pages 121-132, 1964 General Assembly Minutes) was opposed by approximately 41% of the Commissioners, as well as by representatives of the Board of World Missions and the Board of Annuities and Relief;

Whereas, there continues to be much opposition throughout the General Assembly to this Central Treasury plan which effectively disallows any direct contribution assisting any one Assembly agency without also reducing that agency's receipts from other sources;

Whereas, under the present plan there is no freedom for the individual giver to share even a small sacrificial gift with a favored agency outside the established percentage system adopted by the General Council; and,

Whereas, such a plan as the Central Treasury System may cause some members and Sessions to give less support to General Assembly causes and more support to non-Presbyterian agencies and causes;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Nashville respectfully overtures the General Assembly to adopt the following two amendments to the Central Treasury Plan of 1964:

(1) Amend 1.c.(5) to read:

"Each monthly distribution shall be based on total receipts by or for each agency to date for the year, with the exception of separate contributions received from individuals for $25 or less, sent directly to the agency and marked, 'Over and Above,' and limited to not more than five checks a year."

(2) Amend the Plan by adding the following provision to be known as R.:

"Sessions of congregations which in a given year meet their full presbytery apportionments for the General Assembly budget, or Sessions of congregations which equal their giving record for Assembly benevolences for the previous year plus a normal growth allowance of 2%, may elect to participate in their own Challenge Program or Advance Program and may be assured that such over and above funds contributed, after these requirements have been met, will be exempted from consideration of budget percentages by the Central Treasurer both in the Basic Program and the Advance Program of the General Assembly."

42. From the Presbytery of St. Johns:

The Presbytery of St. Johns respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to direct the Central Treasurer of the General Assembly to close the Treasurer's books as of January 10th each year beginning in 1968, in order that the statistical reports of the local churches may be brought into closer harmony with those of the General Assembly.

To the Standing Committee on Assembly Operation, 13, 43-54, 74-76, 81

13. From the Presbytery of Westminster:

Whereas the office of Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., has increasingly become a task that calls for the highest of prepartion in knowledge of the rules of the Church, the program of the Church and the parliamentary processes; and

Whereas the office of Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., makes increasing demands on the time of the individual chosen to that high office during the year; and

Whereas the present system of electing a Moderator of necessity gives the individual elected no time for arranging his duties and obligations so as to be as free as possible to discharge the duties of Moderator during the year and gives him no opportunity to refresh himself as to the procedures involved in the running of the affairs of the General Assembly and gives him no opportunity to review the entire program of the General Assembly until the moment he is elected;

Therefore Be It Resolved: That the General Assembly take steps to amend the Book of Church Order, Form of Government, Section 13-2, by adding a new sentence following the third sentence:

"The General Assembly shall elect a Vice-Moderator from among the commissioners of the court, who shall automatically be a commissioner to the next meeting, at which he shall be in nomination for Moderator."

43. From the Synod of Georgia:

The Synod of Georgia overtures the General Assembly requesting that the term 'Ministers to Students' and its abbreviated form (Min Stu) be dropped from usage and be replaced by the term 'Campus Minister.'

44. From the Presbytery of Memphis:

The Presbytery of Memphis respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States that Paragraph 11:7 of the Standing Rules of the General Assembly be amended by inserting the following after the second sentence:

"Reports shall be duplicated as soon as possible and distributed to the commissioners at the end of the earliest possible docketed session of the Assembly. It is ordinarily the intention of the Assembly that no report of a Standing Committee be made to it less than one hour after copies of such report have been distributed to the commissioners."

45. From the Presbytery of St. Andrew:

Whereas, the Statistical reports are requested early in January,

Whereas, the local churches require more time to close their books, and compile the information for the reports:

Therefore, the Presbytery of St. Andrew respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., to study and consider providing more time between the end of the Church year and the due date for the statistical reports required of each congregation.

46. From the Presbytery of Bethel:

Bethel Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. that any significant changes in the procedures and order of business of Assembly meetings be submitted to the General Assembly for its consideration and final adoption.

47. From the Presbytery of Central Texas:

Whereas the Presbyterian Church in the United States has historically resisted the agglomeration of power in the hands of any ecclesiastical office or person,

And Whereas this historical position has been abandoned by the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation, which has vested inordinate power in the office of the Stated Clerk of the Assembly and of the Chairman of said Committee,

And Whereas this action of the Committee erodes the democratic Presbyterian procedures and the prerogative of the Moderator, which have traditionally prevailed in the General Assembly of our Church,

Therefore, the Presbytery of Central Texas respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly restore in their fullness the Standing Rules as these existed at the time of the convening of the 106th General Assembly, and that the 107th General Assembly instruct the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to submit in their final form all future proposed changes in the ordering of the Assembly's business of conduct thereof to the Assembly for its consideration prior to their taking effect, de factor or de jure.

48. From the Presbytery of Hanover:

Whereas the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation has announced certain changes in procedure to be followed at the 1967 (107th) General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States;

Which deprive the elected moderator of the General Assembly of the power to appoint committee chairmen for standing committees of the General Assembly, delegating such power to a three-man committee, two members of which may not be members of the General Assembly;

Which call for the establishment of a "Policy Reference Committee" to determine what shall be deemed proper business to come before the Assembly, thereby centralizing authority in the hands of this committee which shall consist of three men; two of whom may not be members of the Assembly, rather than reserving such authority to duly elected commissioners to the Assembly;

Which militate against the introduction from the floor of the Assembly resolutions which could in turn be referred to appropriate committees of the Assembly;

Which tend toward the totalitarian practice of preventing full and free discussion of issues with any and all interested persons through invocation of an ill-defined rule against "lobbying";

Which permits a minority of the commissioners to the Assembly to block changes in the standing rules of the Assembly; and

Whereas such changes in the procedures of the General Assembly as have been proposed by the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation would largely deprive the Assembly of its representational nature;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Hanover overtures the 107th General Assembly to instruct the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation in future to submit in full and final form proposals for all revisions and changes in Assembly operations and procedures to the Assembly for advice and consent before putting such revisions or changes into effect.

49. From the Presbytery of Harmony:

Whereas the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation has announced certain changes in procedure to be followed at the 1967 General Assembly;

Which take from the elected Moderator the powers of appointing Committee Chairman, delegating such powers to a three man committee, two of whom may not be commissioners to the Assembly;

Which deny full participation in the Assembly's Standing Committee work to half of the commissioners, and give no choice of assignment to the other half;

Which establish a "Policy Reference Committee" to determine what are matters proper business to be considered by the Assembly thereby centralizing authority in the hands of three men, two of whom may not be members of the Assembly, rather than in the hands of duly elected commissioners;

Which renders difficult (If not impossible) the introduction of resolutions from the floor which in turn should be referred to appropriate committees;

Which tend to muffle full and free discussion of issues with any and all interested persons through threat of expulsion for "Lobbying."

Therefore the Presbytery of Harmony respectfully requests and urges the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to rescind these announced changes of procedure, and allow the 107th General Assembly to operate by the same procedure which prevailed for the 106th General Assembly.

Therefore Harmony Presbytery overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to instruct the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to submit in full and final form all future proposed changes in the Assembly Operation for consideration and decision prior to taking effect.

50. From the Presbytery of Montgomery:

Whereas the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation has announced certain changes in procedure to be followed at the 1967 General Assembly:

Whereas Montgomery Presbytery strenuously objects to certain procedures announced by the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation; and

Whereas Montgomery Presbytery believes that some of these changes are contrary to the best principles of representative government.

Therefore, the Presbytery of Montgomery urges the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to rescind these announced changes of procedure, and allow the 107th General Assembly to operate according to the same procedure used for the 106th General Assembly,

Therefore, Montgomery Presbytery respectfully overures the General Assembly to instruct the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to submit in full and final form all future proposed changes in assembly operation and reorganization for consideration and adoption by the General Assembly prior to taking effect.

51. From the Presbytery of Potomac:

Whereas the Committee on Assembly Operation has announced changes in the procedures to be used by the General Assembly in its meeting, and

Whereas these changes would promote centralization of power in the Committee on Assembly Operation, and

Whereas these changes are alien to the traditional and cherished democratic processes of Presbyterianism, and

Whereas a continued concentration of authority in the Committee on Assembly Operation would not promote the general welfare of the Church, and

Whereas the Committee on Assembly Operation has drawn to itself increasing functions which could be handled by other agencies of the General Assembly or by the Assembly itself,

Therefore the Presbytery of Potomac respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly: That the 107th General Assembly authorize the General Council to study and recommend to the 108th General Assembly changes and ways in which the functions of the Committee on Assembly Operation can be de-centralized into the work and operation of the General Assembly.

52. From the Presbytery of Red River:

The Presbytery of Red River overtures the General Assembly to authorize the General Council to study and recommend to the 108th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. ways in which the Manual of Operation for the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation and the Standing Rules of the General Assembly might be modified to assure a more deliberative and efficient body for the handling of the work of the Church in subsequent meetings of the General Assembly.

53. From the Presbytery of Washburn:

Washburn Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to reassert and re-establish the General Assembly's right to determine the items of business which should properly come before it rather than allowing this right to be assumed by a Policy Reference Committe.

54. From The Session of The Yeamans Park Presbyterian Church of Charleston Presbytery under Standing Rule 7.4.

This overture was submitted to Charleston Presbytery at the fall meeting and they answered it in the negative but with the observation that there was no objection to submitting it direct to the General Assembly if we so desired.

Whereas, Stated Clerk, James A. Millard, Jr. repeatedly reminded the commissioners to the 106th General Assembly of the expense incident to printing each page of the minutes also his opinion that very few read the minutes of the General Assembly and

Whereas, The minutes of the 196th General Assembly consisted of 117 pages of minutes and 101 pages of Appendix plus 300 pages of Statistics.

Therefore, The Session of Yeamans Park Presbyterian Church respectfully overtures the General Assembly to determine if those receiving copies of minutes of General Assembly make sufficient use of the statistics to justify the expense of including them in the minutes of the General Assembly.

Submission of the above overture to General Assembly was approved by the Session of Yeamans Park Presbyterian Church at their November 17, 1966 meeting.

74. From the Presbytery of Brazos:

Whereas, each Session is required to file with Presbytery each year the Session's Annual Statistical Report on forms furnished by the General Assembly through the office of Presbytery; and

Whereas, many churches from time to time have had (or will have) members to report as "Lost," which have been dismissed concurrently with such member being ordained into the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and joining a Presbytery; and

Whereas, Form A-1 of Session's Annual Statistical Report presently requires that members who have joined a Presbytery be reported as having been "Removed from Roll," along with members (1) who have joined another church without getting a Certificate of Membership and Dismission, (2) who have renounced the jurisdiction of the Church and requested to be removed from the membership roll, or (3) who have been removed from the roll for other cause; and

Whereas, it is incongruous to include persons who have been accepted into our ministry and joined a Presbytery with those who have been dropped from our roll as a result of a censure action; and

Whereas, each Session should be able to report separately members who have joined a Presbytery; and

Whereas, a new supply of forms is printed each year and the revision necessary to correctly state membership losses can easily be made with little or no additional cost the first year and at no additional cost in succeeding years;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Brazos respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to order the revision of Form A-1 of the Session's Annual Statistical Report so as to include an item under the Losses caption for members who have "Joined a Presbytery."

75. From the Presbytery of Brazos:

Whereas, the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America will be holding its General Assembly in San Antonio in 1969; and

Whereas, this is the first time (in many years) that that Assembly has met within the boundaries of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.; and

Whereas, this will provide a unique opportunity for fellowship and witness and worship between separated brethren of the reformed faith; and

Whereas, there has been among many of our people a growing desire for fellowship and consultation with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and

Whereas, the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is also considering holding their General Assembly in San Antonio at this same time; and

Whereas, our joint meeting with the Reformed Church of America in 1967 will set the pattern for fraternal assemblies meeting concurrently;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Brazos respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. to accept the invitation of the First Presbyterian Church of San Antonio to host the meeting of the 1969 General Assembly and to extend to the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church an invitation to hold joint sessions for worship and program during the meetings of the three assemblies.

76. From the Presbytery of New Orleans:

Whereas, the statistical reports on churches in the General Assembly minutes provide no place for the recording of the membership of each church according to family units;

Whereas, many churches find this the most meaningful statistic for evaluating giving, membership, physical needs, and attendance;

And whereas, this figure would be useful to all organizations which mail literature to local congregations;

Therefore, The Presbytery of New Orleans respectfully overtures the General Assembly, requesting that the Office of the General Assembly be directed to include a place for reporting the number of family units represented in each church in The Annual Statistical Report.

81. From the Presbytery of Washburn:

Whereas there is increasing centralization of function vested in agencies of the General Assembly, and,

Whereas informal functions not specified nor delineated in the Constitution of the Church tend to gravitate to functionaries related to the courts of the Church, and,

Whereas clarity of purpose, definition of function and extent of authority are essential elements for the performance of a given executive task;

Therefore, Washburn Presbytery overtures the 107th General Assembly to appoint an ad hoc committee to study the offices and functions of the Moderator and of the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly and bring to the next Assembly definitive Job Descriptions and Task Definitions in the light of the Constitution and the Standing Rules of the General Assembly for approval, as well as recommendations relative to expansion or division of work load.

To The Standing Committee on Judicial Business, 14-25, 55 and a memorial

14. From The Presbytery of Atlanta:

Particular reference being made to Section 16-2(2), the Presbytery of Atlanta respectfully overtures the General Assembly to clarify the responsibilities of retired ministers for securing the approval of presbytery on work in which they desire to engage.

15. From The Presbytery of South Carolina:

Whereas the Book of Church Order Par. 27-5 (4) seems to say that the approval of the examination in the case of an "extra-ordinary" candidate must be sustained at a subsequent meeting of Presbytery;

And Whereas the Book of Church Order Par. 27-5 (4) does not clearly specify whether the approval of the type of examination be made prior to or following the Presbytery's examination of a candidate under the "extra- ordinary clause";

And Whereas it seems impossible to examine a candidate first, and later to decide that the candidate should be approved under the "extra-ordinary clause";

And Whereas this matter works a very real hardship of delay upon both the expectant candidate and the congregation to which he is called if the candidate may not have his ordination and installation plans immediately approved;

Therefore, the Presbytery of South Carolina respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. to render some clarification of the above cited par. 27-5 (4).

16. From The Presbytery of Harmony:

Harmony Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to clarify section 27-5 (4) of the Book of Church Order, especially portion of second sentence which reads:

"And shall be voted upon in a meeting subsequent to the one in which the motion is made"

Can this subsequent meeting be an adjourned meeting of the one in which the motion was made??? If so how much time must elapse before the subsequent meeting is held??

Since no time limit was set our presbytery interpreted it to mean the next day or any time thereafter in an adjourned meeting.

17. From The Presbytery of St. Louis:

Whereas, small congregations in our denomination sometimes find it difficult to secure qualified leaders to serve on the Board of Deacons and also on the Session,

Whereas, complications sometimes arise because of overlapping duties and powers of the Diaconate and the Session, especially in matters of stewardship and Christian nurture,

Whereas, valuable time and energy must be used to interpret issues and actions to both official bodies, not always without misunderstanding,

Whereas, other Reformed Churches, such as the United Presbyterian Church in the USA, do allow local congregations to use a unicameral system of government, Therefore Be It Resolved: That the Presbytery of St. Louis respectfully ovtrture the General Assembly to change the Book of Church Order, the Form of Government, to allow congregations the option of organizing themselves under a unicameral system.

18. From The Presbytery of Washburn:

The Presbytery of Washburn respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States for advice as to whether the Presbytery may approve, on a temporary and experimental basis, the request of a local church to use the unicameral system.

19. From The Presbytery of Hanover:

The Presbytery of Hanover overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to amend Section 16-1 of the Book of Church Order to read as follows:

"The Presbytery consists of all its member ministers and all churches within a certain district. When a Presbytery meets, each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A church whose communicants exceed 750 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 750 communicants."

Section 17-1 shall also be amended in similar manner as follows:

"The Synod consists of all churches in a district comprising at least three Presbyteries and of the ministers who are members of the included Presbyteries. When a Synod meets, each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A Church whose communicants exceed 750 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 750 communicants.

20. From The Presbytery of Potomac:

Whereas there is confusion regarding the role and rights of the local congregation with regards to church property;

The Presbytery of Potomac respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly that it make clear in the Book of Church Order the Presbyterian doctrine regarding the ownership of church property.

21. From the Presbytery of Atlanta:

Whereas, the 106th General Assembly, Presbyterian Church in the United States, saw fit to make an additional statement to "reaffirm the spirit and intent of the 1965 General Assembly statement concerning Civil Disobedience", the full text of said statement to be found at pages 90 and 91 of the Minutes of the 106th General Assembly, and,

Whereas, it attempts to impose an obligation on all "obedient sons and daughters" of the Church, in violation of the Constitution of the Church, and in violation particularly of the following specific provisions of said Constitution:

The Confession of Faith, chapter XXXIII, paragraphs III and IV.

"III. All synods or councils since the apostles' times, whether general or particular, may err, and many have erred; therefore they are not to be made the rule of faith or practice, but to be used as a help in both."

"IV. Synods and councils are to handle or conclude nothing but that which is ecclesiastical; and are not to intermeddle with civil affairs which concern the commonwealth unless by way of humble petition in cases extraordinary; or by way of advice for satisfaction of conscience, if they be thereunto required by the civil magistrate."
The Confession of Faith, chapter XXII, paragraph IV.

"IV. And because the powers which God hath ordained, and the liberty which Christ hath purchased, are not intended by God to destroy, but mutually to uphold and preserve one another; they who, upon pretense of Christian liberty, shall oppose any lawful power, or the lawful exercise of it, whether it be civil or ecclesiastical, resist the ordinance of God. And for their publishing of such opinions, or maintaining of such practices, as are contrary to the light of nature, or to the known principles of Christianity, whether concerning faith, worship, or conversation; or to the power of Godliness; or such erroneous opinions or practice as, either in their own nature, or in the manner of publishing or maintaining them, are destructive to the external peace and order which Christ hath established in the church; they may lawfully be called to account, and proceeded against by the censures of the church."
The Book of Church Order, chapter 14, paragraphs 2 and 3

"§ 14-2. Church courts have jurisdiction only for the purpose of serving Christ and declaring his Will as it is related to His doctrine and law, to the good order of the Church and to the exercise of discipline."

"§ 14-3. In the exercise of this jurisdiction:

(1) A Church court can make no laws to bind the conscience, since Christ is the only Lord of conscience and the Scriptures are the only rule of faith and moarls." and,

Whereas, the General Assembly apparently intended to issue the complained of statment as a deliverance "in thesi", being a statement purely didactic, advisory and monitory, with no enforceable effect on lower courts or individuals, and

Whereas, the Assembly's statement used the following language:

"The Presbyterian Church, U.S., desires at this time to reaffirm the obligation of all her obedient sons and daughters: ..... (4) To continue to support and regard with compassion those who practice civil disobedience. ....", and

Whereas, by adopting this specific language, including the word "obligation", which is defined to mean a promise, contract or oath by which one is bound, a duty imposed by law; that which obligates, the binding power of a promise, vow or contract;—the General Assembly has attempted to make a law binding the conscience of "obedient sons and daughters" in clear violation of portions of the Constitution of the Church.

Now, Therefore, the Presbytery of Atlanta respectfully overtures the General Assembly to reconsider its position as stated on this matter, and to rescind said statement in its present form as being unconstitutional.

22. From the Presbytery of Louisville:

Whereas the Book of Church Order, Chapter 27, Section 4, makes it mandatory that a Candidate for the Gospel Ministry be ordained by the Presbytery within whose bounds he expects to labor rather than the Presbytery under whose care he has completed his preparation for the Gospel Ministry, and

Whereas, a Candidate under care of one of our presbyteries may be called of God to serve within the bounds of the United Presbyterian Churchin the United States of America following his graduation from Seminary, and

Whereas such a Candidate may find it impossible to be ordained because of the requirement of our Book of Church Order mentioned above together with the pattern of standard examinations adopted by the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America in 1966 whereby each Candidate of this Sister Denomination must take a standard written two day examination in February or April prior to graduation and ordination in June, which written examination is mandatory for ordination by a Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and which examination may not have been taken by such a Candidate,

Now, Therefore, the Presbytery of Louisville respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States that it interpret Chapter 27, Section 4, of the Book of Church Order as making it permissive for a Presbytery to examine and ordain one of its own Candidates who has received a call to labor in another denomination in correspondence with the Presbyterian Church in the United States when the appropriate judicatory of this denomination has made the request to examine and ordain to one of our Presbyteries, the Candidate thus ordained then to be transferred as an ordained minister to this judicatory.

23. From the Presbytery of Northeast Texas:

The Presbytery of Northeast Texas respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States as follows: (1) to take action that would require Sessions granting certificates of dismission to another congregation to include as information whether any person so dismissed has ever been ordained and served as an officer in the Presbyterian Church; (2) that the present format of our Certificates of Dismission be so modified as to provide a specific place for this information to be given; (3) that Sessions receiving as members of their congregations persons who have previously served as officers in other congregations be required to record this fact in their permanent records at the time of reception.

24. From the Presbytery of Washburn:

Washburn Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to determine whether the Book of Church Order, as presently constituted, gives sufficient guidance to Presbyteries in the matter of ministers or candidates wishing to serve temporarily in other branches of the church in other countries; and, if not, that the General Assembly make necessary changes to make this possible.

25. From the Presbytery of Washburn:

The Presbytery of Washburn hereby respectfully overtures the General Assembly to determine and declare whether a Presbytery may properly require any or all of the following doctrinal positions as being essential for a minister's subscription to our Standards, and, therefore, whether his failure to subscribe to any or all of the following doctrinal positions provides proper grounds for denying him membership in a Presbytery:

1. The definition of "the infallible truth and divine authority of the Holy Scriptures" in terms of plenary or verbal inerrancy.
2. The resting of "the infallible authority of Scripture" upon the scientific or historical accuracy of New Testament writers' interpretations of the Old Testament.
3. The historicity of Adam and the assumption that New Testament references to Adam require acceptance of the historicity of Adam.
4. The invalidity of subscription to the doctrines of the Fall, Original Sin, and the Imputation of Sin, unless such subscription is based upon acceptance of the historicity of Adam.
5. The rejection of the fruits of contemporary Biblical scholarship.

55. From the Presbytery of Lexington:

The Presbytery of Lexington respectfully overtures the General Assembly as follows:

That the General Assembly not enact the proposed amendment to Section 6-1 of the Book of Church Order, but recommit it to the Judical Commission for further study, in order, if possible, to bring it into line with the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The following considerations are given in support of this overture:

1. If the amendment became the laws of the church, it would lead to a great deal of confusion in the churches of Virginia, in trying to operate by church laws that are contrary to civil law.
2. It is believed that the second paragraph of the proposed changes can be restated so as to retain the desirable features without vesting the title to the property referred to in the session.

MEMORIAL AGAINST THE SYNOD OF GEORGIA

(See Rules of Discipline, Sec. 114-6.)

We the undersigned, being members of the Synod of Georgia, do herewith memorialize the General Assembly to investigate the Synod of Georgia for this Synod's consistent failure over a period of four years to take other than advisory action concerning institutions under its jurisdiction that have failed to implement pronouncements of the General Assembly and the Synod in regard to racial discrimination.

56. From the Presbytery of St. Louis:

Whereas the Presbyterian Church, U.S., finds itself increasingly involved in ecumenical structures and program (i.e., campus ministry inner-city mission); and

Whereas the benefits of the Group Hospitalization and Major Medical Insurance program of the Board of Annuities and Relief, Presbyterian Church, U.S., are denied those ministers of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., who accept employment with such ecumenical agencies; therefore,

The Presbytery of St. Louis, Presbytery Church, U.S., respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., to instruct the Board of Annuities and Relief to make the necessary policy changes or clarifications that will make the Group Hospitalization and Major Medical Insurance benefits available to all ministers of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., who

(1) continue their membership in a Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.,
(2) are employed, superviser, and financed by an ecumenical Board or Agency on which serve representatives duly elected by a judicatory of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and
(3) are responsible through that Board or Agency to the appropriate judicatories of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., for reporting and evaluating the work in which they are involved.

To The Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures, 57-60, 72, 80, 83, 87, 89

57. From the Presbytery of Potomac:

The Presbytery of Potomac respectfully overtures the 1967 General Assembly that definite steps be taken to provide regional counselling centers for Ministers, Directors of Christian Education, Lay Workers and their families; staffed with competent psychiatrists, psychologists, psychometrists, mental hygienists; supervised and financed on an Assembly level.

58. From the Presbytery of Bethel:

Bethel Presbytery respectfully requests that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. through its General Council, or some other arm of the Assembly, seek to establish post-Assembly "Dialogue Sessions" in Synods, or on regional levels, to provide a sounding board and an interpretative opportunity for considering issues over which there are differences of opinion, or perhaps misconceptions.

59. From the Presbytery of Montgomery:

The Presbytery of Montgomery overtures the General Assembly to take action as follows:

Whereas, the General Assembly has repeatedly taken a stand against the practice of racial segregation as being out of harmony with Christian love; and

Whereas, the practice of "apartheid" is being vigorously and cruelly practiced by the Republic of South Africa and Rhodesia with untold suffering to the black majority of their peoples resulting in the denial of the principles of freedom of assembly, freedom of speech, and the right to vote for most of their inhabitants; and

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church in the United States has investments in companies doing business in these two nations which not only strengthen their economies but also hinder their realization of the fact that apartheid is condemned by Christian conscience abroad, and world opinion;

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that the General Assembly instructs the Boards and Agencies of our Church to divest themselves of stock in companies doing business in South Africa and Rhodesia, and to refuse to purchase stock in companies doing business in these countries until their oppresive policy of a partheid is discontinued.

Furthermore, Be it Resolved, that the Boards and Agencies communicate to the companies affected by this action, the reasons for this policy adopted by the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

60. From the Presbytery of Nashville:

Nashville Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to reconsider our Church's effort, in this country and abroad, in presenting the gospel more earnestly and effectively to the Jews of our time.

72. From the Presbytery of Central Texas:

Whereas, the declaration of The Christian Faith known commonly as THE APOSTLES' CREED is a cherished documentation of the historicity of the Faith of the Holy Catholic Church, as well as one of the monumental evidences of the true unity of all believers in Jesus Christ as Lord, and

Whereas, some parish churches omit the vital and essential witness to the truth of the death and resurrection of Our Lord when, in recitation of THE APOSTLES' CREED, they eliminate the phrase, 'He descended into hell,' and

Whereas, the Larger Catechism (Question 50) explicitly by the very words reaffirms this doctrinal expression of truth:

Therefore, the Presbytery of Central Texas respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly:

1. To declare the phrase 'He descended into hell' inviolably a part of THE APOSTLES' CREED.
2. To advise all parish churches within its constituent judicatories and all ministers holding membership in the Presbyterian Church in the United States that, while our freedom in worship does not make mandatory the use of this or any other creed, the omission of the phrase 'He descended into hell' when using THE APOSTLES' CREED is inimical to the Christian Faith and a violation of Presbyterian doctrine and order.
3. To instruct the publisher of The Hymbook, which bears the imprimatur of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, that in all future printings the bracketing of the phrase 'He descended into hell,' with its accompanying notation 'some churches omit this,' shall not recur in this or any other form.

80. From the Presbytery of Washburn:

Whereas, the Presbytery of Washburn has taken note of "An Open Letter to the Church" which appeared in the April, 1967, issue of the Presbyterian Survey, and

Whereas, it is recognized that this open letter has been read by a vast number of the communicant members of our church due to its inclusion in the official magazine of our church, and

Whereas, we feel that this is a matter which deserves General Assembly study so that the entire membership of our church might receive guidance in the areas mentioned in this "Open Letter";

Therefore be it resolved: That the Presbytery of Washburn respectfully overture the General Assembly to appoint an Ad Hoc Committee for the following purposes:

(1) To make a study of the group originating the "Open Letter," and the two groups mentioned in the "Open Letter," with the following concerns in mind:
   (a) If these groups are active in promulgating their respective positions, are they divisive and harmful to the life of our church?
   (b) If there is potential disruption as regards the peace and purity of our church because of the activity of these groups, what is this activity, and what is being printed in conjunction with this activity?
   (c) Recognizing that within our church there is freedom to express convictions that are not in harmony with church courts, we still feel that it should be the responsibility of this committee to express an opinion in this study as to the activities and publications of these groups in light of their agreement with or opposition to the pronouncements of the General Assembly and the program of the General Assembly as carried out through its various Boards and Agencies.

(2) To make a report of this study to the 108th General Assembly, along with such recommendations that this committee might deem advisable.

83. From the Presbytery of Louisiana:

Whereas, when marrying Roman Catholics, our Presbyterian constituents under the compulsion of love and the requirements of the Roman Catholic Church are led to make written or verbal vows to bring up children to be born of their marriage in the Roman Catholic faith;

And, whereas, said Presbyteries later realizing the full implications of their actions, come to feel that it was wrong to have made vows preventing them from sharing with their children their own understanding of God and His love in Christ;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Louisiana respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to express its judgment as to whether, in the above mentioned circumstances, the vows are binding upon the conscience.

87. From Ruling Elder T. Shep Clark of Augusta-Macon Presbytery, under Standing Rule 7.4:

That the 1967 General Assembly go on record as being opposed to any and all demonstrations which interfere with keeping of the Ten Commandments God has given us.

89. From the Presbytery of Charleston:

Be it resolved, that Charleston Presbytery request the General Assembly, through the office of the Moderator to set up in the very near future a series of Synod-wide meetings in the interest of communication, understanding and renewal to include all organized and unorganized groups of opinions in our Assembly to which all ministers and ruling elders will be cordially invited.

To the Standing Committee on Church and Society, 61-66, 71, 78

61. From the Presbytery of Cherokee:

The Cherokee Presbytery of the Synod of Georgia proposes to the 107th General Assembly, as a measure of common advantage to the whole Church, that:

"Whereas, Our Nation was established as a government of law, in which certain and constant laws rather than the vague and changing wills of men will govern all people under all circumstances; and the Presbyterian Church in the United States has, through its General Assembly, affirmed its belief in a society governed by the rule of laws; and

"Whereas, as the people of our country go forward with their civil rights program, they must insure that wherever it is done, no matter by whom, it must be done within the framework of the law; and this Church has, through its General Assembly, stated its belief that all citizens are under obligation to obey the law, and to seek solutions to all their problems and grievances within the system of law; and

"Whereas, the law of Christ, revealed in the First Epistle of Peter, Chapter 2, Verses 13 through 15, gives us religious guidance in this regard, providing: "Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king, as supreme, or as to governors . . . , for so is the will of God, . . . ," and

"Whereas, it is recognized that some instances of unjust laws and unequal enforcement continue to exist in some localities, but, in the words of the liberal, minority-race United States Supreme Court Justice, these are the acts of a "few extremists" who have met the "disapproval of the community," while the majority of the people of the South have "stood steadfast in support of the law," believing that the "moral, legal and religious principles belong to all men, no matter what race:" and

"Whereas, although our government, our laws, and our officials, being subject to human frailties, are not perfect, still, there has been no time in history when any people have lived under any government where greater effort has been made to see that all men receive full and complete justice, regardless of station, race or creed; and

"Whereas, in the last few years, progress has been made in the fields of equal rights through four historic measures for the enforcement of these rights which have become national law with the support of both major parties; and the Supreme Court of the United States, in an unfailing and unbroken line of landmark decisions, has stricken down every instance of an unfair law and unequal enforcement brought before it; and

"Whereas, any individual whose rights have been infringed now has every reason to be assured that within the laws and the courts of law he will ultimtaely receive a full redress of his just grievances; and

"Whereas, there is no sound basis at this time for any citizen or group of citizens to declare civil disobedience to be their policy, and no need today for responsible citizens to encourage such a course; and

"Whereas, a so-called "rule of conscience: which reserves to each individual the right to be governed by his own interpretation, learned or ignorant, of what he conceives to be the will of God and to be just and valid, can only bring anarchy, since he is subject to the same human frailities he sees in the law makers and enforcers with whom he disagrees; and

"Whereas, protest should never degenerate into riots; progress should never be an invitation to chaos; freedom should never be a license to crime; the civil rights of some should never be gained by invading the rights of others; and responsible leadership should make great efforts to "channel this evolution into the broad banks of the law": and

"Whereas, the expressions of the 105th General Assembly in 1965 and of the 106th General Assembly in 1966 concerning "civil disobedience," however well-intentioned and limited in application they may have been, are widely misunderstood and misinterpreted by the public at large and by vast segments of the membership of the Church: and

"Whereas, the undesirable result is that extreme groups on both sides of the civil rights question, and other activists in the unrelated fields of student protests, labor relations, and crime, find in such expressions aid, comfort, encouragement, and endorsement of disobedience of law from a respectable, responsible and influential body of Christian leadership, while many peaceful, devout and loyal members of the Church find such expressions, though unquestionably well-intended, to have the unfortunate effect of causing division within the Church, and of indicating impatience rather than reason; and

"Whereas, because of such misunderstandings and undesirable results, the recent progress in the correction of existing evils in the matter of equal rights, the present ability of a patient litigant to obtain from a court of last resort relief from any unjust law or enforcement, the urgent need for the promotion of respect for law, and the necessity of seeking unity within the Church, it is desirable and timely that the General Assembly reconsider its previous expressions upon "civil disobedience":

"Now, therefore, it is respectfully proposed that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, in unmistakable terms disapprove and discourage civil disobedience as a means of redressing grievances, and endorse and promote resort to and respect for the law."

62. From the Presbytery of Florida:

The Presbytery of Florida overtures the 107th General Assembly in protest of the 106th General Assembly in adopting the report of the Committee on Christian Relations by which the Presbyterian Church supports civil disobedience; and the Presbytery of Florida urges the General Assembly to recede from its pronouncement.

63. From the Presbytery of Louisiana:

The Presbytery of Louisiana respectfully wishes to call to the attention of the General Assembly its concern with the generally low esteem that our courts and law enforcement procedures are held in the public mind. The Presbytery of Louisiana respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to request the Council on the Church and Society to prepare a statement in unmistakable language for adoption by the General Assembly to express the Assembly's concern and to issue a call for a revival of support and respect for civil and ecclesiastical law.

64. From the Presbytery of St. Andrew:

The Presbytery of St. Andrew respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., to express its disapproval of those who go beyond the bounds of civil disobedience as defined in its 1965 statement: "the open, non-violent and conscientious refusal to obey a law or laws, as a means of appeal to a higher law, combined with the willing acceptance of the penalty." (page 160, Minutes of 105th General Assembly)

Further, this Presbytery overtures the General Assembly to develop ways and means of working toward the reconciliation with both God and one another, the factions of civil strife in addition to that of dialogue.

65. From the Presbytery of South Texas:

Whereas the interpretation of the 1966 General Assembly on "civil disobedience" refers to the "obligation of all her obedient sons and daughter" to—among other things—"continue to support and regard with compassion those who practice civil disobedience when no legal recourse has been left open to them and who act in Christian conscience and allegiance to Almighty God"; and

Whereas this statement thereby infers that those who do not "support and regard with compassion those who practice civil disobedience . . . " are not good Presbyterians, and thus certainly not very good Christians; and

Whereas many of us cannot in all good Christian conscience either support or regard with compassion some persons today who practice civil disobedience and who would—by their own profession—fit the requirements set forth in the above quoted statement; and

Whereas in good Christian conscience and allegiance to Almighty God, and in our understanding of the nature of creation and the concept of different calling to different men which is set forth in Scripture, we feel the church in error to attempt to dictate the Christian conscience of all her members in this matter as the above statement does;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Presbytery of South Texas overture the General Assembly to change this interpretation, so that it does not speak to tell any what their obligation in this matter is, but to leave all men free to make their own decision after their own honest examination of their "Christian conscience and allegiance to Almighty God" in this whole matter of civil disobedience, recognizing that not all men will be led by God in the same way in any given case in this matter.

66. From the Session of the First Presbyterian Church of Baton Rouge, in the Presbytery of Louisiana, understanding Rule 7.4.

The Session of the First Presbyterian Church of Baton Rouge respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States as herein resolved:

MINUTES GENERAL ASSEMBLY 1920 Page 74

Whereas, the General Assembly in 1920 Resolved: "That the Presbyterian Church in the United States, speaking through this Assembly, renews its witness against every disobedience to established law and all disregard of constituted authority," and

Whereas, the General Assembly in 1954 commended the principle of the decision of the United States Supreme Court regarding enforced segregation and affirmed that the Church should lead in upholding this supreme interpretation of the law of the land, and again in 1963, speaking through the adoption of committee resolution, stated that the Assembly "have not wavered from this position but have repeatedly endorsed it . . . (and) . . . whether the races should be integrated is no longer a live option, but rather how soon and by what methods," and

Whereas, the General Assembly in April 1966, in enunciating the Good Faith and Integrity of our Church stated among other things, "When individual members, by profession of their faith promise to support the church in its worship and work to the best of their ability, and to submit themselves to its government and discipline, and when elders, ruling or teaching, add to this the vow that they will be subject to their brethren in the Lord; it is to the Presbyterian Church U. S., not merely a local congregation, that they make their promise. To withhold support, to act and speak divisely, and to resist the discipline, is to disregard the Presbyterian system and seriously jeopardize its good faith and integrity.

"Those who disapprove of the injunctions or declarations of the General Assembly are offered recourse in the Book of Church Order, mainly through overture, appeal, reference, and complaint. A single individual in a local congregation can initiate proceedings, which, if presented in an orderly manner through the ascending courts, will receive the attention of and gain a decision from the General Assembly. Dissenting members, sessions, and presbyteries, whatever the issue might be, are earnestly urged to express their opinions through the forms of order inherent in our system," and

Whereas, our Presbytery in good Christian conscience affirms accord with and support of the General Assembly's call upon all members of our Church to abide by the decisions of our Civil and Church Courts, and in their call to grant all men, regardless of race or color, their Constitutional and lawful and inalienable rights, and

Whereas, this founding of justice for all men upon the rock of unassailable and immutable law and order in the society of our nation has been undermined and weakened to an appalling and ever-mounting extent as self-evident to all from the columns of today's newspapers reporting unlawful marches, sit-ins, riots, destruction of property, and a steady growth of all types of crimes and the general breaking down of law and order, and

Whereas, the General Assembly did in 1965 and 1966, take an inconsistent position to these basic principles when it countenanced Civil Disobedience, its statement in part in 1966 being as follows, "To sum up: The Presbyterian Church, U. S., desires at this time to reaffirm the obligation of all her obedient sons and daughters: (1) To live responsibly under the law of the land; (2) To use personal influence and ballot to enhance the rule of law so that injustice may be replaced with justice, and the full provisions of the law for justice, protection, and liberty may be enjoyed by every citizen of every community; (3) To regard civil disobedience as a measure of last resort to be employed only in circumstances of otherwise irremediable need, and in the exercise of which the whole concept of law is not denied, but affirmed; and (4) To continue to support and regard with compassion those who practice civil disobedience when no legal recourse has been left open to them and who act in Christian conscience and allegiance to Almighty God," and

Whereas, the General Assembly in adopting such a policy joined a growing group of other citizens of this nation in refusing to abide by the law when they do not agree with it and believe it is unfair and unjust, and instead of seeking to get the law amended and changed by legal processes, simply refuse to honor and obey it, and in effect, take the law into their own hands, and it is basic and fundamental, if this great Nation is to continue to be a nation governed by laws, as distinguished from a nation governed by men, and we are to have law and order as distinguished from anarchy, our citizens must exercise patience and restraint, and obey all the laws of the Nation and its pollitical subdivisions and support those who have the responsibility of enforcing the laws, whether they like the laws or not, and all of which is graphically illustrated by the fact that the travels of the leaders advocating and instigating civil disobedience can be followed by the trail of the litter from rioting and the ashes of burned out shops and stores, and

Whereas, this resulting violence and chaos and race hatred is tearing as under the very fabric of our society by (a) playing into the hands of the enemies of our Christian world, (b) decimating in both numbers and effectiveness the very law enforcement essential to the achievement of justice for all people, (c) placing in cruel jeopardy the Constitutional protection of the very minority citizens for whom the tactic of civil disobedience has been mistakenly purported to benefit, and (d) splintering on the rocks of profound disagreement our Church membership into opposing factions, and

Whereas, even if there have been times in the history of this Nation, and in other nations of the world, when the laws have been oppressive and minority groups have been deprived of their just civil rights, and it was difficult or even impossible for these people to secure justice through the courts or the Executive or Legislative branches of government, such is certainly not the case in the United States of America in this day and time, for the Congress of the United States has shown time after time its concern for minority groups and their rights, and has during recent years enacted laws to correct such inequities and to provide the legal means by which these groups can secure any rights to which they are legally entitled, and the courts have likewise been open to all to enforce the laws enacted by Congress, and the full weight of the Executive Department, incuding the Department of Justice, has been available to minority groups to assist them in securing their rights, and correcting any inequities. Thus, there can be no real justification for civil disobedience, and the resulting riots, destruction of property, and loss of life which result from such. Our law enforcement agencies are faced with a terrific problem in securing law and order for all citizens and stopping the increasing growth of crime and corruption, all of which is a natural result from lack of respect for law and order, and, accordingly, it is high time for all responsible citizens to join together and discourage disobedience of the law, civil or otherwise, and

Whereas, regardless of compassionate and well-intentioned motivation, these enunciations by our General Assembly countenancing civil disobedience constitute a distinct departure from the witness and principle proclaimed in 1920 and reaffirmed through 1963, and good citizenship which has been historic in our church, and

Whereas, it is now abundantly evident that this action by our highest Church Court and other leaders in and out of Government, was a tragic mistake and that it is now time for all responsible citizens to support to the full extent all the laws of this Nation, and its political subdivisions to the end that law and order be restored and that riots, destruction of property, and all other unlawful acts be halted and stopped, and that we as Christians by precept and example lead the way in respect for law and order.

Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved, that the General Assembly be requested to reaffirm its position of historic witness against every disobedience to established law and all disregard of constituted authority and affirm that there is no justification in the United States of America in this day and time for civil disobedience, and

Be It Further Resolved, that the Assembly advocate to all members of the Church conscientious diligence in their Christian responsibility to uphold both the law of the land and the agencies through which that law is enforced to the end that both physical protection and civil justice can be accorded every citizen, and

Be It Further Resolved, that this forthright position of the Presbyterian Church in the United States be proclaimed forcefully and widely to people in unmistakable words.

71. From the Presbytery of Florida:

Where as, we, the Presbytery of Florida, recognize the truth of the statement of the General Assembly that "The Presbyterian Church, U.S., has experienced a steadily decreasing rate of growth in the past eight years," and

Whereas, an active, dedicated, purposeful Church School is essential to the growing Church, and

Whereas, teaching Bible truths as the written word of God, as the Supreme Authority and indispensible guide for Christian faith and life, is needed in our Church School classes and Church, and

Whereas, political and social actions and pronouncements by Church Boards and Commissions are causing grave unrest and dissention in the Church,

We therefore overture the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to strengthen Bible teaching and preaching in the Church, to re-emphasize the Westminster Confession of Faith, and the Apostles Creed: to reinforce the Church's emphasis on its purity, peace and mission of redeeming men through Jesus Christ, and

That the General Assembly refrain from further action in the field of civil and political issues because such corporate action has caused and is still causing serious division in the local congregation. Such concern at the local level greatly hinders the Church from fulfilling its basic mission to the men and women for whom Christ died.

78. From the Presbytery of Columbia:

Whereas the crime rate in America continues to climb each year, and

Whereas many Churches have neglected to manifest a concern for those imprisioned, and

Whereas the 106th General Assembly voted decisively in favor of discontinuance of capital punishment, maintaining that "while there is life, there may be reclamation," and

Whereas we believe that rehabilitation is in keeping with redemptive justice, and

Whereas we believe that the time has come for the Church to manifest its concern for prisoners in keeping with the teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ

Now Therefore Be It Resolved: That the Presbytery of Columbia overture the General Assembly as follows:

1. To instruct its Division on Church and Society to make a study of the best way or ways to meet this need for prison work.
2. To devise and prosecute a program on behalf of the prisoners.
3. To suggest that ministers and congregations in county seat towns assume responsibilities for a certain amount of the work in that county.

To the Standing Committee on the Minister and His Work, 67-68

67. From the Presbytery of Hanover:

The Presbytery of Hanover respectfully overtures the General Assembly that the following additions be made to the Minister's Data Form used by the Assembly's Committee on The Minister and His Work:

1. A Theological Statement, to be prepared by the minister.
2. A space for listing five books read during the previous year, which are typical of the minister's reading interests.

68. From the Presbytery of Potomac:

Whereas the proclamation and interpretation of the Gospel, the conversion and nurture of souls, the Christian education of the young, the counselling of troubled persons, the comfort of the bereaved, the fellowship of believers, the administration of the Sacraments, the witness to the social implications of the Gospel are among the responsibilities and opportunties of the ministers of our local congregations, who are in direct, personal contact with the members of our churches, and

Whereas, the new forms of ministry, the revolt against institutional religion, the popular and often irresponsible disparagement of the local church, the increasing responsibilities and strain of the pastoral ministry make it difficult for men to remain in the pastorate and for the Church to recruit young men for this essential form of service,

Therefore, Potomac Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to study seriously the means by which our congregations may be informed of the serious nature of this developing crisis and to propose, in ways consistent with the Gospel, the means by which we may strengthen the appeal and increase the influence of the pastoral ministry.

To the Standing Theological Committee, 69, 85

69. From the Presbytery of John Knox:

Whereas, many smaller churches, due to the limitation of leadership potential, find it impractical to elect both a Session and a Board of Deacons, and

Whereas, several hundred of our churches do not report having any elected deacons, documenting the impracticality of electing a Diaconate in many situations, and

Whereas, the witness of the New Testament concerning the office of Deacon is limited to two passages, Philippians 1:1 and I Timothy 3:8-13 (excluding Acts 6:1-6 where the word deacon is not used), in neither of which is the work of the deacon described, and

Whereas, the study book, New Wine Skins, suggests the possibility that the Session and Diaconate be combined to function as one unicameral board, and

Whereas, in the history of the church the office of deacon appears to have been generally understood otherwise than as the office is understood and defined in the Book of Church Order, and

Whereas, the present organizational structure prescribed by the Book of Church Order providing for both a Session and a Diaconate tends to make an unwarranted separation of the material and spiritual needs of men, and

Whereas, the subservience of the Diaconate to the Session is difficult to interpret and often misunderstood, and

Whereas, in our present system the Diaconate has responsibility without authority and the Session authority without responsibility for the material concerns of the Church and the practice of Christian charity,

Therefore, the Presbytery of John Knox respectfully overtures the General Assembly as follows:

That the General Assembly order its Permanent Theological Committee to make a study of the biblical, theological, and historical bases for the office of deacon, answering specifically the following questions:

1. Is there a valid theological reason for maintaining that the office of deacon is to be continued perpetually in the Church?
2. Does the existence of the church and faithfulness to its mission depend upon the specific ecclesiastical structures, such as the Diaconate?
3. Is there a biblical or theological basis for the ordination of Deacons?
4. Does the evidence of Scripture and Christian history suggest a different understanding of the office of Deacon than that set forth in the Book of Church Order?
5. Are there biblical and theological grounds for the establishment of new ecclesiastical structures, and the dissolution and alteration of old structures?

85. From the Presbytery of St. Johns:

That the Presbytery of St. Johns does hereby overture the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to instruct its Permanent Theological Committee to study the question of the relationship of evolution to the Bible, and to report to the next succeeding General Assembly whether the position stated by the General Assemblies of 1886, 1888, 1889, and 1924 should be revised.

To the Standing Committee on Women's Work, 70

70. From the Presbytery of Washburn:

Whereas, the proper relation of Women's Work to the church courts of Synod and Presbytery is nowhere indicated, and,

Whereas, there is confusion regarding what the proper relationship out to be, and what arm of the Synod and Presbytery should exercise proper oversight and counsel;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Washburn respectfully overtures the one hundred seventh General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

To request the Board of Women's Work to provide a recommended pattern of relationship between Synods and Presbyteries and Women's Work at these court levels.

To Standing Committee on Church Extension, 82

82. From the Presbytery of Louisiana:

The Presbytery of Louisiana respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to recognize the retirement of the Reverend James M. Carr as Director of the Town and Country Church Department of the Board of Church Extension, and to recognize, by appropriate action, his many years of capable and effective leadership in this field.

OVERTURES NOT ANSWERED BY 1966 ASSEMBLY BUT REFERRED TO THE PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION UNDER FORM OF GOVERNMENT SECTIONS 20-6 AND 20-7, AND ASSEMBLY'S STANDING RULE 7-3

(Note: This material, as required by the constitution, has been studied by the Permanent Judicial Commission whose recommendations thereon will be found in the Commission's report.)

From the Presbytery of Central Texas:

Whereas, in the providence of God, the Presbytery of Brazos of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the Presbytery of Central Texas of the Presbyterian Church in the United States have been defined by their respective denominational judicatories so as to cover the same geographical area to all practical purposes, so as to be of the same approximate numerical size, and so as to overlap one another in most parishes and in all areas; and,

Whereas, both the aforementioned presbyteries are charged in this same area with similar responsibilities in the exercise of oversight and government; and

Whereas, there already exist within the aforementioned presbyteries three union or federated churches sustaining relationships to both courts, three larger parishes containing churches from each presbytery, two churches in process of formation which by mutual agreement will be organized as union churches being jointly planned and financed by the two presbyteries, and a jointly owned camp and conference property with a single program of operation; and

Whereas, churches under the jurisdiction of the two presbyteries are accustomed to working together in numerous other areas of Christian work and service, there being much normal interchange of leadership and membership between churches of both presbyteries, and ministers of each presbytery are in normal and frequent association with one another in the performance of their duties; and,

Whereas, conditions similar to this, where two denominational branches of Presbyterianism overlap, are prevalent in other areas of our denominations where the division of presbyterial oversight and jurisdiction over neighboring congregations and communities is frequently confusing to our people and the general public, often detrimental to good order, likely to divide the Reformed witness, and certainly conducive to competitive and wasteful administrative, plenary, and financial effort at the local level unless extreme care in communication and planning is exercised; and,

Whereas, the experience of these aforementioned presbyteries over the period of the past six years in undertaking joint administraitve and financial ventures, notably in Christian Education and Church Extension, and in dealing with problem areas of overlapping work, have been successful and profiitable to the well-being and strength of the Church, demonstrating the possibility, practicability and profitability of a more complete merger which would unite the work and jurisdiction of Presbyterians in the area, without detriment to the denomination of either presbytery; and,

Whereas, the aforementioned presbyteries have repeatedly affirmed their mutual intent to work together wherever possible by joint effort, effort planning, and joint administration; and,

Whereas, the principle of a "union" judicatory is clearly established by the provision for "union" churches in the constitutions of both the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. and the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., and the possibility of a "union" presbytery is explicitly forbidden in neither, thus indicating that such an eventuality is in keeping with the spirit of Presbyterianism in both churches; and

Whereas, the proposal hereinafter advanced will neither subtract from the denominational strength nor eradicate the loyal and faithful relationships and obligations toward their respective higher judicatories and denominations which the Presbytery of Central Texas (U. S.) and the Presbytery of Brazos (U.P.U.S.A.) acknowledge and intend to maintain, but will rather enhance them by enlarging the relationship, responsibilities, and ministry of both courts in this area of their jurisdiction, providing a single, mature, and vital Presbyterian program of oversight to our churches and a strongly supported Presbyterian program of nurture and mission to the glory of our Lord and to the credit of the Reformed tradition;

Now, therefore,

The Presbytery of Central Texas respectfully overtures the General Assembly to amend the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in the following particulars:

I. By the addition to The Form of Government of a new chapter (32) as printed below, and

II. By the amendment of The Form of Government, Paragraph 31-2 (1) as printed below.

UNION PRESBYTERIES (CLASSES)

1. A presbytery of this church may unite to form a union presbytery (classis) with a presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America or a classis of the Reformed Church in America with the approval of the synod of jurisdiction of which the presbytery (classis) is a part provided that the following plan of union is adopted by each presbytery (classis) involved.

a. This plan of union is adopted by the Presbytery of _____ and the Presbytery (Classis) of _____ effective as of _____ _____ (date), both presbyteries (presbytery and classis having approved the plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a stated meeting of the presbytery (classis), the matter having been published beforehand on its docket and the union and this plan having been approved by the synod of jurisdiction over each presbytery (classis).

b. The purpose of the union shall be the furtherance of a united witness and mission, the administration of a single program of nurture, sustenance and growth of the Church within the union presbytery (classis), and the oversight of all churches within its bounds by a union presbytery (classis) which will hold title to the properties of the uniting judicatories and provide the functions and fulfill the duties of a presbytery (classis) as specified in the constitutions of both Churches.

c. The union presbytery (classis) shall be subject to the constitutions of both denominations as set forth below.

1) The presbytery (classis) shall submit its records at least annually and whenever requested to both synods of jurisdiction.

2) The presbytery (classis) shall be fully and equally responsible to both Churches. To this end, within ten years from the establishment of the union presbytery (classis), general mission or benevolence contributions shall be devoted in equal proportions to the programs of each of the two denominations. Meanwhile, the presbytery (classis) shall modify its benevolence or general mission askings of the particular churches from year to year to the end that the presbytery (classis) shall equitably support the program of each denomination.

3) Per Capita apportionments or assessments shall be paid to each synod and General Assembly (General Synod) of jurisdiction on the basis of one-half the communicant strength of the union presbytery. In the event that such a procedure be demonstrated to be inequitable an alternative basis may be adopted subject to approval by the synods of jurisdiction of both denominations. Such an alternative if adopted shall be subject to periodic review.

4) The union presbytery (classis) shall be under the discipline of the synods and General Assemblies (General Assembly and General Synod) according to standing rules agreed upon in harmony with the constitutions of the two denominations where they coincide, and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the laws of either Church where the other is permissive, and at the choice of the presbytery (classis) where they may be contradictory.

5) Appeals or complaints against the actions of the presbytery (classis) shall be made only to the synod of one denomination, which denomination shall be determined by the presbytery (classis), and all subsequent appeals or complaints in the same action shall be in the courts of the original determination, and decisions so reached shall be binding on all the parties to such action.

6) Complaints against administrative acts of the presbytery (classis) may be taken under the constitutional provisions of either denomination, but not of both, according to the determination of the presbytery (classis); and, once being complained to one court, courts of the other denomination may not accept jurisdiction in the same matter.

7) Wherever the constitutions of the two denominations differ, the mandatory provisions of the one shall apply in all cases where the other is permissive. Wherever there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in 4 above), the union presbytery (classis) shall overture the General Assembly (General Synod) of both denominations to resolve the conflict either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

d. The membership of the union presbytery (classis) shall consist of all minister members of each uniting presbytery (presbytery and classis) and all the churches (elder representatives thereof) of the uniting presbyteries (presbytery and classis) plus all others received by the union presbytery (classis), subsequent to the effective date of this union.

e. The churches of a union presbytery (classis) shall be considered union churches belonging to both denominations. Each particular church shall be reported to each General Assembly (General Assembly and General Synod) and synod of jurisdiction on the basis of one-half its total membership, with a notation to the effect that this has been done. At the request of the session (consistory), the presbytery (classis) in a stated meeting may modify its method of reporting the membership of that particular church for a period of 2 years subsequent to the effective date of this union.

f. Ministers of the union presbytery (classis) shall be full and responsible members of both denominations and shall be subject to the jurisdiction and discipline of the denominations as provided in this plan. Ministers and elders shall be eligible to serve as commissioners (delegates) to either General Assembly (or General Synod) as provided in the constitution of the respective denomination. Commissioners (delegates) to General Assembly (General Synod) shall be elected on the basis of one-half of the total communicant membership of the presbytery (classis).

g. The union presbytery (classis) shall be responsible to propose to all its churches a general mission and benevolence program which it judges to be an adequate and equitable response to the requests of the Assemblies, the Synods and to its own needs. Each Session (consistory) shall give its members opportunity to support this general mission and benevolence program.

h. The union presbytery (classis) shall cause a corporation to be formed under the appropriate laws of the state (where permissible), which corporation shall include in its articles or charter the substance of Section a, b, and c, above. All property of the uniting presbyteries (presbytery and classis), real and personal, shall be transferred to the corporation or corporations formed under this section. The new corporation shall be the legal successor of the corporations, if any, of the uniting presbyteries (presbytery and classis) and it shall be bound to administer any trust property or moneys received in accordance with the provisions of the original establishment of the trust. All liabilities of either uniting presbytery (classis) shall be liabilities of the union presbytery (classis). In any state where a church corporation is forbidden, the purpose of this paragraph shall be achieved in harmony with the law of that state.

i. If the union presbytery (classis) should at any time cease to operate under this plan of union as it is or as it may be modified by both denominations acting concurrently, all property, real and personal, of the union presbytery (classis) shall be divided between the denominations or their courts of jurisdiction on the basis of the origin of said property, if such is determinable. If the origin be not determinable, then the property shall be divided equally between the denominations of their courts of jurisdiction, as may be proper.

j. The union presbytery (classis) shall draw up standing rules which shall define the operation of presbytery (classis) in such a manner as to fulfill all the functions of a presbytery (classis) as defined in the constitution of both denominations.

k. Each Minister who may be subject to the call of presbytery (classis) or any of its constituent churches in the exercise of his vocation or who may be an employee of prsebytery (classis) shall participate in the denominational pension plan of one of the two Churches. If the Minister is already participating in one plan, he shall remain in that plan. If he is not a member of either, he shall choose between them.

2. No provision in this plan of union shall be construed as modifying or amending the constitution of this church in its application to any but union presbyteries (classis) organized under this Chapter, their churches or Ministers.

II

Chapter 31-2 Book of Church Order

(1) Particular churches of this Church may unite to form union churches with particular churches of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America with particular churches of the Reformed Church in America, with the approval of the Presbytery provided that the following Plan of Union is adopted by the union church so formed.

a. The following Plan of Union is adopted by the ..... Presbyterian Church of ..... and the ..... Church of ....., effective as of the date when each of the congregations has approved the plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a regularly called congregational meeting with such notice and quorum as is required by the respective Constitutions of the two Chruches, and when the Presbytery (classis) of jurisdiction of each church has approved the particular union and this Plan of Union.

b. (No change)

c. The united church shall be known as ..... Church of .....

d. The united church shall be subject to the Constitution of both Churches involved, as set forth in paragraphs s, t, v, w, below.

e. The session (consistory) shall submit its records at least annually, and whenever requested, to both judicatories of juristiction.

f. The membership of the united church shall consist of those who were members of the uniting churches plus those received by the session (board of elders) of the united church.

g. The session (consistory) of the united church shall report one-half of the total membership to each judicatory of jurisdiction and such membership shall be published in the Minutes (Acts and Proceedings) of the General Assembly (General Synod) with a note to the effect that the report is that of a union church which has, therefore, double the membership listed. A similar report of church school members, baptisms, etc., and financial expenditures (where applicable) shall be made by the session (consistory) and noted by each General Assembly (General Synod) in its minutes.

h. (No change)

i. (No change)

j. The pastoral relations of the Ministers (if any) of the uniting churches shall be dissolved automatically by the action of the presbytery (classis) of jurisdiction in approving this plan, but they may be eligible to be called to be Ministers of the united congregation and subject to the approval of both presbyteries (both the classis and the presbytery).

k. The Minister or Ministers of the united church shall be full and responsible members of both judicatories of immediate jurisdiction and shall be subject to discipline as provided below in paragraph t.

l. (No change)

m. (No change)

n. If the united church should at any time cease to operate under this Plan of Union as it is, or as it may be modified by the denominations acting concurrently, all property, real and personal, of the united church shall be divided equally between the presbyteries (the presbytery and the classis) of jurisdiction.

o. (No change)

p. While recognizing the basic right of any giver to designate the cause or causes to which his own gift shall go, the session (consistory) of the united church shall annually propose to the congregation a general mission or benevolence program which shall be divided one-half each to the officially approved causes of each denomination. The proportions within the halves shall be as the session (consistory) shall decide in response to the requests of the higher judicatories.

q. Per Capita apportionments or assessments shall be paid to each presbytery (classis) of jurisdiction on one-half the total communicant membership of the union church.

r. All members of the united church shall be under the discipline of the session (board of elders) according to rules agreed upon in harmony with the Constitutions of the two denominations where they coincide, and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the Constitution of either denomination where the other is permissive, and at the choice of the session (board of elders) where they may be contradictory.

s. Appeals or complaints against the actions of the session (consistory) shall be made to one judicatory only (presbytery or classis) at the choice of the member and all subsequent appeals or complaints shall be in the courts of the member's original choice, and decisions so finally made shall be binding on the session (consistory) and on the member.

t. The Minister or Ministers shall be subject to the discipline of both presbyteries (the presbytery and the classis) provided that when either shall begin an action it shall invite a committee from the other to join the commissioner, prosecutor, or prosecuting committee in formulating and pressing the charges. In the event of appeal the case shall be finally decided by the highest court to which the appeal is taken in the Church which commenced the action and that decision shall be equally binding on both presbyteries (both the presbytery and the classis).

u. (No change)

v. Complaints against the administrative acts of the session (consistory) may be taken under the Constitutional provisions of either denomination, but not to both, according to the choice of the complaint, and once being complained to one judicatory, judicatories of the other denomination shall not accept jurisdiction in the same matter.

w. Wherever the Constitutions of the two denominations differ, the mandatory provisions of the one shall apply in all cases when the other is permissive. Wherever there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in r above), the session (consistory) of the united church shall petition both judicatories of immediate jurisdiction to overture their respective highest courts to resolve the conflict either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

From the Presbytery of Louisville:

Whereas, the Synod of Kentucky of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and the Synod of Kentucky, Presbyterian Church in the United States, have a common background historically, with churches in both synods, now in the latter part of the second century of continual existance, witnessing to this common origin; and

Whereas, during the more than one hundred years of separation a common Reformed doctrine has maintained, with theology and constitution, Book of Common Worship and Discipline congruent; and

Whereas, our mission is identical and compatible as evidenced in our joint support of Louisville Presbyterian Seminary and Centre College and a merged effective work in Christian Education of ten years standing, approved by both Assemblies' Boards of Christian Education; and

Whereas, our geographical territory is identical, with both branches of the Presbyterian Church seeking to minister to people across the entire State of Kentucky; and

Whereas, ministers in Kentucky move between the two branches of the Presbyterian Church easily and naturally, and members transfer from one branch of the church to the other; and

Whereas, the General Assemblies of both Churches have recognized the validity and wisdom of union thru their approval of United churches whereby local congregations in many areas of the synods have united under the plan to achieve more effective witness; and

Whereas, in spite of this effective working relationship, we continue to maintain separate identity which is detrimental to our full ministry in Kentucky.

Now, therefore, the Presbytery of Louisville respectfully overtures the General Assembly to amend the Book of Church Order by the addition of a chapter to the Form of Government permitting Union Synods and/or Presbyteries of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

From the Presbytery of St. Louis:

Whereas, the Presbyteries and Synods of the State of Missouri (both those of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States) have a common background of concern for Presbyterianism in Missouri and a common witness to bear among the people of Missouri; and

Whereas, the membership of the Presbyterian churches belonging to both denominations in the state of Missouri have maintained, even through the one hundred years of separation, a common theology, basis of church government, Book of Common Worship and Discipline, and governmental principles; and

Whereas, the two Synods jointly support the mission of Presbyterianism in the State of Missouri through such institutions as Westminster College, Missouri Children Home at Farmington, Home Life for the Aged at Farmington, the Missouri University and other university student centers; and

Whereas, the ministers of both denominations in the State of Missouri move easily and naturally between Presbyteries of both Synods and transfer comfortably across denominational lines; and

Whereas, the two denominations, working separately, reduce considerably the efficiency of the Presbyterian witness in the State of Missouri; and

Whereas, the General Assembly of both churches recognized the validity and wisdom of allowing local congregations the privilege of forming union churches in local instances where effective work can be carried out together, and

Whereas, there currently exists in the Synods of Missouri (United Presbyterian, USA and Presbyterian Church in the United States) joint work in the fields of Christian Education, Camps and Conferences, and other important areas;

Now, Therefore, the St. Louis Presbytery does hereby respectfully overture the General Assembly to amend the Book of Church Order making possible formation of union Presbyteries, Synods, and Classes where these judicatories of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Reformed Church of North America, may deem such united effort wise and consistent with the needs of the Church.

From the Presbytery of the Everglades:

Whereas, our denomination is now engaged in negotiating a plan of union with the Reformed Church of America, and,

Whereas, there is substantial sentiment in some parts of our church for full organic union with the UPUSA Church,—a conviction that a prior preference be given to proceeding with such a plan of union, and,

Whereas, efforts to establish "united" or "federated" churches or presbyteries or synods with dual allegiances would under our present constitution be disruptive of sound discipline, and would otherwise create insurmountable problems in doctrine, order, and administration and,

Whereas, all who bear the name of Christ should give any proper assistance to all brethren who for conscience sake would like to move either in the direction of a more inclusive and ecumenical fellowship or toward a stronger confessional church, as the case may be;

Therefore, the Presbytery of the Everglades overtures the General Assembly that it request its Committee on Inter-Church Relations to study and to formulate, if possible, with the proper Committee in the UPUSA Church, a program of free interchange and reciprocity which will permit and encourage any church, presbytery or synod which would like so to do, to move freely and without prejudice, with its respective property assets, from the membership and the jurisdiction of the one church to the other.

From the Presbytery of Potosi:

Whereas, The Presbyteries and the Synods of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, have, in the state of Missouri, a common background of unity and an uncommon background of separation, and have now, in the Gospel of Jesus Christ, a common witness to bear among the people of Missouri; and

Whereas, during the century of unnatural separation a common Reformed doctrine has been maintained along with a common basis of government, Book of Common Worship and Discipline, and

Whereas, The two Synods jointly support the Christian mission in the State of Missouri through such institutions as Westminster College, Presbyterian Home for Children, Home Life for the Aged, United Campus Christian Fellowship on seven university and college campuses, and

Whereas, ministers and lay people move naturally between the two denominations, acknowledging no differnces and not being viewed as different, and

Whereas: our two denominations are not sufficiently strong when functioning separately to carry out the effective mission of Presbyterianism or exercise good stewardship of money, time, or personnel, and

Whereas: there already exists in Synods of Missouri evidence of the alleviation of such problems in our joint work in Christian Education, Camps and Conferences, Parish programs, and other significant areas, and

Whereas: The General Assemblies of both Synods have recognized the validity and wisdom of allowing local congregations the privilege of forming union congregations in situations where more effective witness, worship, and work can be carried out together, and

Whereas: The times call for strength in fellowship, ecumenicity of spirit, and stronger bonds of brotherhood within the Church of Jesus Christ if our witness to Him is to be effective in this age:

Now, Therefore: The Presbytery of Potosi does respectively overture the General Assembly to amend the Book of Church Order making possible the formation of Union Presbyteries, Synods, and classes where these judicatories of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, The Reformed Church in America, and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America may deem such united effort wise and consistent with the needs of the Church.

From the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri:

Whereas, the Synod of Missouri of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Synod Missouri, Presbyterian Church in the United States have a common background historically, with churches in both synods, now in the latter part of the second century of continual existence, witnessing to this common origin; and

Whereas, during the more than one hundred years of separation a common Reformed doctrine has maintained with theology and constitution, Book of Common Worship and Discipline congruent; and

Whereas, our mission is identical and compatible as evidenced in our various joint work and joint support of such institutions as Westminster College, the Missouri Presbyterian Children's Home at Farmington, the Columbia and other Campus Ministry Centers; and

Whereas, our two denominations are not sufficiently strong when functioning separately to adequately carry out the proper mission of Presbyterians in the State; and

Whereas, ministers in Missouri move easily and naturally between the two branches, and members make such transfers with little knowledge or concern with the different denominational lines; and

Whereas, the challenge and need of this area call for the most effective and united witness to our faith; and

Whereas, the General Assemblies of both Churches have recognized the validity and wisdom of union thru their approval of United churches whereby local congregations in many areas of the Synods have united under this plan to achieve a more effective witness;

Now, therefore, the Northwest Missouri Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to amend the Book of Church Order by the addition of a chapter to the Form of Government permitting the union of Synods and Presbyteries of the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. of America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

From the Presbytery of Muhlenberg:

Whereas, the Synod of Kentucky of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Synod of Kentucky, Presbyterian Church in the United States have a common background historically, with churches in both synods, now in the latter part of the second century of continual existance, witnessing to this common origin; and

Whereas, during the more than one hundred years of separation a common Reformed doctrine has maintained with theology and constitution, Book of Common Worship and Discipline congruent; and

Whereas, our mission is identical and compatible as evidence in our joint support of Louisville Presbyterian Seminary and Centre College and a merged effective work in Christian Education of ten years standing, approved by both Assemblies' Boards of Christian Education; and

Whereas, our geographical territory is identical, with both branches of the Presbyterian Church seeking to minister to people across the entire State of Kentucky; and

Whereas, ministers in Kentucky move between the two branches of the Presbyterian Church easily and naturally, and members transfer from one branch of the church to the other; and

Whereas, the General Assemblies of both Churches have recognized the validity and wisdom of union thru their approval of united churches whereby local congregations in many areas of the synods have united under this plan to achieve a more effective witness; and

Whereas, in spite of this effective working relationship, we continue to maintain separate identity which is confusing to our constituencies and detrimental to our full ministry in Kentucky, a stumbling block and sin against the Church of Our Lord Jesus Christ;

Now, therefore, the Presbytery of Muhlenberg respectfully overtures the General Assembly to amend the Book of Church Order by the addition of the following chapter to the Form of Government:

(1) On union Presbyteries

(2) On union Synods

(Note: The Text for this proposed chapter on Presbyteries is identical with that proposed by the Presbytery of Central Texas, and therefore is not printed here again. Similarly, for this proposed chapter on Synods, see overtures to the 1967 General Assembly, overture 1 from the Synod of Kentucky.)

From the Presbytery of Potomac:

The Presbytery of Potomac meeting March 8, 1966, at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, (P.C.U.S.), Alexandria, Va., at the same time and in the same building as the Presbytery of Washington City of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, respectfully overtures the 106th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to give serious study to permitting the formation of Union Presbyteries, with due consideration to the proposals coming from the Presbytery of Central Texas.

From the Presbytery of Kanawha:

Kanawha Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to take the necessary action to amend the Book of Church Order in the following sections:

11-3, line two, delete the term "men" and replace it with "adult persons."

12-2, line two, delete the term "men" and replace it with "adult persons."

The purpose of these proposed amendments is to bring the terminology of the Book of Church Order into clear agreement with the present practices of the Church. Since women are now eligible for ordination, the suggested terminology seems to be more in keeping than the term currently used.

From the Presbytery of Mecklenburg:

The Presbytery of Mecklenburg respectfully overtures the General Assembly to answer the following questions:

1. When a congregation votes to adopt a rotary system for its session, may the elders be placed in classes without the concurrance and action of the Session?

2. May a congregation, in adopting a rotary system for the session and/or the board of deacons, exclude from roation part or all officers then serving and simply elect new officers for limited terms? Is it possible to have a session and/or a diaconate consisting of some officers whose term is limited and some whose term is permanent?

3. When a Presbytery appoints a commission and invests it with powers to settle difficulties in a local church, does this include the power to initiate and try by Judicial process any obdurate or contumacious officer or member? If not, must a separate Judicial Commission be appointed to hear charges in each instance as they are brought by the Administrative Commission?

4. When a Judicial Commission of Presbytery has heard a case and rendered a verdict of admonition against the accused, are further acts in defiance of the judgment and admonition admonition against the accused, are further acts in defiance of the judgment and adminition to be dealt with by that particular Judicial Commission, or do its powers cease with the rendering of the verdict and necessitate further actions or instructions by the Presbytery?

RESOLUTIONS

The Stated Clerk reported that five resolutions were in hand. These were received and referred as follows: No. 1 to the Standing Committee on Assembly Operation; No. 2, touching a constitutional matter, to the Permanent Judicial Commission for report in 1968; No. 3, to the Standing Committee on Church Extension, No. 4, to the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations and No. 5, to the Standing Committee on Assembly Operation. The full text of these resolutions, together with action on each, appears in the report of the Standing Committee to which they were referred, except No. 2, which is as follows:

Whereas the constitutional provisions (Book of Church Order, Chapter 31) permitting union and federated churches belonging to both the Presbyterian Church US and the United Presbyterian Church USA were approved contingent upon the existence of a like faith and order; and Whereas those few union and federated churches now in existence have depended, for their harmonious existence, upon the fact that the same faith and order governed both denominations to which they belonged; and Whereas the United Presbyterian Church USA had now adopted a new confession of faith and discarded altogether one of the three Westminster standards, namely the Larger Catechism; and Whereas the United Presbyterian Church USA has altered the vows required of its officers so that ministers and elders no longer pledge their acceptance of any specific creed, even he new confession;

NOW, Therefore the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church US indicates its desire to terminate the union and federated church arrangement which has existed between the Presbyterian Church US and the United Presbyterian Church USA. To this end it takes the following actions:

1. The provision in the Book of Church Order, namely Chapter 31, which permits unioon or federated churches, is hereby rescinded, and the proposal that Chapter 31 shall be eliminated from the Book of Church Order is forthwith submitted to the presbyteries for their advice and consent.
2. The proposal submitted to the presbyteries shall include a provision that those existing union or federated churches shall be permitted to choose a single denominational membership, under procedures to be set up by a later General Assembly.

Signed: Commissioners to the 107 General Assembly—W. Jack Williamson, East Alabama; (Rev.) J. Wayte Fulton, Everglades; (Rev.) Albert H. Freundt, Jr., Cent. Miss.; (Rev.) Robert Strong, East Ala.; (Rev.) J. W. Everett, Bethel; L. S. Weir, Bethel; (Rev.) G. Aiken Taylor, Asheville; (Rev.) George Dameron, Everglades; (Rev.) Robert W. Cousar, Jr., Westminster; (Rev. Angae R. Shaw, III, Abingdon; (Rev.) Mike L. Andrews, Westminster.

CONCERNING THE ELECTION OF MODERATOR

The Stated Clerk reported that 451 ballots for Moderator had been cast. The Moderator directed that the floor be cleared of all except bona fide commissioners and that all commissioners be seated. The Moderator further directed the pages to count the number of commissioners present on the floor of the Court. The count resulted in establishing the number of commissioners present on the floor of the Court as being the same number as the total number of ballots cast on the second ballot, this number being 451. The Moderator ruled that under this circumstance ballot number two would be the official ballot unless protested. There was no protest. It was announced that the result of the second ballot would be published at the proper time on the agenda.

Dendy had been duly elected and installed Moderator of the One-Hundred-Seventh General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, in keeping with all constitutional requirements. REPORT OF PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION ON A CASE OF PROCESS

Mr. William Nash, Chairman of the Permanent Judicial Commission, was introduced. He introduced other members of the Commission who were present.

The Stated Clerk reviewed the rules, procedures, and authority of the Commission.

Rev. James E. Drinkard, a member of the Permanent Judicial Commission, read the report of the Commission in the case of W. S. McAliley, et al, Complainants, versus the Synod of Alabama, Respondent, as follows:

NORTHERN HEIGHTS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
Selma, Alabama, to
TUSCALOOSA PRESBYTERY (Ibid. pp. 80 and 81).

The Commission understood that the directive of Synod included the transfer of ministers as well as the transfer of churches, although the directive mentioned only churches, and met on June 28, 1966, to clarify this point. Since it lacked a quorum, no official business was undertaken, but in keeping with the opinion of those present, the Chairman of the Commission in making its report to Synod, recommended "That the Synod of Alabama hereby declares that, as of June 27, 1966, each pastor and stated supply pastor of Central Alabama Presbytery is a member of the presbytery in which his church is located."

This recommendation was adopted. See Minutes of Synod, 1966, pp. 15 and 16.

At the One Hundred Thirty-first meeting of the Synod of Alabama held at Southwestern in Memphis, Tennessee, June 28 and 29, 1966, there was presented an Overture from the Presbytery of Tuscaloosa asking Synod to rescind its action establishing the Administrative Commission to deal with matters concerning Central Alabama Presbytery, which overture was answered in the negative; a complaint of Tuscaloosa Presbytery against the said Commission, which complaint was ruled out of order pursuant to Section 117-1, BCO, and its interpretation by the General Assembly that only an individual may make a complaint; and a complaint of individuals in the Presbytery of Tuscaloosa against the said Commission, which complaint was found to be in order and which Synod proceeded to hear in the presence of the whole Court (Ibid, p. 32).

The complaint in question was dated March 24, 1966, and a copy thereof was set forth in full in the Blue Book supplied to representatives to Synod some three weeks prior to the meeting of Synod of June 28, 1966. This "Blue Book" bears the notation "Committee Report and Proposed Business".

The Record of the Case does not so reflect, but it was admitted on oral presentation of the Case before the Permanent Judicial Commission that prior to hearing the complaint the Moderator offered to declare a recess to enable the complainants and the Administrative Commission time in which to prepare for the hearing, but the recess was not requested. Neither the complainants nor the Commission requested a postponement of the hearing for further preparation.

Following the presentation by the Complainants and by the Commission through their respective selected representatives and the expression of opinion by several members of the Court representing both sides of the question, and after Synod was led in prayer by the Moderator, upon a vote taken by voice, a motion to have a roll call vote having failed to pass, the complaint was not sustained.

Thereafter, the Rev. W. S. McAliley and others duly filed with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly their complaint against the Synod of Alabama. The complaint, although in form somewhat in the nature of an appeal, formerly complains against the action taken by Synod of June 29, 1966 on the Complaint of Tuscaloosa Presbytery Complainant v. Synod of Alabama's Administrative Commission to deal with the matter concerning Central Alabama Presbytery, Respondent. This particular complaint was found to be out of order by Synod (supra) and no further action was taken thereon.

The Permanent Judicial Commission understand that Complainants intend to complain against the action of Synod taken on the complaint of the individuals in the Presbytery of Tuscaloosa against the said Commission, which complaint Synod found to be in order and did hear in open court (supra).

For their grounds of complaint, Complainants allege:

1. That the said Synod failed to use due discretion in its said action when it was fully aware and had been fully apprised of the deep feelings of Complainants on said matter and the far-reaching and possible ill effects of the work and effectiveness of the Presbytery;
2. The fact that Complainants were only given five minutes in which to prepare their trial;
3. The fact that the Complainants did not have sufficient opportunity to choose their legal spokesman;
4. That the vote was irregularly taken by voice vote and not by division (see #117-6, BCO).

and for relief prayed:

1. That the action of Synod be reversed, and
2. That the Synod of Alabama be directed to rearrange the boundaries of Tuscaloosa Presbytery in such manner so as not to include therein the said Negro churches sought to be placed within it in order to preserve the peace and effectiveness of the churches in the Tuscaloosa Presbytery.

Proper notice of the hearing on the complaint was given to the parties to the case, and, all procedural requirements having been met, the complaint is now before the Permanent Judicial Commission for preliminary judgment.

The first issue presented by the case in whether Synod failed to use due discretion in its action in appointing its Administrative Commission and directing it to divide the Presbytery of Central Alabama into three parts corresponding to the boundaries of the Presbyteries of East Alabama, Mobile, and Tuscaloosa; to unite these parts with the Presbyteries of East Alabama, Mobile, and Tuscaloosa; and to handle such matters as may pertain thereto, "when Synod was fully aware and had been fully apprised of the deep feeling of the Complainants on said matter and of the far reaching and possible ill effects on the work and effectiveness of the Presbytery."

It is well settled that synod has absolute authority to erect and divide presbyteries. "The Synod has power: To establish new Presbyteries and unite or divide those which were before established" (Section 17-5 (4) BCO) and "To take such order with respect to the Presbyteries, Sessions and churches under its care as may be in conformity with the Word of God and the Constitution, and may tend to promote the edification of the Church" (Section 17-5 (6) BCO).

Especially appropriate to this case is the answer of General Assembly to an overture regarding synod's authority to change the boundaries of a presbytery without giving presbytery an opportunity to express its approval or disapproval.

General Assembly stated:

> "However inexpedient the use of such autocratic authority may be, it is not forbidden but authorized in the powers of synod as defined in the Book of Church Order, Par. 86, namely: "To erect new presbyteries, and to unite or divide those which were before erected." (pres. Section 17-5.) This power of synod is not circumscribed as it is with the presbytery, which has "power . . . to unite or divide churches at the request of the members thereof." (par. 76) (pres. Section 16-7). A Synod's power should be limited, and the Assembly would urge synods not to exercise this power to a dangerous extent, save in extraordinary cases."

(Digest of the General Assembly Proceeding (Millard Ed. 1966, item 4, p. 107).

Holding, as we must, that Synod had the authority to take its action, the question is now presented whether Synod in so doing used "due discretion". The Record of the Case as set forth rather fully in the opening statement of facts, together with the oral presentation by the parties to the case, demonstrate that Synod did act with discretion and not in a hasty or arbitrary manner.

In holding that Synod thus acted within its constitutional power, we point out that further action taken by Synod in assigning ministers of Central Alabama Presbytery to membership in the respective Presbyteries of East Alabama, Mobile, and Tuscaloosa is entirely within the scope of Synod's authority as set forth in Section 17-5(4), BCO, as interpreted by the General Assembly. In answer to a question, the General Assembly stated that "when a synod transfers any part of the territory of one presbytery to that of another, with the churches included therein, the action of synod transfers the ministers in the ceded territory from one presbytery to the other without any dismission from the presbytery to which they belonged, and without any examination according to the Form of Government, Chapter V, Section IV, Paragraph 4, or any vote on the part of the Presbytery receiving them." (Digest of the General Assembly Proceedings (Millard Ed. 1966, item 8, p. 94.)

A second issue is presented by Complainants' two contentions that in the hearing before Synod on June 29, 1966, they were given only five minutes in which to prepare for trial and that they did not have sufficient opportunity to choose their legal spokesman.

A sufficient answer is that the Record of the Case clearly sets forth that the complaint which was the subject of the hearing was prepared by Complainants, was dated March 24, 1966, was copied in full in the Blue Book and marked "Committee Reports and Proposed Business", and was furnished to representatives well in advance of the meeting of Synod on June 28, 1966. In oral presentation before this Commission, it was conceded that the Moderator offered a recess to enable Complainants to select representatives and to prepare their case, which offer was not accepted. It was further conceded that Complainants might have requested a postponement of the hearing but did not.

In view of the Record of the Case and such admissions it can hardly be said that Complainants were taken unawares or not allowed ample time within which to prepare for the hearing on June 29, 1966.

A third issue is presented in Complainants' contention "That the vote (on the complaint) was irregularly taken by voice vote and not by division."

The Record of the Case notes: "The call for the question was then heard, and the Moderator was requested to lead the Synod in prayer before the vote was taken.

"Motion to have a roll call vote failed to pass, and the vote was taken by voice." (Minutes of Synod, 1966, p. 32.)

In a written brief presented to this Commission, a copy of which is filed with the Record of the Case, on pages 16 and 17 thereof, Complainants rely on Rules of Parliamentary Order 40 and 41 (BCO, p. 149). These rules do not support the position of Complainants, for the rules provide that the votes are not to be recorded unless required by one-third of the members present. It does not appear that a request was made for the recordation of the vote. On oral presentation, it was further admitted that a division was not requested. In addition, Complainants do not assert that a roll call vote would have been favorable to their position. It appears that at best Complainants' objection is to "a mere technicality" and as such is insufficient (Section 116-3, BCO).

It is, therefore, the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission of the General Assembly that the complaint be not sustained in each of its particulars.

Rev. Alexander Henry, Member of the Commission and a member of the Synod of Alabama, having excused himself, did not participate.

WILLIAM NASH, Chairman
Permanent Judicial Commission

The Moderator put the following question: "Shall the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission in the General Assembly Complaint No. 1—1967, as above recorded be made the final judgment of the General Assembly?" In response to a question from the floor the Moderator advised Commissioners from the Synod of Alabama to refrain from voting on the question. There being no requests for clarifications, the Moderator declared that the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission in the case of W. S. McAliley, et al., Complainants versus the Synod of Alabama, Respondent, is now the final judgment of the General Assembly, and the case is herewith closed.

The Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures was excused to attend to business.

AD INTERIM COMMITTEE REPORTS

1. On Institutional Forms

Rev. Fred R. Stair, Jr., Chairman, assisted by members of the Committee, presented the report of the Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms.

Communication Number 16, referred to the docket for consideration at this time, was presented, as follows:

A COMMUNICATION REGARDING THE RECOMMENDATIONS ON COMMUNICATION IN THE REPORT OF THE AD-INTERIM COMMITTEE ON INSTITUTIONAL FORMS

Whereas, the Boards and agencies of the General Assembly are finding it increasingly difficult to provide and under-gird a unified program of witness and service with the present division of responsibilities, and

Whereas, the recommendations of the Ad-Interim Committee on Institutional Forms regarding board structures are limited to communication, and

Whereas, the Inter-Agency Committee for the past three years has been studying further coordination of program, communication and leadership,

We, therefore, recommend:

That recommendations 1, 2, 3 and 5 of the Ad-Interim Committee's report be referred by the General Assembly to a committee to be convened by the General Council and to be composed of the Chairmen or one elected member from the Boards of Annuities and Relief, Christian Education, Church Extension, Survey, TRAV, World Missions, Women's Work and The General Council, with the Executive Secretaries of these boards and agencies serving as consulting members without vote; and to report through the General Council to the 1968 General Assembly as to the best ways of implementing recommendations 1, 2, 3 and 5 of the Ad-Interim Committee's report and any other matters in the area of restructuring in the event of union with the Reformed Church in America.

We make this recommendation in view of the continuing responsibility of the General Council to study the structures of the Church and to make recommendations to the General Assembly concerning them to the end that the Church's witness may be more effecive.

T. WATSON STREET, MARSHALL C. DENDY, EVELYN L. GREEN, JOHN F. ANDERSON, JR., LAWRENCE STELL, BLUFORD B. HESTIR, GEORGE H. VICK, THEODORE B. PRATT.

The Assembly adopted the recommendation of Communication 16, and referred recommendations 1, 2, 3 and 5 of the Ad Interim Committee's Report to a committee to be convened by the General Council. Reference is made to the communication above, and its recommendation, where the composition and work of this committee is specified. The Assembly added the Rev. Fred R. Stair, Jr., to those who are to compose this committee.

With the above amendments, the report was adopted. (See Appendix, page 137.) The Assembly thanked the Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms and discharged it.

2. On Mississippi Visitation

Rev. Charles L. King, Chairman, presented the report of the Ad Interim Committee on Mississippi Visitation. The report was interrupted for a Special Order.

SPECIAL ORDER

The Assembly engaged in a Special Order during which the names of ministers who had died since the last Assembly were read. (See Appendix, Part II, page 209.) The Assembly stood and engaged in special prayer voiced by Rev. J. McDowell Richards.

The Assembly took recess until 2:00 P.M.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Assembly met at 2:00 P.M. and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The report of the Ad Interim Committee on Mississippi Visitation was resumed.

The Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations was excused to meet for business.

The Report of the Ad Interim Committee on Mississippi Visitation was adopted as amended. (See Appendix, page 146.) The Assembly expressed appreciation for the report by a standing vote.

3. On The Joint Committee of Twenty-Four with the Reformed Church in America

Mr. John A. Fulton, Co-Chairman, presented the report of the Joint Committee of Twenty-Four with the Reformed Church in America. He reported that the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, considering the same identical report, had adopted the recommendations of the report by a vote of approximately 10 to 1. The first recommendation of the report was amended to read "WE RECOMMEND THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND THE GENERAL SYNOD AFFIRM ONCE AGAIN THEIR CONFIDENCE IN THE PROVIDENCE OF THE POSSIBLE AND THEIR SERIOUS AND ENTHUSIASTIC PURPOSE TO PROCEED AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE LOOKING TOWARD THE UNION OF OUR TWO CHURCHES."

The vote on the motion to adopt the report was postponed, to be considered with the report of the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations.

4. Consultation of Church Union

Rev. William A. Benfield, Jr., Chairman, presented the report of the Committee on Consultation on Church Union. The motion to adopt the report was postponed, to be considered with the report of the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES

Rev. Thomas W. Currie, Jr., Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures. During the report the hour for adjournment was reached and the Assembly extended the time in order to complete the report. It was adopted, as amended, as follows:

Your Committee on Bills and Overtures has had referred to it overtures printed in the Handbook and numbered as follows: 57, 58, 59, 60, 72, 80, and 83; also overtures in the Handbook Supplement 87 and 89.

We recommend to the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

1. That Overture 57 from the Presbytery of Potomac requesting that definite steps be taken to provide regional counselling centers for the benefit of ministers, D.C.E.'s, layworkers and their families be answered in the negative since the Board of Annuities and Relief is already doing its utmost in meeting these needs and since a series of suggested centers would be prohibitively expensive.

2. That Overture 58 from the Presbytery of Bethel requesting the General Assembly through its General Council or some other arm to seek to establish post-Assembly "Dialogue Sessions" in Synods or on regional levels and Overture 89 from the Presbytery of Charleston requesting that the General Assembly through the office of its Moderator set up a series of Synod-wide meetings for ministers and ruling elders be answered by encouraging the commissioners to the 107th General Assembly to allow themselves to be used as widely as possible to inform their respective presbyteries and Synods of the deliberations and actions of the Assembly, that each Synod, Presbytery, and congregation be encouraged to arrange for one or more commissioners to report on the work of the General Assembly, and that each Synod be encouraged to invite some representative of the office of the General Council or of the Office of the General Assembly to share in such report and interpretation as may be docketed in its deliberations.

3. That Overture 59 from the Presbytery of Montgomery requesting the Boards and Agencies of General Assembly to divest themselves of investments in the stocks of companies doing business in South Africa and Rhodesia and refrain from the purchase of such stock and notify companies thus affected reasons for said policy, be answered in the negative. This is not to be interpreted as, in any way an endorsement of Apartheid in South Africa nor anywhere else. Injustice and unbrotherly attitudes, laws, and acts are not to be encouraged nor condoned but rather to be condemned and abandoned. While it is the sense of this Assembly that the Boards and Agencies should use utmost care to avoid encouraging or profiting by injustice, it must be noted that no person can in this life altogether escape the depravity of sin and, unfortunately for us, wickedness has not yet been confined to South Africa. Therefore, the 107th General Assembly advises its boards and agencies to seek in any investments no less than in other life and work under their authority to continue to seek increasingly to exercise Christian conscience and discretion.

4. That Overture 60 from the Presbytery of Nashville requesting the reconsideration of our Church's effort to present the Gospel to the Jews in this country and abroad be referred to the Board of Church Extension or its successor as regards the effort in the U. S. A. and to the Board of World Missions as regards the effort abroad with the request that each board study this matter and report its findings to the 108th General Assembly.

5. That Overture 72 from the Presbytery of Central Texas relating to the words "He descended into hell" as used (or omitted) in the Apostles' Creed be answered by reference to the Apostles' Creed as printed on p. 325 of the Confession of Faith issued by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in 1965 as proper for general use throughout the advise that this wording is approved to be employed by the Boards and agencies of the General Assembly in hymnbooks and other materials for public worship, and that the asterisk and footnote referring to the answer to the 50th question in the Larger Catechism is properly to be omitted when the Creed is used in such materials.

6. That Overture 80 from the Presbytery of Washburn requesting the appointment of an Ad Hoc Committee to make a study of the group originating the "Open Letter" and two other groups mentioned therein be answered in the negative. This answer is given because of a belief in Freedom of the Press and Freedom of Assembly. The General Assembly has its own Presbyterian Survey in which the official interpretation of facts and matters of policy may be widely read. Other groups and publications must be accorded freedom of expression. We call attention to and reaffirm the statements of the General Assemblies of 1965 and 1966 in this regard.

7. That the Overture 83 from the Presbytery of Louisiana, which reads: "Whereas, when marrying Roman Catholics, our Presbyterian constituents under the compulsion of love and the requirements of the Roman Catholic Church are led to make written or verbal vows to bring up children to be born of their marriage in the Roman Catholic faith;
"And Whereas, said Presbyterians later realizing the full implications of their actions, come to feel that it was wrong to have made vows preventing them from sharing with their children their own understanding of God and His love in Christ; Therefore, the Presbytery of Louisiana respectfully overtures the 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to express its judgment as to whether, in the above mentioned circumstances, the vows are binding upon the conscience," be answered as follows:

The vow of any Presbyterian that is of ultimate priority is his confession of faith in Jesus Christ as his own divine Saviour and Lord.

It is not right for any Christian to take any vow except with the intention to keep it. The Holy Spirit in leading a Christian more and more to die unto sin and to live unto righteousness is never barred from disclosing new light nor from giving an increased understanding of the significance of vows taken. When a person finds himself under a vow to be a true witness to Jesus Christ and is led to see that one implication of this is an imperative to discharge a responsibility which he cannot forfeit in fealty to his Lord, but to which some other vow stands in conflict, then he faces the decision as to whether he should persist in the error of some other unwise vow he may have taken, or become more nearly a faithful witness on behalf of Jesus Christ, not least to those he loves the most. We recommend the General Assembly order the Presbyterian Survey to print this action if passed by the General Assembly.

That the 107th General Assembly request the Stated Clerk to send a copy of the position taken by the Assembly in answer to overture 83 to the archbishops of the Roman Catholic Church within the bounds of our Assembly.

8. That Overture 87 from Ruling Elder T. Shep Clark of Augusta-Macon Presbytery requesting the 1967 General Assembly to go on record as being opposed to any and all demonstrations which interfere with keeping of the Ten Commandments God has given us be answered by saying that while it believes the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God (with the Ten Commandments being part thereof) the only infallible rule of faith and practice, the General Assembly of 1967 declines to make one pronouncement on all demonstrations of whatever character, whenever and wherever held as to degrees to which each may or may not tend to interfere with the keeping of the Ten Commandments on the part of any one or several of the inhabitants of the globe.

9. There has been referred to the Bills and Overtures Committee a resolution designated as No. 6 and signed by William D. Menefee asking the General Assembly to advise against preferential treatment for candidates and ministers by the Selective Service System, as follows:

That whereas the Legislators of our Federal Government are considering the revision of the present National Selective Service System; and whereas it is proposed that the new legislation shall seek more fully to realize the principle of equality under the law for all citizens and to eliminate any preferential status for any group or class; and whereas the Gospel of Jesus Christ makes no such distinction among men nor the New Testament Standards of citizenship to share in service as well as enjoy all the rights and privileges of citizenship, I do hereby resolve that the continuance of such discrimination is contrary to our understanding of both the intent and spirit of the law, the Gospel and the New Testament concepts of responsible citizenship, and that any future law needs to be revised accordingly;

Therefore I respectfully overture the General Assembly to vote their approval of this resolution and send copies of the same to the President of the United States, the members of the legislative branches of the Federal Government, Lt. General Lewis Hersey; encouraging them to adopt such revisions of the present law and eliminate this present preferential and special status for ministerial students and clergymen which violates the stated principle of equality under the law for all citizens.

We recommend that, since the Council on Church and Society is undertaking a general study of the whole matter of the Christian's response to war and peace, this resolution be referred to the Council on Church and Society.

10. There has been referred to the Bills and Overtures Committee a resolution designated No. 7 signed by John Randolph Taylor and F. Wellford Hobbie, as follows: Whereas there is concern in the church about the work of organizations which operate within the church but have not been officially approved by the courts of the church; and whereas the right of Presbyterians to band together to give voice to particular convictions and points of view is not in question, so long as this is done decently and in order; and whereas our Form of Government explicitly states that "all organizations within a particular church shall be subject to the review and control of the Session. Each organization shall, if requested, render stated reports to the Session" (BOCO 15-7); and whereas our Form of Government further states that "all Church courts possess the same kinds of rights and powers, and differ only as the Constitution may provide" (BOCO 14-4); and whereas our Form of Government gives to Presbyteries, Synods, and the General Assembly the right and duty to order whatever pertains to the spiritual welfare of the churches under their care (BOCO 16-7-19; 17-5-6; 18-6-15);

Be it resolved:

1. That this General Assembly instruct the Stated Clerk to secure annual reports from A Fellowship of Concern, the Concerned Presbyterians, Inc., and any other groups similarly organized on an Assembly-wide level;
2. That each report include a clear statement of the purposes, program and officers of the organization.
3. That each report include accurate membership statistics.
4. That each report include an audited statement of finances.
5. That these reports be published in the Handbook for the information of commissioners.
6. That Synods, Presbyteries, and Sessions be encouraged to require similar reports on organizations which may be operating on levels below that of the General Assembly.

We recommend that this resolution be answered in the negative, in that these are not official organizations within the church nor recognized as such by the Courts of our church, nor do they use the name "Presbyterian Church, U. S." in their title (See B.C.O. 15-6 (16)).

We recommend that the General Assembly invite any or all organizations related to, but not officially connected with our church to file any information they desire to make known with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,
THOMAS W. CURRIE, JR., Chairman

SUNDAY

Although the Assembly was not in session on Sunday attention is directed to the three services of worship in which members of the General Assembly and the General Synod participated.

The service of Holy Communion was conducted at ten a.m. Retiring Moderator Frank H. Caldwell presided and Retiring President Raymond E. Beckering preached the sermon. Rev. Charles H. Gibboney, pastor, First Church Bristol, and President R. T. L. Liston, King College, administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper with elders from area Presbyterian churches assisting. The Provisional Litgurgy of the Reformed Church in America was used.

"Where Is The Mission?" was the general theme of services conducted at 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. During the afternoon service the Board of World Missions, Reformed Church in America and The Board of Church Extension, Presbyterian Church in the United States, presented Dr. Alan Walker, Superintendent, Central Methodist Church, Sydney, Australia, who addressed the audience on the theme, followed by a panel discussion. During the evening service the Board of World Missions of the two Churches presented Dr. Alan Walker in another address.

June 12, 1967 8:30 A.M.

The Assembly met at 8:30 A.M. and engaged in a service of worship led by Rev. William R. Sengel.

The Assembly voted to reconsider the adoption of the Minutes of Friday at those points where reference to the voting procedures for the Moderator were made.

The Assembly directed that the record show that the actual registration was identical with the number of votes cast when a recheck was made at the registration desk.

The Minutes of Saturday and notations regarding Sunday worship were read. The Assembly directed that the Minutes include excerpts from the address of Rev. W. A. Benfield in order to establish the nature of his remarks to the Assembly on Saturday relating to the Consultation on Church Union (see Appendix, page 169). The Minutes were approved as amended.

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON WORLD MISSIONS

Rev. Arthur Vann Gibson, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on World Missions. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

I. Minutes of the Board of World Missions.

II. Report of the Board of World Missions with its recommendations, including the financial statement of the Board of World Missions for the previous year and a response to the action of the 106th General Assembly regarding the emphasis placed on man's lost condition apart from Jesus Christ, the only Savior, in conferences and promotional materials.

III. Nominations to the Board of World Missions. The committee dealt with the following matters referred to it by the General Assembly as follows:

A. The report of the Board, including the response to the action of the 106th General Assembly, was reviewed and found in order.
(See Part III of Minutes, Bound volume of Board Reports.)

B. The minutes of the Board of World Missions were read and found in order.

Your Standing Committee recommends:

I. That the General Assembly record its gratitude for the contribution to our Church's overseas missionary outreach made by Dr. James A. Jones. Prior to his death on November 17, 1966, Dr. Jones had served for a total of 18 years as a member of the Board of World Missions and for three years as the Chairman of the Board.

II. That the General Assembly take note that 1967 marks the 100th anniversary of the first overseas missionaries of our Church, who began working in China in 1867; that the General Assembly record its gratitude for the thousands of lives shared by our Church for overseas mission during the 100 year period and for the fruit of our Church's mission; that the General Assembly call on our Church for continuing prayer for God's people in China today; and that the General Assembly affirm our Church's intent to be again an instrument of God's mission in mainland China at the earliest possible time.

III. That the General Assembly encourage prayer by our whole Church for the Convocation of Missionaries, July 15-21, 1967, and for the purposes of the Convocation: "renewed commitment and more effective service in the world mission of the Church today."

IV. That the General Assembly affirm its conviction that stabilizing of the population explosion, a matter of urgency in many overseas lands, is a matter of great importance for the Christian mission and for world peace; that it commend Church World Service, other voluntary agencies and governments for providing information and services in behalf of family planning; and that it commend medical missionaries of our Church for their participation in responsible programs of planned parenthood.

V. That the General Assembly endorse the 1968 Season of Christian Witness at Home and Abroad; that it call upon all congregations to give strong support to the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, February 18-25, 1968; and that, recognizing the uniqueness of Christ, it commend earnest consideration of the theme of the 1968 Witness Season, "Christ and the Faiths of Men," and the related study, "Japan."

VI. That the General Assembly again call our Church to a generous response to the special Easter Offering ("One Great Hour of Sharing") for relief and rehabilitation around the world in the name of Christ. The Church is reminded that the proper and authorized channel for Easter Offering funds is the Department of Overseas Relief and Interchurch Aid of the Board of World Missions.

VII. That the General Assembly reaffirm that the greatest contribution our Church can make in overseas mission is to share the dedicated lives of our Church members and ministers in order to witness to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord; that the Christian world mission today needs highly qualified, highly trained men and women of deep Christian commitment and with dedicated concern for human life in its totality; that the General Assembly request each presbytery to seek for each session in 1967-68 the name of at least one person who should consider overseas mission service and that presbytery send these names to the Board of World Mission.

VIII. That the General Assembly emphasize the urgency of increased support of the Christian world mission today in view of the fact (1) that only 9% of the total resources of the Christian Church are invested in Asia and Africa, where 70% of the world's people live, (2) that 95 cents of every southern Presbyterian dollar is used in the southern United States where 1% of the world's population lives.

IX. That the General Assembly confirm the action of the Board of World Missions in electing T. Watson Street as Executive Secretary for a term of three years.

X. That the General Assembly confirm the action of the Board of World Missions in electing Dr. J. Hervey Ross as Medical Secretary, for a term of three years.

XI. That the General Assembly confirm the action of the Board of World Missions in electing the Rev. Earle D. Roberts as Area Secretary for Latin America for a term of three years.

XII. That the General Assembly encourage prayer by the individual members of our denomination for our World Mission effort, for our Board and Staff, the National Churches, and the whole missionary force.

XIII. That the General Assembly elect to the Board of World Missions the nominees of the Permanent Nominating Committee as follows:

Class of 1970

Rev. George D. Jackson (2)
Rev. David L. Stitt (2)
Rev. David M. Currie (1)
Rev. Vernon S. Broyles, Jr. (1)
Rev. Samuel W. Newell, Jr. (2)
Dr. Carl M. Hill (3)
Mrs. Frank Lyon (1)
Rev. Jerome C. Jones (1)

Rev. George M. Ogilvie (1) Rev. Warner L. Hall (1)

XIV. That the General Assembly express its profound thanks to the Board of World Missions and the Staff for their outstanding service.

Respectfully submitted,
A. V. GIBSON, Chairman

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON ANNUITIES AND RELIEF

Mr. Paul E. Manners, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Annuities and Relief. The Assembly stood in appreciation for the work of the Board, its Executive Secretary and Staff members. Rev. P. D. Miller, Acting Moderator, voiced a special prayer of thanksgiving and intercession.

The report was adopted, and is as follows:

The following have been referred to the Committee:

A. Minutes of the Board of Annuities and Relief.

B. Report of the Board of Annuities and Relief with its recommendations.

C. Nominations to the Board of Annuities and Relief. (The portion of the Permanent Nominating Committee which concerns this Standing Committee)

Recommendations:

I. We recommend that the Report of the Board be approved (see Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports) and the following recommendations adopted:

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the General Assembly endorse the following action of the Board: We are pleased to announce that, upon the advice and consent of Huggins and Company, Inc., our actuaries, it will be possible on January 1, 1968 to add to each member's account in the Ministers' Annuity Fund a third special "Good Experience Credit." This "special credit" is possible at a cost of approximately $450,000 for each 1% of accumulated credits held by the Fund. This actuarial computation provides for the same percentage of increase in the amount of payment for those already receiving annuities, even as it provides an increase in credit to the accounts of those in active service.

As of December 31, 1967, sufficient reserves amounting to approximately $3,150,000 will be transferred from "Fund Balance in Reserve" to the "Actuarial Liability to Members and Survivors for Annuity and Death Benefits of the Ministers' Annuity Fund," making possible a 7% increase in all annuities being paid as of that date and in all 1/80 annuity credits accumulated to that date.

Such special credits do not change the terms of the Official Plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund. These "special benefits" will be payable in addition to the normal benefits payable under the terms of the Official Plan.

This "Special Favorable Experience Credit" in no way affects the future accumulation of credits or the dues required as outlined in the Official Plan. The accumulation of credits in the future will be on the same basis as in the past.

The significance of this third "Free Good Experience Credit" is more clearly understood in the example of a minister who may have retired in 1963 with an earned annuity of $200.00 monthly, based upon the payments he and his church had made into the Ministers' Annuity Fund from 1940 until he retired in 1963. His monthly annuity check was increased on January 1, 1964 to $216.00 (8%); it was increased on January 1, 1966 to $237.60 (10%); and will be increased on January 1, 1968 to $254.23 (7%). In other words, as a result of good experience and efficiency of operation through the years, the Board is guaranteeing him, for life, an annuity income of 27.116% more than he and the churches he served actually paid for in dues under the Official Plan.

2. That the General Assembly endorse and approve the following amendments to Section 8 of the Official Plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund in order to clarify the "Termination of Service" specifications of the Fund and to incorporate the additional benefit of a provision whereby members, having served the Church and participated in the Ministers' Annuity Fund for five or more years, and who withdraw from the service of the Church without censure, may leave their accumulated annuity credits with the Fund.

Section 8 of the Official Plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund

Refund of Member's Payments

§ 8.1 There can be no cancellation of membership and refund of member's payments so long as the member remains an ordained minister on the roll of any presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Except as modified elsewhere in this section, a member ceasing to be an ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church in the United States shall receive a refund of his member's payments (Section 5-2), together with interest at a rate to be determined by the Board, but less the sum of any benefits received by such member in annuity payments. Such refund shall cancel his membership and terminate all further claim against the Board for benefits of any kind.

Comity Agreements

§ 8.2 Any member transferring ministerial relationship from the Presbyterian Church in the United States to some other denomination with which the Fund may have at that time a comity or similar agreement may leave his member's payments with the Fund and retain his accumulated annuity credits according to the provisions of such agreement.

Retention of Credits after Five or More Years of Service

§ 8.3 If a member has served the Church and participated in the Fund for five or more years and withdraws from the service of the Church without censure and with the approval of Presbytery, he may leave his member's payments with the Fund. In such event the member shall be entitled to an annual retirement annuity after attaining age 65 equal to such percentage of one-eightieth of his total annual salaries on which dues have been paid in full to the Fund as is indicated in the following table:

	% of 1/80 Credits
At withdrawal after 10 or more years of participation in the Fund	100%
At withdrawal after 9 but less than 10 years of participation in the Fund	90
At withdrawal after 8 but less than 9 years of participation in the Fund	80
At withdrawal after 7 but less than 8 years of participation in the Fund	70
At withdrawal after 6 but less than 7 years of participation in the Fund	60
At withdrawal after 5 but less than 6 years of participation in the Fund	50

Retirement for such member, no longer an ordained minister of the Church, shall mean complete and permanent discontinuance of any and all service to the organization which he is serving at the time his application for a retirement annuity is made, after having attained the age of 65. No retirement annuity payments shall be made prior to the receipt of a certification from a responsible person or persons that retirement, as defined in this paragraph, is an accomplished fact. In addition, his widow, in the event of his death, either before or after retirement, shall be entitled to a widow annuity as provided in Section 3-1, but without the minimum benefit indicated in that Section. Disability, minor children, and lump-sum death benefits shall not apply to such member. The early retirement and joint and survivor options shall not be available to such member. No other benefit, of any kind, provided through the operation of the Fund or by the Church shall be available to such member or his survivors.

The exercising of this retention privilege by such member shall not be irrevocable. He may at any time, prior to his being granted a retirement annuity, elect, in writing, to receive in a lump sum his member's payments, together with interest at a rate to be determined by the Board. Such refund shall cancel his membership and terminate all further claims against the Board or the Church for benefits of any kind.

3. That the General Assembly approve and that members of the Fund, churches and church agencies be urged to cooperate in making effective the following administrative procedure which is designed to benefit all concerned.

The Board of Annuities and Relief, in order to make available maximum benefits to the members of the Annuity Funds and in order to effect greater economies and efficiency in accounting, recommends that in those cases when a member of either of the Funds leaves the service of one church (or church agency) and moves to the service of another at a time other than the first or last day of a month, the church that last received his services pay the annuity dues for the whole of that month. In those cases in which a membership is newly established or reactivated in service to a church, it is recommended that the employing church pay the full dues for the full month in which the member is employed.

4. That the General Assembly endorse the following action of the Board at its meeting on February 28, 1967:

Upon the advice and consent of Huggins and Company, Inc., our actuaries, a third "Special Favorable Experience" credit will be possible in the Employees' Annuity Fund as of January 1, 1968.

The Board approved the following: As of December 31, 1967, sufficient reserves amounting to approximately $152,000 will be transferred from the "Fund Balance in Reserve" to the "Equity of Members and Survivors in the Employees' Annuity Fund," making possible a 4% increase in all annuities being paid as of that date and a corresponding increase in all deposits for annuity purchase purposes, held in the accounts of the non-retired members.

The benefits of this 4% "Favorable Experience Credit" are not available should a member of the Employees' Annuity Fund withdraw under the provisions of Article I, Section 6, and Article II, Section 6, of the Official Plan.

Such special credits do not change the terms of the Official Plan of the Employees' Annuity Fund. These "special benefits" will be payable in addition to the normal benefits payable under the terms of the Official Plan.

This "Special Favorable Experience Credit" in no way affects the future accumulation of credits or the dues required as outlined in the Official Plan. The accumulation of credits in the future will be on the same basis as in the past.

This is the third "Good Experience Credit" affecting the accounts of the members of the Employees' Annuity Fund since January 1, 1965. Credits have been as follows: 1965—6%; 1966—6%; 1968—4%

5. That the General Assembly endorse and approve the following amendments to the Official Plan of the Employees' Annuity Fund to make available additional benefits and options to the members of the Fund and their survivors.

The Official Plan of the Employees' Annuity Fund

(Material to be deleted in brackets—New material in italic)

Article I—Member's Dues

Section 1. Payments to be known as member's dues shall be made [by] for each person who becomes a member of the Employees' Annuity Fund. These payments may be made by the member or by his employer.

Section 2. No change

Section 3. No change

Section 4. No change

Section 5. The member's dues, together with the interest additions, shall be applied as follows:

A. Toward [securing] providing an age annuity (single life annuity) for the member [single life annuity] upon retirement, i.e., the relinquishment of any or all salaried relationship for service in the Presbyterian Church in the United States, provided that

(No other changes in A)

B. Toward providing a disability annuity (single life annuity) for the member upon the retirement of the member as a result of total and presumably permanent disability before attaining the minimum retirement age [as a result of total and presumably permanent disability.] In lieu of the single life annuity, such member may elect one of the options provided for in A, (b), (1) and (2) of this Section.

(No other changes in B)

Section 6. No change

Section 7. In the event of death, before retirement on account of age or disability, the member's dues, together with the interest additions, shall be applied toward providing an annuity [benefit] for the surviving wife, husband, minor child or children, but if the member leaves no wife, husband or minor child, the member's dues shall be paid, together with the interest additions, to the beneficiary, if any, designated by the member, or to the member's legal representative. A surviving wife or husband may elect to receive (a) a single life annuity or (b) the optional form of annuity provided for in Section 5, A, (b) (2).

6. That General Assembly remind the churches, agencies, institutions, ministers and lay employees of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. that, pursuant to the action of the General Assembly in 1949 that the Board of Annuities and Relief make available "the economies of group insurance," the Board has a superior program of coverage in the field of life insurance, major medical insurance, and accidental death, dismemberment and disability insurance. The coverage offered through the Board, in terms of premium charged and benefits provided prompts the careful consideration of eligible groups and individuals.

7. That the General Assembly rejoice in and thank God for the continuing generosity of our Church in meeting the needs of our Retired through gifts to Ministerial Relief. In 1966 the Board received for the purposes of Ministerial Relief, in designated gifts, the largest sum in history, totaling $742,833.

On January 1, 1966, as a result of the compassion of the Church, the Board was privileged to increase the formula under which assistance is rendered the Retired by 20%. Our Church continues to have the highest formula of any denomination in the world as well as provide, without cost to our Retired, the most complete medical insurance program of any denomination.

The wisdom of this compassion of our Church as expressed through Ministerial Relief deserves recognition by this Court and a prayer of thanksgiving to God.

V. That the General Assembly commend the Board of Annuities and Relief, its officers, staff members, and committees for the exceptional record of outstanding administration of the funds and programs entrusted to its care.

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL E. MANNERS, Chairman

ADDRESS BY CHAPLAIN HUGH R. ESCO, JR., U.S. ARMY COMMISSIONER FROM BIRMINGHAM PRESBYTERY

Fathers and brethren, it has been my privilege to serve you for five and a half years now as a chaplain in the military. In December 1965, I took the long flight to Vietnam. It was my most fruitful year of ten in the ministry, which has included five years in military life and five in the civilian parish. The work in Vietnam is a challenging one for the chaplain. I was assigned to a reconnaissance helicopter unit of the 1st Cav. Division, the first air mobile division organized in the U. S. Army, with some 500 aircraft. In that unit, I had the privilege of serving with quite a large number of Christian men who were members of Presbyterian churches in Columbus, Georgia, as well as other Christian churches there. I lived with the unit for a year, lacking five days.

My work included, as it always includes in the ministry, a total ministry. The ministry of preaching for the last three months meant anywhere from twelve to fifteen services a week. It took me from Saigon to the Cambodian border and from there almost to Da Nang to keep up with my troops. I felt like a Methodist circuit rider but instead of a horse I used a helicopter to get around. It included ministering to the sick, wounded, and to those who were troubled. I stand before you not to tell you that all of us in the military have a desire to stay in Vietnam, but I do assure you that as chaplains on military duty, we will serve with our young men who are in the service for a short period and with those who are making a career of the military, wherever they are, to meet their needs and to proclaim God's word of strength and comfort and significance to them. Many men have found this time as an opportunity to reevaluate their life, their faith and their significance as an individual. I feel that as a Christian I had the obligation primarily and always to be avaialble to help these men seek and find answers to their faith.

My ministry also included trying to reach out and to be of some assistance to the civic affairs' work in Vietnam. Wherever the military has gone, it has helped to build. It has sought through channels back home to make life, as much as possible, easier there. Medical supplies have been donated by many churches in this country, and I want to commend any and all of the Presbyterian churches who have had an active part in this.

I suppose our primary request to people at home is for nothing more than a concern and prayer. I know there were times for me that the days were made easier and my ministry more effective by the upholding arms of prayer that came from you here at home. Morale is high, but all want to come home, which is no different than any other army and I wouldn't have you think any different.

There is a wonderful mission field in Vietnam. It is good to see that a representative of our own church has gone there. The primary Protestant missionary work being done there is by the Christian Missionary Alliance and the Wycliffe Bible Translators. They are doing effective work. Everywhere we have gone, we have tried to be of assistance, through aid and through concern. Clothing, building materials and medicine have been provided. A simple thing like liquid baby aspirin was a thing of major importance to a small hospital in An Khe. A fine family of Christians in Oakland, California, members of a Methodist church, provided me, through the kindness of Johnson and Johnson, five dozen bottles of liquid baby aspirin in order that they might meet the primary sufferings of small children who wouldn't swallow a pill.

The chaplain's work is appreciated; it's turned to. I never had any problem getting where I needed to go. Several times, my own squadron commander flew me into a location where five men, who were interested, might have a service. Several men are coming out of the service and going into the ministry. The Word of God is being proclaimed. It is having and bearing its fruit in a very effective ministry.

May I once again thank you for this privilege. I consider it a deep honor to be a part of the General Assembly today. I was to have been here last year and I am just thankful that I could be here this week. It is a privilege to represent you and I hope that I will continue to be able to do so. I will always be glad of any opportunity to serve you in any way that I can as a minister on active duty and to any of those of your constituents with whom I might come in contact. Thank you, Mr. Moderator.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES T. WOMACK, JR., Chairman

In connection with the above report the Assembly expressed its profound thanks to the Board of Church Extension and the Staff for their fine leadership and for their outstanding service.

II. Annual Report of Assembly's Committee on the Minister and his Work with the recommendations.

III. Nominations from the Permanent Nominating Committee.

IV. Overtures 67 and 68.
We recommend:
I. That the minutes of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and his Work be approved without exception.
II. That the annual report of Assembly's Committee on the Minister and his Work be approved. (See Appendix, page 153.)
III. That the following persons be elected to the Assembly's Committee in the class of 1970:

IV. Recommendations
1. That the General Assembly re-affirm the action on the Resolution of the 1960 General Assembly that all "ministers and elders who have knowledge of individual circumstances" wherein ministers have found their positions jeopardized "while speaking the mind of the church in love," bring this promptly to the attention of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work and its Executive Secretary in order for ways to be explored and means found "by which the Church at large may stand significantly behind our ministers."
2. That each church session be reminded of the action taken by previous General Assemblies to observe an annual rule of reviewing with the pastor the remuneration, including cash salary and allowances, paid to him, and that each Commission on the Minister and His Work urge that this be done in churches of the Presbytery.
3. That the Church engage in prayer for churches with vacant pulpits, especially those whose vacancies have extended over long periods of time, and for Commissions on the Minister and His Work that are working with these churches.
4. That the General Assembly receive as information the report of progress on the studies assigned this Committee by the last General Assembly and authorize the continuation and completion of these studies with report to the 1968 General Assembly.
5. That overture 67 (see p. 48) be answered in the negative for the reason that this is a prerogative of the presbyteries.
6. That overture 68 (see p. 48) be answered with the statement that the Board of Christian Education, the Permanent Committee on the Minister and his Work, the Theological Seminaries and the Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms are presently aware of and are presently considering these problems.
7. That the Assembly express its gratitude to the Executive Secretary, Assistant to the Executive Secretary and the staff for their diligent and faithful service to the Church.

ELWIN H. ROBERTS, Chairman

The Assembly suspended the rules and received Resolution No. 12 as a new item of business. It was referred to the Permanent Judicial Commission for consideration and report to the Assembly of 1968.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the General Assembly has specific power granted in the Book of Church Order 18-6 (12) "To suppress schismatical contentions and disputations . . ."; and Whereas, the word "schismatical" is open to broad interpretations; and Whereas, there is a great deal of dissension and division in the church today which would at times appear to border on the schismatical; and Whereas, the General Assembly may be shirking its responsibility because it does not have an adequate definition and understanding of what constitutes "schismatical contentions and disputations"; and Whereas, the General Assembly would not want to suppress legitimate dissent and at the same time would want "to suppress schismatical contentions and disputations";

Therefore, the General Assembly requests its Judicial Commission to interpret the meaning of the phrase "schismatical contentions and disputations" including, if possible, specific illustrations of what constitutes the same.

Signed: Michael F. Murray, Richard Galen, John C. Curtis, William V. Barnett.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS

I. The following matters were referred to this Committee:
   A. The minutes of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations.
   B. The report of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations.
   C. Nominations to the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations.
   D. Nominations by the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations.
   E. Communication #1, a letter from the 160th General Synod of the Reformed Church in America.
   F. Overtures, Resolutions, and portions of the report of the Permanent Judicial Commission:
      1. Overtures from the 106th General Assembly referred to the Permanent Judicial Commission.
      2. 1967 Overtures 1-11, 26-38, 73, 77, 79, 84, 86, 88.
      3. Portions of the Permanent Judicial Commission's report: Item A and Item B.
      4. Resolution #4.

II. The Committee makes the following recommendations:
   A. That the minutes of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations be approved and the Committee commended for its diligent work.
   B. That the report of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations be approved (see Appendix, page 171) and that the following recommendations be adopted:
      1. That, in accordance with the action of the 106th General Assembly (Minutes, p. 93), the Rev. Marion G. Bradwell, Executive Director of the Lord's Day Alliance, be heard.
      2. That as a result of several years of study and discussion conducted between Lutheran and Reformed theologians as a project of the North American Area Council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, it appears that these theologians see no insuperable obstacle to pulpit and altar fellowship, the 107th General Assembly encourage its constituent churches to enter into discussions looking forward to intercommunion and the fuller recognition of one another's ministries.

3. That Presbytery committees on Inter-Church Relations, or comparable committees, be urged to study and share with their constituent churches the Triennial Report to the Seventh General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.
4. That the "Message to the Churches," adopted by the Seventh General Assembly of the National Council of Churches, be called to the attention of and studied by our constituent churches.
5. That we urge the Budget Committee to make every effort to bring our budgeted giving to inter-church agencies (American Bible Society, Religion in American Life, Lord's Day Alliance, National Council of Churches, World Council of Churches) into closer relation to their askings, beginning with fiscal 1969.
6. That the 107th General Assembly endorse, in principle, the Delta Ministry as reflected in the goals and purposes set out by the General Board of the National Council of Churches in its June 2-3, 1966 and December 2, 1966 meetings.

   In taking affirmative action on recommendation number six the General Assembly wishes to make it clear that it is not pointing the finger of criticism at Mississippi as more sinful than other sections of our Church, and that we do not approve of all that has been done by the Delta Ministry. The Christian principles approved should apply not merely in Mississippi but in our society as a whole.
7. That the 107th General Assembly express its appreciation for the careful work of the NCC Evaluation Committee which studied the Delta Ministry operation, and heartily commend their recommendations for the clarification and improvement of this ministry in the name of Christ.

   We express regret and sorrow for the mistakes made in the past in the Delta Ministry, and we hope that any damage done in the past may be offset in the future by an improved program.
8. That the Board of Christian Education and Church Extension be urged to seek to discover ways and means of supporting the Delta Ministry financially through their program budgets, and of encouraging and supporting the Synod of Mississippi and its Presbyteries in programs which they may develop to serve the human needs of all people in that Synod.

C. That the following persons nominated by the Permanent Nominating Committee be elected: Class of 1970: Dr. R. L. D. Davidson (2) Mo., J. E. Faucette (3) Appa. Vacancies: Class of 1969: L. A. Minority report was filed, considered, rejected. (See text of rejected report below.)

(MINORITY REPORT REJECTED)

(The Committee on Inter-Church Relations' Recommendation Number F-2: That Overtures 5, 9, 11, 26, 27, 28, 30, 31, 32, 79, concerning withdrawal from active participation in the Consultation on Church Union, be answered in the negative and that the 107th General Assembly reaffirm the 106th General Assembly's action in making our Church a full participant in COCU, calling attention to the fact that COCU is only a consultation and that participation does not and cannot commit our Church to any change in the Standards of our Church.

Without questioning the integrity of the 106th General Assembly which made the PCUS a full participant in COCU, or the sincerity of the majority of the members of the Committee on Interchurch Relations, as a matter of Christian conscience we feel constrained to present the following substitute motion:

That while in serious negotiation with the RCA in regard to church union, the PCUS continue its role as an observer, but withdraw as an active participant in COCU.

This motion is made in light of the following considerations:

(1) The General Synod has asked the 107th General Assembly to clarify its previous decisions on union with RCA (Form of Government, p. 9; Communication No. 1). The adoption of this substitute motion would reaffirm our determination to give first priority to the negotiations now underway with the RCA.

(2) The Joint Committee of the PCUS and RCA, in the proposed Form of Government, has already recommended "against expanding the conversations to include the UPUSA Church" (p. 8), and has suggested that "the most genuine potential for advance of union for both our denominations at the present time lies in continuing with integrity these conversations which began in 1962" (p. 8). Our continued active participation in COCU seems to violate this sense of mutual trust and understanding, and seriously undermines the work of the Joint Committee in formulating a plan of church union.

(3) In spite of assurances that COCU "involves a consultation having long-range, rather than immediate, implications" (Reports to General Assembly, p. 139), COCU made the following resolutions at its meeting in Cambridge, Mass., May 3-4, 1967:

Resolutions from Cambridge May 4, 1967

(a) "That the Executive Committee appoint an appropriate committee or commission which, under the consultation, would provide for the assembling of those persons from the constituent denominations chiefly responsible for projecting the educational, national, and world-wide missions of the participating churches. The purpose of so assembling is to encourage and correlate their engagement in mission and to seek to draw together the resources of the various agencies and groups that could and even now are working together in the total mission. A further purpose is to explore and engage in new and cooperative undertakings. The costs for the work of this committee or commission are to be found outside the budget of the consultation."

(b) "It resolves to take certain immediate steps appropriate to the development of a plan of union."

A Resolution on Developing a Plan of Union—May 3, 1967

(c) "The consultation agrees that the plan of union to be developed should include in detail:

(1) the procedures by which the memberships of the participating churches are to be united;
(2) the procedures by which the ordained ministries of the participating churches are to be united;
(3) the structure an dfunctions of the Provisional Council, to be organized at least on a national and regional basis."

(4) Such resolutions move beyond the authority to correspond with other churches, permitted by Section 18-6 (16) BCO, and calls into question the constitutionality of further participation by PCUS in COCU.
(5) Such resolutions not only render our talks with RCA as superfluous, but, indeed, lead to the conclusion that the pursuit of union with RCA cannot be justified in terms of stewardship of time or money.
(6) Reaffirming our faith in the historic position of our Church as made in a statement by the 1964 General Assembly, that "we sincerely hold with the Westminster Confession . . . that the unity of the one Universal Church is not fractured by the mere fact of divisions between the structural forms she assumes" (Minutes, 1964, pp. 72-76), and looking forward to the formation of a truly national Presbyterian-Reformed Church in America, we respectfully request that this substitute motion be adopted.
Roger Malsbary, Alex M. Mitchell, R. G. Schwanebeck, Henry Massey, Merle Parkinson, Winston Enloe, J. B. Stovall.)

3. That Overtures 33, 34, and 35, concerning our church participation in COCU and related matters, be answered in the affirmative.
In taking this action, however, the General Assembly, while prayerfully seeking the guidance of the Holy Spirit and desiring to remain always open to his direction, wishes to make it clear that our participation in the Consultation on Church Union, cannot be interpreted as laying upon our Church a moral obligation to accept any plan of union which may be devised. Such a plan, if and when proposed, could only be made effective in so far as it affects our Church by normal constitutional procedures—namely by favorable action on the part of two consecutive Assemblies and by a favorable vote in three-fourths of the presbyteries.
4. That Overture 6, concerning withdrawal from COCU and continuing union discussion with the Reformed Church of America, be answered by reference to recommendations II, E and II F, 2. in the Report of the Permanent Committee. (See Appendix, page 174.)
5. That Overture 8, concerning presbyteries' voting on the COCU "Principles of Church Union," be answered in the negative inasmuch as (1) the "Principles" are for study only and (2) the constituent churches have been encouraged to transmit to the Ad-Interim Committee on COCU their reactions to the "Principles".
6. That Overture 29, concerning presbyteries' voting on participation in COCU, be answered in the negative since this decision is an Assembly matter (BCO 18-6(16)).
7. That Overtures 7 and 10, concerning the constitutionality of our participation in COCU, be answered by approving the Permanent Judicial Commission's recommendation, Part B. (See Appendix, page 239.)
8. That Resolution #4, which reads as follows:
"Whereas: The Permanent Judicial Committee has stated that conversations in COCU are allowed, but that union will require approval by our constitutional process, and whereas: It has been stated by the Consultation that agreement on structure may be delayed for many years, before which no formal decision on organic union can be made by our church, and whereas: It is many times advantageous for close cooperation to be enjoyed with other denominations on specific local activities.
Be it resolved: The General Assembly affirms that the permitted conversations in COCU, and the beneficial local cooperation does not envisage any attempt to integrate the activities of any Board or Agency with similar structures of other members of COCU.

W. B. DUNLAP, Ruling Elder Presbytery of North Alabama

9. That Overture 36, concerning the establishment of dialogue with the Roman Catholic Church be answered in the affirmative. (See page 30.)
10. That Overtures 37, 38, 86, (see page 30) concerning the National Council of Churches, be answered by reference to the action of the 106th General Assembly (Minutes, p. 96) and referred to the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations.

11. That the Overtures from the 106th General Assembly referred to the Permanent Judicial Commission, the Commission's report Item A (see Appendix, page 233), and 1967 Overtures 1-4, 77, concerning Union Presbyteries/Synods, be answered as follows:
    a. that the General Assembly approve amending the Book of Church Order to permit Union Presbyteries/Synods.
    b. that our General Assembly appoint an ad interim committee of three persons; that the Overtures cited herein be referred to this committee; that we invite the UPUSA and RCA judicatories to appoint similar committees; that these three committees, acting as a joint committee, produce a uniform procedure to the highest judicatories of the three Churches; and that our representatives report recommendations to the 108th General Assembly.
    c. that amendments to allow and provide for Union Presbyteries/Synods be adopted under the provisions of Section 30-3 (BCO).

Votes Recorded in the Negative on Item F, 11, c of the Report of the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations

We, the undersigned commissioners in attendance, present and voting in the 107th General Assembly, respectfully request that we be recorded as having voted in the negative on the decision of this Assembly to order submission of the question of Union Presbyteries and Union Synods to the constituent Presbyteries under section 30-3 of the Form of Government.

12. That Overture 88, concerning a Union Church Agreement with the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, be answered in the affirmative and referred to the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations for implementation.
13. That Overture 73 (see page 31) concerning the possibility of broadening negotiations with other Reformed bodies be answered as follows:
    a. Parts 1, 2, 3 in the negative.
    Recorded Vote: 276 for; 134 against.

(Note: The following Minority Report, as amended on the floor, had been substituted for the report of the majority of the Standing Committee:

MINORITY REPORT ON OVERTURE 73

We the undersigned members of the Committee on Inter-Church Relations recommend that the General Assembly answer Overture 73 in the negative.

The minority group of our committee, however, recommends that the answer to the remaining portions of Overture 73, and in particular paragraph 2 and 3, be answered in the negative for the following reasons:

a. In sub-paragraph E entitled, "E. Other Inter-Church Activities," and in particular item 2 the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations states:
"2. The Reformed Church in America—Presbyterian Church U. S. union proposal holds priority, and final action on that plan of union should be taken before any plan of union coming out of the Consultation on Church Union is prepared for vote by either Church."

This conclusion expressed by the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations of the Reformed Church in America, was concurred in by the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations of the Presbyterian Church U. S.

b. Items 2 and 3 of Overture 73 state:
"2. To instruct its agencies and all committees empowered to negotiate church unions to include in any plan of union a constitutional relationship with the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A."
"3. To instruct any committee negotiating a proposed union to pursue, vigorously the inclusion of the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. in such a union and report its success to the proceeding General Assembly."

These items are in direct conflict with the above quoted conclusion of the Permanent Committees on Inter-Church Relations of both the Reformed Church in America and the Presbyterian Church U. S. They further impose an impossible task on the Joint Committee of 24 in their preparation of a plan of union.

b. Part 4 in the negative.

"Whereas these characteristics of society have bearing on the responsibilities of the several agencies of the General Assembly, and

"Whereas the responsibility of the General Council includes a research function relating to the whole church and its agencies,

"We therefore recommend that the General Assembly request the General Council, alone or in consultation with other denominations, to set in motion procedures for supervising a basic study of trends in our society and our denomination affecting the church's ministries and participation in them—the study to be undertaken by an independent research organization; and that the Assembly make the necessary budget provisions for the study."

THE CHALLENGE PROGRAM
$890,444 (10% of Basic)

The Challenge Program is projected on the basis of 10% of the total Basic Budget. Synods' apportionments are made on this basis. Presbyteries are asked to accept for the Assembly's Challenge Program at least 10% of their Assembly's Basic Budget and are urged to make specific apportionments of this amount to their local churches. After the Basic Budget has been met in full, receipts will be distributed by the Budget and Stewardship Committee to agencies listing projects below on the basis of the most urgent needs of the agencies at that time. The following agencies with their documented needs will be under consideration by the Committee.

Board of World Missions	$290,000
Board of Church Extension	269,000
Board of Christian Education	50,000
TRAV	242,444
Board of Women's Work	39,000

5. That the General Assembly hear a message from Dr. Frank H. Caldwell concerning the Challenge Program.

6. That the foregoing Basic Budget of $8,904,441 be apportioned to the sixteen synods, on the basis of their previous experience in giving and their apparent willingness to participate, as follows:

7. That the foregoing Challenge Program of $890,444 be apportioned to the sixteen synods on the basis of 10% of their Basic Budget apportionment as follows:

8. That each synod, in plannings its 1968 Stewardship Program, relate its giving first to meeting the Basic Budget by accepting and recommending to its lower courts its apportionment in full; and second, by accepting and recommending to its lower courts the challenge figure apportioned by the Assembly on the basis of at least 10% of its Basic Budget and, further, by placing this Challenge Program before the lower courts in specific amounts based on at least 10% of the Basic Budget apportionment.

9. That each synod and presbytery be urged to constitute its 1968 Stewardship Program on the same basis as that of the General Assembly, namely, (a) to establish its Basic Budget by taking the total over-all receipts for the last complete year from living donors for all the court's agencies plus a percentage increase for normal growth, and (b) to establish its own Challenge Program, if any, on the basis of not more than 10% of its Basic Budget and to keep the ratio among courts in line with the larger needs of the higher courts.

10. In order to bring uniformity to the reporting of receipts for each calendar year by local judicatories, the Central Treasurer of Benevolences, and Assembly's agencies; and, in order to collect in one directive the instructions to the Central Treasurer of Benevolences, it is recommended:

a. That local churches and other judicatories be urged to close their books for the year as of December 31st; that local church treasurers make regular remittances toward their annual benevolence acceptance as soon as possible after the last Sunday of each month; and that presbytery treasurers make their remittances to the Assembly's Central Treasurer of Benevolences in ample time to be received by the tenth (10th) day of each month.

b. That the Central Treasurer of Benevolences shall use the following method of distributing monthly the benevolence contributions received:

(1) Contributions designated for the use of a specific benevolence agency shall be distributed to that agency.

(2) Contributions designated for the use of agencies according to a percentage schedule adopted by a presbytery shall be distributed by that schedule.

(3) Contributions sent directly to any agency shall be reported by each agency to the Central Treasurer of Benevolences as of the last day of each month; and distributions shall not be made to any agency from which a report has not been received by the seventh (7th) day of the next month (except for the December report), and except for funds designated in (1) and (2) above.

(4) Contributions designated for distribution by the Central Treasurer of Benevolences in such a way that each agency will receive as nearly as possible its proportional accumulated share of total contributions in relation to the relative participation in the approved Benevolence Budget of the General Assembly shall be distributed on the principle that the agency receiving the lowest percentage of its budget at the time of distribution will be aided first until its percentage of receipts equals that of the next to lowest agency, then these two will receive funds until they have reached the level of that of the next lowest agency and so on, until all of the contributions of this type have been exhausted.

(5) Each monthly distribution shall be based on total receipts by or for each agency to date for the year.

(6) The Central Treasurer of Benevolences shall close his books monthly on the tenth (10th) day of each month (including December) and make distribution to the agencies as soon thereafter as possible.

(7) The Central Treasurer of Benevolences shall effect the transition to the tenth of the month closing as soon as feasible, but in no case later than August, 1967.

(8) All agencies, and the Central Treasurer of Benevolences close their books as of the 31st of December each year. However, funds received by the Central Treasurer of Benevolences, and direct gifts received by the boards and agencies, during the period January 1st through January 10th shall be credited to the preceding year; and a final distribution (credited to the preceding year) be made by the Central Treasurer of Benevolences as soon after January 10th as is possible after the receipt of reports from the agencies of year-end direct gifts.

11. That all courts be strongly urged to designate gifts for use by the Central Treasurer of Benevolences to be used in such a way that each agency will receive as nearly as possible its proportional share of total contributions in relation to its relative participation in the approved benevolence program of the General Assembly.

12. That the General Assembly recognize the merits of placing the official magazine of the denomination, Presbyterian Survey, in every home—emphasizing how it undergirds the total program of the Church and stimulates a stronger sense of stewardship—and reaffirm the policy of the General Assembly agencies continuing as necessary to support the Survey to the degree they participate in the benevolence budget of the Church. Such underwriting in 1968, based on the budget approved by the General Assembly, is not to exceed $139,000.00.

13. That the following agencies of the General Assembly be authorized to promote a supplemental offering in 1968:

a. Board of World Missions and Board of Church Extension (70%-30% respectively).
b. Board of Christian Education.
c. Board of Annuities and Relief for use in Ministerial Relief.

14. That a special offering be approved for the Department of Overseas Relief and Interchurch Aid of the Board of World Missions to be received on Easter, April 14, 1968.

15. That the General Assembly be informed that commitments to the Presbyterian Development Fund have produced $10,174,713.07 as of June 6, 1967. And—

a. That churches and individuals be urged to pay their commitments in full and at the earliest possible time.
b. That Dr. P. D. Miller, Dr. Bob S. Hodges, and Dr. James Witherspoon be thanked for their services in the interest of the Presbyterian Development Fund.

16. That the General Assembly be informed as follows (see page 93) concerning the 1966 record of receipts for Assembly's Budgeted Benevolences and distribution to the agencies.

B. Program

17. That the General Assembly amend the calendar for 1967-1968 and adopt the calendar for 1968-1969 as follows:

(Approval of the Calendar from October 1968 through September 1969 will be subject to amendment by the 1968 General Assembly.)

18. That the ministers of our Church be urged to use the foregoing calendars as suggested prayer calendars and to remember in their pastoral prayers the causes and agencies and those who serve the Church through them. In addition to those causes and agencies listed, those who labor in other agencies as well as in synods' and presbyteries' agencies should be remembered.

C. Information

19. That the General Assembly take note of the God-given opportunities for telling the news of the Church through the major communication media and that presbyteries and synods be urged to name news chairmen in order to make the best use of these opportunities.

20. That the General Assembly encourage church members to express their appreciation, verbally and in writing, to newspapers, radio and television stations which do a good job of reporting the actions of the 107th Assembly, as well as for excellence in general religious news coverage.

D. Items from the General Assembly

21. The 1966 General Assembly referred to The General Council Overture 24 from the Presbytery of Athens asking that some agency be designated as having responsibility for providing information and guidance to congregations in matters of worship. The General Council recommends that this responsibility be given to the Board of Christian Education. In so doing the General Assembly takes recognition of the primary responsibility of the Session of a congregation in directing the worship of the congregation and calls attention to the interest of the Church in all questions relating to the worship of God by congregations and their families.

22. The 1966 General Assembly referred to The General Council the request of the Standing Committee on Women's Work that it obtain from each board and agency and from each presbytery and synod report as to progress made in complying with the action of the 1958 General Assembly asking that all employing agencies of the Church consider placing the salaries of women employees on the same level as that of men, basing salary schedules on such considerations as skill, performance, responsibility carried, preparation and experience.

The General Council has made inquiry of the synods and presbyteries concerning the matter of salary scales of women employed by them and has received replies from the majority of these courts. Responses indicate that there is no evidence of discrimination in salary scales because of sex. Variation in salaries is stated in terms of experience and skills required. Many synods and presbyteries do not employ women on their staffs; of those which do employ women, nearly all reported that the women were employed in secretarial or clerical positions, where there was no basis for comparison with salaries of men. Many responses indicated the concern of the employer to meet salary levels of the business community.

23. In response to the action of the 1966 General Assembly in adopting the recommendation of the Standing Committee on Presbyterian Survey that The General Council be encouraged "to broaden and intensify the work of its study group on communications . . ." The General Council would reply that this study group has this entire matter under consideration and that report will be made to a later meeting of the General Assembly.

24. Overture 65 from the Synod of Oklahoma relative to financial support and solicitations was referred to The General Council by the 1966 General Assembly for study. The General Council recommends that Overture 65 be answered as follows:

a. The General Assembly in 1965 adopted Recommendation 15 of The General Council as follows:

"That the boards and agencies make their financial plans within the framework of 'The Benevolence Program of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.' and that this policy be interpreted to preclude any appeals for capital funds needs to individuals, groups, or segments of the Church on a systematic, regular or annual basis, unless special permission is granted by the General Assembly upon recommendation of The General Council."

The program thus approved and adopted certaintly discourages special appeals to individuals through churches, except under certain specified and specially approved conditions. Boards and agencies are expected to comply with this policy.

b. The budgets approved by the Assembly, and special requests for financial support have been and will be referred to the synods for implementation and support.

c. However, the General Assembly affirms that the Book of Church Order (18-1) makes clear that the Assembly "represents in one body all the churches thereof. It bears the title of THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES, and constitutes the bond of union, peace and correspondence among all its congregations and courts." Thus the General Assembly is not limited in its approach only to the synods, but has access to all courts and congregations. It will continue to honor all the courts of the Church, but cannot be prevented by action of an intermediate court from access to a lower court or congregation in the fulfillment of the responsibilities of the General Assembly. This is as true in matters of finance as in any other matters pertaining to the whole Church.

d. The General Assembly, however, is also eager to promote and "develop an adequate and educated understanding of stewardship" and will continue, in sound stewardship principles, to direct all official requests in this field to the courts of the Church. Yet, the General Assembly does not exercise control over either the conscience or the behavior of individuals.

25. The 1966 General Assembly referred to The General Council the request of the Standing Committee on Interchurch Relations that the matter of financial support of a Joint Presbyterian-Reformed Witness in Washington, D.C., be studied. The Executive Secretary and the Secretary of Stewardship of The General Council conferred with the Executive Secretary of the Board of Church Extension about the possibility of including this items as a part of its experimental ministries rather than including it as a separate item in the over-all budget. This met with the approval of the Board with the provision that The General Council add the amount of $1500.00 to the budget of the Board of Church Extension to take care of this item. The General Council included $1500.00 earmarked for this project in the over-all budget of the Board of Church Extension.

26. In response to the request of the 1966 General Assembly that The General Council "do all it can to enable the Church to provide stronger financial support for this (TRAV's) ministry" The General Council increased substantially TRAV's allocation (10%) in the 1968 budget and placed it in the Challenge Program for consideration with others.

27. The request of the 1966 General Assembly that The General Council review and recommend to the General Assembly the annual operating budget for Presbyterian Survey is answered by reference to recommendation 12 of this report.

recommend that this be answered by references to the fact that this committee has completed its task and that it was discharged by he General Assembly with appreciation on June 10, 1967.

Insofar as this Overture relates to the pamphlets put into circulation by the committee, we would answer in the words of the Permanent Judicial Commission: "The properly authorized distribution of a publication by an agency of the General Assembly does not violate the injunction against circularization of the Church and its members."

Overture 39 (See page 33) from the Presbytery of East Alabama: We recommend that this be answered by reference to the action of the General Assembly cited in connection with Overture 12.

V. In response to the recommendation for a basic study of trends in our society and our denomination transmitted to us by the Standing Committee on Christian Education, we make the following answer: That the General Council investigate the possibilities of entering into (and should funds become available it proceed to supervise) a basic study of trends in our society and our denomination.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, it has come to the attention of our Standing Committee on the General Council that the Rev. Thomas P. Johnston has just passed to his eternal reward, and since he would have been a member of this committee but for his illness, the committee recommends to the Assembly that we humbly bow to the will of God, that we express our great sense of loss to our Church in the passing of this, our friend, and that we convey to his loved ones both our deep sympathy in their loss and our sense of triumph in the Homegoing of this faithful servant of our Lord.

Respectfully submitted,
J. McDOWELL RICHARDS, Chairman

In connection with the above report Rev. Frank H. Caldwell addressed the Assembly concerning the Challenge aspect of the benevolence budget.

The Assembly expressed appreciation to the Executive Secretary, the staff, and the Council members for outstanding work.

The Assembly bowed in silent prayer as a tribute to the memory of Rev. Thomas P. Johnston whose death has taken place during this meeting of the Assembly.

The Committee reports as follows:

A. That the Minutes of the Permanent Theological Committee were received and approved.
B. That the Report of the Permanent Theological Committee be approved. (See Appendix, page 188.)
C. RECOMMENDATIONS:
1. That Stated Clerks of presbyteries be reminded of the action of the 1966 General Assembly regarding the study by presbyteries of the confessional documents of our sister communions: the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the Reformed Church in America, along with our own confessional statements.
2. That in its study of confessional documents the Permanent Theological Committee include those of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian and the Cumberland Presbyterian Churches, and that it provide for the 1968 General Assembly a summary statement outlining similarities and differences between them and our own.
3. That the General Assembly acknowledge the progress of the Permanent Theological Co mmittee in its studies relating to the "New Morality" and diversified ministries and looks forward to the completion of these reports for the 1968 General Assembly.

5. That the request that an interim committee be appointed to prepare a practical paper based on the report entitled "Death and Funeral Practices," which will give guidance to our people in these matters, and that the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly be requested to reproduce copies of the report for distribution to the churches, be referred back to the Permanent Theological Committee.

F. (1) The Committee received Resolution No. 9 as follows:
Whereas pneumatology is a neglected field, particularly within Reformed theology as evidenced by omission from the original Westminster Confession; and Whereas current ecumenical discussions confront us with pneumatological questions; and Whereas the very nature of the church as Reformed and reforming is dependent upon our adequate theological knowledge about the nature, the promises, the action, and the gifts of the Holy Spirit for openness to His continuing work of reformation; and Whereas many new insights in the field of biblical theology with regard to the Holy Spirit have not yet found their way to systematic theology, or to the pulpit, or to the life of the church; and Whereas the World Alliance of Reformed Churches has summoned our churches and our congregations to find the biblical corrective to the sectarian view of the gifts of the Spirit, to search out the gifts within our membership and to make room for them in the upbuilding of the church and the witness to the world; and Whereas at a joint service of worship with the Reformed Church of America we have heard the President of their General Synod say to both denominations, "Progress in renewal comes when we become conscious of our weakness and then come to strength through complete reliance on the living Christ through the power of the Holy Spirit. Revived by the Spirit of the living God we will again face a pagan world with boldness, confidence and joyous abandon."; therefore, be it resolved that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. through its permanent Theological Committee undertake a thorough theological study of the doctrine of the Holy Spirit, giving special attention to the relationship of the Spirit and Christ, particularly as this relates to Christ as the bearer of the Spirit and the Spirit as the action of the exalted Christ; to the relationship of the Spirit to the church, both as an institution and as a fellowship; to the relationship of the Spirit to the individual, particularly as this relates to the process of regeneration, experience, and the variety of the charismata; to the relationship of the Spirit to the total mission of the church; and to the relationship of the Spirit and the world.

Respectfully submitted,
ANDREW A. JUMPER,
Presbytery of the Southwest

The Committee answers as follows:

In the light of the contemporary interest in the doctrine of the Holy Spirit, and the need of the church for more understanding of His work in the midst of God's people, the Committee recommends that Resolution No. 9 be referred to the Permanent Theological Committee for a study of the doctrine of the person and work of the Holy Spirit.

(2) The Committee received Resolution No. 10 as follows:
Whereas the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America has approved and adopted an historic Book of Confessions including the Confession of 1967; and Whereas the adoption of this Book of Confessions is perhaps one of the most significant historical events in the Reformed tradition since the Protestant Reformation; and Whereas the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America has also commended this Book of Confessions to other Christian churches for their prayerful consideration and study; and Whereas we, more than any other denomination in the world, share with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America the closest ties of heritage and mission and faith; and Whereas the 106th meeting of our General Assembly commended the proposed Book of Confessions to the Presbyteries for study;
Therefore, the 107th meeting of the General Assembly:

1. Commends the Book of Confessions of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America to Synods, Presbyteries, Sessions and local congregations of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, for study and discussion; and

2. Requests the Committee of Twenty-four presently engaged in negotiations between the Reformed Church in America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States to consider inclusion of this Book of Confessions in its recommendations of a confessional basis for the proposed new church.

We, the undersigned, humbly petition the 107th Meeting of the General Assembly to adopt this resolution: Arch McD. Tolbert, Louisiana Presb.; John H. Leith, Orange Presb.; Wm. J. Barnett, Central Texas Presb.; John L. Guerrant, Lexington Presb.; A. M. Hart, Washburn Presb.; Stephen B. Rybolt, St. Louis Presb.; John Wm. Lancaster, Brazos Presb.

Resolution No. 10 amended in the above form was adopted.

The standing committee recommends: That the Permanent Theological Committee be commended for its diligence and for its cooperation with the Standing Theological Committee.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN RANDOLPH TALYOR, Chairman

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

Mr. A. J. Coleman, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Educational Institutions. The report was adopted, as amended, and is as follows:

The following items were referred to this committee:

   A. Report of Stillman College

   D. Late Communication—No. 15—from the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian school of Christian Education regarding election of President.

III. From the Theological Seminaries:
   A. Annual Reports from:
      1. Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary.
      2. Columbia Theological Seminary.
      3. Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary.
      4. Union Theological Seminary in Virginia.

IV. From the Mountain Retreat Association:
   A. Minutes of the Mountain Retreat Association.
   B. Report of the Mountain Retreat Association with its recommendations.
   C. Portion of report of the Permanent Nominating Committee concerning nominations to the Board of the Mountain Retreat Association.
   D. Matter of the Amendment of the Charter of Mountain Retreat Association and of the incorporation of the Town of Montreat.

I. Stillman College

Your Committee received the reports from Stillman and heard from Dr. Albert C. Winn, Chairman of the Board and from the College's new President, Dr. Harold N. Stinson. Our general impression is that Stillman College is making steady improvements in facilities and rapid growth in student enrollment. With new measures of success in student enrollment its financial needs are becoming increasingly embarrassing. Evidence was presented to our committee showing healthy academic involvements of the college with other educational institutions. Due to an understandable oversight, the minutes of Stillman College were not received for review.

Your Committee recommends:

A. That the annual report be approved. (See Appendix, page 196.)

B. That the following presons, having been nominated by the Permanent Committee on Nominations, he elected to the Board of Trustees of Stillman College, Class of 1970: Rev. Thomas C. Duncan (3) Ala.; Cecil W. Boston (3) Fla.; Dr. Russell W. Brown (2) Ala.; Thomas G. Cousins (2) Ga.; E. Hervey Evans (2) N. C.; E. Grainger Williams (3) Ga.; Toddie Lee Wynne, Jr. (3) Tex.; Larry Lightner (1) Tex. to replace McKenzie (term expired).

C. That Sunday, January 21, 1968 he appropriately observed throughout the General Assembly as Stillman Sunday.

D. That Dr. Stinson be commended for the excellent manner in which he has initiated his term of presidency.

E. That the General Assembly record its gratitude to the retiring members of the Board of Trustess of Stillman College for their faithful service.

II. Presbyterian School of Christian Education

Your Committee, after studying the reports and hearing from the school's President, Dr. Charles E. S. Kraemer, and from Mr. Tom Bainbridge, a Board member, is unanimous in its desire that the work of this institution be better understood throughout the Assembly. Although the lack of money remains a continuing hardship, the Committee is impressed that the leadership of the school is placing great emphasis on enlistment of people who should be at Presbyterian School of Christian Education in preparation for church vocation.

Your Committee received with interest the report of the Self-Evaluation Study recently completed. It reveals clearly that the school is in good step with modern educational practices and that its program of constant re-evaluation involving students and alumni is appreciated. The salaries associated with the institution appear to be low for the type leadership involved. We continue to be impressed with the dedication and high quality of leadership afforded this institution by Dr. Kraemer and his staff.

Your Committee recommends:

A. That the 1966 Minutes of the Board of Trustees be approved.

B. The adoption of the Annual Report, (See Part III of Minutes Bound Volume of Board Reports):

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the Assembly urge pastors and other church leaders to direct to the school, men and women who have a conviction of a call from God to full-time church-related service, and who have the proper gifts and consecration, those of maturity and experience, as well as young people of college graduate age, that they may be prepared to meet the church's urgent need for more trained personnel. Special note should be taken by the Assembly of the number of widows in the individual congregations who may be challenged to consider training for church-related vocations.
2. That the Assembly request each Presbytery and Synod to make a definite assignment of responsibility for the recruiting of men and women for full-time church vocations to the appropriate committee in its organization.
3. That the Assembly urge pastors and sessions to observe Presbyterian School of Christian Education—Seminary Day on April 28, 1968, so as to acquaint their congregations with the services the schools are rendering, the opportunities they offer, and their needs.
4. That attention be called to the availability of a filmstrip on this school. It may be ordered from the Presbyterian School of Christian Education or from the Synod's Regional Director of Christian Education. The school is also glad to recommend speakers to churches or church groups who would like the school presented to them.
5. That the Assembly remind the churches of the opportunities for training for both professional and non-professional workers in the Summer School and in the January term.
6. That the General Assembly remind local pastors, campus workers, and directors of Christian education that the Presbyterian School of Christian Education invites college students and young adults to visit the campus three weekends during the academic year. Persons interested in considering a church vocation are invited by the Director of Enlistment at the School upon receiving their names and addresses.
7. That the General Assembly confirm the action of the Board in re-electing Dr.

Charles E. S. Kraemer as president of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education for a term of three years.

C. That the General Assembly record its gratitude to the retiring members of the Board of Trustees of Presbyterian School of Christian Education for their faithful service.

D. That the following persons, having been nominated by the Permanent Committee on Nominations, be elected to the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, Class of 1970: James E. Eden (2) Va.; George H. Flowers, Jr. (2) Va.; John C. Stanley (3) Miss.; C. Fred Wortham (3) Va.; Mrs. H. Dail Holderness (2) N. C.; Rev. William M. Schotanus (1) Mo. to replace Rice (term expired); Rev. Robert Lawrence (1) Ky. to replace Ward (term expired); Mrs. Henry Darden (1) La. to replace Wilkinson (term expired).

III. The Theological Seminaries

Your committee reports that vital and vibrant things are happening in our four seminaries including expanding physical facilities and major curriculum improvement. It notes with regret, however, the trend in declining student enrollment. All four institutions are to be commended for their specific efforts to reverse this trend. They must be undergirded in their efforts by our entire church membership so that the number of individuals preparing for the gospel ministry will increase.

Your committee recommends:

A. That the General Assembly acknowledge receipt of the annual reports of Austin, Columbia, Louisville and Union Theological seminaries. (See Appendix, page 206.)

B. That the General Assembly express its gratitude for the services our four seminaries are rendering to our church and in equal manner express its confidence in the leadership of the presidents of Austin, Columbia, and Louisville seminaries and in the president-elect in Union Seminary, Dr. Fred R. Stair, Jr.

IV. Mountain Retreat Association

Your committee completes its study of the Mountain Retreat Association with full and genuine appreciation for the service rendered our church by Dr. C. Grier Davis, President of the Association, and the able staff which he has assembled. We can all be highly encouraged by the solid and continuous progress within the Montreat gates during recent years. Montreat has the only church conference hotel in the southeastern United States open for year-round use.

The following matter was referred to this committee for consideration, and our recommendation regarding it is set forth below. A copy of the Bill now pending in the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina dealing with this subject is filed with this report to be kept by the Stated Clerk with the original minutes.

Communication No. 8

Dr. James A. Millard, Jr.
Stated Clerk of the General Assembly
341 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E.
Atlanta, Georgia 30308

Dear Dr. Millard:

The Trustees of Stock, the Stockholders and the Board of Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association met in Charlotte, North Carolina, on April 11, 1967.

Mr. Thomas M. Belk, Chairman, presided. A quorum was present. The following motion was unanimously adopted by the Trustees of Stock, the Stockholders and the Board of Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association:

"That the Stockholders instruct the attorney for the corporation, in counsel with the League of Municipalities, to prepare and submit a bill to the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, now in session, establishing a municipality under the name of the Town of Montreat;

That this action be reported to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., convening in Bristol, Tennessee, on June 8, 1967, and that the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina be requested to withhold final action on this bill until such time as the report has been made to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., without adverse action by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.;

That the corporate counsel and the President of the Association be authorized to use such discretion as may be necessary or required to carry out the purpose of this resolution."

The proposed bill will establish a municipality under the name of the Town of Montreat. It will also amend the Charter of the Mountain Retreat Association as follows:

"All of the rights and powers of a municipal and governmental nature herein delegated to the Mountain Retreat Association or any body, board, or official thereof may henceforth be exercised by the Town of Montreat and its governing body and shall not henceforth be exercised either in whole or in part, by the Mountain Retreat Association or any body, board, or official thereof."

Most cordially yours,
C. GRIER DAVIS, President

The committee has received the best possible help and cooperation from both Dr. Davis and Trustee, R. R. Williams, Jr., acting as corporation counsel, both of whom appeared personally and submitted themselves to examination. We have reviewed extensively the acts of the responsible parties in this matter, the legal and practical considerations making desirable the action, the Bill pending before the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to amend the charter of the Mountain Retreat Association and to incorporate the Town of Montreat, and the effect of this action upon the Mountain Retreat Association, the property owners in Montreat and our entire church.

Our thorough and searching study has sustained our confidence in the representatives of the Church, serving as Trustees of Stock, as well as in the Staff of the Association, in their exercise of judgment leading to the proposed action; and based upon all of the evidence submitted to us, we are of the opinion that the amendment of the Charter and the incorporation of the Town of Montreat, as proposed, is in best interest of the Association and the Church, and we hereby voice our concurrence in that action.

Your committee recommends:

A. That the 1966 minutes of the Board of Directors and Trustees of Stock of Association be approved.

B. The adoption of the annual report of the Mountain Retreat Association (see Appendix, page 198).

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the General Assembly encourage Boards and Agencies of the General Assembly and other church courts to use Montreat as a retreat center for the renewal of the Church.
2. That the General Assembly record its gratitude to the retiring members of the Board of Trustees of the Mountain Retreat Association for their faithful service.

C. That the following persons having been nominated by the Permanent Committee on Nominations be elected to the Board of the Mountain Retreat Association in the classes indicated: Class of 1968: James Jackson, Tenn. (A-1); Class of 1970: John Carroll, Appa. (A-3); Mrs. W. Andrew Dale, Tenn. (A-3); Vernol R. Jansen, Ala. (A-2); Charles M. McCaskill, Ga. (A-2); Rev. John L. Newton, Ala. (A-3); Mrs. Leroy Campbell, N. C. (A-1); Dr. George T. Walker, La. (S-1); G. W. Struthers, W. Va. (A-1); Dr. Paul de Camp, La. (A-1); Mrs. Hugh G. Thompson, W. Va. (A-1); Charles F. Davis, Ala. (A-1); Malcolm Niven, S. C. (A-1).

D. That the General Assembly concur in the action of the Trustees of Stock relative to the amendment of the charter of the Mountain Retreat Association and the incorporation of the Town of Montreat.

V. General

We now call to the attention of the General Assembly and the Church at large, the following:

A. That all of our institutions urgently need the funds committed from the Presbyterian Development Fund. The completion of this effort by payment of pledges is imperative.

B. That through all channels of our church life there should be a more vigorous recruitment of individuals for church vocation.

D. That the entire General Assembly of our church should sense the need of a new commitment to financial support of our institutions.

E. That the Manual of the Mountain Retreat Association be approved. (See Appendix, page 199.)

The Assembly resumed consideration of the Report of the Standing Committee on Church and Society. The report was adopted, as amended, and is as follows:

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

The following were referred to this Committee by the General Assembly:

I. Minutes of the Council on Church and Society.
II. Report of the Council on Church and Society with its recommendations.
III. Overtures 61-66, 71, 78.
IV. Resolution No. 8.

We Recommend:

I. That the minutes of the Council on Church and Society be approved.
II. That the report of the Council on Church and Society be acted upon in the following ways:
    1. That the 107th General Assembly receive as information the paper, GOD'S WORK IN OUR RAPIDLY CHANGING WORLD, print it in the Minutes (see Appendix, page 211) and commend it to the churches for study.
    2. That the 107th General Assembly adopt the statement, REPENTING OF DISCRIMINATION IN OUR INSTITUTIONAL LIFE (see Appendix, page 214).
    3. That the 107th General Assembly receive the Message of the Geneva Conference (see Appendix, page 215) and transmit it to the churches for study and appropriate action, with the following explanatory introduction.

Introduction

A World Conference on Church and Society, sponsored by the World Council of Churches, was held in Geneva, Switzerland, in July, 1966. Over 400 delegates from 70 nations, two-thirds of whom were laymen, explored together for two weeks the Conference theme, "Christians in the Technical and Social Revolutions of Our Time." The participants then issued a Conference Message for study, consideration and comment by the member communions in preparation for the next meeting of the General Assembly of the World Council to be held in 1968.

The 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States received the Message of the World Conference on Church and Society and ordered that the Message be transmitted to the churches for study and appropriate action, with the understanding that in so doing the Assembly is not encouraging civil disobedience. Detailed Reports of the conference are available from the World Council of Churches, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, N. Y. 10027.

    4. That in response to Recommendation No. 4 of the Ctuncil on Church and Society regarding "An Appeal to the Churches Concerning Vietnam" of the National Council of Churches of the U.S.A. (see Appendix, page 217), attention is directed to the recommendation regarding this "Appeal" in recommendation IV of this report.

III. Overtures:

1. To overtures 61 (Cherokee), 62 (Florida), 63 (Louisiana), and 66 (Session of First Church, Baton Rouge, La.) all seeking further General Assembly action on its previous actions concerning civil disobedience, we recommend that these overtures be answered in the negative as the statements of the 105th and 106th General Assembly on civil disobedience, when considered in their entirety, constitute an adequate expression of a position regarding Christian respect for law consistent with the Biblical witness and Reformed theology. (See pages 45, 46.)
2. To overture 64 (St. Andrew), we recommend:
   (a) That the portion of the overture requesting that the General Assembly "express its disapproval of those who go beyond the bounds of civil disobedience as defined in the 1965 statement: 'the open, non-violent and conscientious refusal to obey a law or laws, as a means of appeal to a higher law, combined with the willing acceptance of the penalty.' (p. 160, Minutes of the 105th General Assembly)", be answered in the affirmative, in that such distpproval is implicit in the statement on civil disobedience of both the 105th and 106th General Assemblies.
   (b) That the second portion of the overture, asking the General Assembly "to develop ways and means of working towards . . . reconciliation" be answered as follows: The General Assembly affirms its conviction that divine human reconciliation is the primary responsibility of the whole church and the fundamental purpose of all General Assembly programs.
3. To overture 65 (see page 45) (South Texas), we recommend:
   That this overture be answered by reference to the action of the General Assembly upon the report of the Permanent Judicial Commission (See Appendix, page 242), and report of Standing Committee on Judicial Business, page 128, Item G.
4. We further recommend: That in the light of apparent continued misunderstanding of the General Assembly's position on the subject of civil disobedience, reflected in various overtures coming to the Assembly, we urge that all courts of the Church engage in a careful study of the statements on this matter by the 105th and 106th General Assemblies.
5. To overture 71 (see page 48) (Florida), we recommend: That the General Assembly concur with the Presbytery of Florida in its belief that our church must always work to strengthen Bible teaching and preaching in the Church, to emphasize the Westminster Confession of Faith, and the Apostle's Creed; to reinforce the Church's emphasis on its purity, peace and mission of redeeming men through Jesus Christ; but that in the judgment of the General Assembly Christian Witness and obedience in the field of "civil and political issues" is part of the mission of the church.
6. To overture 78 (see page 48) (Columbia), we recommend: That this overture be answered in the ffirmative, with the understanding that the intent of the overture is to instruct the Council on Church and Sociey to implement the request for strengthening the Church's ministry to prisoners.

IV. The General Assembly received and referred to the Standing Committee on Church and Society Resolution No. 8, signed by the following commissioners: Donald W. Shriver, Jr., of Granville; T. Hartley Hall, IV, of N. E. Texas; John M. Handley of Mecklenburg; William R. Sengel of Potomac; Jack East, Jr., of Washburn; Norman L. Grover of Montgomery, and Thomas A. Spragens of Transylvania. The Resolution is as follows:

Along with fellow Americans and fellow Christians around the world, we are deeply perplexed and anguished by the tragic war in Vietnam. As Americans, we love our country, cherish its traditions, and generally support its causes. Yet as Christians, above everything we love the Lord of all nations. In our baptism we have accepted from Him membership in a kingdom whose gates open to all men. Our loyalty to Him thus demands the continual scrutiny of all our lesser loyalties. Our membership in His worldwide kingdom is thus a discipline to and a disturber of our patriotism.

Furthermore, we believe that He is the Lord of all our history. Therefore we are confident that He is at work in even the terrifying complexity of international politics in our time. As men, we do not pretend to understand world affairs or the works of God comprehensively; but as Christians, we believe that God works to bring forgiveness, justice, and reconciliation to the nations. As Christians we ask ourselves what responsibility God means for us to bear in His universal work.

When we struggle with this fundamental Christian question in relation to the Vietnam conflict, numerous other questions press upon us. Some of these we can avoid answering in the name of ignorance; others we must at least try to answer, lest we be rightly accused of faithlessness. Precisely because we are Christians first and Americans second, we wrestle with these questions; and as a General Assembly we invite the members of our churches to wrestle with us. We direct these questions to ourselves and to the churches rather than to our government. We confess that such questions have not always found sober attention in our ranks. Until they do merit such attention in our eyes, we shall inevitably bear a poor testimony to the political leaders of the world:

1. What purpose does God have for our nation's enemies? If they too are under His rule, what benefit is He conferring upon America in its enemies' resistance to its power? As Christians, have we clearly affirmed our nation's need of restraint by other nations, as well as others' need of restraint by us?

2. How much are we obligated to learn in this matter from the opinions of our fellow churchmen in other parts of the world? What restraint on our patriotism is God imposing upon us through our brethren in the body of Christ, especially those in Asia, Africa, and South America who are increasingly critical of American policy in Vietnam?

3. What does the Lord require us to learn in the increasing urgency of dissent on this issue in the ranks of the young, who bear much of the cost of war, and in the ranks of our fellow American churchmen, who have tried to consider the war from a Christian perspective? What does He also require us to learn from our own frustration in trying to understand this war, from the viewpoint of our Lord?

4. As His disciples, called on to live by the law of love, have we been saddened by the violence of American arms as much as by the violence of our enemies? Are we as much in agony for the death of one Vietnamese child as for the death of an American child? Have we too quickly resigned ourselves to inhumane acts because our enemy also commits them?

5. As real as the sacrifices of our nation have been in this war, are we in danger of thinking that in time of war the magnitude of sacrifice is a guarantee of justice? Are we spiritually prepared to help our nation on any occasion to admit that the cost of some victories can nullify victory itself?

6. Since one respected tradition of Christian ethics views war as sometimes just, are we not obligated by this tradition to test every war at all imes, inquiring about its justice? What are the limits to justified desrucion in war? Have we as Christians asked with concreteness what those limits are? At what point must any government draw back from inflicting damage upon its enemies, even at the price of its own defeat in war? As Christians, from what evils must we yearn to protect our country more than the evil of defeat in war?

7. Fnally, we ask ourselves if we are still committed to the Gospel of Jesus Christ as good news to the Communist as well as the capitalist, the revolutionary as well as the conservative, the stranger as well as the friend? Are we truly reconciled to One who is not the enemy of our enemies, since he is not even the enemy of his own enemies? Have we rightly exercised our imagination to think that our nation's opponents are our Lord's beloved? If we are deficient in such imagination, have we prayed earnestly for this spiritual gift?

These questions we address to ourselves, conscious that Christians must ask about such things with fear and trenmbling. We trust God's Spirit to enable us to answer with the integrity of good and faithful disciples.

The Committee has given careful study to this Resolution and has made numerous revisions. We recommend that the General Assembly affirm its loyalty to the government in the current conflict and adopt the following paper in response to the Resolution above and direct that it be distributed widely in the Church for study and appropriate action.

VIETNAM: SOME QUESTIONS FOR CHRISTIANS

As Americans, we love our country, cherish its traditions, and endeavor to support its causes. Yet as Christians, above everything we love the Lord of all nations. In our baptism we have accepted from Him membership in a kingdom whose gates open to all men. Our loyalty to Him thus demands the continual scrutiny of all our lesser loyalties. Our membership in His worldwide kingdom is thus a discipline to and a disturber of our patriotism. Therefore along with fellow Americans and fellow Christians around the world, we are deeply perplexed and anguished by the tragic war in Vietnam.

Furthermore, we believe that He is the Lord of all our history. Therefore we are confident that He is at work in even the terrifying complexity of international politics in our time. As men, we do not pretend to understand world affairs or the works of God comprehensively; but as Christians, we believe that God works to bring forgiveness, justice, and reconciliation to the nations. As Christians we ask ourselves what responsibility God means for us to bear in His universal work.

When we struggle with this fundamental Christian question in relation to the Vietnam conflict, numerous other questions press upon us. Some of these we can avoid answering in the name of ignorance; others we must at least try to answer, lest we be rightly accused of faithlessness. Precisely because we are Christians first and Americans second, we wrestle with these questions; and as a General Assembly we invite the members of our churches to wrestle with us. We direct these questions to ourselves and to the churches rather than to our government. We confess that such questions have not always found sober attention in our ranks. Until they do merit such attention in our eyes, we shall inevitably bear a poor testimony to the political leaders of the world:

1. What purpose does God have for our nation and its enemies? What are the peculiar responsibilities of a powerful nation for a weak one? For another powerful one? What benefits is God conferring upon our nation's enemies through America? Upon America through its enemies? Does our nation need restraining by other nations as much as others need restraining by us?

2. How much are we obligated to learn in this matter from the sharp differences of opinions of our fellow churchmen? What is God telling us through those Christian brethren at home and abroad who are critical of American policy in Vietnam? What is He telling us through our very frustration in trying to understand this war from a Christian perspective?

3. As His disciples, called to live by the law of love, to what extent are we saddened by the violence of this war? Are we as much in agony for the death of one Vietnamese as for the death of one American? Should we ever resign ourselves to inhumane acts by any participant in a war? Is it ever Christian to support the lesser of two evils?

4. As sacrifices mount on both sides of this war, how can we resist the danger of believing that magnitude of sacrifice is a guarantee of justice on either side? What responsibilities does a nation have for its own sons in conflict? For its enemies' sons? Are we spiritually prepared to help our nation on any occasion to admit that the cost of a victory can nullify victory itself?

5. Since one tradition of Christian ethics views war as sometimes just, how should we test this war and inquire about its justice? Are there any limits to justified destruction in war? If so, what are those limits? Should a government ever draw back from inflicting damage upon its enemies at the possible price of military defeat? Is there a worse evil than defeat?

6. Are we seeking and evaluating without prejudice all available facts about this war? In light of east-west tensions, how does the conflict in Vietnam relate to the efforts of nations to avoid global war? What are the dangers to peace of American withdrawal from Vietnam? Of American presence there? What kinds of decisions can Christians make when they do not have access to all the facts about this war?

7. Finally, we ask ourselves if we are truly committed to the Gospel of Jesus Christ as good news to the communist as well as to the capitalist, to the revolutionary as well as the conservative, to the stranger as well as the friend? Are we truly reconciled to the One who is not the enemy of our enemies since he is not even the enemy of his own enemies? Have we exercised our imagination enough to think of our nation's opponents as our Lord's beloved? If we lack such imagination, are we praying earnestly for this spiritual gift?

These questions we address to ourselves, conscious that Christians must ask about such things with fear and trenmbling. We trust God's Spirit to enable us to answer with the integrity of good and faithful disciples.

We further recommend that to assist churches and individual Christians seeking answers to these questions the Council on Church and Society be directed to transmit to each church for study the "Appeal to the Churches Concerning Vietnam", adopted by the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches of the U. S. A., and the paper "Issues in the Debate on the War in Vietnam", by George A. Chauncey of the Division of Church and Society; and that individual churches seek and utilize other appropriate materials in the study of this matter, and the letters of any of our service chaplains which may be available through the Board of Church Extension and/or Presbytery Committees responsible for service chaplains.

The following members of the Committee registered their dissent to Recommendations II, 2 and 3; III, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5; IV: James M. Breytspraak, Memphis; W. E. Petris, St. Johns; and Lynwood T. Stephenson, Granville.

H. Lacy Daniel, Birmingham, registered his dissent to Recommendations II, 2; III, 1, 5.

Roy W. Robinson, Mecklenburg, registered his dissent to Recommendation IV.

V. That the General Assembly express deep concern over the unrest and recent conflict in the Middle East, an area which contains much that is sacred to Christian Jew and Moslem alike, and that it register its wholehearted and prayerful support of individuals and nations who are seeking to bring peace and concord to that area of the world.

VI. That, since the primary objective of our Church is the salvation of lost souls, the General Assembly challenge each officer of our Church actively to offer the message of salvation to at least one of God's children during the coming year;

That a copy of this motion be sent to each officer;

That the Moderator offer at this time a prayer for those who are not of the household of God.

(Note: V and VI above were added to the report of the Committee by the Assembly.)

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN S. McMULLEN, Chairman

   5. No. 12 from the Synod of Georgia, PCUS
F. Resolutions as follows:
   1. No. 1 from Frank H. Caldwell, Retiring Moderator of the General Assembly

      Whereas, the functions of Moderator of General Assembly, in the interim between annual meetings, have increased notably during recent years, and whereas, the normal vocational duties of those elected to serve as Moderator vary as to the time which can reasonably be devoted to interim itineration throughout the Church, and whereas, the Book of Church Order (13-2, 4) provides no guidance for such interim service, and the Standing Rules (2.2-2.3) provide only meagre guidance and are unmodified at these particular points in the revisions of Standing Rules as presented to the 107th General Assembly for consideration, and whereas, there is before this Assembly an Overture No. 81, which in part requests that a study be made of the functions of the Moderator,

      Therefore, be it resolved: that the Assembly request any committee which may be authorized to make such a study to confer with a representative number of former Moderators, and with the Stated Clerk, as to patterns, guidelines, and procedures by means of which the interim functions of Moderators may serve the maximum interests of the Church.

2. No. 5 from L. B. Horn, Jr., of the Presbytery of John Knox

   Whereas, divergent opinions have been expressed concerning the interpretation of "ex officio" as this term is used with reference to General Assembly committees, and whereas, a number of persons feel that the records of General Assembly appear to reflect varying interpretations from time to time, and whereas, the intent behind "ex officio" membership is to enable liaison and continuity between committees and persons who by virture of their office have, during their term of office, particular liaison responsibilities;

   Therefore, be it resolved that the General Assembly declare that a person appointed "ex officio" is appointed because of a particular office and that appointment does not not extend beyond his tenure in office.

3. No. 11 from Malcolm W. Graham of the Presbytery of Hanover

   Whereas, the cost of living is constantly rising, and whereas, many Commissioners live in geographical situations where rail and/or scheduled air travel is not feasible, and whereas, the Federal Government, for tax-exemption purposes, recognizes as valid an automobile expense of 10¢ per mile,

   It is requested that the Standing Rules of the General Assembly be amended in Section 5.2b to read as follows: Automobile travel at 8¢ per mile by direct route to car owner; 3¢ per mile payable to a commissioner riding with the owner, which payment the passenger shall transmit to the owner.

G. Overtures as follows:

1. No. 13 from the Presbytery of Westminster (together with a portion of the report of the Permanent Judicial Commission with reference to this overture)

13. In reply to Resolution No. 1, the General Assembly orders the appointment of an ad interim committee to study the Office of Moderator. This ad interim committee is instructed to consult with at least the five preceding Moderators, and with the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation relative to the provisions for the Office of Moderator in the Standing Rules of the General Assembly. It is understood that the areas of study outlined in the preceding sentence are minimal; the ad interim committee is free to explore any and all matters of substance it may desire and to consult with whom it wills. The committee is directed to report to the 108th General Assembly its findings, conclusions and specific recommendations.
14. In reply to Resolution No. 5, the General Assembly declares that any person appointed to serve by it to any position "ex-officio" serves no longer tenure in this position than his term of office which occasioned his ex-officio appointment.

20. In reply to the overture from the Presbytery of Brazos (74) (see page 37) the General Assembly answers in the negative, believing that the provision in the Form of Government (3-16) is ample recognition as well as record of his transition from function as a communicant of a parish church to function as a communicant of a presbytery.

23. In reply to the overture from the Presbytery of Brazos (75) (see page 37) the General Assembly answers with deep regret in the negative as relates to the meeting of the 109th General Assembly for the reason that arrangements have been made and contracts for goods and services signed with folk in the City of Mobile. The 107th General Assembly instructs its Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to take the initiative in securing a meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States conjunctively in the same city with a meeting of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America at the earliest possible date, and requests the Permanent Committee to keep subsequent meetings of our Assembly informed as to their progress.

24. In reply to the overture of the Presbytery of New Orleans (76) (see page 38) the General Assembly answers in the negative the request for the inclusion of a statistical unit providing for listing of communicants in a parish church by families.

25. In reply to the overture from the Presbytery of Washburn (81) (see page 38) the General Assembly answers in the affirmative by requesting its Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to conduct a study of the Office of the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly and bring to the 108th General Assembly definitive job descriptions and task definitions, in the light of the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Standing Rules of the General Assembly, for approval, as well as recommendations (if needed) relative to expansion or division of work load.

6. A Memorial against the Synod of Georgia.
7. Communications: From the Synod of Georgia asking legalization of a meeting held outside the bounds of Synod: from the Stated Clerk of the Synod of Georgia in response to the Memorial against the Synod; from the Synods of Georgia and South Carolina requesting General Assembly's approval of the transfer of the Presbytery of Georgia-Carolina to the Synod of South Carolina; correspondence from the Synod of Mississippi, the Presbyteries of St. Andrew, South Mississippi, and Central Mississippi, the Synod of South Carolina and the Presbytery of Pee Dee, and the Synod of Alabama relative to the reception of Negro churches and ministers; from the Synod of Georgia regarding the action of the Presbytery of Savannah.
8. Nominations to the Permanent Judicial Commission from the Permanent Nominating Committee.

I. Recommendations as to official minutes of the Synods:

A. The Committee recommends that the 1965 minutes of the Synod of Arkansas, as resubmitted to the 107th General Assembly for review, be approved without exception.

B. The Committee recommends that the minutes of the following Synods be approved without exceptions: Alabama, Appalachia, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia.

C. The Committee recommends that the minutes of the following Synods be approved with exceptions noted:

Arkansas—Minutes called meeting held November 30, 1965, are not attested by Stated Clark.

Florida—Minutes of the meeting held June 7-8, 1966, do not indicate that Synod was adjourned with prayer (Book of Church Order 13-6).

Minutes of Adjourned Session held July 14-15, 1966, should read, under Minutes, Dockets, Appointments (p. 57), "Wednesday, June 8" instead of "Wednesday, June 9."

Mississippi—Pages of minutes are not numbered consistently, which sometimes makes reference difficult, and pages 32(?)-35 are collated incorrectly.

Missouri—The minutes give no indication that the meeting of Synod was called to order and opened with prayer, nor that a quorum was found to be present. The minutes give no indication of action taken on the Report of the Ad Interim Committee on Restructure.

The minutes record the adoption of the report of the Joint Committee on National Missions and Church Extension (p 39). It is not clear whether this report is the one entitled, "The Home Missions Committee."

Again, on page 42, the minutes indicate the report of a committee by one name and the report of that committee is printed under a different title. In order for the minutes to be clear, there should be uniformity.

Oklahoma—The minutes do not record the action taken on the Report of the Council, with its recommendations (p 16f).

II. As to the votes of the Presbyteries on amendments to the Construction:

B. That each amendment be and hereby is enacted, excepting the amendments to Sections 6-1 and 6-2.

1. That Section 16-10 of the Book of Church Order be amended to read as follows: "Ministers in good standing in other Presbyteries, or in any other Christian church, being present at any meeting of Presbytery, may be invited to sit as visiting brethren. It is proper for the Moderator to introduce these brethren to introduce these brethren to the Presbytery. This provision shall also apply to the Synod and General Assembly." (See Sec. 2-2.)
2. That Section 20-5 of the Book of Church Order be amended to read as follows: "The Permanent Judicial Commission shall meet as directed by the General Assembly, provided that, if business has arisen which it must transact for the Assembly, the Commission shall meet in ample time to make its report. The Commission shall begin to report its recommendations and preliminary judgments on the second day of the General Assembly's Session. (See R. D. Sec. 116-9.)"
3. That the last sentence of Section 25-2 of the Book of Church Order be amended to read as follows:
   "The terms of a call under which the relation of Pastor or Associate Pastor is established can be changed only by the congregation at a regularly constituted meeting and with the consent of the Presbytery and the Pastor or Associate Pastor."
4. That Section 116-5 of the Book of Church Order be amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:
   "An appellant to the General Assembly shall lodge his appeal and the reasons therefor with the Clerk of the General Assembly by February 1st in order to permit time for a proper hearing of the case by the Permanent Judicial Commission prior to the meeting of the General Assembly of that year."

C. With respect to the amendments to Section 6-1 and to Section 6-2 of the Book of Book of Church Order, the Committee notes the following recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission:
"Whereas some question has arisen concerning the constitutionality under certain state laws of the proposed amendment to 6-1 and 6-2, Book of Church Order, the Permanent Judicial Commission recommends that action on said proposed amendments be deferred and the matter referred back to the Permanent Judicial Commission for further study and recommendations."
Therefore, the Standing Committee on Judicial Business recommends that the General Assembly defer approval and enactment of said proposed amendments and refer the matter back to the Permanent Judicial Commission for further study and recommendations, and that Overture 55 from the Presbytery of Lexington, relative to this matter, be answered by the above statement.

III. The Committee recommends that the Minutes of the Permanent Judicial Commission be approved.

IV. It is recommended that the Overtures dealt with in the report of the Permanent Judicial Commission which have been referred to the Standing Committee on Judicial Business be answered as follows:

A. That Overture 14 from the Presbytery of Atlanta relative to retired ministers be answered with the following statement:
"A retired minister must secure approval of Presbytery for all work in which he desires to engage. (See BCO, Section 16-2, and Assembly's Digest, 1965, p 91.)"

B. That Overture 15 from the Presbytery of South Carolina relative to the examination of "extraordinary" candidates be answered with the following statement:
"Section 27-5 of the Book of Church Order requires that the type of examination for extraordinary candidates be determined prior to the examination, and the motion for approval of the examination for extraordinary candidates must be made at the meeting at which such candidates are examined, the motion to be voted on at a subsequent regular or called meeting and requiring a three-fourths vote at such subsequent meeting for approval."

C. That Overture 16 from Harmony Presbytery relative to the clarification of Section 27-5 BCO, "And shall be voted upon in a meeting subsequent to the one in which the motion is made", with particular reference to whether a "subsequent meeting" may be an adjourned meeting of the one at which the motion was made, and, if so, how much time must elapse before holding the subsequent meeting, be answered with the statement:
"A subsequent meeting is not an adjourned session of the same meeting but a later meeting, either the next stated meeting or a special meeting regularly called upon not less than ten days' prior written notice in the manner prescribed in Section 16-9 BCO."

D. That, pending a study by the Permanent Theological Committee o fthe Scriptural and theological basis for the office of deacon and the function of the Board of Deacons, Overture 17 from the Presbytery of St. Louis and Overture 18 from the Presbytery of Washburn be answered in the negative, affirming the following statement approved by the General Assembly of 1965 (Minutes pp. 29, 99):
"An unicameral system already exists in that the Session has supervision and authority over the Deacons (Section 12-5 and 15-6, BCO) and thereby has ultimate authority for the proper discharge of the functions of the Deacons. Nevertheless the Deacons must organize as a board with officers and regular meetings (Section 12-4) for the better discharge of the specific duties with which the board is charged (Section 12-3). It is only in a church in which Deacons cannot be secured that the duties of the office devolve upon its Ruling Elders (Section 15-6)."

E. That Overture 19 from Hanover Presbytery to amend Section 16-1 BCO to read as follows:
"The Presbytery consists of all its member ministers and all churches within a certain district. When a Presbytery meets, each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A church whose communicants exceed 750 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 750 communicants."
and to amend Section 17-1 BCO to read as follows:
"The Synod consists of all churches in a district comprising at least three Presbyteries and of the ministers who are members of the included Presbyteries. When a Synod meets, each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A church whose communicants exceed 750 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shalll be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 750 communicants."
be answered in the negative.

F. That Overture 20 from the Presbytery of Potomac to make clear the Presbyterian doctrine regarding the ownership of church property be answered with the statement:
"The Book of Church Order when supplemented by the declaratory statement of the General Assembly of 1953 is sufficiently clear."
And further that the General Assembly reaffirm the following statement with regard to ownership of the property of a particular church (See Assembly's Digest, p. 76):
"Item I
The beneficial ownership of the property of a particular church of the Presbyterian Church in the United States is in the congregation of such church and title may properly be held in any form, corporate or otherwise, consistent with the provisions of civil law in the jurisdiction in which said property is situated. The congregation, with respect to such property, may properly exercise any privilege of ownership possessed by property owners in such jurisdiction. In every instance nothing in the manner of tenure of such property or the use thereof shall be in violation of the obligation of such congregation to the body of the Presbyterian Church in the United States as established by the Constitution of such Church.

"Item II

Disposition of the property of a particular church rests in the will of the congregation of that church. The congregation is that body of persons recognized as members of that particular church by the respective courts of the Church."

G. That Overture 21 from the Presbytery of Atlanta that the General Assembly rescind as unconstitutional its statement:

"The Presbyterian Church, U. S., desires at this time to reaffirm the obligation of all her obedient sons and daughters . . . (4) to continue to support and regard with compassion those who practice civil disobedience . . ."

be answered with the statement:

"The General Assembly has the right and the duty to make pronouncements on all issues and to give counsel on matters of conscience (Section 14-3(2) BCO). The pronouncement to which objection is raised is an in thesi deliverance of the General Assembly and is entitled to serious and prayerful consideration, but an in thesi deliverance is not binding on the conscience of Church courts or individuals when, after prayerful consideration, a different conviction is held. The General Assembly has recognized the right of private judgment belonging to every Church court and to every individual member in matters of conscience. Such different judgment must be held with great humility. Section 14-3(1) BCO; Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp. 71-72."

The Committee voted to report to the Assembly that the vote on this item was not unanimous in the Committee.

H. Overture 22 from the Presbytery of Louisville to interpret Section 27-4 BCO to make it permissible for a Presbytery, upon request of a judicatory of another denomination, to examine and ordaine one of its own candidates and to transfer to the other judicatory such candidate as an ordained member, be answered in the negative with the statement:

"Section 27-4 BCO does not lend itself to the interpretation requested. The Commission points out that candidates who think that they may receive calls from another denomination should request that they be permitted to take the examination as and when required by such other denomination."

And further that the following resolution of the Standing Committee be adopted by the General Assembly:

STANDING COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL BUSINESS

Whereas, the Book of Church Order (27-4), does not expressly forbid a Presbytery from examining and ordaining a candidate who has a call from another denomination; and

Whereas, the Permanent Judicial Commission has ruled that such examinations and ordinations are not permissible in accordance with 27-4; and

Whereas, the Standing Committee on Judicial Business, agreeing with the interpretation of the Permanent Judicial Commission on this matter, nevertheless has sympathy and understanding of Overture 22 from Louisville Presbytery in their desire to legalize such ordinations due to the reality of candidates often accepting calls to the UPUSA in the border Presbyteries and especially in light of the new standardized examination procedures of the UPUSA Church:

Now therefore: The Standing Committee on Judicial Business respectfully requests the 107th General Assembly to adopt the following resolution:

"That Section 27-4 of the Book of Church Order be amended to provide that a Presbytery may examine and ordain a candidate under its care who has received a call to another denomination or to work outside The Presbyterian Church US; provided that it is requested to do so by an appropriate judicatory."

The General Assembly further resolves that the above resolution be submitted to the Permanent Judicial Commission for study, drafting and presentation to the 1968 General Assembly.

I. That Overture 23 from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas to amend the Church Order to provide (1) for the Session granting certificates to dismi another congregation to include information whether the person so dismi ever been ordained and has served as an officer; (2) for the format of the Certificate of Dismission to provide for such information; and (3) for Sessions receiving as members persons who have previously served as officers of other churches to record such information, be answered with the following statement:

"Although such information may be desirable, such amendment would unduly burden the Book of Church Order with administrative detail. It is noted that the information required under Section 15-6(5) BCO is essential because baptised children are non-communing members of the Church."

J. That Overture 24 from the Presbytery of Washburn to determine whether the Book of Church Order, as presently constituted, gives sufficient guidance to Presbyteries in the matter of ministers or candidates wishing to serve temporarily in other branches of the Church in other countries and if not then to amend the Book of Church Order to make such service possible, be answered with the statement:

"The Book of Church Order as presently constituted does give sufficient guidance to the Presbyteries in the matters of ministers or candidates wishing to serve in other branches of the Church in other countries as set forth in Section 16-2, 26-9, and 24-6 BCO."

K. That Overture 25 from the Presbytery of Washburn requesting the General Assembly to determine and declare whether a presbytery may require a minister to adhere to certain doctrinal positions as essential to subscribing to the Church standards, be answered with the statement:

"The Presbytery has original jurisdiction to examine ministers, Section 16-5, BCO, and to receive them, Section 16-7(13) BCO, and, in doing so, may, in good faith, exercise a broad discretion not to be questioned except when exercised with manifest bias or prejudice and then only in specific cases brought to the higher courts by regular judicial process, or by review and control, Section 113-1 BCO, Section 117-1 BCO, Presbytery of Central Mississippi v. Synod of Mississippi, Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp. 352 ff."

V. REFERRALS:

A. From the 1966 General Assembly of Overture (1966, h) (see page 57) from the Presbytery of Kanawha relative to the term "men" in the Book of Church Order:
The Committee recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

"With regard to church officers, wherever the nouns 'man' or 'men' or the personal pronouns 'he', 'him' or 'his' occur, such words shall be interpreted in the light of the last sentence of Section 9-2 of the Book of Church Order, which reads, 'Both men and woomen shall be eligible to hold Church offices'."

B. From the 1966 General Assembly of Item 2 of the report of the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures (Minutes 1966, p. 86) (see Appendix, page 239) and the referral from the 1966 General Assembly of Item V, 2, of the report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business (Minutes 1966, p. 100) (see Appendix, page 239) relative to "regular procedure in communication among courts and individuals."
The Committee recommends that these items be answered with the following statement:

"Except where necessary for the administrative and judicial business of the Church courts, the Book of Church Order does not prescribe any procedures for the regulating of correspondence among Church courts and individuals. However, each Church court and individual bears a special responsibility to see to it that all such communications shall be directed toward the promotion of the peace, harmony and purity of the Church and shall be consistent with and within the affirmances of the Book of Church Order and the pronouncements of the General Assembly. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp. 115-116.)"

C. From the 1966 General Assembly of overture (1966, f) (see page 239) from the Presbytery of Mecklenburg relative to "limited term for officers".
The Committee recommends that proposition 1 of this overture be answered in the affirmative. (See BCO, Section 29-1 and 29-11.)
The Committee recommends that both parts of proposition 2 be answered in the affirmative. (See BCO, Sections 29-1 and 29-11.)

The Committee recommends that the first part of proposition 3 be anwered in the negative, except where such a commission is expressly constituted as a judicial commission. (See BCO, Sections 19-2 and 19-3.)

The Committee recommends that the second part of proposition 3 be answered in the affirmative, but with the understanding that such a separate commission does not necessarily have to be made up of different individuals. (See BCO, Sections 19-2, 19-3, and 19-4.)

The Committee recommends that proposition 4 be answered with the statement that the powers of a particular judicial commission cease with the rendering and reporting of its verdict and the commission must be reconstituted in order to function thereafter. (See BCO, Sections 19-4 and 118-3.)

D. From the 1966 General Assembly of Item X, 2, of the report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business (Minutes 1966, p. 106) (see Appendix, page 240) relative to "ministers serving the Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson Mississippi."

The Committee recommends that this item be answered with the following statement:

"If a minister shall request permission of a Presbytery to accept work not under the jurisdiction of the Presbytery and if the Presbytery determines that the nature of the work is proper to the ministry of the Gospel and that the particular work serves the best interests of the Church and the minister, it may grant such permission. (See BCO, Section 29-9.)"

E. Overture from the Board of World Missions (Minutes 1966, pp. 27, 101) (see Appendix, page 241) to amend the Book of Church Order to permit missionaries of our Church, both ordained and unordained, to establish full ecclesiastical relationship with both the Church in the United States and the Church to which they are related in missionary service abroad.

In answer, the Committee recommends that the General Assembly send down to the Presbyteries for advice and consent the following amendments:

1. That Chapter 8 of the Book of Church Order be amended by adding thereto Section 8-17 as follows:

   "A member who is serving abroad as an unordained missionary under the Board of World Missions may become a member of the Church to which he is related in missionary service. The Session of his church shall retain the member's name on its active roll, and he shall be considered a member of both Churches. The provisions of Section 29-10 BCO, shall be applicable in the case of a member who is an officer in his Church."

2. That Section 16-2 of the Book of Church Order be amended by adding thereto these sentences:

   "A Minister who is serving abroad as a missionary under the Board of World Missions may become a member of a Presbytery of the Church to which he is related in missionary service. His Presbytery, in such case, shall retain his name on its roll, and he shall continue to be a full and responsible member of it, subject to its jurisdiction, in every respect."

VI. COMMUNICATIONS. The Committee recommends:

A. That in response to the communication from the Stated Clerk of the Synod of Georgia, the Assembly legalize the meeting of that Synod which was held outside its bounds, May 31-June 1, 1966.

B. That the Assembly be informed of the following report regarding the reception of Negro Churches, as requested by the 1965 Assembly (p. 94 of 1965 Assembly's minutes):

1. The Synod of Mississippi reports that St. Andrew Presbytery and South Mississippi Presbytery have acted to receive the Negro churches within their bounds. Central Mississippi Presbytery has not yet completed this action. The Committee therefore recommends that the Synod of Mississippi be asked to report to the 1968 Assembly the further progress being made in Central Mississippi Presbytery.
2. The Synods of Georgia and South Carolina request that approval be given to the transfer of the Presbytery of Georgia-Carolina into the Synod of South Carolina. The Committee recommends this approval.
3. With respect to the Presbyteries of Pee Dee and Harmony, the General Assembly takes note of the communication of the Synod of South Carolina to its presbyteries of Pee Dee and Harmony expressing concern and asking for action in the matter of the reception of Negro churches. The Committee recommends that the Assembly urge the Synod to continue its encouragement of these presbyteries and ask that all further developments be reported to the 1968 General Assembly.

4. The Synod of Alabama has reported that the Presbytery of Central Alabama has been divided into three parts and that the parts have been united with the respective existing presbyteries involved.

C. With respect to the communication from the Synod of Georgia asking the Assembly to affirm the correctness of Synod's position and to approve financial assistance of the Presbytery of Savannah in its court case, that the General Assembly affirm the correctness of the Synod's position under its power of review and control of its presbyteries. With respect to the principle of financial aid under the circumstances described the Committee further recommends that item (e) in the request of the Synod of Georgia be answered in the affirmative.

VII. With respect to the Memorial from ministers and elders of the Synod of Georgia and the communication from the Stated Clerk of the Synod of Georgia in response to this Memorial, the Standing Committee on Judicial Business finds no indication in the 1966 Minutes of the Synod of Georgia of any important delinquency or grossly unconstitutional proceedings, or failure to comply with or to implement the pronouncements of the General Assembly relative to racial discriminations, and the Committee notes that the Minutes for previous years have been approved without exception, and, further, since the committee has reason to believe that the purposes of the Memorial are being accomplished within the Synod of Georgia, the Standing Committee on Judicial Business recommends that the General Assembly decline to cite the Synod of Georgia under Section 114-6 of the Book of Church Order.

The General Assembly requests the Permanent Judicial Commission to advise the 1968 Assembly whether or not this is a constitutional means of dealing with a Memorial since this is the first Memorial ever to come before the Assembly.

VIII. It is recommended, in accordance with the nominations made by the Permanent Committee on Nominations, that the following persons be elected to the Permanent Judicial Commission:

For an additional term:
Class of 1970: Joseph C. Meux (2) Ky.
Vacancies:
Class of 1970: P. J. Garrison, Jr., Tex. (1)
David E. Cuppett, Jr., Va. (1)
Eugene Rogers, S. C. (1)

IX. The Standing Committee on Judicial Business recommends the following resolution of the Committee:

STANDING COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL BUSINESS

The Standing Committee on Judicial Business notes with deep concern present tendencies and attitudes in our Church which are brought into focus by the controversy in and among our Presbyteries over the examination of ministers.

There is a widening breach between groups of different theological stances, between clergy and laity, between Presbyteries and Presbyteries, between individuals and courts, which breaks down communication and hinders our witness at home and aboard.

We are concerned that our Church has developed differing positions which are intolerant of one another at a time when we need to seek together to find the will of God.

We are aware of serious differences of opinion concerning the nature and mission of the Church with a consequent weakening of evangelism.

We recognize the value and contributions of varying views as important aspects of the truth, but we remind ourselves that no particular view or stance truly represents the whole counsel of God as set forth in Scripture.

We are deeply concerned that neither the purity nor the unity of the Church can exist apart from love and in mutual sympathy the various different views held within our Church must reflect this spirit.

Therefore the Standing Committee on Judicial Business recommends to the General Assembly that it call the Church to more responsible churchmanship by working properly through the courts of the Church; that the General Assembly call the Church to diligent maintenance of Biblical teaching in its Christian Education and preaching ministries in accord with the doctrinal standards of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; that the General Assembly call the Church to emphasize its oneness in Christ by drawing closer to one another in love, seeking to resolve our differences in mutual respect, understanding and trust; that the General Assembly call the Church to earnest intercession for one another and for the whole Church that she may find God's will in our day; and that the General Assembly call the Church in spite of different emphases, in common loyalty to Christ, and in consideration for one another, to seek by attitude, word, and action to declare His love and His will for the world.

Respectfully submitted,
J. D. ALEXANDER, Chairman

RESOLUTION

That General Assembly waive parliamentary obstacles involved in the time of presentation of this resolution,

And instruct the Moderator to convey fraternal greetings to The Baptist General Association of Virginia and to The Woman's Baptist Missionary and Educational Association meeting at the Lee Street Baptist Church, Bristol, Tennessee.

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON WOMEN'S WORK

Rev. Stewart W. Yandle, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Women's Work. The report was adopted, as amended, and is as follows:

In a mood of worship generated by the use of the responsive reading of The Challenge of the Women's Advisory Council to the Women of the Church, the Committee considered the following items of business referred to it:

I. Minutes of the Board of Women's Work;
II. Annual Report of the Board of Women's Work, and its recommendations;
III. Nominations to the Board of Women's Work;
IV. Overture No. 70.

Impressed with the fine quality of the statement of purpose for the Women of the Church, "to provide opportunities for women, as individuals and in groups, to grow in the knowledge of Christ, and be strengthened as members of His body in our contemporary world in order that they may understand and fulfill the particular responsibilities they have in the family, in the congregation,
in the community,
and around the world."

and more impressed with the fidelity of the Board fo Women's Work to that stated purpose and with the thorough manner in which the Board has organized itself and ordered its work in the light of that purpose, and made aware anew of the continuing inspirational work of the Women of the Church at every level of the church's life, the committee recommends the following actions:

I. That the minutes of the Board of Women's Work, which relate many refreshing innovations and new directions of service for Women of the Church, be approved, taking note of the excellent form and clarity of them.

II. That the 55th Annual Report of the Board of Women's Work be approved (see Part III of Minutes, Bound volume of Board reports) and commended to the pastors and Sessions throughout the Church.

III. 1. That, in light of the fact that our Church is located in the section of our country where there is the greatest amount of poverty in the United States, and in view of the fact that the number of people of poverty in our world continues to increase, the women of the Assembly be called upon to continue with the whole church to follow-up the Witness Season of study on poverty with definite plans for action as individuals, families, and church groups.

2. That all the Boards and Agencies of the Assembly and the local churches recognize that, for the first time in history one-half of the population of our country is under 26 years of age, and that the last 10 years of this age group of the population is the greatest absent period in church life and that in facing these facts all Boards, Agencies and local churches be urged to devise more effective ways to bring these young people to Christ as Lord and Savior and to engage them in the work of the Church and the worship of the Almighty God.

3. That the sessions of the churches of the Assembly be requested to review membership rolls, and study their areas to discover members who have gone into military service; to locate families who have husbands, fathers, sons, or daughters engaged in the service of our country; to learn of the Presbyterian men or women who are in nearby military installations, and others who need the ministry of the church, and that through a designated committee or group in the church a plan be developed to make them aware of the church's concern to minister to their needs (see "Operation: 'Home-tie' ").

4. That since there are over 14,000 students from overseas studying within the bounds of our General Assembly, the churches in areas where there are institutions of higher education be urged to develop and maintain a Host Family Program to provide for these international students the opportunity of hospitality in Christian homes.

5. That in view of the need for reconciliation in the church, in communities and within families, men's and women's groups in local churches be urged to use the series of General Program on reconciliation that have been planned and produced by the Men of the Church and the Women of the Church for the program year 1967-68.

6. That the General Assembly recognize the valuable service which has been rendered to the church through this Board during the past nine years by Mrs. W. W. McCrary, Jr., Mrs. S. R. Williamson and Dr. B. Frank Hall, and by Miss Louise McKinney who has served one term on the Board, and has requested that she not be considered for re-election.

7. That the election for a term of three years of the following staff members of the Board of Women's Work be approved: Mrs. Esther N. Anderson, Business Manager; Miss Willodine Gisler, Director of Leadership Education; Miss Janie McCutchen, Director of Ecumenical Mission and Relations; Mrs. J. G. Walsh, Director of Christian Community Action; Mrs. John W. Weaver, Director of Interpretation and Promotion.

That the following, nominated by the Permanent Committee on Nominations, be elected:

For additional term:

Mrs. S. W. Anderson (3) Fla.

Mrs. W. E. Hendricks (2) Ga.

Vacancies:

Class of 1970:

Rev. James R. Bullock, Tenn. (1) to replace Hall (term expired)

Mrs. Marion F. Reynolds, La. (1) to replace McCrary (term expired)

Mrs. Chatten R. Haynes, Ark. (1) to replace Williamson (term expired)

Mrs. James H. M. Henderson, Ala. (1) to replace McKinney (term expired)

8. That the 107th General Assembly answer Overture 70, from the Presbytery of Washburn, in the following manner:

THAT THE OVERTURE BE REFERRED TO THE BOARD OF WOMEN'S WORK FOR THEIR STUDY AND RECOMMENDATIONS, THIS TO BE MADE AT THE 108th GENERAL ASSEMBLY. (It is understood that there are certain contingencies, i.e. Reports on Institutional Forms, Reports on Church Union, etc., Inter-agency Studies on Worship and Work, which may preclude the time element included in this answer.)

That the General Assembly recognize, through its chairman, Mrs. Graves H. Thompson, and through its Executive Secretary, Dr. Evelyn Green, the Board of Women's Work, and express to them the gratitude of the court for the contributions made to the total work and worship of the church by the Women of the Church.

Respectfully submitted,
STEWART W. YANDLE, Chairman

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON TRAV

Mrs. H. C. Bleckschmidt, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on TRAV. It was adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on TRAV received the following business items referred to it by the 107th General Assembly:

I. Minutes of the Board of Directors of TRAV.

II. Report of the Board of Directors of TRAV with its recommendations. (See Appendix, page 226.)

III. Report of the Permanent Committee on Nominations relating to TRAV.

The following disposition was made of these items:

I. The Standing Committee reviewed the minutes of the Board of Directors of TRAV and finding them to be in good order, recommends that they be approved and that the Board of Directors be thanked for faithful and effective service.

II. The Standing Committee recommends that the report of the Board of Directors of TRAV be approved with appreciation for creative activity and accomplishments which bring challenge to each of us, and that the following recommendations be adopted.

1. That the General Assembly take note of individuals and groups which have made outstanding contributions to the broadcasting ministry of TRAV and the Presbyterian Church, U. S., during the past year, by joining the TRAV Board of Directors in expressing appreciation and thanks to:

a. the men who in 1966 contributed to the radio ministry through THE PROTESTANT HOUR and SUNDAY SCHOOL OF THE AIR: Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., Dr. Lawrence I. Stell, Dr. William M. Logan and Dr. Thomas W. Currie.

b. the Westminster Youth Choir of Oak Cliff Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Texas, and its director, Mr. William C. Everitt, who in 1966 recorded the music for the 1967 Presbyterian, U. S., Series of THE PROTESTANT HOUR.

c. the men who in 1966 contribuited their creative geniuses to preparation of a new television series of spots for youth: Mr. Loonis McGlohon for original music scores, and Mr. David Hammond for design and construction of the chief "props" for the series.

d. the Christian Communication Foundation of Roanoke, Va., for the gift of a mobile unit with video-tape equipment which makes it possible for TRAV to offer special training experiences in the use of the broadcast media to ministers and lay leaders in many areas of the Church.

2. That the ministers and sessions be encouraged to call to the attention of their people the next Presbyterian Church, U. S., Series of THE PROTESTANT HOUR beginning April 21, 1968, and continuing through July 7.

3. That the ministers and sessions be encouraged to call to the attention of the local radio and television stations who are not now using them, the various programs available from TRAV, and to ask them to take advantage of these programs.

4. That the General Assembly encourage all members of the Church to express written and verbal appreciation to radio and television stations which broadcast Presbyterian, U. S., and other high-quality Christian programs.

5. That the General Assembly encourage all ministers to make best possible use of any opportunity for improving their communications skills, through attending TRAV workshops when held within presbyteries and synods, through taking advantage of council-sponsored seminars and workshops in their areas, and by attending seminary-sponsored courses when they can be fitted into schedules.

6. That the General Assembly urge synods and presbyteries and local associations of Presbyterian ministers, to give strong support to the development of local and regional programming efforts.

7. That the General Assembly encourage the synods to consider the advisability of employing a director of Radio Television on a synod or synod-group level to implement program placement within their bounds and to promote the TRAV programs.

8. That the General Assembly encourage all agencies and courts of the Church to continue to support to the fullest extent the efforts of TRAV, through their prayers, financial support and full utilization of the productions of this agency.

9. That the General Assembly recommend that TRAV prepare and make available to synods, presbyteries, and any other interested groups, a film depicting the work and services of TRAV.

10. That the General Assembly authorize the following handling of the official tape recordings of its proceedings recorded by TRAV:

a. that they be placed in the custody of TRAV for three years after each Assembly;

b. that they be made available to any person wishing copies of the tapes at TRAV's normal duplicating charges, and

c. that after three years they be sent to the Historical Foundation for permanent retention.

11. That the General Assembly take note of the television industry's acceptance of the new 20, 30 and 60 second evangelistic programs produced by TRAV and, realizing that the cost of producing the programs requested by the industry will exceed the funds available, encourage the General Council to continue to do all it can to enable the Church to provide stronger financial support for this ministry.

12. That the General Assembly recognize and express appreciation for the outstanding services of two broadcasting stations for unique records of religious programming:

WSB-Radio, Atlanta, Ga., for the oldest continuous religious program in the world, its weekly broadcast of the Sunday service of First Presbyterian Church, Atlanta, on the air for 45 years, since April 1922.

WJXT-TV, Jacksonville, Fla., for the oldest continuous religious television program in the world, its weekly broadcast of the Sunday service of South Jacksonville Presbyterian Church, Jacksonville, on the air for 14 years, since March 8, 1953.

13. That the General Assembly express its heartfelt commendation of the TRAV Board of Directors for its consecrated and dedicated service, with special appreciation to Dr. Robert W. Kirkpatrick, the chairman of the Board, who at this Assembly concludes nine years of pioneering service to TRAV, and that its sincere thanks and commendation be expressed for the devoted, creative and consecrated TRAV staff.

III. The Standing Committee recommends that the report of the Permanent Nominating Committee be approved as follows: Class of 1970: Rev. Stephen T. Harvin (3), Florida; J. Howard Montgomery (Christian Education); Mrs. Charles A. Logan (World Missions); Robert O. Hirsch (1), Missouri; and Donald O. McDougald (1), Georgia.

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON INSTITUTIONAL FORMS

(For action on this report and its recommendations see page 65.)

Introduction

A. The Committee's Objectives

The General Assembly of 1964 appointed this Committee for the purpose of making "a comprehensive re-evaluation of the institutional forms of our Church in the light of our Covenant theology and present-day condition."[1]

The appointment of the Committee was prompted by the growing concern in our denomination regarding the adequacy of existing structures for a creative and obedient fulfillment of the Church's mission. This concern exists not only in our denomination, but is evident in other major Protestant denominations, in the National Council of Churches, in several world confessional bodies, and in the Roman Catholic Church.

Aware as we are of the radical changes taking place in the world, we must pose serious questions about the adequacy of traditional patterns for encouraging obedience to Jesus Christ as Lord. In recent years the call for the renewal of the Church has been sounded repeatedly.

1. Minutes of the General Assembly, 1964, page 65.

B. Definitions

The Committee's first task was to interpret its assignment. It was necessary to define "comprehensive re-evaluation", "institutional forms", "our Church", "our Covenant Theology", and "present-day conditions".

We understood "comprehensive re-evaluation" to mean a fresh and critical examination of the ways in which our Church organizes itself for ministry.

We understood "institutional forms" to mean the many ways by which our denomination gives concrete expression to its faith and life. For instance, the Confession of Faith is in this sense a form of the Church's witness. Institutional forms also include the organizational structures of the local congregation, the presbytery, the synod, and the General Assembly, with their boards, agencies, committees, and advisory groups. In so defining "institutional forms", we sought to bring into the focus of our study the many different forms of life and witness which express our commitment to Jesus Christ.

We understood "our Church" to mean The Presbyterian Church, U.S.

We understood "our Covenant theology" to mean theological affirmations concerning the covenant of God with His people as this finds expression both in the Scriptures and in the Standards of the Church. We recognize that there may be diverse interpretations of the phrase "Covenant theology". Accordingly we have based our "comprehensive re-evaluation" on the following broad affirmation:

> God in His grace has established a Covenant with His people. This Covenant represents on the one hand the commitment of God to His people, supremely manifest in Jesus Christ. On the other hand, it is a call to commitment addressed by God to His people, who are to respond in faithful witness to Jesus Christ, Lord and Savior.

We understood "present-day conditions" to mean the changing world in which we live. There is no need to document the radical changes that are taking place in our world, but there seems to be urgent reason for the Church to give them more deliberate attention.

In the light of these definitions, we understood the purpose of our study to be an intensive examination of how our Church goes about its worship and its work.

The Committee did not feel that it had been asked to propose extensive re-organization of existing General Assembly boards and agencies, nor to re-write the Standards, nor to suggest changes that would prepare our denomination for merger with other denominations. Neither did we feel that our report should be developed on the basis of a poll of opinions held in our Church.

C. Procedures

In evaluating forms of Church life, we decided to use existing structures and channels within our denomination. We have not called for special workshops, seminars, or consultations, but have sought to use already available means to accomplish our purposes. Our procedure has included several steps:

1. Extensive study by the Committee. We have developed study papers in the areas of Covenant theology, the historical development of our present structures, ecumenical discussions of institutional forms, the nature of change in the world today, and experimental ministries. These papers have set before the Committee a broad perspective for the fulfillment of our assignment.

2. Examination of existing structures. We spent considerable time looking at the present structures of our Church in an attempt to understand the basic characteristics of its worship and work. We held discussions with people occupying responsible positions within the Church. But we deliberately chose not to conduct extensive interviews among personnel within the Church's establishment, lest we become overly involved with one facet of the Church's work, or with internal details of operation.

3. The writing of a study booklet entitled "New Wine Skins?" The Committee felt that it would be wise to involve our total Church in the process of evaluation. For this purpose the General Assembly requested the presbyteries to assist us in our evaluation by discussing "New Wine Skins?" and by returning to us an attached response questionnaire.

We requested the presbyteries to consider the following questions:

a. What is the mission of the Church?
b. What are marks of a missionary Church?
c. What modifications will strengthen our denomination's ability to achieve its mission "in the light of present-day conditions in the world"?

The study booklet, "New Wine Skins?", was intended to stimulate this discussion and to provide an avenue of response.

We received widespread response with hundreds of constructive suggestions. Many presbyteries held special meetings. Some sent suggested re-organizational tables for the entire denomination. Some questioned our intent. Some refused to involve themselves in the study or suggested we be summarily dismissed. Some responded without having considered the booklet.

On the other hand we have been encouraged by the openness of dialogue that has resulted in many presbyteries as "New Wine Skins?" has been discussed conscientiously.

We have sought to analyze the responses that have come to us. Critiques of the booklet have assisted us in developing a picture of attitudes and points of view within our Church. We are grateful that the booklet received widespread attention. It has been necessary for the Assembly to reprint "New Wine Skins?" three times. It has subsequently been issued commercially by the John Knox Press to assure its avaliability for continuing study by local congregations and other groups.

4. Continued study and evaluation by the Committee. Subsequent to the study of "New Wine Skins?" by the presbyteries, the committee met several times and continued to clarify basic issues.

5. Liaison with groups engaged in similar studies. We found that other groups in our denomination were expressing concern about new areas of mission, and about inadequacies of traditional forms of Church life. Foremost were our General Assembly's boards and agencies. Special committees are already at work studying the feasibility of regional synods, the administration of synods and presbyteries, and communications within the Church. The Committee of 24 is developing plans for a Presbyterian U.S. merger with the Reformed Church in America. Its sub-committees are studying such subjects as theological statements and confessions, polity and procedures, and structural and organizational considerations in the proposed merger.

We have been communicating with other Presbyterian and Reformed churches, other denominations, and the World Council of Churches, all of whom are asking and discussing many of these same questions.[1] We have requested information from these groups and have established liaison with several of them.

6. Some theological bases for the renewal of the Church's Institutional Forms. Our examination of the institutional forms of the Church has involved us in careful study of our Standards. There are in our present Standards basic affirmations which need to be preserved and emphasized. However, we have concluded that there are some places where the Standards are inadequate, and as a Church we face the need to speak more clearly and relevantly to one another and to the world.

The General Assembly of 1966 expressed agreement with the desire to formulate a contemporary Reformed Confession of Faith.[2] From the perspective of our study, we heartily concur.

At some points the language of our present Confession of Faith is archaic and unclear. At others it is apparent that the historical context in which the Westminster Confession of Faith was written did not require emphasis on certain issues important today. In still other instances, amendments to the Confession, the revised Book of Church Order, and the Brief Statement of Faith (1958) seek to enlarge the basic confessional stance of our Church without adequately addressing existing deficiencies and ambiguities.[3]

It should be noted that the members of our denomination come from a wide range of ecclesiastical backgrounds. Often this results in a confusing and inarticulare blending of diverse theological traditions within our membership.

Again, it should be noted that we are confronted today by the challenge to affirm to the world in clear and intelligible language what we believe about God, the world, and the Church.

The Committee has found that our Church is characterized by considerable theological confusion, and that this is reflected in the institutional forms of the Church. We are also weak in obedience to what we affirm.

In light of the assignment given this Committee, we are convinced that it is imperative for the Church to highlight certain dimensions of our faith which relate to the mission of the

2. Minutes of the 1966 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church U.S., p. 86.
3. For instance, the doctrine of the Holy Spirit, while addressed in Chapter IX of the Westminster Confession, does not receive adequate attention in other pertinent contexts. Or again, the doctrine of the Church (Chapter XXVII) and of the Communion of Saints (XXVIII) do not adequately reflect the missionary and ecumenical nature of the Church. Or again, while the Brief Statement of Faith (1958) and the Directory of Worship and Work (Chapter 23) contain statements pointing to the Christian's social responsibility, the Confession of Faith does not give adequate theological guidance in this area. All of these areas involve extensive discussion beyond the scope of our study. We do, however, feel that for the sake of institutional integrity we need greater theological clarity.

Church, today, and have particular pertinence as guidelines for the renewal of the institutional forms of the Church's life.

For example, in our Directory of Worship and Work, we have affirmed "Christ has established His Church in the world that he might have a people to serve him, and that they should be the instruments of his reconciling ministry in the world.

"The Christian is sent by his Lord into this world, as the Father sent the Son into this world. He is to live in this world as his Lord lived in the world; love it because God loves it; serve it because his Lord came to serve it and to redeem it."[1]

We have not given full weight to "present-day conditions in the world." God calls us to ministry in the world. While our message is found in Scripture, the agenda for our activity is provided by the world.

We believe there is a deep cleavage between church life and life in the world, between the sacred and the secular, between the spiritual and the material, which was overcome through the incarnation of Jesus Christ. The wordly life of modern man can be made whole by the power of God in Christ Jesus.

Thus the Church must live and work in the world, but without losing its transcendent frame of reference. We recognize that there is a danger in a mistaken secularization of the Church on the one hand, and in a false spiritualization of it on the other. The Church cannot withdraw itself from the realities of modern life, but must stand alongside man before God in the World.

Thus the Kingdom of God is present within the temporal realm, though it is not as yet realized within it. The Christian must be active in changing the social structures of the world, but should not pretend that they can become perfect realizations of the Kingdom. The Church is to manifest in itself the redeemed community, the one visible body of Christ on earth, but must not itself become an immobile institution, captive to the culture. Both the Church and the individual must act in response to the divine will in each new situation. Our life and our world are not our own. They have been bought with a price. They belong to God.

D. Recommendations in three selected areas

Growing out of these objectives, definitions, and procedures, the Committee is proposing recommendations in three selected areas: I. Communications; II. Types of Ministry; III. Administration for Mission.

Admittedly our report does not address itself to all the issues involved in a "comprehensive re-evaluation". We have chosen several pertinent areas. Other important areas of concern are being studied by other groups within our Church, and we look to them for continued constructive effort in seeking effective means for obedience.

I. Communication

The tremendous advances in the technology of communication during the twentieth century have brought grave problems for the Church. The men and women to whom the Church has been commissioned to bring the message of God's love in Christ are already bombarded, distracted, and over-stimulated by hundreds of other messages. Modern man has had to develop the ability to close his eyes and ears in self-defense against a constant barrage of words. He is apt to shut out messages indiscriminately, regardless of their worth. This pertains to Christians and non-Christians alike. Numerous difficulties are posed for the Church by the "crisis of communication", as it is frequently called.

Consequently, the Committee has concerned itself with certain communications problems posed for the Church in its proclamation of the message of God's redeeming love.

A. Proclaiming God's Love

1. Dialogue

Our study reveals a notable absence of meaningful dialogue within the Church. As a matter of fact, there are significant cleavages within the Church. There are divergent attitudes towards the theology of the Church and the mission of the Church in society. There are differing theological goals between clergy and laity and between older and younger groups within the Church. The problem as we see it is not that persons disagree, but that they disagree in relative isolation from one another. Despite the presence of party spirit within the Presbyterian Church U.S., new ways can be found to promote genuine dialogue.

1. Book of Church Order, Directory for Worship, Chapter 23, 223-1, 223-2 (italics added).

2. Worship

One key to the restoration of meaningful communication within the Church, and through the Church to the world, is to be found in the experience of Christian worship.

In worship, man is called to the glorification of God and the celebration of His grace. This calling is man's chief end; accordingly it becomes a basic element of communication. God gives to the Church, as the steward of His Word, the opportunity to restore meaning and proportion to mass communication.

Both in the word preached and in the word read in scripture, God communicates to us, to the Church, and to the world. The more one has been open to God in the experience of dialogue and worship, the more likely he is to perceive God's presence in people and in events.

3. Doing of the Word

Involving ourselves with other persons as communicators and demonstrators of the love of God at the level of feeling and experience is communication. Until such compassionate identification with persons takes place, theological language is meaningless. There is no point in talking about religion intellectually unless the talk is verified in living relationship. Faith and love are communicated in deeds.

B. Some Institutional Problems of Communication

The Committee has found that the flood of administrative and organizationa lcommunications within the denomination is for the most part ineffective. The Church will not long remain a cohesive unity nor become more fruitful in its mission without a new approach to the co-ordination, clarification and direction of its own internal communication.

The Committee is aware that there are "unofficial communication networks" within the Church which seek to influence Church policy. There are publications and organizations operating outside the jurisdiction of the Church courts which tend to polarize opinion and even to divide fellowship within the Church. We do not doubt the right of these organizations and publications to exist and to speak to the Church, nor do we doubt that they are somewhat useful. At their best, they can be a healthy manifestation of the diversity within unity which is a mark of the Church's catholicity.

However, the Committee is concerned that little is being done to strengthen fellowship and theological dialogue between groups within the Church, divided along regional lines, theological perspective, age, and differences in background and experience.

Admittedly the Church has limited knowledge and experience in the field of mass communication technology. This Committee certainly does not claim the wisdom necessary to provide all of the solutions to the Church's problems of internal and external communication. So, in addition to several recommendations presented below, we urge a continuing program of research and evaluation at all levels of the Church's life aimed at strengthening its ability to communicate the Gospel.

The Committee wishes to make several recommendations based on the considerations it has enunciated above.

Recommendation One

That the Presbyterian News Service, the Presbyterian Survey, TRAV, and the promotional programs and promotional departments of the Boards of Annuities and Relief, Christian Education, Church Extension, Women's Work and World Missions, be merged into an office of communication and information for the denomination, made responsible to and a part of the General Council; and further, that the General Council, working with these boards' and agencies' staffs, be given one year to implement this recommendation.

Recommendation Two

That this Office of Communication and Information be authorized to publish a magazine for ministers, clerks of session, chairmen of boards of deacons, presidents of men's and women's organizations and church school officers, devoted primarily to administrative and interpretative information concerning the programs and policies of the denomination.

Recommendation Three

That our General Assembly's boards and agencies be requested to use the Plan Book, the Presbyterian Survey, and this magazine primarily for their promotional purposes, except where special mailings are authorized by the senior executive of the board or agency as an emergency measure of administrative necessity.

Recommendation Four

That the General Assembly authorize its Stated Clerk to continue to serve, as required by the constitution, in the public communication of the official policies and pronouncements of the General Assembly.

Recommendation Five

That the Assembly request the synods and presbyteries to develop similar means of strengthening communication with their constituency, and that the Office of Communication and Information be requested to provide the clerks of the synods and presbyteries its professional advice.

Recommendation Six

That the presbyteries be requested by the General Assembly to hold at least one stated meeting annually for the strengthening of theological dialogue in which the agenda include items for discussion such as:

a. the mission of the Church;
b. The pastoral oversight and nurture of the people of God; and
c. corporate worship and the study of the Bible.

II. Types of Ministry

The ministry of the Church is the ministry of Christ Himself. In and through His body, the Church, He continues His work of redemptive love in the world. However, God is not at work in the Church alone, but as sovereign Lord of history He is at work in the complexities of personal existence and social change today.

The form of the Church's ministry is derived from the ministry of Christ, Who emptied Himself and assumed the form of a servant. Since discipleship means following the Lord, the Church's ministry, to be authentic, must reflect the servanthood of Christ.

The study of this Committee indicates that our institutionalized forms of ministry need to be re-examined in the light of Scripture and present world conditions. We believe that certain structural changes can assist us in implementing our evangelical outreach and our ministry in the world.

A. The Limits of Change

While recognizing that structural changes in themselves cannot engender a missionary spirit in the Church, we are confident that certain modifications can make the Church more responsive to the initiative God takes in the World. Such changes will facilitate the Church's presentation of its witness and service to the diverse types and conditions of modern men who need to be approached with a diversified ministry if they are to respond to Christ in faith.

B. The Theology of the Laity and Our Failure

It is clear in Scripture that the Church's ministry has been committed to the laos (people) of God. Every believer shares in the apostolate. We must confess that many of our members do not see themselves as witnesses to Jesus Christ, nor are they equipped to carry out their ambassadorship.

C. The Office of Teacher

> In the early days of American Presbyterianism, it was acknowledged that in the primitive church there seems to have been also, an order of men styled teachers, and afterwards catechists, distinct from the bishops, or people. Their office seems to have been to explain the first elements of religion; and particularly, to take care of the education of the youth in sound principles of piety. This is an office of great importance. Hitherto, it has been exercised in the American churches by bishops and pastors alone; arising from their poverty and imperfect organization . . . . . it is earnestly recommended that distinct and separate offices be instituted for these objects under the title of catechists, as soon as the state and circumstances of church will admit.[1]

This office of "teacher" in the Church should be re-instituted so that believers may be trained for their ministry of witness. Such an office would not abridge the responsibility of the teaching elder, but would strengthen and supplement his efforts. Teachers might operate on a supra-congregational level, or might be attached to one of the seminaries. They would be responsible for teaching throughout the judicatories to which assigned. They might also serve as the convener for "lay institutes" within the presbyteries and/or the synods.

D. The Missionary Elder

The Committee found that our denomination is not truly inclusive: that is, it does not include all classes and conditions of men. We are socially and economically somewhat monolithic. Our message fails to reach hundreds of thousands of people within our geographic area.

The Committee believes that a new order of ministry is required to assist in the "equipping of the saints for the work of the ministry". Therefore we suggest that there is a need for a third type of elder, a "missionary elder". Such an elder might well serve on a short-term basis. Models for this may be seen in the short-term missionary of our Board of World Missions, in the missioners of our Board of Church Extension, and in our nation's foreign and domestic Peace Corps programs.

This new form of eldership would dramatize and localize for vocationally competent young people[1], older adults, and even retired persons, the call to such specialized ministries as higher education, industrial life, minority group relations, overseas work, inner-city ministries, hospital service, etc. Missionary elders might be deployed as highly mobile task forces and as special members of presbytery or synod team ministries.

E. Unification and Deployment

These proposals raise serious questions about the enlistment, training, and support of these missionary elders and teachers, and about their presbytery/sessional relationships. The function of the theological seminaries and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education in relation to these new forms of ministry would also require study.

Despite these problems, we believe that some such redesign of ministry is necessary if we are to teach industrial workers, for example, as well as industrial executives. And if such a redesign of the ministry takes place, we will need to deal more effectively at the Assembly level with recruitment and deployment of church workers, both ordained and lay.

The Board of World Missions and the Board of Church Extension are presently involved in experimenting with some of the types of ministry suggested here. The Commission on the Minister and His Work is also engaged in research of our clergy's roles. Therefore, in order to avoid duplication of efforts and research, we submit the following recommendation:

Recommendation Seven

That at the invitation, and under the coordination of the General Council, the Executive Secretaries of the General Assembly's Boards of World Missions, Church Extension, Christian Education and the Commission on the Minister and His Work, be requested by this Assembly to convene representatives of the seminaries and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, and such other persons as they deem wise, to explore the structural changes which may need to be made, and report same to the General Assembly.

(a) to create the office of teacher—its training, ordination, support, and relationship to church courts;

(b) to create the ministry of missionary elder—its training, ordination, support, and relationship to church courts;

(c) To coordinate the denomination's recruitment and deployment of all church workers; and

(d) to give special consideration to the possibility of team, task force, institutional, and tent-maker ministries[2] in the light of Doctrine of Church Orders, Chapter 23, paragraph 4-5 of the Book of Church Order, concerning ordination; and Church Vocations Not Requiring Ordination, Chapter 24, paragraph 224, section 1-7 of the Directory for Worship and Work.

Recommendation Eight

To accommodate the diversity of structures in modern society, new colonies of the Church of Christ must be formed. These "para congregations", as they might be called, would not take the place of existing local parish churches. They could be in shopping centers, on university campuses, in industrial complexes, in apartment buildings, in office buildings, or among vocational groups. These should be missionary in their thrusts and ecumenical in their composition.

We recommend that, under the direction of our Board of Church Extension, presbyteries be encouraged to experiment with such ministries as those mentioned above as a strategy for evangelism in the light of present-day conditions in the world.

III. Administration for Mission

"A definite form is necessary for the government of the church."[3]

The institutional forms of the Church must be accommodated to the mission of the Church. A clear definition of mission and an utter commitment to mission precede considerations of organizational structure. Mission provides the logic for the Church's institutional forms, which must be flexible and adaptable, enabling the Church to be responsive to changing world conditions. We acknowledge that forms and structures have profound theolgical significance, and are in themselves an integral part of the Church's witness in and to the world.

1. The median age of our population is now 26 years of age.
2. "Tent-maker ministries," i.e. ministries being carried on by persons supporting themselves economically through a non-ecclesiastical career.
3. Book of Church Order, paragraph 13-1.

Some Findings

It is apparent to our Committee that various and necessary structural changes have recently been made within the boards and agencies of our denomination. Still others are being planned.

The Board of World Missions has re-examined its task and made significant changes in policy, strategy and administration. Attention has been given to new forms of ministry in different quarters of the world, such as short-term assignments and specialized ministries. Our denomination has been faithfully and flexibly at work in widely different situations in several parts of the world.

Our Board of Christian Education has shifted its internal organization to meet the challenge of the knowledge explosion, the development of new educational centers, and the use of new methods of teaching. The Covenant Life Curriculum is a dramatic step forward, which evidences a new seriousness about the educational task of the Church.

Our Board of Church Extension has recently instituted several bold experiments and new forms of ministries while at the same time continuing to respond to the needs of struggling congregations, founding new churches, and challenging synod and presbytery leaders to create new ventures. The proposed change in the name of the Board (National Ministries) reflects the changes going on within it.

The Board of Women's Work has stimulated new life in our denomination with its alert responses to changing situations affecting women. Excellent study literature continues to originate in this Board.

The Board of Annuities and Relief, aware of our inflationary economic trends and the changing needs of our ordained and lay employees, has expanded programs of insurance, hospitalization, and annuities.

The General Council has provided us a comprehensive Plan Book, has led our denomination to widely acknowledged excellence in stewardship, and has recently activated its long dormant Research Committee. Our Committee feels that had the Research Committee been active, financed, and staffed, there probably would have been little need for the appointment of our Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms. Therefore, we urge the General Assembly and the General Council to support and expand the work of this Research Committee.

Through the General Council's Inter-Agency Committee, the denomination has made progress in eliminating duplication and multiplicity of promotion and program, and in establishing priorities, research, and planning.

However, we feel that neither the General Council nor its Inter-Agency Committee has yet developed adequate means by which to coordinate the various phases of the Church's work. We recognize that our denomination because of its size and institutional complexity has inevitably experienced a degree of institutional dysfunction and duplication. But new ways must be found to save the denomination from institutional self-preoccupation, so that its people may be mobilized more effectively for mission in the world.

It is the conviction of this Committee that it is not the time now to reorganize the structures of the General Assembly, the primary reason being that we are currently involved in merger conversations with the Reformed Church in America, out of which conversations, new and imaginative forms may develop.

Furthermore, through our Inter-Church Relations Committee, the General Assembly is in conversation with other Presbyterian and Protestant Churches in America, and in consultation with other denominations regarding Church Union.

Bold steps must be undertaken to create ecumenical structures locally, regionally, and denominationally for the concrete expression of the witness we share with other Christians. Our denomination should unite with other members of the Consultation on Church Union in pioneering such ecumenical ventures.

Nevertheless, within our church, we believe that a major problem area in structure is at the synod and presbytery level.

Several synods and presbyteries have recently spent considerable time re-examining their purpose and function, moved by the now wide-spread concern in our denomination regarding these structures. Some of the smaller synods function as a vital factor where presbyteries are too weak; and some smaller presbyteries meet together as synods for creative work.

Our comprehensive evaluation indicates that there is a signficant duplication of effort, committee structure, and expenditure involved in our sixteen synods and eighty presbyteries. It is also apparent that in several instances the borders of presbyteries and synods are artificial, in a day when people in urban and rural settlements are seldom concerned by state and county lines.

The presbytery is the court which relates most closely to the sessions, and, in turn, to the local congregations, where our members worship, learn, live, and serve. Theoretically, it is by means of the presbytery that we overcome congregationalism and join hands effectively to plan and work at any given time in any given area for any given purpose.

Congregationalism still dominates much of our outlook and practice. Many individual churches continue to limit their vision of the Christian life to local concerns. Some limit their disbursements of money to those causes in which they themselves are primarily interested. There is unhealthy competition in suburban, urban, and rural areas, especially in seeking new members.

Many presbyteries in their composition reflect the provincialism and localism of the Church, more than its unity and diversity.

In an age of automobiles, super highways, airplanes, telephones, and television, the boundaries of many presbyteries and synods seem artificial and ineffective. Seventy per cent of our members are in urban churches and only thirty per cent in town and rural churches. The needs of the isolated areas and of the crowded inner-city areas cannot be met on a congregational basis. Neither can the complicated ministries in high-rise apartments, burgeoning suburbs, industrial complexes, or educational centers be adequately met by individual congregations.

Presbyterian congregations in this country historically banded together to form presbyteries, which in turn formed synods leading to the formation of a General Assembly. Early jurisdictional lines were set by the criteria of geography, ease of transportation, and population density. The Committee feels that it is time for the General Assembly and its constitutive synods, to use the powers with which the Book of Church Order invests them to re-structure the synods and presbyteries using these time-honored criteria.

In the main, our own Presbyterian Church, U.S. presbytery and synod structure was taken over from the Presbyterian Church in America during the time of the War Between the States. Since that time there has been no major or comprehensive restructuring of our sixteen synods and seventy-nine presbyteries.

As we consider rapid modes of transportation, economic marketing areas, use of mass communication, mobility of our people, and comparative population densities revealed by our study of census tracts, we believe that these criteria should be more heavily weighted in the delineation of presbytery and synod lines.

Theologically, church courts should reflect both the diversity and the unity of the Church. Practically, they should be of such size as to be able strategically to minister to all the persons living, working, studying, and worshipping in a comprehensive geographic locality.

Such findings as these, and our study both of "present-day conditions in the world," and the organizational structure of our Church, lead us to make the following recommendation concerning administration for mission:

Recommendation Nine

That the General Assembly ask its General Council to call a Conference on Re-structuring with representatives from each presbytery and synod to discuss and report on the following suggestions:

a. That presbyteries and synods be re-structured in the light of factors, such as population density and regional patterns of travel, communication, marketing, and economics, and in proportion to communicate membership. Presbyteries should consist of approximately 35,000 communicants and synods of approximately 200,000 communicants, thus providing a practical base of operation for the witness of the Church.

b. That the General Assembly under its powers (Form of Church Government, 18-6—(9) establish new synods of approximately 200,000 communicant members so as to provide more effective and strategic units of mission and ministry.[1]

c. That the General Assembly then call upon the re-constituted synods to exercise their powers (Form of Church Government, 17-5—(4) to establish new presbyteries and unite or divide existing presbyteries so as to make them more effective and strategic units for mission and ministry.

This having been done, the Synods and Presbyteries could then structure themselves for ministry and strategy.

For example, the presbytery could organize special task forces for urban work; larger rural parishes could function with multiple staffs under the direction of the presbytery; small towns and cities could function in regional groupings using shared staffs; and inner-cities could have ecumenical parish councils with team ministries. Large complexes such as apartments areas, educational centers, business districts, and industrial complexes, could have parishes without buildings manned by teams of clergy and laity under the direction either of synod or of presbytery.

Further, to illustrate, the Synods could devote themselves to broader issues of co-ordination and research in the mission of the Church, as well as to facets of the Church's mission having to do with higher education and homes for children and retired persons. These require a wide base for effective ministry and financial support.

Also it is to be remembered that it is the Synods, at the present time, which bear primary responsibility for theological education. We are convinced that in the exercise of this responsibility there could be more imaginative co-ordination and co-operation in theological education. In a day when many new forms of ministries are developing, it may be advisable for each of our four seminaries both to concentrate on the broader aspects of theological education "to equip the saints for their ministry" and to agree among themselves on the areas they each would select in which to concentrate their resources and personnel for specialized training in new forms of ministry by both clergy and laity.

CONCLUSION

The Committee wishes to express its thanks to many persons within the Church who have been of assistance in the completion of the assignment given us in 1964.

We recommend the adoption of this report with its recommendations; and request that the Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms be discharged.

Respectfully,

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON MISSISSIPPI VISITATION

(For action on this report and its recommendations see page 66.)

The 1966 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. took the following action:

"There seems to be apparent unrest and disorder in the life of the Synod of Mississippi of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, which has troubled many in the Church and which has found expression in this resolution number nine coming from men from various parts of our Assembly.

"In order that the validity of the existence of such unrest and disorder be denied or established and in order that the good name of the Presbyterian Church in the United States be reaffirmed, we recommend that the General Assembly, in accordance with its powers listed in the Book of Church Order (18-6) (6) and (12) and (19-7), appoint a Committee of five with pastoral responsibilities limited to the following: (1) to visit the brethren in the Synod of Mississippi; (2) to study the situation; (3) to be agents of reconciliation if such is necessary; and (4) to report its findings with appropriate recommendations to the next meeting of the General Assembly."

Following the meeting of the Assembly, the Moderator appointed the following Ad Interim Committee: Ruling Elder T. M. Barnhardt, Reverend M. A. Boggs, Ruling Elder Edward D. Grant, Reverend W. John Millard, Reverend Charles L. King, Chairman.

By reason of engagements on the part of the members of the Committee, a meeting could not be had until the month of September. A full meeting was held on September 26th in Atlanta, at which time study was given to the instructions by the Assembly, and to the methods of procedure. Time was given to reading from the minutes of the Synod of Mississippi for the past five years, and to letters the Chairman had received since the appointment of the Committee. The decision was that the Committee in early November would spend two full days in Jackson, Mississippi. A further decision was that a leader of those desiring to follow the policies and programs of the Assembly would be invited to ask two other ministers and two ruling elders to join him in spending a day with the Ad Interim Committee, describing the situation in the Synod of Mississippi as they understood it. A leader of those unable to follow many of the programs and policies of the Assembly, and unable to use much of the literature of the agencies, was asked to invite two other ministers and two ruling elders to join him in spending a day with the Ad Interim Committee, setting out the situation in the Synod as they understood it.

1. The recommendation that Presbyteries and synods be composed of 35,000 and 200,000 members respectively, is not intended as an arbitrary or inflexible standard. It represents rather our estimation of what numbers are required for building up more effective and strategic courts with wider more diversified resources for mission.

An invitation was given to the President of the Board of Trustees of the recently established Reformed Theological Seminary to visit with the Ad Interim Committee in Jackson.

The full Committee came together in Jackson for the two days, November 1st and 2nd. The plans made in Atlanta were realized without a single omission.

The Committee desires to record its appreciation and gratitude to all those who visited with the Committee in Jackson. Their co-operation was wholehearted, their spirit sincere and void of animosity.

The Secretary of the Ad Interim Committee took full notes on what each visitor had to say. Other members of the Committee took notes. In the evening hours, given to evaluating what had been heard during the day, notes were compared, and those of the Secretary supplemented.

The Chairman of the Ad Interim Committee and Reverend John Millard, a member of the Committee, were able to remain in Jackson a third day for interviews with several who had requested interviews, and other interested parties.

On the fourth day the same two members of the Committee drove to Columbus, Mississippi for a luncheon engagement with the Moderator of the Synod, Reverend Horace Villee, and several laymen, most of whom were from St. Andrew Presbytery. This meeting was characterized by the same spirit as that of the Jackson meeting.

The Chairman spent the next several days in Meridian, fulfilling an engagement of long standing. Here was an opportunity for further helpful conversations.

One of the decisions reached in the Jackson meeting was that a sub-committee of three should again go to Jackson for a conference with the Commission on the Minister and His Work of Central Mississippi Presbytery. This conference was held on February 19th.

The Ad Interim Committee is greatly indebted to its member, Reverend John Millard, for attending, at the request of the Committee, both a called meeting and a stated meeting of Central Mississippi Presbytery.

The Committee is also indebted to dozens of persons, several of whom were women, and several now residing in other Synods, for helpful communications.

The Committee met in Atlanta on April 28th and part of the 29th, in which meeting this report was formulated.

For several reasons, the Committee is making this report longer than some will feel was necessary. The Committee wanted the Assembly, and the Presbyterians of the Synod of Mississippi, to know that a conscientious effort had been made to understand and diagnose the state of the Church in the Synod of Mississippi.

Findings

The findings of the Committee are as follows:

1. There is prevalent in the Synod of Mississippi a strong anti-Assembly attitude.

2. Back of this attitude is the conviction on the part of many in the Synod that the Assembly, in its policies and pronouncements and in the literature of certain of its agencies, has departed from the faith set out in its Standards.

From the catalogue of the recently established Reformed Theological Seminary in Jackson, the following is taken, which confirms the existence of the above conviction:

> "As recently as the 1930's the theological position of American Presbyterianism in the South was generally uniform, and its witness entailed certain clearly defined emphases. 'Among these distinctives were the following: The inerrancy of the Bible, the pure Calvinism of the Westminster Standards, jure divino view of Presbyterian polity, the spirituality of the Church.' "

After a paragraph on each of these "distinctives," these statements follow:

"A movement away from these 'distinctives' began around the year 1935. Increasingly, points of view have replaced the historic position of Presbyterianism in the South."

This Committee was not given the task of reporting on the Reformed Theological Seminary. However, it cannot fail to observe that in both the statement of Purpose and in the Vows to which the teachers in the new Seminary are required to subscribe annually are the following words:

"As originally adopted by the Presbyterian Church in the United States."

The Committee was informed that the reference was to the Confession of 1861. This would seem to raise a question as to the relation of certain of the teachers to the present Confession of Faith.

This conviction that the Assembly has departed from its original Standards, which we have said was held by many in the Synod, has brought the holders of the conviction in direct conflict with those in the Synod who do not share their conviction, and desire to be loyal to the General Assembly and its present Standards and Programs.

3. The Committee has no way of determining the exact strength of the anti-Assembly attitude in the Synod. However, in Central Mississippi Presbytery, the conflict between the two divisions in the Synod is most acute. It is in this Presbytery that the Reformed Seminary is located. The influence of the Seminary in the Presbytery is considerable. The Professor of Theology is a member of the Commission on the Minister and His Work, and also the Examiner in Theology of ministers seeking admission into the Presbytery. The Committee cannot avoid the judgment that the conflict in this Presbytery is in part due to the presence of a considerable number of ministers who have received training in theological seminaries outside the bounds of our denomination.

4. The Committee finds that to the 1962 meeting of the Synod of Mississippi, there was presented a memorial signed by eleven ministers in Central Mississippi Presbytery, alleging unwise, unjust and un-Presbyterian practices by the Presbytery. To the same meeting of Synod, there came overtures from two Sessions in the same Presbytery presenting complaints to the Synod. To the same meeting of Synod, there was another complaint against the action of the same Presbytery as concerning the widely known Reverend A. M. Hart case.

The Synod appointed a Special Judicial Commission to handle these complaints. A volume of considerable size would be required to record the complaints, the answers and the appeals that have come up to the Synod out of Central Mississippi Presbytery since 1962. The present Assembly is aware that more than one of the complaints have reached prior Assemblies. These facts constitute the answer to the desire of the 1966 Assembly to know as to whether there be unrest and disorders in the Synod of Mississippi. The Committee again points out that the unrest and disorders are most evident in Central Mississippi Presbytery.

5. The Committee finds in the reports of the Special Judicial Commission of Synod severe judgments concerning the spirit and procedures of Central Mississippi Presbytery. From its report to the 1963 meeting of Synod, we take the following findings:

"1. That there exists a spirit of contentiousness and personal bitterness within the Presbytery of Central Mississippi that is inconsistent with right relationships of Christian people and is prejudicial to peace and harmony within the Presbytery as evidenced by the testimony of the parties before this Commission.

"2. That this spirit has resulted in a state of schism and division within Central Mississippi Presbytery which is seriously impairing the work of the Church through the Presbytery.

"3. That this spirit has further resulted in the employment of procedures in the Presbytery that are inconsistent with the spirit of governmental processes of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

"4. That the outcome of any punitive action taken by this or any other court would only be a widening of the breach. This Commission has approached the whole matter with an attitude of seeking some beginning point of reconciliation between the parties, with a desire to try to create an atmosphere within the Presbytery in which all members could work together for the good of the Church, and the Glory of God.

"Testimony of Memorializers and Respondents throughout this year of hearings, plus certain official actions taken by Presbytery during the year, evidence that our approach was purely idealistic and fruitless—admittedly due in part to the human frailties of the Commission."

The Special Judicial Commission in its report to the 1965 meeting of Synod asked permission to amend the 1963 report made by the Commission to the Synod. Two of the recommendations of the Commission were deleted. However, all of the findings of the 1963 report in which the severe judgments were expressed were allowed to stand.

To the 1966 meeting of the Synod of Mississippi, the Special Judicial Commission recorded as one of its findings the following:

"1. That in the re-examination of the Reverend A. M. Hart, the Presbytery of Central Mississippi erred in conducting an examination which was improper, arbitrary and oppressive in that bias and prejudice was manifest in both the form and content of many questions asked Mr. Hart."

The Commission added among other things the following admonition:

"The Commission would, however, admonish the Presbytery of Central Mississippi to review carefully its procedures of examination to the end that future difficulties of this kind may be averted and the spirit as well as the letter of our Constitutional processes be preserved."

This Committee can find but little evidence that Central Mississippi Presbytery has heeded the admonition. A minister recently admitted to the Presbytery, reports to our Committee that his examination consumed five hours. He was finally admitted by the majority of four votes. A member of this Committee, listening to the examination of a minister seeking admission to the Presbytery, testifies that the examination in Theology alone lasted two and one-half hours. Following a forty-five minute debate over the motion to sustain the examinations, the minister was admitted by a small majority.

The Committee received numerous complaints against Central Mississippi Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work. So serious were the complaints that an invitation was extended to the Commission to meet with the Committee. This meeting has been referred to above. The principal complaint was that the Commission was refusing clearance to ministers whom Nominating Committees of pastorless churches desired to consider. Another complaint was that the Commission was unduly influenced in refusing clearance to ministers who had been active supporters of Church union, or the National Council, or the Civil Rights movement. The Commission showed our sub-Committee every courtesy; however, the conference was not altogether satisfactory.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In view of the serious charges brought against the procedures of Central Mississippi Presbytery by Synod's Special Judicial Commission, the observations of this Committee as to what is still taking place in the Presbytery, and the attitude prevalent in all parts of the Synod, this Committee recommends:

That the 1967 Assembly, in accordance with the authority granted in 17-4 of the form of government (The Synod shall also convene when directed to do so by the General Assembly, for the transaction of designated business only), direct the Synod of Mississippi to have a called meeting, the date to be fixed by the officers of Synod, for the following purposes:

1. Taking proper steps toward determining that the examinations of ministers from other Presbyteries, seeking admission to Central Mississippi Presbytery are reasonable in length and in the nature of the questions asked, and that these examinations do not discredit either the Ordination vows of the ministers seeking admission, or the integrity of the Presbyteries from whence they come with valid letters of transfer.

2. Taking proper steps toward determining that Central Mississippi Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work, in exercising its right to pass on the suitability of ministers for membership in the Presbytery does not:

(1) Deprive a congregation of its right to call a pastor of its own choice; and

(2) Apply tests in determining suitability that have no constitutional basis.

3. Taking proper steps toward correcting the practice in Central Mississippi Presbytery of refusing to elect as Commissioners to the General Assembly true and tried men whose views are different from those of a majority of the Presbytery. The same principle applies to membership on Presbytery and Synod Committees.

4. For the purpose of passing on to the Presbyteries and the Churches therein that in the conviction of the Assembly while dissent is recognized as a right, it does not justify a refusal to support the Assembly's causes and programs. Such a refusal undermines the Presbyterian system, thereby destroying its effectiveness.

5. For the purpose of receiving the request of the Assembly that the Synod inform the 1968 Assembly as to what the Synod has done toward putting into effect the recommendations in this report.

Recommendation added by the General Assembly: That the Ad Interim Committee be continued for the next year to give aid and help to the Synod of Mississippi in working out the matters growing out of the above report.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

"Educating Space-Age Christians" . . . "This is a Missionary" . . . "How to Counter Communism" . . . "New Look at an Old Subject—Pacifism" . . . "The Mission Around Us" . . . "Humanism Isn't Christianity" . . . "When is a Movie 'Religious'?" . . . "Introducing the Oneness of Witness" . . . "But Do We Pray?"

These are titles of some of the articles which appeared in PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY during 1966. They reflect a growing change in religious magazines today, a willingness to speak forthrightly and positively about contemporary issues facing Christians and the Church.

Louis Cassels, religion editor for United Press International, expressed it well in a syndicated article in December, 1966: "Churches are forging a new instrument of religious education that may prove more effective than Sunday schools or sermons in communicating Christian insights to contemporary society," he wrote. "The instrument is journalism—specifically, magazine journalism." He went on to name PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY as another "top-flight denominational magazine" which is no longer "filling its pages with bland little homilies and treacly short stories" but wading boldly into such controversial issues as pacifism, black power, poverty, and "death of God" theology.

It is true that this "wading boldly" has cost the Church some members and some magazine subscriptions. Paid circulation of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY dipped to an average of 241,386 in 1966 but the Board of Directors stood firm on presenting positively and without apology the program and policies of the General Assembly. The SURVEY carries monthly features related to the program emphases of the Church. A lively Letters to the Editor section provides opportunity for free expression and dissent. A new feature was introduced in 1966 which apparently is gaining high readership in the SURVEY. Called "As I See It," it offers churchmen an opportunity to express themselves on matters of deep concern, issues which are timely and pertinent to the peace and purity of the Church. New ideas are presented. Critics of the Church's program often "sound off" on how they feel about the state of the Church or the direction it seems to be taking.

In this 14th annual report to the General Assembly, SURVEY offers this brief record of its service to the Church in 1966.

Circulation

Seventy-six churches enrolled in the Every Family Plan in 1966 bringing the total to 2,031. Ninety-two more are subscribing for members of their congregation through the Church Leaders' Plan and the Group Plan. During SURVEY Week in October, churches ordered and used approximately 40,000 bulletin inserts, 610 posters, 5,000 individual subscription leaflets, and 2,160 descriptive pamphlets about the Every Family Plan. One hundred and ten PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY chairmen in synods and presbyteries kept the official magazine before the churches and encouraged full use of the periodical in individual homes and in church groups. Churches not renewing their Every Family Plan subscription pointed to the controversial nature of editorials and features as the reason for the negative vote in their Sessions, a few to budgetary considerations, and some to the lack of a vocal supporter in the local church. It is estimated that the Audit Bureau of Circulations, when it concludes its audit, will emerge with a paid circulation figure very close to the 241,386 for the year ending December 31, 1966. This still represents a probable 70 per cent coverage of Presbyterian families.

Advertising

Although advertising revenue did not come up to the 1965 level, the latter part of the year gave indications that the magazine is gaining stature as an effective advertising medium—both for commercial firms and for church boards and agencies. American Telephone and Telegraph, for example, ordered six full-page four-color ads for 1967 issues and other large advertisers have expressed similar interest. SURVEY's efforts to cooperate with other denominational magazines have enhanced the possibilities of presenting a strong, united "package" to national advertisers, a package with four million reading families. The ratio of advertising to editorial matter in 1966 moved upward a bit, now approximating 17 per cent.

Finances

Printing a smaller number of magazines, reducing the number of pages from 64 to 48, and the consolidating of staff reduced SURVEY's total operating costs in 1966 to $417,088, $4,855 under the approved budget. Costs in 1965 were $431,260. We produced 608 pages, our lowest ever, making cost per page $686 based on total costs and $418 based on mechanical and distribution costs. Toward the total operating cost, subscription revenue accounted for 61 per cent or $1.05 per subscription. Advertising revenue contributed 14 per cent or 24¢ per subscription, underwriting 24 per cent or 41¢ and miscellaneous revenue 1 per cent or 2¢. Total cost per subscription in 1966 was $1.72, up 1¢ from last year. The Board is grateful for the step the General Assembly took last year toward establishing some working capital for the SURVEY.

Editorial

Several improvements in the editorial and physical make-up of the magazine were made during 1966. A free-lance art direction team made up of Andy DiMartino and Gene Wilkes re-designed the cover in June and since then have also made significant improvements between the covers which give the magazine more unity and appeal. They may have gone far toward providing an artistic character and continuity of tone that are in harmony with editorial content. In 1966, our editors began to participate in Interchurch Features, a group of cooperating Protestant magazines which join forces in order to secure more professional authors and articles. The editor also took part in the Inter-Agency Committee's Communications Study Group which has begun planning some specific and significant communications strategy for our Church. The Staff is still searching for ways to improve its reporting of national-international affairs and its review of books, movies, and television. Bound volumes of the 1966 issues are being made available to church and public libraries, ministers, directors of Christian education and other leaders as resource material. A mimeographed index is available for the year also.

The magazine during the past year constantly re-examined its motives and methods to make sure it was serving the Church as the General Assembly has ordered. It is not published to provide Presbyterians escape or entertainment. Rather it tries to be a mirror, a window and a prod. As a mirror, it reflects what is going on in the Church. It tells how the various agencies within our Church are carrying on their part of the Kingdom's work. As a window, it brings into view the horizons toward which we should look, opening our eyes to what the challenge of the gospel of Jesus Christ means—in the Congo, in the Carolinas, wherever Christian people are. As a prod, it goads us to act on what the mirror and the window may reveal. It stimulates us to do something: to write a letter, buy a book, accept a job, or invest in a worthy cause.

General & Administrative

A new printing contract was negotiated in 1966, moving the printing of the magazine from Buffalo, New York to Atlanta. This move promises not only closer quality control and convenience but an earlier mailing date and delivery in the homes throughout the General Assembly. The SURVEY office was also moved during 1966, with the staff now well-established in the new Presbyterian Center back on Ponce de Leon Avenue. With its high-speed addressing facilities, the SURVEY is serving most of the agencies in Presbyterian Center as an addressing agency and has taken the lead in setting up address plates in zip code order as now required by the Post Office. The SURVEY addressing department works hand in hand with the central printing department and the new central mailing department to give Presbyterian agencies economic and efficient services.

At present PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY has 18 full-time and six part-time employees. Five or six of them were new in 1966, including Richard Gore, Director of Advertising and Promotion, Edward Corcoran, Comptroller, and Brianne Beesley, Editorial Assistant. It is the conviction of the SURVEY Board and Staff that ours is a sacred trust and a sobering responsibility—to produce a magazine which fearlessly preaches Jesus Christ and his relevance in the 20th century.

With this report, the Board submits to the General Assembly its financial reports for 1966, the minutes of its meetings, and the following recommendations:

REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY'S COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

Annual Meeing and Officers for 1967

The Committee's annual meeting was held on January 9 and 10, 1967, with all present except two, whose absences were due to circumstances beyond their control. Officers re-elected to serve through the 1968 annual meeting are: Rev. Robert G. Hall, Chairman; Dr. Robert C. Malcolm, Vice-Chairman; Mr. Joseph E. Patrick, Member-at-Large, Executive Committee; Mr. Charles M. Harris, Recording Secretary.

Resoluion to the 1960 General Assembly (pp. 73 and 90, 1960 G.A. Min.)

During the past six years, in response to instructions of the 1960 General Assembly, it has been the policy of this Assembly's Committee to investigate the case of any minister who finds his position jeopardized as a result of "speaking the mind of the Church in love . . . as social patterns are in the process of change." In 1966 two such ministers came to this Committee's attention. The Committee was in communication with each minister and also with the Commission on the Minister and His Work of his Presbytery. We are aware that the respective Commissions were concerned and also endeavored to express their Presbyteries' responsibilities to the ministers. This Committee learned from reliable sources that changing social patterns were factors in each case, but there were also other basic causes just as important. The Committee reports to the Assembly that the pressure on each minister has been relieved.

16.	Presbytery, Synod and General Assembly level relationships, including ministerial vacancies on the foreign fields			28	19
	Total Relationship Vacancies			493	482

The largest number of vacancies, by far, occurs among the churches and fields of memberships from 1-99, and 100-199; in fact 57% of all vacancies. This is a consistent pattern, based upon experience in 1964, 1965 and 1966. Could part of the reason be the fact that some of these churches and fields either have failed to take into consideration the spiraling cost of living, or are unable to offer remuneration that would make it possible for ministers to meet the financial needs of their families?

Obviously, details concerning the prevailing economic community factors confronting these particular churches and fields are unknown, except to those communities and the respective Presbyteries themselves. Such conditions need to be taken into consideration, however. A review of our records reveal the following facts about the churches and fields, with vacant pulpits since January 1, 1966 and earlier, in these membership groups seeking ministers as of January 1, 1967:

(b) Vacancies in Churches and Fields, for which Ministers were not being sought—January 1, 1967.

As was the case a year ago, the number of such churches and fields this year is in excess of 400. Presbyteries within those bounds these exist know which these are, as well as the reasons therefor. Some Presbyteries are endeavoring to find pragmatic solutions.

Studies Referred by the 1966 General Assembly to This Committee.

1—"That the General Assembly, in connection with the study by the Committee of its own responsibilies, work, procedures and policies, believing that this will necessarily involve the role and procedures of Presbytery Commissions and Synod Committees on the Minister and His Work, authorize its Committee on the Minister and His Work to include in the study an investigation into the effectiveness of the present functioning of Synod Committees and Presbytery Commissions in their responsibilities to ministers and pastorless churches and fields." (p. 199; Section IV, Recommendation 4, p. 114)

2—. . . . . "The Presbyteriy of Winchester respectfully overtures the General Assembly to direct the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work to undertake or to provide for a special study of the Church's present practices in the calling of pastors—simultaneously with the Church's more extensive study of all of its institutional forms—with a view to recommending desirable changes in the practices of the Church in the calling of the pastors, and to recommending any changes in he Book of Church Order which may be necessary to permit improved practices of the kind which they recommend." (Overture 52, p. 42; Item V. 1, p. 114)

3—. . . . . "The Presbytery of Winston-Salem respectfully overtures the General Assembly to instruct the General Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work carefully to study ways to improve our present system, including the following possibilities: A. Term pastorates; B. A method of exchanging pastors and churches without the necessity of a previous vacancy occuring; C. Providing authority to some person or persons for the moving of ministers; and to present its recommendations to the next meeting of the General Assembly." (Overture 53, p. 42; Item V. 1. p. 114)

4—. . . . . "the Presbytery of Norfolk overtures the General Assembly to appoint an Ad Interim Committee to study our Church's present system of calling ministers, and to recommend desirable changes in the Book of Church Order that would enable the Church to deal effectively with the problem." (Item (i), p. 42; Item V. 1. p. 114)

5—. . . . . "The Presbytery of St. Johns respectfully overtures the General Assembly to make a study and evaluation of our present system" . . . (of transferring and examining ministers by our Presbyteries) . . . "and recommend a more uniform procedure as a guide for all Presbyteries." (Overture 54, p. 42; Item V. 1. p. 114)

6—. . . . . "Appomatox Presbytery overtures the General Assembly requesting that a study be made of Chapter 26 of The BCO, and that such a study include the possibility of an additional paragraph which would contain the following general idea: 'No minister shall move to a church or field in a Presbytery other than that to which he belongs until he shall have been received by the Presbytery of which the church or field is a part; no candidate shall take up residence in any church or field with the intention of assuming a pastoral relationship, without the permission of the Presbytery of which the church or field is a part. Ordinarily this permission shall not be granted until the candidate or ordained minister shall have been examined and approved by the Presbytery." (Overture 18, pps. 30 and 95, 1965 G.A. Min.: Item 3, top p. 115, 1966 G.A. Min.)

7—"From the Synod of Virginia: 'That the General Assembly be asked to clarify the Section of the Book of Church Order (Section 16-5), which reads: "Every Minister seeking admission to a Presbytery shall be examined on his Christian experience and on his views in Theology, the Sacraments, and the Government of the Presbyterian Church," as it applies to the following questions:

'(3) Is it possible (or desirable for the General Assembly to establish procedures to be followed by all Presbyteries in transferring Ministers from one Presbytery to another in the Presbyterian Church, U.S.?' " (Overture 6, p. 25; Item 7, p. 101)

8—"Be it resolved that the Presbytery of Potosi respectfully requests the General Assembly to consider re-instating the provision for a period licentiate not to exceed one year, during which time, the licentiate may be under the care and direction of Presbytery, and may further equip himself for the office of the ministry." (Overture 66, p. 29; Item 6, p. 87)

Several of the above studies are of similar nature. The Committee membership has been divided into sub-committees which have been assigned the studies as follows:

Sub-committee #1—Study No. 1, above.

Sub-committee #2—Studies Nos. 2, 3 and 4, above.

Sub-committee #3—Studies Nos. 5, 6 and 7, above.

Sub-committee #4—Study No. 8, above

These sub-committees are at work. Some preliminary questionnaires have been issued and the responses received have been studied. Prior to the meeting of the 1967 General Assembly a comprehensive questionnaire will have been issued and it will be in study by that date. These various studies, in detail, and upon so many subjects, are time consuming. Therefore, this is intended as a progress report.

Some of the regular responsibilities of this Committee have been delayed or suspended temporarily pending completion of the above studies. The Committee is bending every effort looking toward completion of all the studies by December 31, 1967, in which event final report will be made to the 1968 General Assembly meeting. In the meantime most of the Committee's regular responsibilities are proceeding on an uninterrupted and daily basis.

PORTION OF REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

MATTERS PRESENTED TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR ACTION

The Board of Christian Education presents the following matters to the General Assembly as information and for such action as may seem wise:

ANSWERS TO OVERTURES OR SPECIAL REQUESTS OF THE ASSEMBLY

1. The General Assembly of 1956 referred to the Board of Christian Education Overture No. 40 from the Presbytery of Louisville, requesting "immediate steps to inaugurate the beginning of a joint Book of Worship with the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.," and directed that action be taken by the Board to begin the preparation of such a book. The Board appointed a committee to engage in this task. Reports of progress have been submitted to the General Assembly.

Provisional Services for the Book of Common Worship were prepared and have been used by many pastors and churches. The committee is continuing its work of preparing the Book of Common Worship.

The General Assembly of 1966 authorized the Board of Christian Education to increase its responsibilities in the development of a Book of Common Worship by joining with the Committee of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., in selecting hymns to be included in the Book of Common Worship. The Board has appointed a committee that is now engaged in this task. Two meetings of this committee have been held.

It appears now that the Book of Common Worship with hymns will be available about 1970, or soon thereafter.

2. The 1965 General Assembly assigned to the Board of Christian Education Overtures Nos. 1 and 39, from the Presbytery of Atlanta, which deal with earned and honorary degrees as well as with titles to be used for teaching elders. The Board through its Division of Higher Education has conferred with seminary presidents and with college officials in an attempt to work through the many complex aspects of these matters. It is clear that a report with recommendations will be available for the 1968 General Assembly, hopefully one which has major endorsement by seminary and collegiate institutions.

3. In 1965 the General Assembly recommended "That the Board of Christian Education make an earnest effort to discover the reason for the large decline in Sunday school enrollment since 1961." Such an effort has been undertaken by the staff of this Board on the basis of the records available. It involved the expenditure of some 150 to 200 hours of staff time and of some $750 for electronic processing.

It soon became evident that only a limited report could be presented in view of available information and resources. This report presents a description of the decline in Sunday enrollment from 1961 through 1966. This description is followed by a discussion of factors judged to be affecting the decline.

To ascertain the reasons for decline in Sunday school enrollment a major sociological study of the South would be required, together with an on-the-scene study of some 150 to 300 churches manifesting a severe rate of decline. A study of such dimensions would be highly relevant beyond the educational work of the church: it would be basic to the entire work of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. To be comprehensive, this study would require at least 2 years and approximately $75,000. The present report contains a recommendation that a study of this breadth be undertaken by the General Assembly on a church-wide basis.

What Has Been Found

Rate of Decline

During the years 1961-1966 the statistics reported in the General Assembly Minutes show an overall decline in Sunday school enrollment of 10.3%. Furthermore, the rate of any given year is equal to approximately twice the rate of the preceding year. If this trend were to continue, we would expect an additional decrease in enrollment of about 10% between 1966 and 1967. Chart 1 illustrates the rate of enrollment decline on a year by year basis.

Extent of Decline

A minimum of 49% of the churches in the denomination show a decline in enrollment of at least 10% between 1961 and 1966. For 12% of the churches of the denomination the decline began to show in 1963 instead of 1961.* Churches of every size category are included in the list of churches accounting for the overall decline. In some, the decline in Sunday school enrollment is accompanied by a decline in church membership, in others it is in the face of steady or increasing church membership.

Enrollment figures for every year, 1961-1966, are available for 3,161 churches of the denomination. Detailed analysis of these churches yielded further information on the enrollment decline.

* This 12% represents 24% of the churches with a slight decrease in enrollment in spite of a slight increase of membership and 34% of the churches with a significant decrease in enrollment in the face of a significant increase in membership.

1000+	135	76(56%)	61(45%)	44(33%)	26(19%)
TOTAL	3161	1334(42%)	839(26%)	464(15%)	204(6%)

* "Significant" is defined differently for the various size churches:
0- 99 = 20% 250-499 = 10%
100-249 = 15% 500+ = 5%

1. Thus 431 churches of size 0-99 manifested a 20% decrease in Sunday school enrollment.
2. Thus 228 churches of size 0-99 manifested a decrease in Sunday school enrollment, beyond that which would be accounted for by a declining church membership.
3. Thus 92 churches of size 0-99 manifested a significant decrease in Sunday school enrollment while church membership increased slightly.
4. Thus 32 churches of size 0-99 manifested a significant decrease in Sunday school enrollment and a significant increase in church membership.

Source of Decline

The decline in enrollment is centralized in two divisions of the church school: (1) the adult division accounts for at least 61% of the entire decline in enrollment over the last six years; (2) the preschool division accounts for at least 18% of the decline. (The elementary division is also showing a slight decline, while the youth division is increasing in its enrollment.)

TABLE 2

Churches with a Significantly Decreasing Enrollment in Spite of a Relatively Stable Membership

100-249	100	23	23%
250-499	71	17	24%
500-999	47	12	26%
1000+	16	2	12%

Churches with a Significant Decreasing Enrollment in a Slightly Increasing Membership

Church Size	Number Affecting 1961-1966 Decline N	Number Declining Since 1963	Percentage of N
0- 99	96	35	36%
100-249	135	36	27%
250-499	104	32	31%
500-999	85	35	41%
1000+	43	19	44%
TOTAL	463	157	34%

As is indicated in Tables 1 and 3, it is in the larger churches that the rate of decline is most critical. While those churches of below 250 members are manifesting a decline in Sunday school enrollment, a greater percentage of those churches of over 250 members are doing so.

Geographic Location of Decline

Every synod in the denomination shows decline in Sunday school enrollment. In two presbyteries more than half of the churches manifest a significant decline. These two presbyteries are Central Alabama and Southwest Oklahoma. Sixteen other presbyteries appear to be having considerable difficulty in that a high number of their churches are manifesting a wide divergence in enrollment and membership. They are: Knoxville; Everglades, St. Johns, Suwannee, Westminster; Savannah; Guerrant, Louisville; Northeast Missouri; Orange; Indian, Shawnee; Charleston, Congaree, South Carolina; and Brazos.

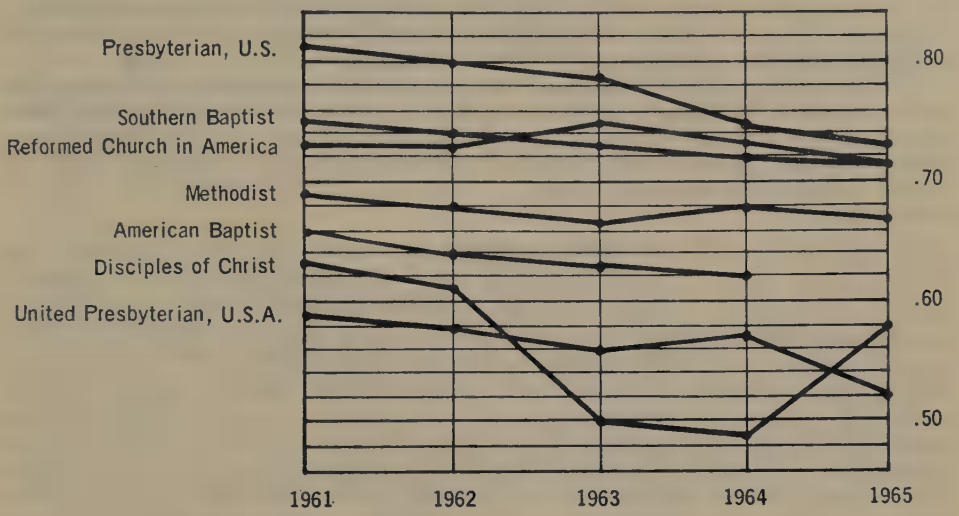
On the other hand, there are thirteen presbyteries that have reported an increasing enrollment per church, though the overall enrollment reported may have declined. (There is some overlapping with the above list, probably because a few churches showing large increases may compensate for the new churches showing a decline.) These presbyteries are: North Alabama; Knoxville; Washburn, Cherokee; Savannah, Southwest Georgia; New Orleans; Columbia, Nashville; Hanover, Potomac; Greenbrier; and St. Louis.

Factors Influencing the Decline

Without a basic investigation of the many factors in society and in the churches that impinge on the life and work of the church, it is impossible to ascertain reasons for decline in Sunday school enrollment. Reasons related to the generally lessened interest in the traditional forms of religion probably help explain also the participation patterns in worship and Sunday school as well as in the other parts of the church's life.

Various major denominations are showing declines ranging from 3 to 7% over a three- or four-year period. They also show a decline in ration of enrollment to church membership.

RATIO OF SUNDAY SCHOOL ENROLLMENT TO CHURCH MEMBERSHIP



Ratio of Sunday School Enrollment to Church Membership

There is, no doubt, a combination of factors that contribute to the decline; and the force of the various factors and their combinations differs from synod to synod, and from congregation to congregation. An effort was made to identify some factors which contribute to a decline in Sunday school enrollment in the Presbyterian Church, U.S. Listed below are eight factors which have been judged to be influences on the decline. These are in order of importance, as judged by Chairman of Christian Education in the 16 synods, the Regional Directors of Christian Education, and the office staff of the educational wing of the Board of Christian Education. The first six factors are cultural characteristics which likely influence denominations other than our own. The last two are specifically related to our own denomination.

General Cultural Factors

1. Increased mobility. The frequency with which families change their residence has greatly increased in recent years until the average is one in five moving each year. Such mobility may make it easier to neglect participation in the educational program of the church.

2. Recreational weekending. A five-day work week is more and more prevalent; recreational facilities—parks, lakes, beaches, entertainment and sports facilities—are growing in number and popularity; one or more automobiles are in almost every family. These all make the attraction of a recreational weekend, maybe away from the home town, quite appealing.

3. Population shifts. Not only have there been notable shifts of the population from rural to urban communities, but also there have been significant migrations from one section of the country to another. In the South, some states more than others have been affected by these shifts.

4. Irrelevance in the church. The possibility must not be dismissed that the church or its Sunday school is failing to communicate the gospel and its implications in terms relevant to contemporary life and today's issues. There are signs of complacency as well as of irrelevance.

5. Prosperity. In general, people have more money, more possessions and perhaps a less acute sense of need for Good.

6. More adults. Our population is currently increasing at the two extremes of the life span —the very young and the aging. The majority of communicant membership is in the adult age bracket; characteristically adults have been enrolled in Sunday school in smaller proportions than other ages.

Factors Specifically Related to the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

7. New curriculum appearing in 1963. Every new venture repels some who were satisfied with the old for which the new substitutes. Many factors characteristic of the Covenant Life Curriculum may contribute to decline in enrollment. (a) Churches have been encouraged to weigh carefully the wisdom of urging parents to bring children under two to the church building. (See The Church and Children Under Two, chapter 5.) (b) Teachers have been urged to engage pupils in shared responsibility for study; this may intimidate teachers or pupils and may drive away the passive. (c) The curriculum deals head-on with controversial subjects—theological, social, ecclesiastical, ethical. This may repel those who disagree or those who question the propriety of studying such subjects in Sunday school.

8. Record-keeping. There is no concensus on definition of "enrollment." Churches use various criteria in identifying a person as enrolled. Some churches report only those classes and study groups scheduled on Sunday morning. Persons participating in church school study groups meeting on weekdays may be overlooked when participation is reported. Much can be done to improve our statistical records.

Next Steps

This investigation of Sunday school enrollment has identified the rate of decline in the denomination as a whole, the extent of decline among churches of varying sizes, the location of the prevalence of enrollment decline in terms of age groups and of geography. These are facts of record. Beyond these facts, opinions are put forth concerning some of the factors influencing the extensive decline over the past five years. Each synod, presbytery, and particular congregation affected can, with study and investigation, draw some more precise conclusions about the reasons obtaining in its case. The Board of Christian Education plans to continue its study of the situation in the church at large in order better to understand the contributing factors and to discern its own role in strengthening the educational work of more than 4,000 congregations. This study will concern not only those situations in which decline in enrollment is sharply evident, but also those 231 situations in which there has been a significant increase in enrollment over and above that which would be expected from their rate of increase in church membership.

The report on Sunday school enrollment calls for the most serious thought of the General Assembly. For more than a hundred years the Sunday school has been an effective means whereby the church has been enabled to teach and reach great numbers of people. Education has been vitally related to the evangelistic mission of the church. For the past few years strong emphasis has been placed upon the quality of teaching in our Sunday schools. Through the years emphasis has been placed upon nurture and mission. In view of the serious decline in Sunday school enrollment since 1961, the Board believes our church should engage in a most thoughtful, heart-searching evaluation of the life and work of our Sunday schools and should endeavor to make them worthy instruments of God as the church seeks to reach and teach as many people as possible with the message of the gospel of Christ, our Lord.

The need for an effective Christian education is apparent to anyone who looks upon the condition of life in the world today. The opportunities to reach people are practically unlimted in a day of an exploding population. Pastors, sessions, and congregations will know best how to plan effectively for the educational outreach of the church as well as for the quality of nurture the church is to offer in Sunday schools. In a day when it is popular to emphasize the shortcomings of youth, we should take note of the fact that the decrease in enrollment in Sunday schools has been predominantly among adults and not among the youth. Many educators and churchmen believe that the most serious deficiency in the work of our Sunday schools through the years has been the inadequacy of the education it has offered adults and the small number of adults engaged in study.

The Board submits this analysis of Sunday school enrollment and brief evaluation in the belief that our church can and will find ways to make Christian education effective both in outreach and nurture.

4. As directed by the 1962 General Assembly (see 1962 General Assembly Minutes, p. 71, and Appendix, p. 119), the Board reports the following participation of staff persons and others named by the Board of Christian Education to units of the National Council of Churches for 1966:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CERTIFICATION OF LAY WORKERS

THE QUADRENNIAL SURVEY ON LAY WORKERS IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

In the "Report of the General Assembly's Ad Interim Committee on the Education of Lay Leaders" adopted by the 103rd General Assembly in 1963, there was the following provision:

"[We recommend that the General Assembly] instruct its Committee on the Certification of Lay Workers to continue the study of the need and preparation of lay workers and report its findings to the General Assembly at least every four years."

In keeping with this provision, the Certification Committee makes the following report to this Assembly:

Preface (I.)

The following factors lead the Committee to consider the data of this survey as indicative rather than truly descriptive of the situation of lay workers in the General Assembly:

1. The lack of data. 1100 questionnaires were mailed to churches with 250 members or more. Of these 562 (or 51.1%) were returned. Although this is a better rate of return than that of a similar survey conducted in 1962, there is clearly not sufficient data to draw definitive judgments. Moreover, because of the probable higher return of questionnaires from churches currently employing lay personnel, the Committee did not feel justified in doubling the figures as was done in the 1963 report.

2. The lack of clear terminology for reporting data. In order that comparisons might be made between this survey and that of 1962, the committee used the same instruments for reporting data (see Appendix A, G. A. Minutes, 103rd, pp. 121-123). However, there was obvious confusion in a number of reports over the terminology employed.

3. The state of flux in non-ordained church occupations. The number of "DCE-combination" jobs and the significant number of figures under "other" imply a fluid situation within the field of non-ordained church occupations.

4. The role of ordained ministers in Christian Education. Data on Associate and Assistant Ministers does not itself indicate the amount of time or preparation of these persons in the field of Christian Education. On the other hand, there are indications that the number of ordained personnel at least working part-time in this field is increasing. (see below)

Because of all these factors the Committee submits the following data as an incomplete survey of lay workers in the General Assembly.

II. Observations on the Data

1. While noting an increase in the number of ordained Assistant and Associate ministers, the study shows a simultaneous decrease in the number of ordained ministers titled "Ministers of Education." This would support the view that there is growth in multiple staff situations with more ministers working part-time in Christian Education as "teaching elders."

2. The study shows a sizeable increase in the number of Music Directors and Organists. While our survey is ambiguous at this point ("combination" jobs making it possible for one person to be counted twice), the increase is still substantial, and with it a significant increase in the number of masters and doctorates in this field.

3. The study shows an increase in Church Business Administrators. This is a steadily growing job classification in the church. Personnel concerns for this group are now being handled through the inter-denominational Association of Church Business Administrators.

4. The study shows an apparent decrease in the number of Educators in systematic study (from 211 to 195). Various interpretations of this data can be given:

an increase in specialized ministries by non-ordained personnel turning up in the data in the category of "other";

an increase of ordained personnel in multiple staff situations replacing the traditional Director of Christian Education in sysematic study; or, a rise in the number of Christian Educators moving into "secular" openings in social work, public education, or welfare institutions.

5. The study shows a decrease in the number of Kindergarten personnel employed by the churches. It is possible that public school systems Head Start and other federal programs have begun to reduce the demand for (and consequently the number of openings in) church kindergartens.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE of the REFORMED CHURCH IN AMERICA and the PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

I

In accordance with the 1965 directive of the General Assembly and the General Synod to prepare a plan of union for presentation no later than 1968, the Joint Committee of Twenty-Four is now engaged in the process of the preparation of the first drafts which are being submitted to the presbyteries, classes, sessions and consitories of our two churches for study, criticism and counsel.

The firt such draft document, "The Proposed Form of Government for a Presbyterian Reformed Church in America," was published on January 28th.

We hope to publish the second document with sections on Worship and on Rules of Discipline by June 1st in time for the meetings of the General Assembly and General Synod.

Our third draft document is to be published as of August 30th and will include the section on Theology and the section on Witness and Structure.

The Joint Committee will then prepare the final draft of the sections on The Form of Government, Worship, and Rules of Discipline by mid-September, and the sections on Theology and Witness and Structure by the end of November. The entire plan of union will be completed in final form by February 1, 1968 in time to be included in the General Assembly and General Synod handbooks.

II

The Contents of the Draft Documents

1. The section on Theology which is being prepared with the assistance of the Rev. Dr. Rodman Williams and the Rev. Dr. Vernon Kooy will include:

(1) An historical introduction to our Confessional Standards prepared by the Rev. Dr. Winfield J. Burggraaff.

(2) A listing of the Confessional Standards

a. Belgic Confession
b. Heidelberg Catechism
c. Canons of Dort
d. Westminster Confession of Faith
e. Larger Catechism
f. Shorter Catechism

with editorial notes indicating changes that have been made or declaratory statements, modifying or clarifying the Church's position at any point. The notes on the Belgic Confession are being prepared by the Rev. Dr. James C. Eelman, on the Heidelberg Catechism by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Osterhaven, on the Canons of Dort by the Rev. Dr. Richard C. Oudersluys, on the Westminster Confession and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms by The Rev. Dr. Ernest Trice Thompson.

(3) A "Postlude" or summary statement expressing the relevance of our combined doctrinal standards to our witness to the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ in the present day. This is being prapared by the Rev. Dr. Grover E. Foley.

(4) The brief Statement of Faith adopted by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in 1962.

(5) A "Statement of Commitment" which will bind the uniting churches to the appointment of a theological commission to prepare a new Confessional Statement, and will suggest guidelines as to procedure and content. It is being prepared by the Rev. Dr. John Beardslee and the Rev. Dr. Shirley Guthrie.

(6) The formula of Subscription or Ordination Vow which will be a restatement or a revision of the formula already contained in the proposed Form of Government.

2. The contents of the section on Worship, only tentatively decided upon as of February 1st, will be listed in a supplementary report. Our subcommittee is being assisted by the Rev. Dr. Paul Tudor Jones and the Rev. Mr. Garrett Roorda.

3. The section on Witness and Structure is in the early stage of preparation. It is hoped that a supplementary report will be ready in time for submission to Assembly and Synod.

The Joint Committee believes that it is feasible to present the final plan of union at the 1968 meetings of the General Synod and General Assembly, but in order to accomplish this goal it is necessary that the people of our two churches respond as soon as possible to the partial drafts of the plan of union as they are submitted for study and comment.

The Joint Committee wishes to make very clear to both churches that the drafts are not intended to be final; that they are not submitted for vote on the part of the presbyteries and classes. We ask for comments, criticisms, and suggestions which will then be reviewed by the Joint Committee and incorporated in the final draft as far as it is possible to do so.

The Committee also wishes to point out that the spirit of the drafts is intended to be one of persuasiveness rather than coercion. The Committee believes that if our two churches vote to unite congregations and ministers who might feel impelled to leave the united church should be allowed to do so according to a clearly described procedure without loss of property or pension benefits. The first drafts are being submitted in the hope that they "press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus," and that they afford an avenue by which the Holy Spirit will lead out two churches toward a more effective witness to the Gospel.

III

The Subcommittee for Mutual Acquaintance, of which the Rev. Dr. Andrew Bird is chairman and Mr. Ekdal Buys is co-chairman, has assisted in many ways in encouraging exchanges among the colleges, presbyteries, classes, congregations and ministers. It has in recent months sought to arrange for a visitation to all the Synods of both churches. Many other efforts have been made and these have been most rewarding to those who have shared in them. We urge our courts, our ministers, and our agencies and institutions to do everything possible to broaden the opportunity for mutual acquaintance and fellowship.

IV

The 1966 General Synod of the Reformed Church in America directed the Committee of Twelve of the RCA to "make a further study and exploration" of the questions contained in a letter sent by the Synod to the General Assembly which sought "to clarify our mutual relationship in the light of the actions of the 1966 General Assembly which strongly supported the continuance of our discussions and the preparation of a Plan of Union of our two bodies and also voted full participation in the Consultation on Church Union."

The questions are as follows:

1. What is the relative importance of these several actions?
2. Were these actions intended to be inclusive or exclusive?
3. Is it expected that the General Assembly will vote on the matter of a commitment to the Church of the Constitutiation on Church Union either in 1967 or 1968?
4. Should the preparation of the Plan of Union of our two churches be continued as vigorously as possible in accord with the report of our Joint Committee?

The Committee of Twelve of the RCA discussed these questions at great length with the Committee of Twelve of the PCUS and after many hours of candid and fruitful exchange the following resolution was passed as a unanimous action of the Joint Committee:

"The action of the 1966 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States changing its relationship to the Consultation on Church Union from that of an observer to full participation prompted the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America to inquire as to the meaning of this action as it affects the negotiations of the two communions looking toward union.

"The Committee of Twenty-Four notes that both the Reformed Church in America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States have been related to COCU in some fashion for several years. The PCUS has been an observer and is now a full participant in the consultation; the RCA has been an observer from the beginning. The 1966 General Synod instructed its Committee on Interchurch Relations to study the possibility of becoming a full participant in COCU.

"The Committee of Twenty-Four also notes that the General Synod and the General Assembly have affirmed their support of the Committee of Twenty-Four in its studies of ways and means of developing a more effective witness to the Gospel on the part of our two churches, and in 1965 instructed them to proceed as rapidly as possible to create a plan of union. The 1966 action on this matter by the General Synod and the General Assembly was unequivocal and strong.

"The Committee recalls its findings which it has previously reported to the General Synod and the General Assembly. It has been found that common ground exists in theology and polity, in work and worship. Common ventures have been undertaken and successfully carried out. There is substantial evidence that this union can be consummated with a minimum of loss and a maximum of strengthening our witness and service.

"The committee believes that the union of our two denominations is the only viable possibility of union before us either now or in the immediate future. We recall the action taken jointly by the 1965 General Synod and General Assembly, 'that the most genuine potential for advance of church union for both our denominations at the present time lies in continuing with integrity these conversations which were begun in 1962 and which are looking increasingly toward the union of our two denominations."

"WE RECOMMEND THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND THE GENERAL SYNOD AFFIRM ONCE AGAIN THEIR CONFIDENCE IN THE PROVIDENCE OF GOD AND THEIR SERIOUS AND ENTHUSIASTIC PURPOSE TO PROCEED AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE TOWARD THE UNION OF OUR TWO CHURCHES."

The Joint Committee submits the above as our first recommendation. We further recommend:

(2) that the General Assembly and the General Synod direct the presbyteries, classes, sessions and consistories to study the first drafts of the plan of union as they are published and to respond as soon as possible with their comments, criticisms and suggestions.

(3) that the General Assembly and General Synod urge the congregations and institutions of our two denominations to take the initiative in arranging means of mutual acquaintance; and that each presbytery and classis, especially, be requested to undertake a specific project to that end between now and the next meeting of our Assembly and Synod.

(4) The General Synod (RCA) and the General Assembly (PCUS) have directed the Joint Committee to present to the respective courts in 1968 a Plan of Union. Each of the courts will consider the plan at the 1968 meeting of the court and may well determine to ammend, change, alter or otherwise act upon the plan prior to any action sending the Plan of Union to the classes and presbyteries for their advice and consent. In view of the fact that the plan may be ammended, changed, altered or otherwise revised by the highest courts of the two denominations, it is recommended THAT THE GENERAL SYNOD OF THE REFORMED CHURCH and THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH meet simultaneously (but not at the same place) in 1968 and that the date of meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church be fixed by the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN A. FULTON and NORMAN EDWIN THOMAS, Co-Chairmen

PARTIAL REPORT
AD INTERIM COMMITTEE FOR THE CONSULTATION ON CHURCH UNION

The Ad Interim Committee for the Consultation on Church Union was established by action of the One Hundred Sixth General Assembly which changed the status of the Presbyterian Church in the United States from observer-consultant to full participant in the Consultation on Church Union.

The Moderator appointed the Committee as follows: Rev. Rachel Henderlite, Rev. Alex W. Hunter, Rev. J. A. Ross MacKenzie, Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Rev. John R. Richardson, Rev. Lawrence I. Stell, Rev. T. Watson Street, Mr. J. Gaston Williamson, and Rev. William A. Benfield, Jr., Chairman.

The fifth meeting of the Consultation on Christ Union was held in Dallas, Texas, May 2-5, 1966, almost immediately following the adjournment of the General Assembly. Six members of the Ad Interim Committee were able to attend and were warmly welcomed to the Consultation. The African Methodist Episcopal Church was also received as a full participant. Since then two other denominations have been received, bringing to ten the number of participating denominations.

At the Dallas meeting the Consultation adopted "An Open Letter to the Churches from the Consultation on Church Union" and requested the participating churches to transmit it to their membership through the channels judged by them to be appropriate. The Consultation also approved the document "Principles of Church Union" (Preamble, Chapters I-IV) for transmission to the constituencies of the participating churches for study and comment.

At the direction of the Ad Interim Committee, a booklet containing the Open Letter and the Principles of Church Union, and the booklet "COCU", giving the reports of the first four meetings of the Consultation, were mailed to the ministers of our denomination.

The Chairman of the Ad Interim Committee is a member of the Executive Committee of the Consultation, which has met frequently to prepare for the sixth meeting of the Consultation on Church Union, to be held at Cambridge, Massachusetts, May 1-4, 1967. A major subject at this meeting will be the consideration of principles of structure and organization. Three members of our Ad Interim Committee have participated in the work of the commission preparing this report on structure, which will complete the paper of "Principles of Church Union".

The Committee is aware of and grateful for the fact that some individuals and groups within the denomination have seriously studied the materials on the Consultation and have shared with the Committee the results of the studies. The Committee wants to assure the General Assembly that it has taken seriously and will continue to take seriously the communications addressed to it and the issues raised in individual study and in Session, Presbytery, and Synod discussions.

Many questions about the Consultation are being asked and are yet to be asked. They should be seriously considered. The Committee, however, would respectfully remind the General Assembly that our status as a full participant in the Consultation on Church Union has not committed the General Assembly to anything other than that of participating in the Consultation. The work of the Consultation of Church Union is still that of dialogue, study, discussion. The "Principles of Church Union", adopted by the Consultation at the meeting in Dallas, are presently being studied by the participating churches. The results of these studies will be reported to the next meeting of the Consultation. Your Ad Interim Committee will use the communications received from individuals and groups within the church as it participates in the evaluation. The final chapter of the "Principles of Church Union" will be presented and discussed at the forthcoming meeting. In whatever form adopted by the Consulatation, it in turn will then be distributed to the participating churches for study. When the final paper of "Principles of Church Union" is adopted, it will simply be the work of the Consultation, for its own future use. It will not commit the General Assembly to any position. There is no plan of church union before the Consultation. Work on such a plan has not yet begun.

Your Committee has been aware also of the concern expressed as to the effect which participation in the Consultation on Church Union would have upon the relationship of our Presbyterian Church in the United States with the Reformed Church in America. Through its chairman the Committee has been in communication with the co-chairman of the Committee of Twenty-four, informing them of the nature and status of the work of the Consultation. Your Committee has noted with gratitude that representatives of the Committee on Interchurch Relations of the Reformed Church in America have been in discussion with the Executive Committee of the Consultation on Church Union and have been observers at the meetings of the Commission on Structure.

Your Committee concurs with what it understands to be the conclusion of the Committee on Interchurch Relations of the Reformed Church in America that participation by the two denominations in a) preparation of a plan of union for the two denominations, and b) the Consultation on Church Union can be carried on at the same time with integrity, because the first involves the development of a plan of union for immediate consideration, while the second involves a consultation having long-range, rather than immediate, implications.

Your Committee further concurs with what it understands to be the conclusion of the Committee on Interchurch Relations of the Reformed Church in America that participation in the Consultation on Church Union by both churches would place them in the same relationship to the Consultation and would assist both churches in the continuing preparation of a plan of union for the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Reformed Church in America.

The first Consultation meeting, held in Washington, D. C., May 9-10, 1962, was concluded with a statement which said in part: "We are grateful to God for having led us into these conversations, and we believe on the basis of our preliminary discussions that the Holy Spirit is leading us to further exploration of the unity that we have in Jesus Christ and to our mutual obligation to give visible witness to this unity. We have made no attempt to reach agreement in areas of differences. Rather, we have sought to isolate issues that need further study and clarification . . . The delegates earnestly beseech the members of their churches to be constant in prayer that the people of God may be open to His leading, that these communions may receive from Him new obedience and fresh courage, and that God's will for his people may be made manifest before the world."

Such has been the trust in and the commitment unto the leading of the Holy Spirit with which the Consultation has continued its work. The conversations and the studies are not completed. Your Ad Interim Committee expresses the strong conviction that it is vital that our church continue full participation in the Consultation and thus have opportunity to help to determine under the guidance of the Holy Spirit the answers to questions still before the Consultation.

The remainder of our report will be submitted following the meeting of the Consultation at Cambridge, May 1-4.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. A. BENFIELD, JR., Chairman

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE FOR THE CONSULTATION ON CHURCH UNION

The sixth meeting of the Consultation on Church Union was held in Cambridge, Massachusetts, May 1-4, 1967. All members of the Ad Interim Committee were present.

Major attention was directed to the subject of structure. It had been anticipated that the Commission on Structure would present as its report a possible Chapter Five of Principles of Church Union. Instead, the Commission, believing that the entire Consultation should work carefully on matters of church structure, presented as its report a working paper on guidelines for structure, which was made the basis for discussion and consideration throughout the meeting. As a result of the dialogue and study which took place, the Consultation acted as follows:

"The Consultation on Church Union approves the document "Guidelines for the Structure of the Church" for transmission to the constituencies of the participating churches for study and comment, the transmission and comment to be made through the appropriate channels as determined by each participating church, with the understanding that this document, together with the suggestions received from the participating churches, and which are in due course approved by the Consultation, will be used in the formulation of a Plan of Union."

The document "Guidelines for the Structure of the Church" will be a part of a new publication to be known as Consultation on Church Union, and to be available after June 1, 1967. This publication will contain four sections: Section I to include the Open Letter, Preamble and Chapters I-IV of the publication Principles of Church Union; Section II to contain The Cambridge Report, including "Guidelines for the Structure of the Church"'; Section III to contain "Stages and Steps", as revised at Cambridge, 1967; and Section IV to contain a Study Guide.

One of the strong emphases of the Consultation during this year will be upon study and comment by the participating denominations. The publication, Principles of Church Union was well received, with some 150,000 copies sold. During the past year these principles have been studied in many groups throughout the country. The results of some of these studies were reported to denominational delegations who in turn reported to the Consultation, as was done by your Ad Interim Committee. It is the judgment of the Consultation, however, that this study needs to be continued and enlarged, using the new publication described above, and that comments and reactions of the participating churches be a major subject for discussion at the 1968 Consultation meeting.

A copy of the new publication Consultation on Church Union will be sent by the Ad Interim Committee to all ministers of our denomination as soon as it is available. It is hoped that additional copies will be ordered quickly from Forward Movement Publications, 412 Sycamore St., Cincinnati, Ohio 45202, for use by study groups in Churches, Presbyteries, etc. It is also hoped that comments and judgments of such groups will be forwarded to the Ad Interim Committee for collation and report to the Consultation. It is further hoped that our Ad Interim Committee will be given permission to prepare and distribute to the churches of the denomination a pamphlet giving additional basic information about the Consultation on Church Union.

For several years the participating denominations have observed a "Consultation on Church Union Sunday", usually on the Sunday preceeding the meeting of the Consultation. The observance has included prayer for the Consultation, sermon on the Consultation, pulpit exchange, joint worship service, and evening discussion groups. It is the judgment of the Consultation and your Committee that this observance is good and should be continued with increasing participation by the churches.

In the light of the foregoing the Ad Interim Committee for the Consultation on Church Union makes the following recommendations:

1. That the General Assembly authorize the Ad Interim Committee for the Consultation on Church Union to prepare and distribute to the churches a pamphlet giving basic information about the Consultation.
2. That the General Assembly authorize the General Council to include the Consultation on Church Union Sunday in the church calendar.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. A. BENFIELD, Jr., Chairman

REMARKS OF REV. W. A. BENFIELD, JR., IN PRESENTING THE REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON THE CONSULTATION ON CHURCH UNION

First, may I point out that the Consultation on Church Union is just what the name implies. It is a consultation. It is a consultation on Church union. It is not a faith and order conference. The Consultation is pointed toward a plan for a United Church. Such a plan has not yet been devised. Specific work on such a plan has not yet begun. The work of the Consultation has been and still is that of study, dialogue, and discussion.

May I also point out that the relation of our General Assembly as a participating member of the Consultation has not and does not commit us to anything other than that of participating in the work of the Consultation. I have in my file a copy of material distributed in some of the churches of the Assembly which says, among other things, that the members of this Ad Interim Committee for the Consultation have accepted for the entire membership of our Church certain propositions and have irrevocably agreed on things which bind our churches.

Such interpretations of our relationship in the Consultation are completely false. Our Ad Interim Committee has not and cannot accept anything for the membership of our churches. We have not and we cannot bind the General Assembly to any position. Our participation does mean that we are in the mainstream of what I believe to be the most significant movement in ecuminism in the history of Protestantism in America. But our participation in the Consultation has not and cannot commit our denomination to any change in the Standards of our Church or to changes in the worship and work of local congregations. I hope that position is clear.

The Consultation has been working on some principles of Church union. These principles, as and when approved by the Consultation, are principles for use of the Consultation. They do not commit or bind our Church or any of the participating Churches.

Sometime in the near future the Consultation will begin work on a plan for a United Church. No one knows how long it will take the Consultation to formulate such a plan. Thus far the Consultation has been wise in its patience. I hope it will continue to move slowly. The formulation of a plan for a United Church may take from four to eight years. It may take less time; it may take more time; the Consultation may never devise a plan for a United Church. But if and when it does, it will be the plan of the Consultation for a United Church. Our General Assembly will not be committed to this plan and can take whatever action it desires about the plan devised by the Consultation.

Let me also say a word about what I believe to be some of the significancies of the Consultation. The Consultation of which we are a part is only one of some 35 or more consultations on Church union taking place today all over the world and in which other Presbyterian and Reformed bodies are participating.

This says something about the Church today and its concern about its witness in light of present-day conditions of our world. Our Consultation, for example, is not concerned with the erecting of a super Church, in spits of the claims made by some. But it is concerned about obedience to Jesus Christ. It is concerned as to what the Holy Spirit may be saying to the churches today about our witness of Christ to the world in which we live. Can we make a more united witness? Why are we so separated? What are our real differences? What are our common emphases? What does the Lord want us to do today? Can differences in basic issues of the expression of the faith, of worship, of ministry, of structures—can any or all of these basic differences ever be resolved so that there could be a United Church?

These are significant approaches which can bring about better understanding, reaffirmations of basic doctrines, and spiritual renewal, whether or not organic union takes place. In facing these questions our denomination and other denominations can be benefitted. The Interchurch Relations Committee of the RCA Church and the Permanent Inter-Church Relations Committee of our denomination have both expressed the recognition of the benefits that can come out of participation in the Consultation. Our denomination and others can be benefitted whether or not we go into a United Church, and in answering such fundamental questions our denomination has something to say and can make contributions regardless of the direction we as a denomination may go in Church union. In this connection, our Ad Interim Committee has already become very active in the work of the Consultation. In addition to our participation in the plenary sessions, three of the members of our Committee have worked very helpfully on the Commission on Structures. As chairman of our delegation, I get to serve on the Executive Committee, and I have been asked to be the chaplain and the preacher to the Consultation for its meeting next year.

One of the major emphases of the Consultation during the coming year will be upon study andand comment by the participating denominations, particularly on guidelines for structure. It is hoped that studies of consultation materials will be made by Presbyteries, Sessions, groups within the churches, and that study and dialogue will take place in local communities between members of the various denominations participating in the Consultation. It is urged that the results of these studies, with evaluations, criticisms and suggestions, be reported to the Ad Interim Committee so that these results can be used by the Consultation as it continues its work.

It is in light of this important stage of the moment in the study and work of the Consultation that the Ad Interim Committee makes its recommendations.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS

(For action on this report and its recommendations see page 84.)

I. Interdenominational Areas of Special Interest

A. American Bible Society

The Committee received from its representative, Rev. Horace L. Villee, the report on the meeting of the Advisory Council of the American Bible Society in New York, November 14-16, 1966, in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Society. There were present representatives from some eighty churches, including denominations ranging from Pentecostal bodies to the Roman Catholic Church. The ecumenical spirit was evidenced in the truest sense as all found common cause in the Holy Bible which all agreed is essential to the development of Christian faith and action.

Highlights of the meeting included a presentation in Philharmonic Hall of Handel's MESSIAH by the Westminster Symphonic Choir and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Sir Malcolm Sargent. Another feature was a visit to the Bible House, the new home of the American Bible Society, with its display of priceless editions of the Scriptures and its facilities for efficient conduct of the world-wide business of the Society.

The Churches of America were called to pray for the specific tasks facing the Society, and to undergird the Bible Cause with deepened commitment, so that God's Word may be available to people in all lands in the languages they speak, in the formats they need and at prices they can afford. Although contributions from Churches to the Society during the Anniversary Year reached an all-time high, the percentage of the total operating funds received from Churches declined to 19.5%. The Presbyterian Church, U. S. gave slightly more than three cents per member.

Two new publications of the Scriptures have been produced and are now available: Today's English Version of the New Testament entitled "Good News for Modern Man," and "The Inside Story"—Luke, John, Acts and Romans in the J. B. Phillips Translation, with modern illustrations. These books are available in attractive pocket-book forms at 25 cents and 35 cents respectively. A new edition of the Greek Testament has also been produced.

Attention was called to the present opportunities for the use of the Bible in public schools and the availability of the Society to be of service in providing to interested groups "clear, factual statements regarding the use of the Bible as text materials in public schools courses, in terms of the manner in which such programs are affected by recent legislation and court decisions." Materials available through the Society include leaflets, filmstrips, films, Bible reading guides, as well as Scriptures designed to catch the eye and command the attention of those who have had little interest in God's Word. The Society stands ready to serve as a "clearing house" of information on how the Bible is being used in public education and on opportunities now open to include the study of the Bible in public school courses.

There was much evidence of the growing interest in the translation and distribution of the Scriptures by the Roman Catholic, Orthodox, and other churches not presently associated with the Society's program. The Advisory Council considers this to be a movement of the Holy Spirit and it reaffirms the Society's historic position in welcoming the cooperation of all groups interested in seeking to accomplish the 150 year old purpose of the Society—the wider distribution of the Scriptures without doctrinal note or comment.

Another outstanding event was an address by the Rev. Walter M. Abbott, S.J., Assistant to the President of the Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, Vatican City, and Advisor to the Secretariat on Relations with the United Bible Societies. He quoted the Council of Fathers' statement, "Like the Christian Religion itself, all the preaching of the Church must be nourished and ruled by sacred Scripture", and went on to say: "For many centuries the Bible was an arsenal for theological disputes between Catholics and Protestants. Now, at last, the hearts of men have responded to the urgings of the Holy Spirit. Now the Bible is seen as a bond between Christians. . . . How far we have come! The Roman Catholic Church has not only decreed the Bible for all, in modern languages, but has even endorsed collaboration with Protestants in the work. A great leap is here taken from the sad history of times past and its unfortunate continuation in some pockets of the world—to a collaboration undreamed of by generations of churchmen. Without agreement on the Bible there is no hope for the Christian unity movement, but, more important, there is also no hope that Christians will do any better for the two billion non-Christians of the world. . . ."

During the past year the Society distributed 95,000,000 copies of the Scriptures. This includes 565,000 copies of the Bible to Ghana at the request of that government. Many similar requests keep coming, and the demands are not yet being met.

The Permanent Committee took note of the reduced amount of support for the American Bible Society in our Assembly's budgets of 1966 and 1967 growing out of the restructuring of our budgeting procedure, and it has sought to restore our giving to its proper level in its request to the General Council.

B. Religion in American Life

We commend the New Mass Media Campaign of RIAL with its fresh contemporary approach through TV and radio spots, magazine and newspaper ads and billboard posters. Through this program the Churches profit from millions of dollars in free advertising space and time each year. How does it work? Thirty-three national religious groups representing America's four major Faiths work together to formulate the message of Religion in American Life. The world's largest and oldest advertising agency, the J. Walter Thompson Company, volunteers its time and talent to prepare this message for the public. The Advertising Council, representing the six major segments of the advertising media, secures free space and time for the campaign. Local Faith-In-Action Programs back this up by contacting the local media to encourage their cooperation. During the past year orders for over 3,000 mats and proofs produced some 1.7 million lines of free newspaper space. In addition to the plates ordered through the Magazine Service Bulletin by national consumer magazines, six full page ads appeared in READER'S DIGEST, with four ads scheduled by the DIGEST during the coming year. The donation of a single page in READER'S DIGEST is sometimes worth as much as $50,000. Last year over 90,000 car cards were used, and 3,000 twenty-four-sheet posters appeared on outdoor locations.

We call attention to the fact the RIAL has lost two foundations which have provided between $15,000 and $20,000 for many years—one having been liquidated and the other having decided to take on only new projects. The Permanent Committee has recommended a modest increase in our support of this Cause.

C. Lord's Day Alliance

The Rev. Marion G. Bradwell, completing his first year as Executive Director, reports the enlistment of three denominations not previously represented on the Board: the Protestant Episcopal, the Associate Reformed Presbyterian, and the United Brethren in Christ. A Committee on Legislation has been active primarily in the field of Civil Liberties, its aim being to give aid and assistance to individuals who are asked to violate their religious convictions through Sunday employment. The Civil Rights Act and the Religious Guidelines of the Equal Employment Commission of the Federal Government have strong statements protecting the individual's religious freedom.

The task of the Alliance is not legalistic but DIDACTIC, not corrective but DIRECTIVE. It exists to serve the Church by providing her with that leadership and those materials such as the LORD'S DAY LEADER, filmstrips and radio spots by which she can become vocal in what, too often has been a "silent spot."

The Permanent Committee recommended a modest increase in our support of this cause.

WE RECOMMEND: THAT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ACTION OF THE 1966 GENERAL ASSEMBLY (page 93 of the MINUTES) THAT THE REV. MARION G. BRADWELL, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE, BE INVITED TO SPEAK, NOT TO EXCEED FIFTEEN MINUTES, TO THE 1967 GENERAL ASSEMBLY ON THE WORK OF THE ALLIANCE.

II. Cooperation with Other Presbyterian and Evangelical Bodies

A. Fraternal Delegates

The fraternal delegates appointed in 1966 reported to the Committee and were commended for their work. The following have been named as fraternal delegates of our church in 1967:

Associate Reformed, Bonclarken, North Carolina, June 5, 1967
Rev. C. Grier Davis, Principal
Rev. Thomas H. McDill, Alternate

Cumberland, Paducah, Kentucky, June 21, 1967
Rev. James D. Newsome, Jr., Principal
Rev. Joe C. Gardner, Alternate

Reformed Church in America
We recommend that in light of our joint meeting in Bristol, June 8-13, every Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., be named fraternal delegate to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America.

United Presbyterian, Portland, Oregon, May 18, 1967
Dr. R. L. D. Davidson, Principal
Dr. Thomas A. Spragens, Alternate

Presbyterian Church of England, Manchester, May 8, 1967
Rev. Olof Anderson, Jr., Principal
Rev. William B. Young, Alternate

Church of Scotland, Edinburgh, May 23, 1967
Rev. Horace T. Allen, Jr., Principal
Rev. John F. Callaway, Alternate
In light of the special invitation from the United Church of Christ to send a fraternal delegate to their General Synod's observance on June 25, 1967, in Cincinnati, Ohio, of the 450th anniversary of the Reformation, the 150th anniversary of the Evangelical Church of the Union, and the 10th anniversary of the United Church of Christ, we name Rev. Albert C. Winn principal and Rev. Henry P. Mobley alternate.

B. World Alliance of Reformed Churches

The report of the Secretary and the report of the North American Area Secretary of the World Alliance are abridged and submitted as part of this report in Appendices A and B. The reports of Rev. John B. Dickson and Rev. Felix B. Gear on the meeting of the North American Area Council, January 11-13, 1966, were received. Copies of the plan to unite the WARC and the International Congregational Council are being sent to the member churches for study and decision by June 30, 1968. Also to be decided is a new formula of representation which will provide more adequately for the younger Churches. Rev. Albert J. Kissling of our Church was elected chairman of the North American Area Council.

A significant activity of the Council has been the sponsoring of the conversations with Roman Catholics in which our Church is represented by Rev. J. Ross Mackenzie and Rev. William B. Ward. The Dialogue is composed of fourteen Roman Catholics and fourteen representatives of the Reformed and Presbyterian Churches in the United States, divided into two sections: on Theology and on Worship and Missions. Two meetings were held in 1966 and a third is scheduled in April 1967. Our representatives report warm and meaningful experiences in these talks which "are not intended to lead to anything other than a better understanding of one another's history, traditions, outlook and attitudes." The theological section has heard papers on Tradition and the Development of Doctrine, and the Worship and Missions section is publishing a small book of services to be used at joint meetings of Protestant and Catholic congregations. It will also contain Bible studies for use with informal groups. It is being published jointly by the Paulist Press and the Westminster Press, and we expect wide distribution.

Those in the conversations are keeping an up-to-date inventory of Protestant-Roman Catholic joint activities such as worship, professor exchanges, service projects, living room dialogues, etc. Further information may be found in an article by Dr. Ward in the SURVEY entitled "Presbyterian-Roman Catholic Dialogue."

In regard to the Lutheran-Reformed conversations, THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ADOPT THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT:

"Since, as a result of several years of study and discussion conducted between Lutheran and Reformed theologians as a project of the North American Area Council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, it appears that these theologians see no insuperable obstacle to pulpit and altar fellowship, the General Assembly encourages its constituent churches to enter into discussions looking forward to intercommunion and the fuller recognition of one another's ministries."

WE RECOMMEND THAT THE FOLLOWING BE NOMINATED TO THE CLASS OF 1973, NORTH AMERICAN AREA, WORLD ALLIANCE OF REFORMED CHURCHES:

Principals	Alternates
Dr. Henry M. Brimm	Rev. R. T. L. Liston
Rev. Aubrey N. Brown	Rev. J. N. Brown
Rev. John B. Dickson	Mrs. Douglas Wilkinson
Judge John A. Fulton	Rev. Neely D. McCarter
Rev. W. J. Gipson	Rev. Charles B. Cousar

C. Pan-Presbyterian Conference

Representatives of the ARP Church, Cumberland Church, UPUSA, RCA and Presbyterian, U.S. met in Atlanta September 20, 1966. We continue our valuable sharing of ecumenical activities, seeking to work closely in comity and mission, especially in the areas of Church Extension, Pension Reciprocity, World Missions Cooperative Work, Christian Education and Theological Education. We are in process of drawing up an inventory of all efforts in domestic cooperative work. Plans are under way to set up several local Pan-Presbyterian conferences with agenda prepared to help interpret common concerns to local congregations. The Conference voted to invite representatives from the Moravian Church, the Hungarian Reformed Church, the Christian Reformed Church and the Unity of the Czech Brethren to attend the next meeting on September 19, 1967, in Atlanta.

D. Relationships with UPUSA and RCA

In response to the General Assembly directive that the Permanent Committee "explore intensely and thoroughly the problems and possibilities of our future relationship . . . ," representatives of the Inter-Church Committees of the three Churches met on September 20, 1966. A warm and open discussion was held on the present and possible future relations of the three in light of the participation of the UPUSA and the PCUS in the Consultation on Church Union, the proposed Union of the PCUS and the RCA, and the proposed Union Churches, Presbyteries and Synods now under discussion. It was felt that future clarification was needed in these areas as we look together at the future relationships. Following a report on this meeting, the Permanent Committee voted to call together a group composed of five members from each of these inter-church bodies for continuing conversation. Our representatives are William R. Sengel, Chairman; W. G. Foster, Frank H. Caldwell, James A. Millard and Alex W. Hunter.

The Permanent Committee took this further action:

"Since questions have been raised about the possibility of union churches, presbyteries and synods among the UPUSA, RCA and PCUS Churches, and since previous record indicates that we have ordinarily worked out answers to such problems prior to the action of judicatories, therefore if the General Assembly desires the exploration of the possibility of such union churches, presbyteries and synods, THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE WOULD LIKE TO RECOMMEND THE FOLLOWING PROCEDURE:

(1) That our General Assembly appoint an ad interim committee of three.
(2) That we invite the UPUSA and RSA judicatories to appoint similar committees.
(3) That these three committees, acting as a joint committee, attempt to produce a uniform procedure to the highest judicatories of the three Churches."

E. Other Inter-Church Activities

The first responsibility given to the Permanent Committee is "to explore and report on various avenues and means of cooperation with other churches and inter-church bodies and to serve as the chief agency of liaison between the General Assembly and such Churches and inter-church bodies or agencies." (Manual III, 1, a.) In addition to the matters reported above concerning the overall relations of our Church with other churches the Committee heard and discussed reports on the meeting of Moderators of Reformed and Presbyterian Churches in Portland, Oregon, Nov. 3, 1966 on the theme—"The Mission of the Reformed Church in the World"; progress of developments toward a plan of union with the RCA: developments in COCU; work of the Presbyterian Appalachian Council; Joint Presbyterian-Reformed Witness in Washington, D. C.

Rejoicing in the continuing fine progress of the PCUS-RCA negotiations, the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations notes also the creative possibilities of our participation in the Consultation on Church Union and in continuing explorations of problems and possibilities of future relationships with the UPUSA. We pray earnestly that our Assembly will continue to explore all the opportunities for reconciliation toward which the Holy Spirit may be calling us as a Church. We see in the RCA negotiations, in our Consultation participation and explorations with UPUSA events supportive and positive affirmations of our desire to seek God's will as reflected in the prayer of His Son for the unity of His Church.

In order to clarify the situation in which our Church is simultaneously preparing a plan of union with the Reformed Church in America and engaging as a participant in the Consultation on Church Union, your Committee on Inter-Church Relations concurs in the following conclusions expressed by the Committee on Interchurch Relations of the Reformed Church in America:

1. Participation by the Reformed Church in (a) preparation of a plan of union with the Presbyterian Church U. S.; and (b) the Consultation on Church Union can be carried on the same time with integrity, because the first involves the development of a plan of union for immediate consideration, while the second involves a consultation having long-range, rather than immediate, implications.

2. The Reformed Church in America-Presbyterian Church U.S. union proposal holds priority, and final action on that plan of union should be taken before any plan of union coming out of the Consultation on Church Union is prepared for vote by either Church.
3. Participation in the Consultation by both Churches would place them in the same relationship to the Consultation, and would assist both in their preparation for the Reformed Church in America-Presbyterian Church U.S. union.
4. The new united Church which would result from union of the Reformed Church in America and the Presbyterian Church U.S. would have to make its own decision regarding its relationship to the Consultation.

III. National Council of Churches

A. The Seventh General Assembly of the NCC in Miami, Florida, December 4-9, 1966.

1. The Triennial Report

The report was received and examined, and while it is too extensive to be included in this report, it should be studied by the members of our church. Copies may be obtained from the office of the National Council of Churches, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, N. Y., 10027 at a cost of $2.50.

WE RECOMMEND: THAT THE PRESBYTERY COMMITTEES ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS OR COMPARABLE COMMITTEES BE URGED TO STUDY AND SHARE ITS CONTENTS WITH THE CHURCHES OF THEIR PRESBYTERIES.

2. Message to the Churches

WE RECOMMEND: THAT THE MESSAGE TO THE CHURCHES ADOPTED AT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE NCC, ALREADY WIDELY PUBLICIZED IN THE CHURCH PRESS, BE CALLED TO THE ATTENTION OF THE CHURCHES AND THAT IT BE WIDELY STUDIED.

3. Report of the Rev. Robert H. Bullock on behalf of the representatives to the General Assembly of the NCC.
(See Appendix C)

B. Reports from representatives to the NCC General Board.

Reports from Dr. Marshall Dendy, Mr. Richard Farnsworth and Dr. Edward D. Grant were received and discussed.

C. Vacancies in PCUS Representation

WE RECOMMEND THAT VACANCIES BE FILLED AS FOLLOWS:

Representatives to NCC General Assembly, 1969:

Rev. David L. Stitt, principal
(to replace Rev. Jas. A. Jones, deceased)

Rev. John S. McMullen, alternate
(to replace Dr. Stitt, now principal)

Rev. Paul Tudor Jones, principal
(to replace Mr. Halbert Jones, declined to serve)

Mr. Charles Hotley, alternate
(to replace Dr. Paul T. Jones, now principal)

Representative to General Board $ 1,249
Representatives to General Assembly $ 3,850

III. Basic Support of Benevolence Budget— $ 9,668

IV. Church World Service (Overseas Relief)— $218,000

The Committee heartily commends the boards of the General Assembly for this responsible financial participation in the corresponding programs of the National Council of Churches as shown above. We recognize also that the contribution of time, experience and skills of agency personnel has added much to the effectiveness of many of the programs of the National Council.

E. Financial Matters

Noting the gap between the financial asking of the National Council of Churches and the actual gifts of our Church, the Permanent Committee requested that at least half the requested amount be placed in the budget.

F. Interpretation of the Work of the NCC

We call attention to the card in The Plan Book to be used to secure information on the National Council of Churches, the World Council of Churches, and the World Alliance of Reformed Churches. We plan to continue this service in The Plan Book in the future.

G. Report and Recommendations on the Delta Ministry of the NCC

In 1965 the General Assembly considered Recommendation 9, Section C, of the report of the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations as follows:

> "That the General Assembly commend the Home Missions Division of the National Council of Churches and the World Council of Churches for their anti-poverty program in the Mississippi Delta Ministry. This effort to help the poor and economically displaced persons of this area through education, the development of economic resources, and their participation in public affairs is in the finest tradition of Christian love for one's neighbor."

As a substitute for this recommendation the Assembly referred the whole matter of the Mississippi Delta Ministry to the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations with instructions to study this matter and make recommendations to the next General Assembly.

During the year that followed the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations endeavored to carry out this instruction. The Committee carried on correspondence with many individuals and groups and discovered a wide range of opinion regarding the Mississippi Delta Ministry.

The controversy aroused by this activity of the National Council of Churches gained national publicity. Late in 1965 the General Board of the National Council of Churches appointed a special committee to investigate the Mississippi Delta Ministry and to report its findings to the General Board with recommendations. At the time of the 1966 meeting of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations this investigation was in process and its results were therefore unavailable to the Committee. In view of the fact that National Council's own evaluation of this program had not been completed, the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations asked the 1966 General Assembly for an additional year to prepare its report.

Since the last meeting of the General Assembly several important documents have come to our hands as follows: (1) The Report of the General Board's Evaluation Committee on the Delta Ministry in Mississippi, (2) a document on the Delta Ministry prepared by the Methodist Church, and (3) Report and Recommendations on the Delta Ministry prepared by the Council on Church and Society of our denomination.

The Evaluation Committee appointed by the General Board brought in its report on May 16, 1966. The Committee was made up of responsible people including Dr. Charles L. King and Mr. James C. Robinson of our denomination. It is our conviction that the report presented to the General Board was both fair and objective. The evaluation of the committee and the action of the General Board on June 2-3, 1966 are presented herewith. (See Appendix D)

In September of 1966, at its initial meeting, the Council on Church and Society was asked for advice by the Board of Church Extension as to how it should respond to a request by the National Council of Churches for funds for the Delta Ministry. A special committee on the Delta Ministry, composed of Dr. Joseph A. Norton, Chairman, Mr. J. M. Dabbs, and Dr. Wayne P. Todd, with the Rev. George A. Chauncey as staff person, was appointed. This committee had the funds and personnel to make a visit to the area served by the Delta Ministry and to an on-the-spot investigation.

The Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations, through its committee on the National Council of Churches, has received and studied this report compiled by trusted members of our own denomination and hereby present portions of it to the General Assembly. (See Appendix E)

IN THE LIGHT OF THE ABOVE WE RECOMMEND:

1. THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ENDORSE, IN PRINCIPLE, THE DELTA MINISTRY AS REFLECTED IN THE GOALS AND PURPOSES SET OUT BY THE GENERAL BOARD OF THE NCC IN ITS JUNE 2-3, 1966 AND DECEMBER 2, 1966, MEETINGS.

2. THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY EXPRESS ITS APPRECIATION FOR THE CAREFUL WORK OF THE NCC EVALUATION COMMITTEE, WHICH STUDIED THE DELTA MINISTRY OPERATION, AND HEARTILY COMMEND THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE CLARIFICATION AND IMPROVEMENT OF THIS MINISTRY IN THE NAME OF CHRIST.

WE EXPRESS REGRET AND SORROW FOR THE MISTAKES MADE IN THE PAST IN THE DELTA MINISTRY, AND WE HOPE THAT ANY DAMAGE DONE IN THE PAST MAY BE OFFSET IN THE FUTURE BY AN IMPROVED PROGRAM.

3. THAT THE BOARDS OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND CHURCH EXTENSION BE URGED TO SEEK TO DISCOVER WAYS AND MEANS OF SUPPORTING THE DELTA MINISTRY FINANCIALLY THROUGH THEIR PROGRAM BUDGETS.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL SECRETARY TO THE MEMBER CHURCHES OF THE WORLD ALLIANCES OF REFORMED CHURCHES

For the Year 1966

During the year ecumenical problems were in the forefront of the Alliance concern.

1. Relations with the International Congregational Council. As the WARC member Churches already know, at its annual meeting in Strasbourg (July-August 1966) the Executive Committee decided unanimously in favor of a plan to unite the WARC and the International Congregational Council. On December 15 we sent the requisite documents to all WARC member Churches. The Churches have until June 30, 1968, to inform us of their decision to accept or reject this proposal. If the merger is approved by the Churches, a uniting General Council will be held in 1970.

We repeat the request made in our letter of December 15, that our member Churches study with all due seriousness the proposals submitted to them by the Executive Committee.

We hope that from 1968 on, the ICC will collaborate in publication of the RPW. On suggestion from the Permanent Committee on Information, the Executive Committee decided to name a joint editorial board which will plan for joint publication.

2. Relations with the Luthern Churches. As we mentioned in our letter of September 5, the Executive Committee "received with gratitude the reports of the Luthern/Reformed conversations in the North American Area and in Europe and, in particular, expressed satisfaction with the successful conclusion of the North American Area conversations and the publication of the final reports". The Committee "expressed the hope that these two wings of the 16th Century Reformation will continue fruitful conversations."

At the end of the year, Augustana Publishing House (Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA) published Marburg Revisited, an interesting book containing the papers and agreed statements from four years of meetings held under the auspices of the National Lutheran Council in the USA and the WARC North American Area.

In Europe, the present series of Lutheran-Reformed theological conversations will come to an end in the spring of 1967. We have already expresssd the hope that these conversations will be resumed in a new form.

The coming year will give our Churches an opportunity for close cooperation with the Lutheran Churches in celebrating the 450th anniversary of Luther's 95 Theses. I know that some are asking whether the anniversary of the Reformation should still be celebrated. In the last issue of RISK (vol. II, no. 4), published by the Youth Departments of the WCC and WCCE, Stephen Rose writes: '"But Protestantism, despite heroic efforts to attain relevance, is seen increasingly as an anachronism, a movement which, once alive, is now dead.

"Reformation Sunday has either become an occasion for embarrassment or for post-mortems and the search for new life, the shape of which is only dimly understood." (op. cit., p. 64)

On this subject, I believe, the Churches of the WARC are in no doubt. Not only do they thank God for what the 16th century Reformation has given us, but they believe that today the message of the Reformation still needs to be heard by the whole of Christianity. Therefore it is with profound joy that we associate ourselves with Lutheran and, we hope, with other Churches in the great celebrations planned for October 1967.

3. Relations with the Roman Catholic Church. As we have said already in our letter of September 5, 1966, the Executive Committee at Strasbourg:

"a) reaffirmed the decision at the meeting in June 1965 on dialogue with the Roman Catholic Church 'that the World Alliance of Reformed Churches initiate no separate theological Alliance of Reformed Churches initiate no separate theological dialogue or theological discussion with the Vatican at this time, but that we support the discussions between the World Council of Churches and the Vatican that have begun';

"b) appoint an ad hoc Committee consisting of the President, the General Secretary and the Chairman of the Department of Theology,

(1.) to consider the question of Alliance policy with regard to the Roman Catholic dialogue,

(2.) with powers to confer with the General Secretary and the General Secretary-elect of the World Council of Churches and with the Director of the Department of Faith and Order, on how the Alliance may best cooperate with the WCC in dialogue with Rome.

(3.) and to consult with the appropriate officials of the Lutheran World Federation concerning joint participation, and with other world families of Churches that may become involved in the Roman Catholic dialogue, and to report back to the Executive."

Since that time, our ad hoc Committee has met with representatives of the WCC in Geneva. During that meeting, the members of the ad hoc Committee had the very clear impression that the Executive Committee made the right decision. They also insisted that the WARC should be ready to undertake dialogue with the Roman Catholic Church if urgent questions should make such action necessary in the future.

While on the subject of relations with the Roman Catholic Church, I would like to state once again how much we regret that the Roman Catholic Church has not yet taken the action required in the sphere of mixed marriages. We will not be satisfied until the Roman Catholic Church admits that one of its members can marry in a non-Roman Catholic Church and continue to receive the sacraments. Further, the Christian education of children is a matter for the parents to decide and they must be free to choose as they see fit without any external pressure.

We rejoice to think that a growing number of Roman Catholics are in favor of complete religious freedom without any restriction at all; here again, however, we must regret that in certain countries this conviction has not been put into practice in a concrete way. As this is being written we know that representatives of a number of our small minority Churches in Catholic countries are very concerned about the prospects. We hope that their fears will be dissipated; here too, however, only deeds, and not just declarations of intention, will give us full satisfaction.

Having said this, we rejoice at the increasing trust which is developing in relations between the Roman Catholic Church and our Churches in many countries. The essential problems remain to be resolved, but we know that in spite of all that still divides us the unity which we have in Christ is stronger than anything that keeps us apart.

May I remind our Churches that we would be grateful if they would keep us informed of possible conversations which they may undertake with the Roman Catholic Church. We also remind them that if we can be of any assistance to them in these conversations, the WARC Department of Theology stands fully at their disposal.

4. Church unions. The WARC cannot be indifferent to the problem of Church unions. Several of our member Churches are already united Churches, and many more are negotiating with Churches of other confessional families and hope to see united Churches result from these negotiations.

The Executive Committee wants to take up this problem at its 1967 meeting in Toronto, Canada (July 27 - August 1). This is why the main theme of the meeting will be "Whither Protestantism?—Is Protestantism being restructured in our time?"

We remind you that the goal of the Alliance is not to prolong the existence of the Reformed Churches but to make sure that the essential principles rediscovered by the Reformation of the 16th century will not once more be lost.

5. Problem of renewal. Ecumenical problems should not make us forget the equally important problem of renewal. We see this problem as the essential problem for our Churches and for all the Churches, for without renewal Christian unity will have no real significance.

The 1967 General Council at Frankfurt requested our member Churches to "report to the Executive Committee of the Alliance what, in their practical experience, the Holy Spirit is doing in the remaking of men and women today."

To this end, the member Churches of the North American Area set up a number of task forces which worked on the question, "What does the Holy Spirit mean in my profession or job?" Several hundred persons were involved in the work of these task forces during 1965. Their reports were presented to the North American Area Council on January 12, 1966, and have now been published in brochure form under the title, The Creator Spirit in Secular Society. We would like to express our warm gratitude to Dr. Margaret Shannon, who was then chairman of the Department of Cooperation and Witness, for it was her initiative that started this project and interested hundreds of laymen in it.

The Churches of the European Area will very shortly receive a questionnaire on the same subject. A part of the European Area Council in 1967 will be devoted to this problem.

6. The WARC and world problems. To the extent that we are faithful to the Reformed conception of the Church we know that the Church is not an end in itself. It exists for the world for which Christ died. Christians may not be indifferent to the world and its problems. It is perhaps necessary to recall in this connection that peace is at the center of the world's problems today. We cannot be satisfied in a situation where not only is there tension between peoples and races, but a number of countries are also engulfed in war. We must also be aware that no real and durable peace can be established if there is not just distribution of the world's riches. The Christian Churches themselves cannot resolve these problems, for gifts, important as they are, will not suffice to bring about real progress toward their solution. The Churches' responsibility as Churches is to make the governments of their respective countries aware that all nations must take the problem of distribution of the world's wealth seriously. We rejoice to think that a Reformed theologian, Dr. Andre Bieler, was the first to alert the Reformed and other Churches to this problem. We hope that all our Churches will exercise their prophetic ministry in this area.

7. Internal life of the WARC.

a. Membership. During 1966 Three Churches have become members of the WARC: the Reformed Churches in the Netherlands)Gereformeerde Kerken), the Evangelical Church in Kalimantan and the Pasundan Christian Church (both in Indonesia). In October the Dutch Reformed Church of South Africa (Nederduitse Gereformeerde Kerk), which has replaced the federation of Dutch Reformed Churches in Cape Province, Transvaal, Orange Free State, Natal and South West Africa, became a member of the Alliance, thus continuing relationships which have long existed between the WARC and four of th efive constituent synods of the new national body. As a result, the total number of member Churches remains at 101, the same figure as at the end of last year.

b. Executive Committee. The Executive Committee met in Strasbourg, France, from July 28 to August 2, 1966. The work done in Strasbourg has been mentioned above. Here we would like to remind you of the changes in membership of the committee which I reported in my letter of September 5: Pastor J. R. Leutwyler, vice president of the Swiss Protestant Federation, was elected to replace the late Prof. A. Kuenzi; Dr. William P. Thompson, Stated Clerk of the United Presbyterian Church USA, was elected chairman of the Department of Cooperation and Witness, replacing Dr. Margaret Shannon, who is now director of United Church Women in the USA; Prof. C. S. Song, Dean of Tainan Theological Seminary in Formosa, replaced Prof. C. H. Hwang, now Associate Director of the Theological Education Fund in London.

c. Departments. The departments continued their excellent work during the year.

i. Department of Theology. This department reports that sales on the Bulletin, which is issued in English, French and German, increase steadily in spite of the necessity of raising the cost by 100% in 1965. The year began with the Department concentrating on the editing of four different language reports for member Churches on Vatican II. With particular reference to the Church union negotiations the study of episcope is rousing wide interest and Anglican theologians are now sharing in the research organized through the department. Cordial relations with the WCC, in particular Faith and Order, and the LWF, develop. Recently the department has been invited by Faith and Order to assist in the analysis of the general Church-to-Church dialogue with Roman Catholicism throughout the world. For the Department of Theology the 20th General Council has already begun—involving preliminary thinking with representatives of the ICC on the potential theme and shape of what is hope dwill be a uniting Council incorporating the WARC and ICC.

ii. Department of Cooperation and Witness. Since its establishment, this department has helped bring about numerous contacts among our member Churches and has let them know that the WARC is truly concerned about their problems.

The work of the department cannot be reported in detail here. Nevertheless, it should be mentioned that while these lines are being written, the Rev. John Gatu of Kenya, a member of our Executive Committee, is in the Sudan as a member of a delegation to discuss with the Sudanese government the grave racial problem which the government has caused by its persecution of Africans in the Southern Sudan. We have a direct concern in this problem because we have a member Church in Southern Sudan, the Church of Christ in the Upper Nile.

The department is also especially interested in the problem of Indonesia, where tens of thousands of persons have applied for baptism. To help laymen give a more decisive witness in all spheres of national life, the department has declared itself ready to help our member Churches, in cooperation with the Indonesian Council of Churches, organize a conference of responsible persons who are concerned about this question. Among other projects, publication and distribution of handbooks for lay leaders is planned. The Department of Women's Work will also help financially in this effort, to make possible invitations to more women to participate in the conference.

iii. Department of Women's Work. In 1966 the department received more financial support than heretofore. We rejoice over this, for it proves that the department's work is recognized by more and more of our Churches. Dr. Timmermans, department chairman, has visited women's groups in a number of European countries. She has been invited by women's organizations of our member Churches in the USA to visit there next year. Each year these organizations publish the Advent Tryst, a small pamphlet of pre-Christmas meditations. This year it has achieved world-wide distribution in English, French, German, Dutch, Spanish and even Portuguese, because the Brazilian women translate dand published a Potruguese edition at their own expense. Dr. Timmermans will edit the Advent Tryst for 1967. In addition, the department now publishes a newsletter twice a year in three languages.

iv. Department of Finance. As I indicated in my letter of September 5, at Strasbourg the Department of Finance proposed that 20% of all member Church contributions be placed directly in a special fund for organization of the 20th General Council. The proposal was adopted by the Executive Committee and from 1967 on 80% of contributions will go to the general budget while 20% will be set aside for the next General Council. We hope this will permit us to organize the 1970 Council without having to ask the Churches for additional contributions. This is only a very partial resolution of the WARC's financial problem. The 1967 budget adopted at Strasbourg foresees a deficit of SFR 35,952 (about $8,500; just under L3,000). Constant inflation in Switzerland, as in other countries, continues to raise the cost of living by about 5% per year. This produces a difficult situation and the Department of Finance hopes that all the member Churches will do what they can to cover this deficit.

v. Permanent Committee on Information. RPPS continues to be published monthly in three languages and its news items are reproduced throughout the world. The Information Secretariat has been able to increase cooperation with the departments of information of the World Council of Churches and the Lutheran WorldFederation, with whom we share the Ecumenical Centre.

During the year the secretariat has prepared a directory of all seminaries and theological faculties related to our member Churches. A first draft has been sent to the faculties and seminaries for verification of the data, and the final directory will be sent to each along with copies of the Proceedings of the last two General Councils. We hope that this directory will facilitate establishment of new relations between Reformed institutions of theological education throughout the world.

Though the RPW is the responsibility of the General Secretary, it is the Information Secretary in his capacity as associate editor who does most of the work. Tweleve thousand copies of each issue are now printed,and we remind you that we are able to offer the RPW on extremely favorable terms to Churches that want to distribute it to their pastors.

d. Visits to member Churches. In October and November President Niesel visited a number of our African member Churches. He made stops in Kenya, Malawi, Zambia, Mozambique and the Republic of South Africa. He has prepared an excellent report on the visit for the members of the Executive Committee and we know from letters we have received from the Churches that his visit was useful and appreciated. We would like to express our gratitude to President Niesel, whose trip was made possible by the generosity of the Reformierter Bund in Germany.

During 1966 the General Secretary traveled mostly in Europe, except for a trip in May to Indonesia and to attend the assembly of the United Church of Christ in the Philippines. At this assembly, the United Church of Christ reaffirmed its desire to remain a member of the WARC and to participate fully in its life.

In April and May the Information Secretary attended a meeting of the British Churches' Committee in Dublin. On the same trip he made other stops in Belfast, Edinburgh, London, and the Netherlands to develop cooperation between the Information Secretariat and the member Church information officers there.

The Theological Secretary attended the North American Area Council at Atlantic City in January, and traveled in Germany in October and November. During the latter trip he attended the World Congress on Evangelism in Berlin (as an observer) and was present at the annual meeting of Reformed pastors in the German Democratic Republic.

8. Areas.

The North American Area held its annual council January 11-13 in Atlantic City, New Jersey. The reports presented there on the work of the Holy Spirit in the world have been mentioned already. Two Roman Catholic observers attended the council for the first time. The new president of the North American Area is the Rev. Charles C. Cochrane of the Presbyterian Church of Canada.

Under auspices of the North American Area, a committee has been set up for dialogue with the Roman Catholic Church in the USA. These conversations will take up theological problems as well as mixed marriages and the worship and mission of the Church.

Conversations are also planned between the Reformed Churches and the Orthodox Churches in North America. Originally scheduled to begin in the fall of 1966, they will not get under way until next year. We would like to mention here that Dr. James I. McCord, Secretary of the North American Area, has performed an enormous work not only on behalf of the Area but also for the entire WARC.

In the European Area, the Administrative Committee chaired by Pastor Pierre Bourguet, President of the National Council of the Reformed Church of France, met at Glarus, Switzerland from September 25 to 27. Most of the meeting was devoted to the European Area Council which will be held at Torre Pellice, Italy, September 7-12, 1967. The council will be preceded by a youth conference with extra-European participation, to be held at the Ecumenical Youth Center of the Waldensian Church, Agape, September 3-7. Theme of the Area Council will be "Revival and Renewal." A preparatory study guide with three Bible studies on the council theme has been published in three languages.

The British Churches' Committee met in Dublin in April and at Carberry Tower, near Edinburgh, December 7-8, under chairmanship of Dr. R. Stuart Louden, one of the WARC's vice presidents. A subcommittee has been appointed to study ways to strengthen the committee's effectiveness as the link between Alliance member Churches in Great Britain.

In both Europe and North America, Area theological commissions have performed extremely important work for the Alliance during the year.

9. 1967 Anniversaries. We have already mentioned the 450th anniversary of Luther's theses. I would like to remind our Churches, as I have already done in my letter of September 5, that the Reformed Church of Hungary will celebrate its 400th anniversary in May 1967. In 1567 it became a member of the Reformed family by adopting the Second Helvetic Confession. On May 19 a formal celebration of this event will take place in Debrecen, and we hope that many of our Churches will be able to send representatives.

10. Alliance General Secretariat. There are only seven persons on the Alliance staff, and I would like to express here my gratitude to my colleagues for their work in the course of this year. The obligation to publish most of our documents in three languages imposes a considerable amount of work on our secretary-translators, and they do an admirable job.

As you know, our offices are in the Ecumenical Centre, which belongs to the World Council of Churches. Our relations with the different departments of the WCC are very close. We rejoice over this and it is our desire to work even more closely with them in the future.

The end of this year has seen Dr. Visser't Hooft's retirement as General Secretary of the WCC. We would simply like to say "thank you" one more time for all he has been and done.

His successor, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, a member of our Executive Committee, can count on our cooperation as we know we can count on his counsel and understanding. We ask God to bless the retirement of Dr. Visser't Hooft and to sustain Dr. Blake in the exercise of his duties as the WCC General Secretary.

I do not want to close without expressing my appreciation to all those who have made the task of the Alliance easier in 1966, and have not been afraid to take often heavy responsibilities to help us accomplish our work. We think particularly of the President, of the chairmen of the departments and committees, of the General Treasurer, of the department and committee members, and of all those who have cooperated with us in one way or another during the year.

Conclusion. We live in a revolutionary period, not only in the political and economic spheres but also in the Church. Some are calling into question the very bases of the Christian faith and the existence of God. Some of the questions posed to the Church are useful. It is good for the Church always to be called in question. It is good that it review its forms, its language, that it know that no structure is permanent and that it must know how to adapt to changing conditions in our world.

But the message it gives to the world cannot change. It can only proclaim the Gospel, "the power of God for salvation to everyone who has faith" (Rom. 1:16). Our prayer is that in spite of their weakness and shortcomings, our Churches will be able truly to proclaim this Gospel to a world in desperate need of it.

Respectfully submitted,
MARCEL PRADERVAND, General Secretary

Appendix B

WORLD ALLIANCE OF REFORMED AND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES REPORT

by

The North American Secretary

1. The North American Secretary is elected by the General Council of the World Alliance, serves without remuneration, and reports annually to the Executive Committee of the World Alliance, to the Area, and to the judicatories of the thirteen member communions of the Area.

2. Constituent Members of the Alliance in the North American Area, at January 9, 1967, are:

Church	Communicants	Quota in Area Council
Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church	27,273	2
Cumberland Presbyterian Church	78,917	2
Second Cumberland Presbyterian Church	20,000	2
Guyana Presbyterian Church	1,942	2
Hungarian Reformed Church in America	12,000	2
Presbyterian Church in Canada	202,498	8
Presbyterian Church in Trinidad and Grenada	5,841	2
Presbyterian Church in the United States	950,139	15
Reformed Church in America	232,414	8
United Church of Canada	1,064,033	16
United Church of Christ	2,071,391	26
United Church of Jamaica and Grand Cayman	13,049	2
United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America	3,308,622	39

Note: In some cases figures may not be the most recent, although an effort has been made to obtain the latest statistics.

3. The Secretary carries on an extensive correspondence in behalf of the Area and of the Alliance. This includes responsibility as Chairman of the Department of Theology and of two very interesting committees, one that is supervising the translation and publication of Calvin's Institutes into Portuguese and the other editing and publishing Calvin's hitherto unpublished sermons. In addition, his office has prepared the programs and mimeographed various reports and addresses that will be given at this meeting.

The Secretary has prepared the agenda for and attended all meetings of the Administrative Committee (ordinarily two each year, in addition to meetings in connection with the Area Council), has attended the meeting of the Executive Committee in Strasbourg, France, and has attended a committee meeting late in November in Geneva.

4. It is a pleasure to extend a most hearty welcotme to the Reverend Dr. Marcel Pradervand, General Secretary of the World Alliance, who is present at this meeting and who will make his annual report later on in the program. To Dr. Pradervand the Alliance owes an enormous debt for the distinguished leadership he has given to the cause of Christian mission and Christian unity and to the work of the Alliance. During his tenure of office the Alliance has grown to include well over 100 member Churches, the Reformed family has been more closely knit together, and, at th esame time, the ecumenical commitment of this family has been deepened. All this has been done by a man who is first of all a pastor and is beloved and trusted throughout the Christian world.

5. Now that the Second Vatican Council has closed the member Churches of the North American Area Council in the United States have entered into theological discussions with the Roman Catholic Church in this country. The members of the Committee have been nominated by the member Churches, the areas of discussion are "worship and mission" and "theology," and recommendations concerning officers and procedures will come before this Council. The Reverend Dr. Raymond V. Kearns, Jr., is serving as staff member for the Area Council, and already a substantial document has been prepared by members of the Committee.

6. At the invitation of the North American Area theological conversations were begun with theologians representing three American Lutheran bodies. The North American Area was represented by eight members, six from member communions and one each from the Orthodox Presbyterian Church and the Christian Reformed Church. The fifth and final round of conversations was held in Princeton on February 24-27, 1966. After each meeting a volume has been published that includes papers read at the meeting and a list of agreements on matters of doctrine. Four small volumes have now been published and distributed, and a complete account of these discussions has been published recently in the volume entitled Marburg Revisited by the Augsburg Publishing House. While copies have been distributed by the North American Area to delegates and to theological seminaries, this volume is a trade item and additional copies may be secured from Augsburg.

Members at the final meeting agreed on the following statement: "We have examined carefully the major issues which have aroused theological controversy between our traditions for generations past. At some points we have discovered that our respective views of each other have been inherited caricatures initially caused by misunderstanding or polemical zeal. . . . A number of differing views and emphases remain to be resolved, but we are encouraged to believe that further contacts will lead to further agreement between the Churches here represnted. We regard none of these remaining differences to be of sufficient consequence to prevent fellowship. We have recognized in each other's teachings a common understanding of the Gospel and have concluded that the issues which divided the two major branches of the Reformation can no longer be regarded as constituting obstacles to mutual understanding and fellowship."

Steps are now being taken to work out the practical implications of these discussions and agreements in relations among the several Churches of the Lutheran and Reformed traditions in North America.

7. Some of the most significant work of the Area between annual meetings is carried on by one Commission and two Committees.

(a) The Commission on Civil and Religious Liberty, chaired by the Reverend Professor Elwyn Smith of Temple University, produced a significant document last January dealing with contemporary issues before the Churches. It is recognized that some of the best work of the North American Area is done by this Commission, and the budget has been extended in order to facilitate the work of the Commission's Executive Committee between sessions of the Area Council.

(b) The Theological Committee, under the chairmanship of the Reverend Professor Allen O. Miller of Eden Theological Seminary, met in Princeton for two days in November and has met for two days prior to the convening of the Area Council. Professor Josef Hromadka of Prague was a guest of the Committee for one of its sessions in November. The Theological Committee has taken for its assignment during the next five years a study of the topic, "The Holy Spirit and Human Culture." This study will be divided into three parts: theology of the created world, theological methodology and Biblical hermeneutics as related to this study, and the work of the Holy Spirit in human culture.

(c) The Committee on Church Cultivation, under the chairmanship of the Reverend David G. Colwell, has had responsibility for the work of the Task Forces, and this Committee is also concerned with relations with other Presbyterian and Reformed groups that are not yet members of the World Alliance. The Reports of the Task Forces have been published in quantity under the title The Creator Spirit in Secular Society and are available to the public at $.25 per copy.

8. Special note should be made of the continuing membership of the United Church of Jamaica and Grand Cayman, and hearty congratulations are extended to our brethren in Jamaica who have completed this union.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES I. McCORD, North American Secretary

REPORT OF THE TRIENNIAL MEETING OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES, MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA, DECEMBER 4-9, 1966

At a meeting of the delegates to the meeting of the General Assembly of the Nation Council of Churches held in Miami Beach, Florida, December 4-9, 1967, Robert H. Bullock was asked to compile a composite report for the delegation. Each member of the delegation was asked to report his impressions in writing, but only three persons responded to this request. Therefore, this is for the most part the report of the person drafting the report.

The following persons were in attendance representing the Presbyterian Church, U. S.: Edward D. Grant, T. Watson Street, Marshall C. Dendy, Alexander Moffatt, John F. Anderson, Jr., Peyton N. Rhodes, Robert H. Bullock, Evelyn L. Green, James A. Millard, Jr., Albert C. Winn, Alex W. Hunter, Lawrence I. Stell, Charles L. King, H. Roe Bartle, Mrs. D. H. Freeman, Ross Hightower, Mrs. T. Smith Brewer. Mrs. E. R. Crawford and Richard Farnsworth, who had to return to his home because of illness before the meeting opened.

The delegation of the Presbyterian Church U. S. took a responsible role in the proceedings of the meeting and made valuable contributions to discussion and debate.

Comments on the meeting may be divided into three sections: (1) the business meetings of the General Assembly, (2) corporate worship, and (3) study.

1. The General Assembly adopted the message to the churches, which is included as an appendix to this report.

The General Assembly adopted numerous resolutions on many subjects including: Family Planning, the International Year For Human Rights, Dialogue Among the World's Religious Representatives, Southwest Africa and Its Bearing on Southern Africa, The World Food Crisis, Self Government for the Nation's Capital, National Economic Priorities and Equality of Opportunity, The Extension of the Christmas Cease-Fire in Vietnam, The Child Guidance Group in Mississippi, etc. Resolutions were sent to the President and the Secretary of State, expressing gratification at the election of U Thant for another term as General Secretary of the United Nations, and to U Thant, expressing profound gratitude at his decision to accept the office. By far the greatest amount of time was spent with the adoption of a paper entitled, An Appeal to the Churches Concerning Vietnam. This paper, which was adopted after a great amount of debate and a considerable amendment, speaks concerning the scope and importance of war, the need for flexibility and openness, the use of military power in Vietnam, the need for international responsibility in securing peace, the need for development and reconciliation, and calls for the churches to mount a major effort to expand their study, debate and action concerning these issues within their own constituencies and cooperatively. Though many issues were before the General Assembly, it was obvious that the greatest concern of the hour was the war in Vietnam.

In addition to actions dealing with issues before the church and the world the General Assembly dealt with matters pertaining to its internal organization of work, and heard reports of past accomplishments.

2. The corporate worship, led by Bishop Leslie Newbigen, was one of the most helpful features of the meeting. Five half-hour Bible study and worship periods focused the attention of the Assembly on John 17. Bishop Newbigen's recognized spiritual stature gave depth to the meeting of the Assembly.

3. All registrants at the meeting of the General Assembly were organized into seven Study Sections as follows: Crisis and Opportunity in Evangelism, The City: Problem and Promise, Science and the Humanization of Life, Sex, Marriage, and the Family, Strategies for the Next Stage in Civil Rights, Living in a Nationalistic and Pluralistic World, and Poverty, Affiuence, and Revolution.

It was obvious from the outset that major interest centered in the study section entitled, Crisis and Opportunity in Evangelism. The presence of Billy Graham and Colin Williams, representing two opposite poles of thinking about evangelism, brought the subject matter of this study section into focus. Much of the conversation between delegates outside the business sessions centered around the discussion of evangelism that was going on in the study section. Those responsible for planning the study program deliberately brought to the meeting two men who are giving their lives to evangelism, each in a radically different way. Each man had his followers, and the sharp controversy which was anticipated emerged as these two opposite points of view were developed. Billy Graham, who was present for two days, spoke first to the study section, and again the following day to some 2,500 persons at a luncheon meeting. Colin Williams spoke to the study section as did several others who are identified with his point of view. Billy Graham, following the traditional understanding of evangelism with its emphasis on individual salvation, received a broad sympathetic hearing from the rank and file of the delegates. Colin Williams and Willis E. Elliot, representing the 'new evangelism,' spoke for the community organization view of evangelism, with its emphasis on witness through social action and its goal of social salvation. They too were heard sympathetically by many who regard the traditional approach inadequate and ineffective in a space-age world.

Billy Graham, speaking from the point of view of the 'evangelicals,' confessed a tragic lack of social concern on the part of many who hold to the traditional understanding of evangelism, and called for all out social involvement of redeemed men. It seemed to this observer that Dr. Graham was seriously endeavoring to enter dialogue with those holding an opposite point of view, and to learn what he could from them. But there did not seem to be reciprocity in this matter of understanding so far as the other side was concerned. The community organization people seemed to reject a both-and approach to evangelism, insisting instead that persons must choose between the two poles of opinion. The attack of Willis E. Elliot on Billy Graham precipitated an immediate and angry rebuttal from the study section during the meeting at which he spoke. This was interpreted by Colin Williams the next day as an indication of immaturity on the part of those who were shocked and displeased with Elliot's somewhat tasteless attack on Billy Graham as the "chief scribe," a term of reproach in the setting of his speech. The program planners were successful in eliciting sharp debate and intense discussion concerning evangelism. It was the opinion of this observer that by and large the Assembly in general and the study section on evangelism in particular were unwilling to accept an either-or attitude. There seemed to be no inclination to abandon the preaching of the gospel and the concept of individual salvation. At the same time, the concern of the Assembly for witness through relevant social action and involvement in the problems of the world was everywhere evident. The widespreach discussion of evangelism both in and out of the study section was most helpful for persons of differing opinions.

The meeting of the General Assembly in Miami Beach, an embodiment of the idea of the "secular city," brought into focus the mission of the church to a society that has left God out of its structures and life. There was no retreat atmosphere in Miami Beach. The presence of the church in force in a completely secular climate was a significant witness in itself. As one of the delegates put it, "I felt that the Church was really in the 'world' there at Miami Beach." The individual at a meeting of the General Assembly encounters many points of view with which he cannot agree, and often finds himself voting the minority, but the over-all impression that one receives is distinctly on the positive side. One of the lay delegates wrote, "I can very clearly state that I found it (the meeting) one of the most challenging church experiences that I have ever had. I cannot help but think that my life as a churchman has been deeply enriched by this experience. I was greatly impressed with the Christian democratic system employed by the National Council of Churches. The complete freedom of discussion on all points showed real devotion on the part of the staff offices and the entire Assembly to the leadership of our denomination." Another delegate wrote, "Participation in the National Council of Churches has been a rich Christian experience for me."

MISSISSIPPI DELTA MINISTRY

Report of Evaluation Committee of the General Board of the National Council of Churches

EVALUATION

The proposed development of the Delta Ministry in Mississippi as stated February, 1964 by the General Board of the NCC:

That the project be developed along three lines:

A. A ministry of services of direct relief developed to relieve suffering. In some situations this will include assisting those eligible for relief, to secure relief or direct assistance to those in need who are not otherwise eligible for relief, the establishment of local instrumentalities to administer such services, and the development of remedial selfhelp programs such as the present cooperative projects of dressmaking.

B. A ministry of reconciliation and the securing of human dignity which would seek the following:

(1) assisting in the establishing of communication between the white and Negro communities,

(2) helping the people in drawing potential leadership from their midst, and helping such leaders acquire the knowledge and skills for competent and responsible leadership within the democratic setting of an American community,

(3) aiding the people in identifying their common problems, needs and concerns—especially those relating to their life and status as residents of the Mississippi Delta such as employment, welfare, housing, education, and legal matters,

(4) developing indigenous centers in each county which would assist in the process of literacy and fundamental education, manpower retraining, communications and planning. Such centers can become the focal point of the ministry in each county.

C. The Christian message calls the church to a ministry of service and reconciliation. It also calls men to use the gifts which God has given them through the process of a developing technological society so as to meet the needs of all men. A ministry of community development which will mobilize technical skills, scientific knowledge, economic resources, and public opinion to the end of developing an adequate base for livelihood is of the essence. Though not the first to be implemented, from the beginning this basic objective needs to be built into the planning.

The Delta Ministry was brought into being at a time when Mississippi was seething with racial hatred. At the time of the actual start of major operations, the memory of the murder of the three civil rights workers hung over all civil rights activity like the pall. The Delta Ministry staff had to start and continue its work for a long time in an atmosphere of suspicion, hatred and violence.

The Delta Ministry has become the number one civil rights organization in Mississippi; it has been the best financed; it has produced results far beyond the gross activity of other civil rights groups. It has brought hope to the poor Negro in Mississippi for whom the NAACP, The Church, The Federal Government and the local governments had offered no hope. It has caused commodity relief to be distributed in counties where it had not been distributed; it brought into being organizations which have Headstart Programs (with more than $7 million in less than a calendar year to be spent in Mississippi); it has kept the pressure on the Federal and State power establishments in such a way that they have had to act responsibly in the arena of civil rights, relief and to a degree, in education. They have served as a corrective to "administrative lawmakers," i.e., OEO officials who would have set up "separate but equal" programs or possibly all white programs to the exclusion of Negroes and as a corrective to State and City officials who might have otherwise ignored the poor Negroes. To the degree that they have focussed national attention on the problems of the poor, they have helped poor people all over the country. They have developed models of hope-producing organization for the poor which will be copied in many parts of the country, if not the world.

The Sub-Committees of the Evaluation Committee heard many criticisms from all kinds of people in Mississippi and elsewhere of the work of the Delta Ministry. Although some individual critics no doubt left their interview feeling they had not been fully heard, it is none the less a fact that Committees gave many many man hours to hearing Delta Ministry critics. The aggregate of negative criticisms do, indeed, reveal serious areas where adjustment is needed and these are dealt with below. Two other observations need to be made:

1. The kind of criticism, and the way in which it was expressed, itself gives evidence of the effectiveness of the Delta Ministry. Some of the most harsh critics felt compelled to admit that the Delta Ministry had laid hold of basic issues in a way that forced a new look at these issues in Mississippi. The subcommittees did not miss the point that largely because of the Delta Ministry's work, it was now possible for white and Negro sub-committee members to sit down at dinner at a public place in the Mississippi with white and Negro critics and discuss the most sensitive and central issues in the area of social, economic and political relationships.

2. The Evaluation Committee became aware that an event like the Delta Ministry must, of necessity pass through various stages of development and programming. The Committee believes that its work marks the end of the opening stage of the Delta Ministry. There is much to criticize, at the same time there is a definite quality of inevitability to the course the ministry has taken thus far, given its mandate and the intensely powerful social situation into which it entered. The committee feels that it would be irresponsible to cling to old strategies which may have been appropriate in the opening phase rather than making adjustments by which to move on to the next stage of programming.

In summary, a positive critique of the Delta Ministry could be stated as follows:

1. It has kept pressure on for social change and social justice in the closed, traditional Mississippi society;
2. It has ministered to a group (the very poor) with whom no one else has had a ministry;
3. It has forced the Church to reflect theologically and methodologically upon its condition and ministry;
4. It has brought into being important projects and organizations, i.e. Child Development Group of Mississippi, Delta Opportunity Corporation, Poor Peoples Corporation, etc.
5. It has been a sign of a sacrificial Christian Ministry;
6. It has caused relief to be brought to the poor.

A negative critique of the Delta Ministry could be stated as follows:

1. It has had poor communication and interpretation. Proceeding from the February 24, 1964 vote of the General Board concerning the Delta Ministry and the press announcements of that meeting (emanating from NCC offices), there has been a continuous difference between the interpretive statement and the actual fact of the ministry. There is clear evidence that the Delta Ministry or the D.C.L.M. have been less than candid with the constituency of the National Council of Churches about the Delta Ministry purposes, goals objectives and tactics.
2. At the beginning of the Ministry, there was little or no hope of establishing bridges of communication between the Delta Ministry and the white community. As the ministry became better known, feared, and respected in the Mississippi community, it became possible to establish some bridges, but the staff and the Commission have not been successful in this area. The Delta Ministry's total emphasis on the Negro poor has accentuated the cleavage between middle class Negroes and poor Negroes. The Delta Ministry has worked with those persons amenable to their leadership to the exclusion of those who desire to follow others or to take exception to some of the Delta Ministry program. In short, the effect has been that a poor Negro who does not follow the Delta Ministry staff line finds himself unable to maintain communication or a working relationship with the Delta Ministry.
3. At this time there seems to be some interest on the part of some white Mississippi churchmen to participate with the Delta Ministry in certain aspects of the program and projects. The staff and Commission has thus far offered no provision or encouragement for this to happen.
4. The evolving strategy of the Delta Ministry in the "New City" scheme has the potentaility of promoting racial separatism. It is essentially a program of "separate but equal" development.
5. There is a clear lack of definition of the policy function versus the staff function. Staff has operated in the policy making area. For example, the evidence is that the boycott of Mohasco Mills Products was called by the staff and only later endorsed by the appropriate policy making bodies of the NCC, if at all. Evidence suggests the same procedure was followed in the Greenville Air Force Base Live-In. The Delta Ministry Commission has shown evidence of being little more than a ratifier of staff decisions and actions.
6. Administration of the Delta Ministry has been inadequate. The Delta Ministry ran up a deficit of $161,416 to the end of 1965. It has spent at a rate in excess of $15,000 per month above its approved budget, or reasonable expectation of income for 1966. It spent 42% of its 1966 budget in the first three months of the year. Line administration from the DCLM has been inadequate.
7. Though the original mandate of the Delta Ministry called for programs of adult education and literacy training, little tangible progress can be found in this area.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EVALUATION COMMITTEE

1. That the Delta Ministry of the NCC be continued under its present name;
2. That the General Board of the National Council of Churches, through the Division of Christian Life and Mission compile the existing policies of the Council that are applicable to agencies like the Delta Ministry and take steps to formulate and enact such further policies as are necessary for the guidance of this type of ministry.
3. That the Division of Christian Life and Mission be instructed to determine and make a forthright statement of what the Delta Ministry is to do and communicate same to the constituency of the National Council of Churches.
4. That the following policies and objectives be adopted, compatible with the February, 1964 project description:
   a. That this continue to be a Ministry essentially with the dispossessed;
   b. That this be a Ministry also with other segments of the community (especially the white and middle-class Negro communities) to involve them in a ministry with the dispossessed, and in a reflective process concerning the social change that Mississippi society must undergo and concerning new responses to which God may be calling them.
   c. That this be a ministry involving programs of direct relief, programs of social change, and programs which deal effectively and constructively with basic programs such as literacy, civil rights, employability, etc.
   d. That this be a ministry which develops self-directed groups (like CDGM, DCC, etc.) for the purpose of meeting needs and implementing action projects, and that there be developed adequate policy for the establishment of any continuing relationships with such groups.
5. That the Delta Ministry Commission and staff be reconstituted as follows:
   a. 1. One-half of the membership of hte Commission be drawn from Mississippi. Preferably one-half of this number should be Negro and the other half white. The rest of the Commission membership should represent a broad geographic spectrum and include a variety of skills from the National Council of Churches member denominations.
      2. The Delta Ministry Commission should have a clear function spelled out for it. It should act as a responsible intermediate Board; staff should be accountable to it for program and to the Associate General Secretary for DCLM for administration.
   b. Staff of the Delta Ministry should be chosen for the job that the reconstituted ministry is to do—and that:
      1. In employing new staff, emphasis should be given to employing Negroes at the highest level of staff; and
      2. Emphasis should be given to employing people native to the State of Mississippi; and
      3. There should be vigorous recruitment of staff through the World Council of Churches with the hope that the churches around the world who want to contribute staff shall be able to do so.
6. That there be an administrative over-haul of the Delta Ministry, with particular reference to responsible financial control. Effective June 1, 1966 the monthly rate of expenditures should be reduced to approximately one-seventh of the total amount of money remaining to be spent of a total 1966 budget of $300,000. (This is above the estimated income for the year, but reflects the desire of the Evaluation Committee that the Delta Ministry be kept alive.)
7. That the headquarters of Delta Ministry be relocated, preferably to Jackson and that Delta Ministry staff live in the communities where they work;
8. That the Delta Ministry cease all operations except minmum maintenance operations at Mt. Beulah on or before July 1, 1966, and that staff assist in the relocation of the "poor" people now living at Mt. Beulah.

9. That the National Council of Churches authorize the DCLM and the DCE to appoint a task force to work with the U.C.M.S. and other appropriate church and non-church agencies to develop at Edwards, Mississippi an "Ecumenical Vocational University" as an adult educational and vocational institution. This should be entirely separated from the Delta Ministry and should operate with the Southern Christian Institute Charter which is still valid. Financing and staff for this project should be sought apart from the present Delta Ministry program. This program might be on a six-six-six basis:
—Six weeks to teach an adult a skill for which there is a market within the state or nearby states, and to help him get a job;
—Six months to teach an adult a skill and to teach him to read and certain other basics and help him get a job within the state or nearby states;
—Six years to teach an adult (with minimum prior preparation) through the course work necessary to secure a BA or BS degree, and help him get a job in the state or nearby state.

This Ecumenical, Vocational University should be integrated in staff and students. Students should be drawn from the very poor adults of Mississippi and of the deep South. The basic entrance requirement should be willingness to learn.
10. That the Evaluation Committee be discharged.

Action on Report of the Evaluation Committee on The Mississippi Delta Ministry by the General Board of the National Council of Churches

May 16, 1966

VOTED: that the report of the Evaluation Committee, together with its ten recommendations, be received by the General Board and referred through the Office of the General Secretary to the Division of Christian Life and Mission for consideration and implementation, with the understanding that the Program Board of DCLM be empowered in consultation with the General Secretary to determine the extent to which implementation should take place in the next six months and that a report be made to the General Board in December.
VOTED: that the General Board, affirming its confidence in the purposes and direction of the Delta Ministry, encourages the communions now participating in the support of the Delta Ministry to increase immediately their support of this Ministry and that the non-participating churches be urged immediately to become contributing participants in order that together the Protestant and Orthodox churches may fulfill their commitments to the people of the Mississippi Delta.
VOTED: to express high appreciation to the Evaluation Committee on the Mississippi Delta Ministry and grant its request that it be discharged.
VOTED: to request, in considering appropriate actions indicated by the Delta Ministry Evaluation, that immediate steps be taken to bring the Delta Ministry program and its related expenditures within available funds and firm assurances of support.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS ON THE DELTA MINISTRY

by
A Special Committee of the Council on Church and Society

I. The Request for the Council's Advice

At its initial meeting on September 21-23, 1966, the Council on Church and Society was requested by the Board of Church Extension to advise that Board as to how it should respond to a request from the National Council of Churches for funds for the Delta Ministry (hereafter, DM). The Board of Christian Education at its October 1966, meeting also requested the advice of the Council before acting on a 1967 budget request for funds for the DM.

Council Chairman R. P. Douglass appointed a Special Committee on the DM consisting of Dr. Joseph A. Norton, Chairman, Mr. J. M. Dabbs, and Dr. Wayne P. Todd, with the Rev. George A. Chauncey as staff person.

11. The Procedure of the Committee

In light of the recent work of the Evaluation Committee of the NCC, the Special Committee did not feel a need to conduct a detailed, independent, on-the-field study of the DM, The Special Committee did, however, study various documents on the DM, including some highly critical of it, and Dr. Norton, Dr. Todd, and Mr. Chauncey visited the DM on November 7-8, 1966. (Mr. Dabbs could not participate in this visit because of a prior commitment.)

The Committee visited Freedom City, near Greenville, and DM Headquarters at Mt. Beulah. It interviewed the Director and a few residents of Freedom City, talked three hours with five DM staff men in Greenville, and met and talked briefly with additional staff at Mt. Beulah. The Committee also attended a three-hour dialogue between the Rev. Robert Beech of the DM staff and twenty-five Mississippi Presbyterian pastors and laymen at a meeting arranged by Synod's Christian Education Committee, which cordially invited the Special Committee to attend.

111. Recent Actions by the N.C.C. General Board and Division of Christian Life and Mission

The Committee would report to the Council the following actions of the General Board and the Division of Christian Life and Mission of the N.C.C.:

At its meeting on June 2, 1966, the General Board of the N.C.C. received the report and recommendations of its Evaluation Committee on the DM and referred them to the Division of Christian Life and Mission for consideration and implementation. It also requested that immediate steps be taken to reduce DM expenditures to the level of available funds and firm assurances of support. At the same meeting it affirmed its confidence in the purposes and direction of the DM and called for greater financial support from the churches.

The Division of Christian Life and Mission, upon receiving the Evaluation Committee's report and recommendations from the General Board, took the following actions:

1. Money Raising: By appealing to denominations, foundations, and councils of churches, the Division made encouraging progress in overcoming the threatened deficit for 1966 and in moving toward the $300,000 budget level projected for 1967. (A financial statement is attached to this report).
2. Reduction of Expenditures: By establishing guidelines which called for a reduction of about 40% in monthly expenditures for the remainder of 1966 and by reducing DM staff, the Division effected the savings requested by the General Board.
3. Review of Goals: By adopting a new statement of goals, the Division clarified the purposes of DM. The new statement declares that the priority in the ministry must continue to be upon work with the dispossessed. With the dispossessed, the DM is to work for the relief of human needs, economic development, and the development of public (i.e., political) responsibility and educational maturity. Through and behind these particular goals the DM (and the whole church) is called to bring to man's awareness the total claim and promise of God upon our lives. The DM is also to work with other segments of the community (particularly with the white and middle-class Negro communities) though it is recognized that a ministry with the dispossessed (especially where these primarily are Negro) and with the white middle-class at the same time is extremely difficult.

4. Re-organization: The Division began the process of reorganizing the Commission on the DM in light of suggestions made by the Evaluation Committee. The reorganization is yet to be completed. Our Division of Church and Society, along with others, has been asked for nominations for membership on the Commission. The new Commission and its new Chairman will be recommended to the General Board at its first meeting in 1967.

These actions of the Division were reported to the General Board at its meeting on December 2, 1966. The General Board voted to "endorse the report of the Division of Christian Life and Mission on the Delta Ministry, commending the efforts of the Division's Executive Committee, the Commission on the Delta Ministry, and staff in carrying out the General Board mandate of June regarding the Delta Ministry commending the communions, individuals and foundations for their financial support, and finally commending the Delta Ministry for its continuing fiancial ad moral support."

IV. Evaluation

1. We call to the attention of the Council the following statement by the Evaluation Committee of the NCC: (See Report of NCC Evaluation Committee.)

Our examination was not nearly so extensive as that of Evaluation Committee of the N.C.C. but on the basis of our study and visit to the DM, we have no reason not to concur in this endorsement and ample reason to concur in it. Therefore, we join the N.C.C. Committee in its commendation of the DM.

2. We deeply appreciate the way in which the Division of Christian Life and Mission has responded to criticisms of the Delta Ministry. Many criticisms have been unjust. Others have taken into sufficient account the unprecedented character of this type of ministry and the inevitability of mistakes as new ventures are tried. Yet the Division has carefully listened to all criticisms. In recent months, budget control processes have been tightened, expenditures have been reduced, new funds have been raised, goals have been clarified, and the Commission is being reorganized. This corrective action clearly indicates an openness on the part of the Division to valid criticism and a determination to engage in this new sort of ministry responsibly. Because actions of the Division, we join the General Board of the National Council of Churches in commending it.

3. We were very favorably impressed with the character and spirit of the DM staff we met. We realize that our encounter with the DM staff was so brief that it is possible for us to have only an impression, but the impression we have is that these staff persons are deeply committed Christian ministers and laymen engaged in a profoundly Christian ministry.

4. We note with pleasure that along with the various changes referred to above, there is a new determination on the part of the DM to communicate with white churchmen in Mississippi and a new openness on the part of some white churchmen to the DM. As noted above, it was our privilege to attend a three-hour dialogue arranged by Synod's Christian Education Committee between Mr. Beech of the DM staff and twenty-five Presbyterian ministers and laymen in Jackson on November 7. In that dialogue, Mr. Beech interpreted the history, purpose, and policies of the DM, listened to various criticisms of it, and answered numerous questions about its activities. A number of the Presbyterians there expressed a desire to get on the DM mailing list, and the meeting has been followed up by individual contacts between DM staff and local Presbyterian leaders. A similar new relationship has been established between the DM staff and local leaders of other denominations.

5. We note with pleasure also that the DM has become increasingly mindful of the responsibility of the church to witness in word as well as in deed. The DM has been mindful of this responsibility from its inception, and DM staff members have often preached in (Negro) churches, conducted church school classes, and witnessed in personal conversation. However, the basic witness of the DM thus far, by deliberate intention of the NCC, has been the witness of the deed. The DM was created by the Churches primarily as a ministry to the dispossessed. It has concentrated on the relief of human need, economic development, the development of political responsibility, and educational maturity. We believe that this witness of the deed is an urgently needed, profoundly Christian, and genuinely evangelistic witness. However, we rejoice that in the clarification of the goals of the DM, the National Council has declared that > "... through and behind these particular goals which are the framework of our human existence, the church is called to bring to man's awareness the total claim and promise of God upon our lives. God's purpose penetrates all these realms; and for that reason we must serve men's needs in all these realms. But God's purposes over-arches all these realms; and for that reason we are called to summon men to know that God's Kingdom is near and that they are invited to enter. To speak of the Kingdom without involving ourselves in the depths of human need is a mockery. To involve ourselves in those needs without maintaining an awareness of the Kingdom that stands behind them is shallowness. Our witness is not to men's need; but to Christ as the servant and saviour of men in their needs."

6. Finally, we note with shame for ourselves and our denomination that the Presbyterian Church, U.S. has been conspicuous in the paucity of its support for the DM. The figures cited in the Financial Report show the comparison of our giving with that of other major Churches in America. We would further call to the attention of the Council that the Christian Council of East Asia with a gift of $1,000, and the Evangelical Church in Cameroon, with a gift of $680, have each contributed more to the work of the DM in Mississippi than has the Presbyterian Church, U.S.!

WORLD COUNCIL OF CHURCHES
New York Office—1966 Report

The election of Dr. Eugene Carson Blake as general secretary of the World Council of Churches was a major news event in 1966. An American, Dr. Blake assumed office December 1, following the retirement of Dr. Willem A. Visser 't Hooft, the Dutch theologian who had been at the helm of the ecumenical body since it was formed in 1948.

As he took office, Dr. Blake cited three areas of immediate importance to the World Council of Churches:

—The first involved making the Council truly ecumenical. "Since 1961 almost all Orthodox churches have been members of the Council, but it is still Western with a bit of Oriental embroidery."

—The second concerns the relationship arising out of Vatican II. "At the world level I would guess there are many things on which we need studies that are totally Christian rather than either WCC or Roman Catholic," Dr. Blake said. One example is peace. He spoke of the distinct necessity for the two groups to study the problem together if at all possible.

—In the third place the Church and the Council are trying to get into the world in a relevant way with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. "The Church must get out of itself and into the world," Dr. Blake stated.

PROGRESS WITH ROME

Relations with Roman Catholics moved forward significantly during 1966. An ecumenical first occurred in February when the Central Committee authorized the World Council to coordinate its relief programs with those of Roman Catholic agencies for famine victims in India and Africa. This action followed a conference of WCC and Roman Catholic representatives to explore possible ways in which they might extend a joint ministry of service to those in need.

During its second year of operation, the Roman Catholic-WCC Joint Working Group covered some rather impressive ground. It established a special theological commission to study the general theme of "catholicity and apostolicity," the fundamental issue that continually arises in the dialogue between the Roman Catholic Chruch and member churches of the WCC.

A second commission was set up to study the nature and task of ecumenism, and a third commission will deal with the question of proselytism in the light of the churches' obligation to witness, also, the principles of religious liberty and of the common ecumenical task.

A sub-committee on mixed marriages will soon begin its work. Dr. Lukas Vischer, director of the WCC's Commission on Faith and Order, recently said that the problem of mixed marriages arises not only between the Roman Catholic Churches and the WCC as a whole, but also between the Catholic Church and the separate confessional bodies. The sub-commission will have the extremely important task of coordinating the separate conversations and collecting information on their points of agreement.

The Joint Working Group was organized in 1965 with 14 members. Eight persons represent the WCC; six represent the Roman Catholic Church.

NEW DAY AHEAD?

The World Conference on Church and Society ran like a thread through the fabric of World Council activity and program in 1966. Rated one of the most important Protestant events of the year, it brought together some 400 participants, observers, guests and consultants from 70 countries, more than two-thirds were laymen from 31 professions. Half had never attended an ecumenical meeting before, almost half came from the emerging nations. As a result, the familiar East-West tensions were replaced by something even more traumatic—the steady plea for social and economic justice while there is still time.

For two weeks conferees from widely varying cultures and careers grappled with many facets of three basic issues: 1) modern technology and how best to use it to contribute to human liberation, economic well being and social justice; 2) the need for accelerated development in Asia, Africa and Latin America, and for fundamental changes in the relationship between those countries and the advanced industrial nations; and 3) the struggle for world peace.

Although conferees voted down a statement "condemning" the war in Vietnam in favor of a revision that termed it "not morally justified," they emphatically called for "an end to the military conflict" in that Asian land and urged that solutions be found for "those explosive situations, especially in South Africa, which would provide occasions for new wars."

It is important to note that the Church and Society Conference was speaking to and not for the World Council of Churches and its member churches. Recommendations and information from the conference will serve as background material for the WCC's Fourth Assembly in Sweden in 1968.

INTER-CHURCH AID FOR A NEW DAY

Disturbing questions on social and economic justice raised at the Church and Society Conference and elsewhere during 1966 are having far-reaching effects on the future direction of the World Council's relief and rehabilitation services. The entire program of the Council's Division of Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service for the coming years will be reevaluated in relation to the tension between the relief of immediate need and the obligation to get at the root causes of need that lie in the economic and social structures of society in addition to the economic and trade policies of western nations. While it is important not only to continue, but to intensify aid programs, the demand for social and economic justice and development will continue to loom large in the formation of Inter-Church Aid policy in the next few years.

Another significant corner was turned during 1966, this time in the Refugee Program, originally set up to serve post-war Europe. Although the majority of persons helped last year did come from Europe, the refugee centers of gravity are moving to other continents. It is estimated that there are some six million refugees in Asia, a million in Africa and a quarter-million in Latin America. The Division of Inter-Church Aid, therefore, took measures during the year to restructure the WCC's Refugee Program to enable it to cope with new world-wide developments.

Total askings for the year under the 1966 Project List amounted to $17,533,177. At year-end it was expected that about 60% of this total would be met.

WORLD MISSION AND EVANGELISM IN 1966

Urban and Industrial Mission is one of the dramatice areas of world ministry. Urban specialists in Europe and North America are being brought into fruitful relationship with people engaged in Christian mission in the urban complexes of Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The Council's Division of World Mission and Evangelism is in contact with over 60 projects in urban and industrial mission in all six continents. Three major regional consultations were held in 1966—an Asia conference at Kyoto, Japan in May, one for Western Europe at Bad Boll, Germany in October and another for Latin America in Buenos Aires in December.

In connection with the Christian approach to the non-Christian faiths, the Division held a small consultation on Christian-Muslim relationships at Brummana, near Beirut, Lebanon in June. The meeting drew special attention to the needs of Muslim immigrants in the West, and suggested that Study Centers cooperating with the WCC in different parts of the world engage Christians and Muslims in discussion and joint participation in matters of common concern.

STAFF APPOINTMENTS

The Rev. Philip Potter, secretary for West Africa and the Caribbean for the Methodist Missionary Society in London, was named director of the Division of World Mission and Evangelism and WCC associate general secretary, effective January 1, 1967. The Rev. Robbins Strong and then the Rev. Alan Brash were acting directors during 1966. Mr. Potter is a native of Dominica, an island in the British West Indies. He is a former executive secretary of the Youth Department of the World Council of Churches. In his new position, he will succeed the Rt. Rev. Lesslie Newbigin who returned to the church of South India as Bishop of Madras in October, 1965.

Archpriest Vitaly Borovoy, representative of the Moscow Patriarchate of the Orthodox Church of Russia to the World Council of Churches, became the first Russian Orthodox named to the staff of the WCC. He has been associate director of the Faith and Order Department since August.

Dr. Nikos Nissiotis became director of the WCC's Ecumenical Institute and dean of the Graduate School of Ecumenical Studies at the Chateau de Bossey, near Geneva. A Greek Orthodox lay theologian, Dr. Nissiotis was formerly an associate director of the Institute and a professor at the Graduate School. He assumed his new post in August.

Also in August, Dr. Joseph C. Webber joined the Ecumenical Institute as assistant director. Dr. Weber is an American Methodist theologian who was formerly associate professor of New Testament at the Methodist Theological School in Ohio.

Dr. Philip A. Johnson became associate executive secretary of the World Council of Churches in the United States in June. Prior to that he was executive secretary of the Division of Public Relations of the National Lutheran Council since 1958.

AHEAD IN 1967

January, 1967 will be the first publication date of the study booklet to prepare the churches for the Fourth Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Uppsala, Sweden, July 4-20, 1968.

The booklet will be issued by the WCC in French, German and English editions, and published in more than 30 languages by council of churches around the world. The English edition is expected to be ready for distribution in February.

Preparations for the Assembly, already under way, will move into high gear during 1967. Assembly matters will be the main order of business when the 110-member Central Committee meets on the Island of Crete, August 15-27, 1967.

"Behold, I Make All Things New" is the theme of the Assembly that is expected to have some 1,000 participants from throughout the world. The international gathering will have six sections dealing with a new style of Christian living, the Churches' unity in a shrinking world, the Church in mission, the Churches' role in social change, the Churches' role in international relations and the worship of God in a secular age.

Several regional and national councils of churches are planning follow-up conferences to the World Conference on Church and Society during 1967. The British Council of Churches is sponsoring "Man in Contemporary Society," March 28-April 4, at the University of Keele, England. The East Asia Christian Conference will hold its sessions October 10-18, in Korea. The U.S. Conference on Church and Society, planned by the Division of Christian Life and Mission of the National Council of Churches will meet in Detroit, October 22-26.

The next meeting of the Roman Catholic-World Council of Churches Joint Working Group will take place in May, 1967 in Italy. At this time a second progress report will be submitted to the parent bodies of the Group—Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity and the World Council of Churches.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT THEOLOGICAL COMMITTEE

(For action upon this report see page 102.)

The Permanent Theological Committee has held three meetings during the past year: June 9-10, 1966; November 25-26, 1966; and January 27-28, 1967.

Priority was given at the first meeting to implementing the following recommendation adopted by the 1966 General Assembly:

> "That the General Assembly encourage Presbyteries to study the proposed Confession of 1967 and accompanying Confessions of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and the Confessional Documents of the Reformed Church in American and the Presbyterian Church, U.S. Also, that the Assembly request the Permanent Theological Committee to seek to provide guidelines for the study of the above confessions through the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY."

Guidelines have been provided through the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY (October, 1966, pages 40-41) and also sent directly to the Stated Clerks of all presbyteries. Your committee would recommend that presbyteries and local congregations continue the study of the confessional documents of our sister communions, the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and the Reformed Church in America, and that this be done in connection with our own confessional documents.

During the year the Theological Committee continued its work on a remit from the 1965 General Assembly wherein the Committee was asked "to make a special study of the theological and ethical principles in American funeral customs and practices with the purpose of giving guidance to our people in these matters." The Committee has now completed its study and prepared a guide. See the paper that follows this report (attention is also called to the report of this Committee to the 1966 General Assembly wherein some preliminary guidance was given). The Committee hopes that this paper will be of genuine help to the Church at large.

Last year it was reported to the General Assembly that work was being done by the Theological Committee on some recent trends in theology. In connection with this, the Committee, at its November meeting, agreed to report the following to the 1967 General Assembly:

> "The Committee reported to last year's Assembly that work was being done on the so-called 'God is dead' theology. We wish to call attention to an informative pamphlet by Prof. J. Rodman Williams entitled, 'Theology in Transition—and the Death of God,' which is available upon request from the office of the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly."

Because of the press of other matters, the Committee has not been able to move further in its study of recent trends in theology.

Much time has been devoted to a remit from the 1966 General Assembly asking the Committee "to make a special study of the body of ideas being put forth in association with the title, 'The New Morality,' to evaluate it in the light of Scripture, and to publish a positive and definitive statement of Christian moral and ethical standards and values for life in our contemporary world." Preliminary study papers have been discussed carefully at both the November and January meetings. The Committee, however, feels that further work is necessary, and looks forward to having a completed report for the 1968 General Assembly.

The Theological Committee likewise reports progress on the following action of the 1966 General Assembly:

"In the light of the study now being made by the Permanent Theological Committee on 'The Biblical and Reformed basis of the diversified ministries of the whole Church, especially concerning the ordination of the Ruling and Teaching Elders, etc.,' that the General Assembly instruct the Permanent Theological Committee to include in this study the role and responsibility of the laity in accomplishing the mission of the Church in these critical times."

The Committee for some time has been engaged in a study of "diversified ministries"—several preliminary papers having been prepared. Along with the inclusion of a study on the role and responsibility of the laity, the Committee intends to submit a completed report to the 1968 General Assembly.

In reply to a communication from the chairman of the Theological Committee of the North American Area Council of the World Reformed Alliance requesting that each member denomination send at least one representative to the annual November meeting of the Committee, the Theological Committee designated its chairman to represent the Committee at that meeting. This larger participation in theological endeavor, it is hoped, will add to the fruitfulness of the Theological Committee's work.

The Theological Committee finally expresses its appreciation to the General Assembly for two actions taken in 1966 that should improve the work of the Committee: first, amending the Committee manual so that members may have two consecutive terms of service, and, second, the addition of a Standing Committee on Theology to receive the annual report of this Committee and to present it to the General Assembly. We believe that these actions are in the direction of increasing theological thoroughness and larger interest.

Respectfully submitted,
J. RODMAN WILLIAMS, Chairman

DEATH AND FUNERAL PRACTICES

The 1965 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., responding to an overture from the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri, asked the Permanent Theological Committee "to make a special study of the theological and ethical principles in American funeral customs and practices with the purpose of giving guidance of our people in these matters." (Minutes, 1965, p. 76f.). In its report to the 1966 General Assembly the Permanent Theological Committee informed the Assembly that it was engaged in a study of the theological issues involved in death and funeral practices but requested that if the Assembly wished a practical manual for Presbyterian funerals it refers this to an ad interim committee. The present paper is primarily concerned with the theological meaning of death and its implication for funeral practices.

The Confusion in Funeral Practices

The action of the General Assembly in asking for this study highlights the confusion that exists in American culture today concerning funeral customs and practices. The confusion can be traced to a number of factors.

One of the factors causing confusion is the presence of cultural folkways in funeral practices. Each locale is inclined to have its own peculiar views about the funeral. Customs range from emotionalism in the funeral service to insistence on eulogizing the deceased and to excessive attention and attachment to the body and the place of burial. Local and family traditions tend to perpetuate themselves. They are not easily changed. An individual minister may resist them, but his efforts are not likely to be effective unless they are supported by others (e.g., the Session of the Church) and continued by him or his successors over a period of time.

The confusion in funeral practices is also partly due to the change that is taking place in patterns of American family and community life. Families are mobile. Community life is fragmented. At the time of death the bereaved are in a situation different from that faced by their forebears: friends and relatives are more scattered; neighborhoods are more impersonal and unresponsive; to make arrangements the bereaved must deal more with a funeral establishment than with a church; and cemeteries are more likely to be strange and distant places, no longer the familiar plot beside the family church. All of these factors make for less community support to the bereaved. To some extent they challenge the local and family customs mentioned above, but offer no consistent patterns in their place. The confusion increases as urbanization spreads and more and more changes occur in family and community life.

Another factor that has caused confusion has been the growth of the funeral industry itself. This growth has been occasioned in part by population increases and a consequent rise in the number of deaths and funerals. It has also been occasioned by an increase in the goods and services offered to the public by the funeral industry. The number of goods and services and their financial costs (often exorbitant) have contributed to the complexities that confront the bereaved.

Of course, at its deepest level the confusion is rooted in the uncertainty that human beings have always felt in the face of death. It seems that the basic human emotions reach their consummation in confrontation with death. Death is usually a time of fear, doubt, anxiety, anguish. None of these moods is conducive to rational, orderly planning and decision. Uncertainty about death itself inevitably leads to uncertainty as to what to do at the time of death. It is obvious that funeral practices have often included elements of magic, superstition, and unreasoning fear. Confusion seems inherent in man's attempt to cope with the meaning of death.

It is true that many people give no conscious and deliberate thought to the matter of death. Some seem to ignore death in placid manner. Others avoid it but struggle to repress their fears and doubts. But whether avoided or faced, the ultimate questions death gathers about itself are theological.

If funeral customs and practices can be considered in the context of theological teaching and insight, the Church will be better equipped to lead in establishing funeral patterns that are consonant with Christian faith. Theological understanding is especially needed in two areas: (1) the meaning of death in Christian faith; and (2) the ministry of the Church at time of death.

I. The Meaning of Death in Christian Faith

Death is the cessation of physical life, but it is more: it involves the whole person in all of his faculties of body, mind, and spirit. It is more than physical fact. At death man's body ceases to function, as do the bodies of all living things. But man's problem with death is that he knows that he must die. This knowledge makes death a concern for the whole man, mind and spirit as well as body. Man faces the knowledge of his death. He asks what it means to die. In what manner does Christian theology answer the question about the meaning of death?

It is the Biblical teaching that man is a sinner. The condition of human sinfulness is often portrayed as one of spiritual death, with the spiritual dimension touching all aspects of man's existence. Jesus warns his followers against those who kill the soul (Matt. 10:28). The apostle Paul speaks of sin working through the law and effecting death in him (Ro. 7:9-11). He describes the former condition of Christians as one of death—"dead through trespasses and sins." (Eph. 2:1). According to the first letter of John those who do not love remain in death (I Jn. 3:14). Sin makes life a living death, a spiritual condition of alienation from God and his righteousness, from neighbor, and from self.

Death is regarded in Scripture as the consequence of sin. This may be seen in sweeping perspective from the Biblical teaching that the whole of the natural order of creation has been corrupted by man's turning from God. Thus, in Genesis (3:16-19) the curse touches the natural order as well as the individual lives of Adam and Eve; the prophets envision the restoration of harmony and perfection to nature (Isa. 11:1-9, 17-25); the Apostle Paul sees the whole of creation eagerly longing for its triumphal consummation (Ro. 8:19-23); and the book of Revelation foresees the new heaven and the new earth when there shall be no more death (Rev. 21:4). This connection between the presence of sin and the presence of death in the world is more specifically seen in such a passage as Romans 5:12-14, where Paul traces the empirical fact of death to the entry of sin in the world. The man Adam, through his sin and that of his descendants, is the means by which all men become subject to death (cf. I Cor. 15:21-22). Commenting on the passage in Romans, Gerald Cragg says, "Sin introduced into man's life a principle of decay, and death was its outward result."[1]

The Westminister Standards also emphasize the connection between sin and death. The Confession of Faith indicates that sin (original and actual) brings guilt upon the sinner and makes him "subject to death." (VI, 6). According to the Shorter Catechism death is one of the results of the fall (Ques. 19) and according to the Larger Catechism it is one of the punishments of sin (Ques. 28). Man's mortality is a consequence of sin.

It would be incorrect to press this relationship between sin and death into a full rationale for the presence of suffering and death in the world. Also, it would be incorrect to press for this relationship in each individual situation of suffering. Jesus' own passion and death deny such a conclusion. On one occasion Jesus was presented with a man born blind and was asked, "Who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?" (Jn. 9:2). Jesus refused to relate this particular man's suffering to sin. The attempt to relate suffering and death to sin in indivdual cases breaks down because of the corporate character of man, the social nature of sin, and the final mystery of suffering and death.

With the death and resurrection of Christ, the situation of sin and death in universal, human, and individual history is radically altered. There are universal, or cosmic, dimensions, for he is the one "for whom and by whom all things exist." (Heb. 2:10.) Raised from the dead, he is "far above all rule and authority and power and dominion" (Eph. 1:21)—including sin and death. Even all of human history is affected. Through the Incarnation God lives in human history under the conditions of sin and death and triumph over these conditions. Thereafter the life of God is changed, not in content, but in form; and the life of man is changed in both content and form. Individual human history is also radically altered as the believer participates in the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. The Apostle Paul speaks of being baptized into Jesus' death (Ro. 6:4). He sees his labors and sufferings as "carrying in the body the death of Jesus." (II Cor. 4:10). He speaks of "being crucified with Christ." (Gal. 2:20). This sharing in Christ's death is variously represented: as a dying to sin (Ro. 6:11), as a dying to law (Ro. 7:4), as a dying to the world and to self (Gal. 6:14). The dying is also a release, and its concomitant experience is a sharing in Christ's resurrection, the receiving of life and power (Ro. 6:5-11, Phil. 3:10-11).

It may seem that, with sin forgiven and the "sting" of death removed, actual death would also be removed. This, however, does not take place: forgiven man is still a sinner and still lives in a sinful world. Forgiven man is not infinite; he is limited. He is not immortal; he dies. Actual physical death remains.

Oscar Cullmann has pointed out the contrast between the Greek (dualistic) approach and the Christian (unitary) approach to man and death.[2] In the Platonic tradition there was a clear division and opposition in man between body and soul. The body was visible, evil, and mortal; the soul was invisible, good and immortal. As it was the natural thing for the body to perish at death, so it was the natural thing for the soul to survive at death. But in the Christian approach man is a unity of body and soul. Both are the creation of God; as such they are good. Both are subject to sin; as such they become evil. Both are dependent upon the grace of God in resurrecting power; as such they live. If there is any dualism in the Christian approach, it is not between body and soul, but between the physical body and the resurrection body. Between these two there is a continuity but also an element of discontinuity. The physical body is perishable (I Cor. 15:42), is mortal (I Cor. 15:55), and is composed of flesh and blood that cannot inherit the kingdom of God (I Cor. 15:50). The resurrection body is spiritual (I Cor. 15:44), imperishable (I Cor. 15:42), and immortal (I Cor. 15:53). There is difficulty in understanding the Pauline term, "spiritual body," although it is reasonable to conclude that this term is meant to refer to the total human being in both of his aspects of spirit and form. The physical body returns to dust (Gen. 3:19); however, it is the form of man and as such participates in the transforming power of the resurrection.

For Christian faith, the meaning of death is found as it is approached from "the other side," that is from the standpoint of the resurrection of Christ. This is the event that made the difference for the first disciples. To them Jesus' death was a devastating experience. With their Master martyred, death would be victor. But the one who died and was buried was raised on the third day (I Cor. 15: 3, 4)—

> But God raised him up, having loosed the pangs of death, because it was not possible for him to be held by it. (Acts 2:24.)

Jesus' resurrection and his risen presence among the disciples prepared the way for Pentecost and for the preaching of the Church's faith. His resurrection is the substantive event of faith; without it faith and proclamation would both be vain (I Cor. 15:14). Through his participation in the resurrection of Christ in dynamic (the life-giving power of the Spirit) and in form (the full manhood of Christ) the believer is transformed into the image of the "man of heaven." (I Cor. 15:48).

The basic movement of the Christian life, then, is within the polarity of death and resurrection. The believer experiences death—in Paul's terms, the "outer nature is wasting away." (II Cor. 4:16). The believer also experiences resurrection-life—the "inner nature is being renewed every day." (II Cor. 4:16.) This polarity is not reserved only for actual physical death. It is present experience: "For while we live we are always being given up to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh." (II Cor. 4:11). Without the gift of life through resurrection, the believer would be destroyed.

[2]Oscar Cullman, Immortality of the Soul or Resuurection of the Dead? (New York: The MacMillan Company, 1958), p. 30ff.

> We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. (II Cor. 4:8-10)

The destructive forces at work, implicit in life and explicit in actual death, are overcome in Christ, the "resurrection and the life." (Jn. 11:25). According to the letter to the Hebrews, Jesus Christ shared human nature for this very purpose, "that through death he might destroy him who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and deliver all those who through fear of death were subject to lifelong bondage." (Heb. 2:14b-15). According to Irenaeus, the purpose of Christ's coming was "that he might destroy sin, overcome death, and give life to man."[3]

The destructive forces at work in death that are overcome by Christ manifest themselves in sin and guilt, in loss, and in human finitude. These topics will be dealt with separately.

(1) Sin and guilt together constitute the most devastating power in death. The Fourth Gospel records the comment of Jesus to the Jews that they would die "in" their sins (Jn. 8:21-24). Man dies "in Adam" (I Cor. 15:22), that is, because he is involved in the universal Adamic condition of sin, guilt, and separation. The terror of death is that it has the power to pass the sentence of finality on this condition. "It is appointed for men to die once, and after that comes judgment." (Heb. 9:27.) Death may be feared because it is so strange and unknown. Or it may be feared because it is likely to be accompanied by bodily suffering. But the fear of death stems most of all not from the unknown or from suffering, but from sin and judgment. This is because man in death does not deal simply with a fact of biological existence. He deals with God who is his Righteous Judge. It is a recognition of God as Judge that arises in bereavement, where feelings of remorse and guilt are often brought to the fore. Sin constitutes the "sting" of death (I Cor. 15:55-56).

Christian faith speaks directly to this destructive power in death through its message of reconciliation and forgiveness: "God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them." (II Cor. 5:19). In man's response to the appeal of the Gospel, he is forgiven and reconciled. He enters a new relationship to God, to himself, to his fellow man and to nature. Sin is forgiven, guilt is removed, fellowship is restored. The believer still faces actual death, but he now faces it "in Christ." God the Righteous Judge is none other than God the Savior and Redeemer: this is the basis for confidence in the face of death.

(2) A further destructive power at work in death is manifest in the realization of loss. This may be for some death's most poignant side. When a person dies, family and friends are stricken by the awareness of loss. Death is a real, not an imagined, loss. The reality of death as loss is obscured by the human imagination when it entertains vague notions about the deceased "continuing" to live as though nothing had really happened to him. The theory of "natural" immortality regards death as a mere farewell to the body and as an entry of the soul into a new state that is its own by inherent necessity. Death as loss is minimized whenever it is thought that life inevitably "goes on" either in history in the lives of others or beyond history in some dim after-world. Christian faith accepts and does not deny the reality of death as loss. Jesus, learning of Lazarus' death and seeing the sorrow of Mary, was "deeply moved in spirit and troubled," then wept (Jn. 11:33ff.). Shock, numbness, loneliness and grief are typical responses to death. It is true that the intensity of the loss will vary depending on the strength of the relationship between the bereaved and the one who has died and on the conditions in which death occurs; however, the meaning of death as loss remains, touching life with sorrow and grief.

Death as loss is conquered through Jesus Christ, who is the source of the believer's "living hope." (I Pet. 1:3.) Christian faith again moves within the polarity of death and resurrection. Death is real loss; yet those who die are made alive in Christ. They live, not by reason of "natural" immortality, but by the act of God in resurrection power. In union with Christ and with all who are in Christ death as loss is overcome.

(3) A third destructive force at work in death is the sense that it brings of finitude. Death as an aspect of finitude is implicitly present in all of life, realized in the awareness of transiency, in the change and decay that are present in all human accomplishment, in moods of depression and sorrow, and in bodily suffering. Death makes its appearance during the course of life as well as at its conclusion. It always points to man's subjection to the categories of finitude such as time, space, and motion. The rival claims that are inherent in finite conditions tug at man's thoughts, loyalties, and affections, some pulling him one way, some the other.

[3]Irenaeus, Adv. Haer., III., 18.7., quoted by Gustaf Aulen in Christus Victor (New York; The MacMillan Co., 1937) p. 35.

Jesus saw the seriousness of these claims, and his words about the impossibility of serving two masters (Mt. 6:24) are spoken against the background of human finitude. Although the doctrine of creation forbids the simple identification of finitude and sinfulness, man reacts to his finitude in a sinful manner. He wishes to throw off his finitude and become "like God." (Gen. 3:5.) Thus, finitude becomes a curse for man; his existence is fragmented, and his unity and wholeness is lost. In the context of such a condition death stands as the sign of divine judgment.

Throughout scripture, however, there is a frank acceptance of human finitude and mortality: "The Bible never for one moment allows men to forget their mortality; man is akin to God, he is 'visited' by God, yet he differs from God in that he shares their mortality with the beasts that perish" (Ps. 144.3f).[4] Wisdom consists in recognizing the brevity and transiency of life. The Psalmist prays: "Lord, let me know my end, and what is the measure of my days; let me know how fleeting my life is!" (Ps. 34:4). Man is part of the created order of things: as a part of creation he lives and as a part of creation he dies. His whole existence is one of frailty and impermanence (Ps. 90:5-6, 103:15-16, 144:4, Eccles. 1:4, Isa. 40:6, 7, James 4:14, etc.). Though death may be called man's enemy (I Cor. 15:26), it also serves as a legitimate reminder to man that he is not God.

While in no way denying finitude and death, Christian faith finds victory over them in the power of the resurrection. The believer shares in this power (Phil. 3:10). He has eternal life; he has passed from death to life (Jn. 5:24). Life triumphs. The divisions that arise under finite conditions no longer have the power to tear life apart. Much of the fragmentary nature of life does remain in the believer's existence, still seen and still felt. However, the fragments are no longer isolated; they are bound together in the fabric of eternal life. The believer finds unity and wholeness in the new relationship that he has to God through Christ.

The destructive forces at work in death-manifest in sin and guilt, loss, and human finitude-make death a threatening experience to man. Death is man's enemy (I Cor. 15:26). It is marked by terrors (Ps. 55:4), by bitterness (I Sam. 15:32, Eccles. 7:26), and suffering (Heb. 2:9). It is opposed to life: death is evil, life is good (Deut. 30:19). There is no Biblical support for the view that death is a welcome escape from life. Passages that voice the mood of despair over life and the wish for death (e.g., Job 3:3, 10:1; I Ki. 19:4) are not numerous. In Scripture there is a realistic facing of the horror and terror of death. Oscar Cullman has contrasted the view of death in Greek thought, epitomized in Socrates' philosophical drinking of the hemlock, and the view of death in Hebrew thought, epitomized in the agony of Jesus' crucifixion:

> With sublime calm Socrates drinks the hemlock: but Jesus (thus says the Evangelist, Mark 15:34—we dare not gloss over it) cries: 'My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?' And with another inarticulate cry He dies (Mark 15:37). This is not 'death as a friend.' This is death in all of its frightful horror. This is really 'the last enemy' of God.[5]

The contrast in the manner in which Socrates and Jesus face death is heightened by the effects of death in the two cases: after death by hemlock, Socrates' body is intact; after death by crucifixion, Jesus' body is broken, his blood shed.[6] A calmness did come to Jesus in his death, and is reflected in his words, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!" (Luke 23:46). This calmness did not come from avoiding the terror and horror of death. It came as Jesus faced death with faith in God his Father—a faith validated in the resurrection. The resurrection of Jesus Christ signals the Christian victory over death. Christian theology then approaches death with both realism and hope. It is realistic about finitude and death. Yet it does not yield to pessimism; it affirms eternal life. It is realistic about sin and death. Yet it does not yield to guilt; it affirms the forgiveness of sins. It is realistic about loss and death. Yet it does not surrender to despair; it affirms a living hope. Indeed, the honesty of faith's realism is made possible by the vitality of its hope.

As Christian faith looks at death in terms of the cross and resurrection of Jesus Christ, so the Christian funeral must deal with death in terms of honest realism and lively hope. We turn now to consider the ways in which the Church, past and present, has dealt with death and the funeral.

II. The Ministry of the Church at Time of Death

Funeral practices in the Reformed tradition have been marked by realism and simplicity. The Presbyterian Church itself is traced to a man whose funeral was the simplest of observances:

[4]Alan Richardson, A Theological Wordbook of the Bible, ed. Alan Richardson (New York: The Macmillan Company, 1951), p. 60.
[5]Cullmann, p. 24.

> John Calvin had given definite instructions for his funeral. Nothing must distinguish it from that of any other citizen. His body was to be sewed into a white shroud and laid in a simple pine coffin. At the grave there were to be neither words nor song. . . .
> He who was averse to all ambition did not even want a tombstone. Just a few months later when foreign students desired to visit the place where the Reformer's earthly remains rest, the place could no longer be pointed out among fresh mounds.[7]

It has been suggested that the reason why Calvin gave orders for such a simple form of burial was that he wished to avoid "posthumous canonization."[8] At first the Reformed churches eliminated religious ceremony of all types from the funeral. This was an obvious attempt to avoid Roman influences. The First Book of Discipline of the Church of Scotland, 1560, gave the following directions:

> We desire, that burial be so honourably handled, that the hope of our resurrection may be nourished; and that all kind of superstition, idolatry, and whatsoever thing proceedeth of the false opinion, may be avoided.
> At the burial, neither singing of psalms, nor reading, shall be used, lest the people should be nourished thereby in the old superstition of praying for the dead; but this we remit to the judgment of the particular kirks, with advice of the ministers. All superstition being removed, ministers shall not be burdened with funeral sermons; seeing that daily sermons are sufficient enough for ministering of the living. Burial should be without the kirk, in a fine air, and place walled and kept honourably.[9]

Although later instructions for funeral services in Reformed churches allowed for some ceremony, this ceremony was simple in form. The Directory of Worship of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., 1821, allowed a graveside service at which the minister could exhort those who attended to "consider the frailty of life, and the importance of being prepared for death and eternity."[10] In 1894 the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. specified that burial exercises could include such elements as singing of psalms or hymns, Scripture reading, remarks by the Minister, prayer for the bereaved—all directed toward the "proper object" of the service, the "warning, instruction, or consolation of the living."[11] These suggestions for funerals and burials are reiterated in the present Directory of Worship of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. It can be seen from these instructions that funeral services in the Reformed tradition are characterized by the following: a simple and realistic approach to death; emphasis on the "hope of our resurrection";[12] and the ministry to the living.

The Book of Common Worship of 1966, produced by the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, entitles its section on the funeral service, "Order for the Public Worship of God: Witness to the Resurrection."[13] Emphasis is placed on the funeral as an act of corporate worship, with provision for hymns, sermon, prayer, Scripture, and creed. The theme of the resurrection is central to the entire service. The emphasis will be on the funeral service as an act of worship of God. This order provides for ritual in the funeral service, and this provision is to be welcomed so long as the ritual faithfully expresses an honest and realistic approach to death and at the same time incorporates an affirmation of the Christian faith in the resurrection.

A funeral service should recognize the meaning of death in its human terms. Such aspects of death as mortality, sin, guilt, separation, loss, and sorrow should not be obscured. Contemporary funeral practices often reveal a wish to hide from the reality of death: by expensive caskets, by the finer embellishments of embalming, by floral camouflage, by religious sentimentality and ostentation. All such practices rob death of its depth. "Sorrow is bearable, men find, not by denying it and not by minimizing it but rather by rising to the level of tragedy."[14] Attempts to avoid facing death must, in the long run, make it more difficult to adjust to the fact of death. These efforts are to be resisted. The "enmity" of death, its tragic reality, should be recognized in both the mood and manner of the funeral service. This is not to say that pessimism should characterize the Christian funeral. It is simply to say that, unless death is taken realistically, the note of hope that the Christian faith in the resurrection brings cannot be fully heard.

What is the real purpose of the funeral in the light of the Christian message? Its purpose can be stated in this way: at time of death to provide for the Church (the congregation and the family of the deceased) an opportunity to worship God through witness to the resurrection of Christ and to the Christian hope. There are several points in this definition that need emphasis.

(1) The real purpose and motive of the Christian funeral is the worship of God through witness to the resurrection and to the Christian hope. There should be no place in the Christian funeral for other purposes or motives that detract from this. There is no place in the Christian funeral for centering on the departed or for practices that stem from that motive: praising of the deceased, insisting on "doing the right thing" by the departed, spending large sums of money. There is no place for an attempt to placate God in dealing with death, as though by religious feeling or ritual act He needs to be or could be appeased. There is no place for status at time of death, either for the status of the deceased or for the status of the survivors. There is no place for passing judgment on the individual who has died, i.e., for declaring that he is either saved or lost. The funeral points to God who alone has the power to judge and save. The single purpose of the Christian funeral should be to bear witness to the resurrection and to the Christian hope as the congregation assembles in corporate worship.

(2) Because the Christian funeral is a service of the church and an act of worship of God, it should properly be held in the church. The Presbyterian, U.S., Directory of Worship states that the funeral should be a worship service, "ordinarily held in the church building," in which the people of God give witness to their faith in "the communion of saints, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting."[15] The prescription that the funeral be held in the Church, as distinct from a committal service at the graveside, represents a change from earlier practice in the Reformed tradition. It is in keeping, though with the emphasis on the funeral as a service of worship. In our present culture funerals are often held in commercial establishments. Under pressure of time and convenience funerals are held in "chapels" in funeral "homes." This practice should be strongly discouraged in so far as the Christian funeral is concerned.

(3) Because the Christian funeral is an act of the Church, it involves the church as a community in its ministry of fellowship and service. The church as the "communion of saints" has a ministry at time of death. The isolating effects of suffering, death, and grief challenge the reality of the church's "community" just at the time when this bond is most needed. Emphasis needs to be placed on the fact that the "household of faith" (Gal. 6:10) is part of the context of death. In days when the Church's unity is dissipated by urban and suburban "sprawl," this aspect of death is neglected by the grieving family and even by the minister. At the time of death the Church has a ministry of friendship, help, and comfort; a ministry that can increase among all the awareness of common life in the body of Christ and of a common faith in the "one God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all." (Eph. 4:6).

This emphasis on the role of the Church in the funeral service raises the practical question which a minister often faces—the conducting of a funeral for a person who is not a member of the church. It would be best in such cases for the funeral to be a simple graveside committal service. Again, however, the minister would not be called upon to pass judgment on the deceased, but to lead in prayer and praise to God.

Christian funeral practices should show respect for the body but should not direct undue attention to the physical side of death. After the crucifixion Jesus' body received the treatment that was customary in that day (Matt. 27:59, 60). Embalming of the body is acceptable but is not to be done for cosmetic reasons, as though to hide the fact of death. Public display of the body and emphasis on the casket are to be discouraged. Disposal of the body by burial in the ground or at sea or by cremation would be in keeping with the Christian view of death.

In summary, it is clear that cultural, social, and economic factors have been at work in influencing American funeral customs and practices. To a large extent the Church has yielded to these influences. There is danger that the very meaning of death in human life will be obscured. There is danger that the message of Christian faith concerning death will not be heard. In loyalty to faith and in concern for the essential humanness of life, the Church should lead the way to a more meaningful expression of Christian worship and witness at time of death. The current confusion about death and funeral practices leaves this challenge at the door of the Church. In her approach and practice, the Church must take steps to make death a time when God is worshipped through witness to the resurrection and to the Christian hope.

REPORT OF STILLMAN COLLEGE

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I am pleased to present to the General Assembly the report of the work of the College for 1966.

New members appointed by the 1966 General Assembly and welcomed to the Board at its October meeting were Dr. William H. McCorkle, Minister from Raleigh, North Carolina, and Mr. Roscoe Nix who is in the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C. They bring the Board to its full strength of 25 members. Continuing as Chairman of the Board is Dr. Albert C. Winn, and as Secretary of the Board, Mrs. S. W. Washington. Mr. George LeMaistre, already a member of the Executive Committee, is now Chairman.

The first few months as president of Stillman have been rewarding and challenging. The College is growing rapidly, compounding existing needs. The heartening support of the Assembly, together with that of friends and alumni, is most encouraging.

1. In 1966, 105 students received their baccalaureate degrees, five more than the year before. The College enrolled 690 students in 1966-67, an increase of 24 as compared with 1965-66.

2. In 1966 the number of that year's Stillman graduates admitted to professional and graduate colleges across the nation passed ten per cent for the first time. In 1965 the number of men admitted was only 2 per cent while in 1966 it was 17.8 per cent. This is an indication of the improvement in quality of student academic performance as well as goals which Stillman graduates are seeking.

3. The year marked the completion of a building program totalling more than 1½ million dollars. Included were a beautiful and functional College Center and a Prayer Chapel to meet the needs of the whole College; for women, a new dormitory to house 144 individuals and a dormitory completely remodelled, with a capacity of 80. Urgently needed now are a dormitory for men, another for women, and a science-mathematics building.

4. As the Church has shown its belief in Stillman College by slowly but steadily growing financial support, financial aid from other sources has also increased. Particularly notable is the support of the Federal government which in 1966 aided students through loans, scholarships and work-study funds in the amount of $234,862. This assistance is of tremendous importance since most Stillman students come from homes of very limited financial means. Special help in the improvement of the educational program of the College also came to the College through an additional grant of $161,000. For example, support was made available which permitted a number of faculty members to spend a year in graduate work. In all, Federal aid for the year totalled over $425,000. Private grants were also received which were used to help purchase equipment or to carry on special programs.

5. The community environment is improving noticeably. No longer is the Stillman campus an island in a largely indifferent and even unfriendly setting. For example, the University of Alabama whose campus is three miles from Stillman is steadily strengthening its ties through cooperative undertakings.

6. Stillman College in 1966 housed and operated an Upward Bound program for 100 high school students of excellent ability who had been falling considerably short of their academic potential. Plans were completed late in 1966 to continue this program and also to operate a talent search program for youth, both white and Negro, with high interest and capacity in mathematics.

The financial report for the year 1966 follows.

HAROLD N. STINSON, President

MANUAL OF THE MOUNTAIN RETREAT ASSOCIATION

January 3, 1967

PART I

History, Purpose, Organization

000.0 Name and Address:
Mountain Retreat Association, Inc., Montreat, North Carolina 28757

000.1 History and Purpose:
The founder and first president of Montreat as a conference and retreat center was Reverend John C. Collins, a Congregational minister from New Haven, Connecticut.

A Charter was granted to the Mountain Retreat Association on March 2, 1897 by the legislature of North Carolina.

000.2 Dr. J. R. Howerton, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Charlotte, North Carolina, raised $50,000 and purchased Montreat for the Presbyterian Church and became the first Presbyterian President in 1907.

000.3 Dr. R. C. Anderson, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Gastonia, North Carolina, was elected President in 1911 and served until his retirement in 1947.

000.4 In 1916 over seventy per cent of the stock in the Mountain Retreat Association was given to a Board of Trustees of Stock. The gift was accompanied by a Declaration of Trust.

000.5 The main articles of the Declaration of Trust read:

"Said board of trustees shall use, hold, vote and control said stock in such a way and in such manner as to insure and guarantee that the property, real and personal, now owned and controlled by the Mountain Retreat Association, a corporation existing under the laws of the state of North Carolina, shall be perpetually held and used for the objects and purposes set forth and expressed in its charter and the amendments thereto now existing or hereafter made, and that said property shall not go into the hands of any person or persons, firm or corporation, who shall use the same for selfish, speculative or money making purposes, but that said property, real and personal, of the Mountain Retreat Association shall forever be used for the promotion and advancement of the Christian religion, under the auspices and control of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, commonly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church, and for the promotion of the highest standards of morals and intelligence, the promotion of health, the advancement of the religion of Jesus Christ, and generally for the purposes mentioned in the charter of the Mountain Retreat Association and the amendments thereto."

Another paragraph of the Declaration of Trust reads: "We hereby declare the purpose and intent of this trust to be, that the property of the Mountain Retreat Association shall forever remain a religious and educational foundation under the auspices and control of the said several Synods and said General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. - - - -."

200.0 Ownership and Government:

200.1 The Mountain Retreat Association is a North Carolina corporation in which a majority of the stock is held and voted by the Board of Trustees of Stock on behalf of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

200.2 The Board of Trustees of Stock of fifty (50) are elected by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Each constituent Synod nominates one trustee, the remainder are nominated by the General Assembly.

200.3 The Stockholders of the Mountain Retreat Association elect a Board of Directors of fifty (50) from among the Trustees of Stock. The Board of Directors elects a Board of Trustees of Montreat-Anderson College of fifty (50) from among the Directors. This means that the fifty (50) trustees of stock elected by the General Assembly become the Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association and the Trustees of Montreat-Anderson College and govern all of the affairs of Montreat.

200.4 The President of the Mountain Retreat Association is also President of Montreat-Anderson College. The Vice-President—Development serves as the development officer of both institutions.

200.5 The officers of the Mountain Retreat Association are as follows: Chairman, First Vice-Chairman, Second Vice-Chairman, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, President, Vice President—Development, Vice President—Conferences, Business Manager—Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer.

REPORT OF COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

In most respects the work of the School Session 1966-67 at Columbia Theological Seminary has been satisfactory up to this time.

I. Student Body

The Student Body is somewhat smaller than for several years past and the total enrollment of students by groups is as follows:

First Year Class	50
Second Year Class	43
Third Year Class	55
MCE	7
Special	17
Graduate	34
Audits	9
Interns	10
	225

Although the decline in the number of students entering the seminary is not serious up to the present time, there is great potential danger for the church involved in the fact that the number of our candidates in college continues to diminish. Fortunately, at a time when we are receiving fewer men directly after their graduation from college, there continues to be a goodly number of those who have felt and answered the call to the ministry after serving in business or in some other profession for a number of years. The quality of these late arrivals is, for the most part, good and we believe that the hand of God is manifest in their coming to the seminary. Nevertheless, the total situation is one which calls for vigilance, for a continuing effort to challenge our choice young people with the call of the Gospel ministry, and for much prayer on the part of God's people.

II. Faculty

This year has been marked by an unusual number of changes in the faculty of the Seminary. Dr. Manford George Gutzke retired in July as Professor of English Bible and Christian Education after having served the seminary faithfully and well for 27 years in that position. Dr. Neely McCarter resigned as Professor of Christian Education last Spring in order to accept a similar position at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia. Late in the summer the seminary was requested to release Dr. P. D. Miller from his work as teacher of Homiletics for a period of twelve months in order that he might serve the General Assembly by helping to collect funds pledged for the Presbyterian Development Fund. This permission was granted and Dr. Miller is making an invaluable contribution to the causes of the General Assembly at the present time. However, he will return to his regular teaching duties at Columbia Theological Seminary in September of 1967.

Dr. Ludwig R. Dewitz is on Sabbatic leave of absence for the year and is engaged in special study in Israel and in adjacent countries.

The Seminary has been fortunate in making the following additions to its faculty during the year: Rev. J. Will Ormond, Associate Professor of Biblical Education; Rev. A. Milton Riviere, Associate Professor of Christian Education; Rev. Theron S. Nease, Associate Professor of Pastoral Theology and Counseling; and Rev. Don M. Wardlaw, Associate Professor of Homiletics. All of these men have made an excellent beginning of their work as teachers and we believe that each of them will make a large contribution to the life of the institution.

Rev. James T. Richardson, a recent graduate of this institution, who was serving as Assistant Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, Anderson, S. C., has accepted the call of the Board of Directors to serve the seminary as Director of Admissions and will be especially active in seeking to present the claims of the Christian ministry and church vocations to young people in the controlling synods. We would solicit for him the full support and cooperation of Ministers and Churches in this important work.

III. Finances

The report of our auditors reveals the fact that, in spite of strenuous efforts to maintain a balanced budget, Columbia Theological Seminary incurred an operating deficit during the twelve months of 1966—the first time this has occurred in thirty-three years. The amount of the deficit for this period was $7,255.52. The fact that the mounting costs of theological education resulted in an excess of expense over income, in spite of the fact that faculty salaries are still lower than they should be, speaks more eloquently than words as to the need for us to increase the support of the institution, both through benevolent budgets and through income from endowment, as rapidly as possible.

IV. The Seminary's Expansion Program

The successful conclusion of the first phase of Columbia Seminary's Expansion Program last year was cause for gratitude and for encouragement. However, the raising of $5,000,000 in that campaign was only a first step toward meeting the material needs of this institution if it is to provide first rate theological education, and we now face the necessity to move ahead as rapidly as possible with the effort to raise at least an equal amount during the next five years. A clear indication that our goal is not excessive is found in the fact that Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Virginia, which already had a considerably larger endowment than this institution, has just completed the raising of more than $7,000,000 in a successful campaign and has set a goal of $19,000,000 to be secured within the reasonably early future.

Columbia Seminary is reasonably well equipped to provide for its present student body insofar as buildings are concerned, although there is need for additional family apartment buildings and for a new gymnasium. The Seminary urgently needs added endowment to provide faculty salaries commensurate with those of other seminaries of like educational standing, to add additional professors, to increase its library book colleciton and staff, to enlarge its continuing education program, to provide more adequate scholarship assistance for students, and to maintain the campus and buildings of the seminary in a proper way. With this in view, we are participating in the Epic Campaign of the Synod of Georgia which includes a goal of $500,000 for the seminary. A joint campaign designed to yield $1,000,000 for Columbia Seminary and $1,500,000 for Florida Presbyterian College has been authorized by the Synod of Florida and will be conducted in 1968. We are also asking that the way be opened for campaigns in our other supporting Synods. The seminary hopes to announce soon the securing of foundation grants which will serve as a challenge fund in connection with this effort.

V. Board of Directors

Columbia Seminary is governed by a Board of Directors numbering twenty-five ministers and officers of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. These Directors are elected by the controlling synods for three year terms and in the following proportion: Georgia—6; South Carolina—6; Florida—5; Alabama—4; Mississippi—4.

The Officers of the Board of Directors are as follows: Chairman—Rev. J. Davison Philips, Decatur, Georgia; Vice-Chairman—Rev. J. Phillips Noble, Anniston, Alabama; Secretary—Rev. William A. Adams, Athens, Georgia; Treasurer—Rev. F. Sidney Anderson, Decatur, Georgia.

We record with sorrow the death last June of Mr. H. Lane Young, of Atlanta, Georgia, who for twenty-five years had served as Chairman of the Investment Committee of Columbia Theological Seminary and had made an invaluable contribution to the Institution by his careful handling of its endowment funds without expense to the seminary. Mr. Young had been a Director of Columbia Seminary for sixteen years and had served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directros during most of that time. We are deeply grateful for all that he has meant to this institution and to the cause of theological education.

Respectfully submitted,
J. McDOWELL RICHARDS, President

REPORT OF LOUISVILLE PRESBYTERIAN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Administration and Directors of Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, respectfully report for 1966-67 as follows:

Relationships

Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary is the only seminary jointly owned and controlled by the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. This has been true for the last 65 of its 114 years. Relationship to the U.S. Church is through the Synods of Alabama, Appalachia, Kentucky, Missouri, and Tennessee. Relationship to the U. P. Church is through the Council on Theological Education of the General Assembly. The U. P. Synods of Kentucky, Mid-South, and Florida sustain a special relationship through the election of directors.

The Board of Directors

New Directors elected during the past year include Dr. John David Alexander and Dr. William V. Harper of the Synod of Tennessee, Mr. A. J. Coleman of the Synod of Alabama, the Reverend Clyde Miller of Warrensburg, Missouri, Mr. Milton C. Stoess of Pewee Valley, Kentucky, and Dr. Albert Winn of Louisville, Kentucky. Dr. W. J. Millard of Memphis, Tennessee was named an honorary member in appreciation of his long service on the Board. The Board has held three full meetings during the year, in addition to numerous meetings of its Executive Committee. Officers of the Board are Mr. Lyman Dawson, Chairman; Mr. Donald Dinning, Vice Chairman; and Mr. Leland Schlegel, Treasurer.

The Vice President

Dr. Andrew E. Newcomer, of the National Evangelism Staff of the United Presbyterian Church, has been called to the position of Vice President. He will be responsible for all aspects of seminary development, freeing President Winn for academic and pastoral concerns.

The Faculty

One of the most encouraging achievements of the year has been the filling of faculty vacancies. Dr. Daniel B. Wessler, pastor of the Bidwell Memorial Presbyterian Church in Chico, California, has been called to the Chair of Homiletics and is serving with distinction. The Reverend Grayson L. Tucker, Jr., director of the Presbyterian Community Center in Louisville, Kentucky, has been called to the new Chair of Church Administration and also serves as Associate Director of Field Education. No permanent appointment has yet been made in the Chair of Doctrinal Theology. Dr. Grover E. Foley served as Visiting Professor of Theology for the year. Professor John M. Salmon was on leave for the spring semester. Otherwise, a full faculty was on hand for the year.

In the coming year two visiting professors will enrich the life of the campus. Dr. S. J. Knox, pastor of Holburn Central Church, Aberdeen, Scotland, will be Visiting Professor of Church History. Dr. Howard Thurman, Dean-Emeritus of the Chapel of Boston University, will be Visiting Professor of Spiritual Resources and Disciplines.

The Student Body

Enrollment at the seminary this year is 134. Students currently enrolled are from 28 states and two foreign countries. Of 120 Presbyterian students, 75 are UPUSA and 45 are US. Students of other denominations number 14. The number of women students, all B. D. candidates, is 5.

The Curriculum

A major curriculum overhaul has been voted by the faculty after three years of intensive work. The class load for students has been dramatically reduced to provide time for considerable independent work in the library. Students will take area examinations in the major fields of seminary study. Bridge courses, in which several disciplines are focused on a single basic problem of ministry, will be introduced by carefully chosen faculty teams. Students who qualify may spend the final semester totally on independent research and writing. Wide election makes it possible for each student to tailor his course to his own needs and objectives, while the examinations assure coverage of essential disciplines.

Continuing Education

In 1966, the Louisville Scholars Program provided the opportunity for 37 pastors to spend two weeks on campus as guests of the seminary, pursuing (with faculty guidance) independent study projects of their own choosing. A new cooperative program of Directed Study, linked with Union Seminary in Richmond, now offers 107 guides for men who wish to pursue reading courses at home. A special continuing education program for pastors who supervise Louisville students in Field Education was held in the spring, involving intensive training in supervision.

The Campus

The Fifty Million Fund of the United Presbyterian Church is rapidly paying for that church's half share of the new campus. In addition, it is anticipated that a new apartment building with larger apartments for larger families, junior faculty, and visiting professors will be built with proceeds of the same campaign.

Financial Condition

The budget for the current fiscal year shows that the Seminary must draw on its reserves to the extent of $22,139. This results largely from the addition of a new professor and necessary salary increases across the board, from building custodians to full professors. A balanced budget is projected for the following year, despite plans for the addition of another new professor. This projected budget anticipates increased support from the church and increased income from an enlarged endowment fund.

During 1966, the seminary received settlement of twelve bequests for a total of $130,673. Total capital assets (including plant and plant funds) as of the May 31, 1966 audit were $9,072,397 of which endowment funds were $3,092,869.

Special Evens

The second annual Caldwell Lectures, March 27-30, 1967, saw the production of six plays on the campus, with theological critique by Professor Tom Driver of Union Seminary in New York. The Inauguration of Albert Curry Winn as fifth president of the Seminary was held on April 24, with the major address delivered by President Donald G. Miller of Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. A Consultation of Theological Education, to give direction and impetus to the new administration, is scheduled for March 15-18, 1968.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT C. WINN, President

REPORT OF UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN VIRGINIA

The Administration and Trustees of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia respectfully present to its controlling and affiliated courts this report concerning affairs for the academic year 1966-1967.

Trustees and Administration

The Seminary records with sorrow the great loss occasioned by the death of the President of the Seminary, the Reverend Doctor James A. Jones, on November 17, 1966. President Jones served the Seminary for eleven years. During that relatively short period he brought great distinction to the institution and provided it with extended financial foundations. President Jones's great effort on behalf of the Seminary was his work in behalf of the Seminary's ADVANCE Campaign. During his administration there was also a complete reorganization of faculty and administrative responsibilities.

A committee of the Board of Trustees composed of Dr. Harry M. Moffett, Jr., Chairman; Mr. Leslie N. Boney, Dr. Warner L. Hall, Dr. David R. Holt, II, Mr. Baxter N. Shaffer, Dr. W. T. Thompson, Jr., and Mr. Thornton H. Brooks, Chairman of the Board, ex officio; has been designated to seek a successor for President Jones. This committee has requested the help, the advice, and the prayers of the friends and supporters of Union Seminary.

The following new trustees have been nominated by the Synods for the seminary, to be elected at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees this Spring: Doctor C. Irving Lewis, of Martinsville, Va.; Dr. C. Houston Patterson of Bluefield, W. Va.; Mr. E. Angus Powell of Richmond, Virginia; and the Reverend J. V. C. Summerell of Fayetteville, N. C.

The Faculty and Academic Affairs

During the academic year two new professors and one visiting professor have been teaching at the Seminary for the first time. Professor Neely Dixon McCarter joined the Faculty as professor of Christian Education. Professor McCarter was formerly a member of the Faculty of Columbia Theological Seminary. He was installed in The Robert and Lucy Reynolds Critz Chair of Christian Education along with two other members of the Faculty, Professors Mathias Rissi and James Perry Martin at the annual Sprunt Lectures period in March 1967.

Professor Patrick Dwight Miller, Jr. has begun his work as assistant professor of Old Testament. Professor Miller is a graduate of Union Seminary in Virginia and holds the Doctor's degree from Harvard University. He has been carrying a full load of responsibilities in the curriculum and in the affairs of the faculty. Professor Lamar Williamson, Jr. has served through the year as Visiting Professor in New Testament Studies. Professor Williamson had been, prior to his work here at Union Seminary, a member of the faculty of the School of Theological Studies at Luluabourg, in the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

The faculty of Union Seminary is still involved in revision of its new curriculum. Although the response to the curriculum has been relatively good there are manifest ways in which it can be improved. A distinct advantage is the initiation this year of a new academic calendar involving two long quarters and a single short quarter during the month of January. The faculty is now engaged in an extensive program of self-study preliminary to a regular re-evaluation of the Seminary by the Association of American Theological Schools scheduled for October 1967.

The Seminary initiated in September 1966 a new graduate degree program, the program leading to the Master of Sacred Theology Degree. This limited residence program is designed especially for pastors in the vicinity of Richmond and has involved six separate courses and will be implemented by four additional courses during an August short term. So far there have been 64 pastors engaged in these courses which serve as qualifying preparation for entrance into the Graduate Program. No S. T. M. candidates for the degree as such will appear in the Seminary's statistics until some time after 1968.

Student Affairs

Union Seminary began the academic year 1966-1968 with 55 new B. D. students and a total student body enrollment, exclusive of S. T. M. enrollees, of 212 students. Of the undergraduate students 128 are members of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. and 17 are members of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. Forty of the Presbyteries in our denomination are represented in the Student Body. Students in the undergraduate and graduate programs come from 25 states and nine foreign countries.

It is expected that in May 1967 the Seminary will award degrees as follows: 41 B.D. degrees; four Th.D. degrees; and nine Th.M. degrees.

Continuing Education

The faculty of Union Seminary in Virginia continues to provide an ongoing program of education for ministers already in service. For the current academic year 188 ministers from the supporting Synods have taken part in residence, studying on the Campus as Tower Scholars, Summer Scholars, Independent Scholars, or members of Advanced Study Seminars. In addition to men involved in the resident study programs 1085 have participated in Directed Study programs by mail, using one of the 77 courses now provided by the Faculty.

The summer program at the Seminary is designed to provide another opportunity for continuing education offered to men in the pastorate. During the coming summer a two-week program will feature two study groups: a seminar on "Christians in a Secular Age", and a Preaching Clinic.

Fiscal Affairs

Because the fiscal year of the Seminary ends on March 31 it is impossible at the time this report is made to provide final figures on the operation of the Seminary for the past year. The audit will be completed in May and reports will be placed in the hands of the several committees of the Synods at that time. A summary of the fiscal operation of the Seminary for the past two years and an estimate of the Seminary's current income and expense for 1966-1967 follows:

The Union Seminary ADVANCE

During 1966 the Seminary conducted an intensive capital funds campaign in the Synods of North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia. The goal of the campaign was $6,000,000 which was designed to be used to undergird the instructional program and to provide some urgently needed facilities. During the months of the campaign members of the Seminary community, faculty and students alike, appeared in over 750 churches. The film "The Training of a Minister" was shown to over 35,000 church members.

The Seminary now records its genuine appreciation to the many hundreds of laymen and ministers throughout the Synods who gave leadership in the conduct of the campaign. We express also our appreciation to the members of the Church who together have given and pledged an amount in excess of $7,100,000. On the Basis of this assured support the Seminary Administration is moving ahead to bring to reality the plans outlined in the ADVANCE Campaign. Construction began the first of March on 60 apartments for married students and for families. It is anticipated that at least 30 of these apartmens will be ready for occupancy by the new academic year in September 1967 and thus will answer a long felt need for convenient reasonably priced housing for seminary student families.

Architects are now at work on plans for a new educational center to be located on the Westwood Avenue side of the main quadrangle providing lecture halls, seminar rooms, and new quarters for the Seminary's extensive Audio-Visual collection. These plans will also provide for a needed addition to the Library. It is possible the construction of all of these new facilities could begin by sometime in the calendar year 1967.

All of the members of the Seminary community have been greatly heartened and strengthened by the encouraging support and interest provided by the churches. On the basis of this support and in gratitude to God we undertake to move forward in a genuine ADVANCE Program.

Respectfully submitted,
BALMER H. KELLY, Acting President

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

The Council on Church and Society was brought into being by action of the 1966 General Assembly. It was composed in its initial form by twelve members chosen from the Assembly at large, elected by the Board of Christian Education; and two members each from the following Boards of the Assembly, chosen by those Boards: World Missions, Church Extension, Christian Education, and Women's Work. The members-at-large were all chosen from the membership of the dissolved Permanent Committee on Christian Relations. The Council operates under the aegis of the Board of Christian Education, from which it derives its staff and financial support, but reports through the Board of Christian Education directly to the Assembly with copies of its report going directly to each of the constituting Boards in advance of the Assembly meeting.

The new Council held its first meeting in Richmond, Virginia, on September 21, 1966, and proceeded to organize itself. Rev. Robert P. Douglass was named chairman; Dr. James M. Dabbs vice-president; and Rev. Samuel W. Newell secretary. Staff representatives from all the constituting Boards were also present. The Council reviewed the actions of the 1966 Assembly bringing it into being, and made plans for carrying out the directives given it by the Assembly.

Membership of the Council was divided almost evenly into two working committees: a Principles Commtitee, with the ongoing assignment, "to study the content of the gospel in its bearing on man in society"; and a Program Committee, to suggest "programs in the area of church and society" which might be recommended to the Assembly and its various Boards. Rev. Wayne P. Todd and Rev. Robert B. McNeill were elected chairmen of these committees.

A tentative manual on the operation of the Council was approved for presentation to the Board of Christian Education.

The Council has received several communications from Sessions, Boards, individuals and groups within the life of our church. Answers to these communications have all been given. Communications from the Reformed Church in America's Christian Action Commission have also been received and answered.

The Council met again on January 23, 1967, heard the reports of its working committees, and prepared its report to the one hundred seventh session of the Assembly. In this first report, we have tried to be sensitive to the Assembly's declared wish that the volume of papers presented for the Assembly's attention should be reduced. With this report we would inform the Assembly that this newest of its children is alive, at work, and striving to serve the Assembly in its designated area of concern to the best of its ability.

RECOMMENDATIONS

RECOMMENDATION #1:

(The Assembly received this paper as information, ordered it printed in the Minutes and commended it to the churches for study. See page 108.)

God's Work in Our Rapidly Changing World

1. "We live in a revolutionary age." Behind that cliché lies the fact that in practically every realm of human endeavor and concern we are confronted in our time by pervasive, rapid, and radical change. We need not try to describe all these changes. A mere listing of some familiar terms and slogans suggests something of the ferment: technology—cybernetics—the knowledge explosion—the population explosion—the mobility of population—urbanization—secularization —the emergence of new nations—the tide of rising expectations—new political power balances —space communication and travel—the proliferation of nuclear capability—racial revolt—black power—white backlash—God is dead—the new morality.

2. In the midst of all these developments, changes, revolutions, and reactions, the full extent of which we cannot even imagine, we are called to be faithful servants of the universal Lord of heaven and earth. Fidelity to him requires, along with many other things, the constant effort to understand the critical events of our time in light of his revelation of himself in the Scriptures and supremely and uniquely in Jesus Christ.

3. As we struggle to understand our times in the light of God's revelation we are made acutely aware of the mystery of God, the complexities of our age, the littleness of our faith and the greatness of our capacity for self-deception. God's thought are not our thoughts, nor his ways our ways. Quite often the action of God in our midst is not apparent to us at all. Many times we falsely identify as God's will what in fact is only our own desire. The prayer we are compelled to utter most often is, "Lord, we believe; help thou our unbelief." Because of all this, we approach the task of discerning the signs of the time in fear and trembling. Yet we do approach the task, for everyone interprets life in the light of some sort of faith; the only alternative to interpretation in the light of faith in the universal Lord is interpretation in the light of some idolatrous faith; and action which issues from interpretation based on misplaced faith is disastrous.

4. Our faith in the universal Lord who has revealed himself to us in Jesus Christ both enables and compels us to make the following affirmations as we consider the revolutions of our day.

I. GOD GOVERNS OUR WORLD

5. First, we affirm our conviction that the Lord of heaven and earth governs all of human history. Therefore, we accept this new age as an era brought into being by the providence and power of God.

6. The Biblical witness, which we accept and reaffirm, testifies that God is active in everything that happens and that he rules over all nature, peoples, and events. He is no distant spectator of the human scene but a direct participant, no casual observer from afar but an ever-present intruder. God does things in history. He orders and overrules. There is no social change in which he is not involved, no revolution in which he does not have a hand. He brings princes to naught and makes the rulers of the earth as nothing. No nation comes into being except by his power. No sparrow falls to the ground without his knowing it. He forms light and creates darkness, he makes weal and creates woe. In everything God works for good with those who love him, and he turns even the wrath of men to his own praise.

7. To speak in this way of the action of God in all that happens is not to confuse divine activity with human activity, or to ignore the radical distinction between the divine intention and the intentions of those whom he uses as rods of his anger or instruments of his liberation. To proclaim that Cyrus was annointed of the Lord to liberate ancient Israel from Babylonian captivity is not to declare that Cyrus was a committed servant of the Lord. To confess that Pilate would have had no power over Christ had it not been granted to him from above is not to relieve Pilate of his responsibility and guilt as a man. To believe that Red China may be an instrument of God's judgment or that an explosion in the ghetto is a sign of his wrath is not to ignore the different motives of Mao Tse-tung or rioters in the streets. Man's intentions are always distinct from and quite often contrary to God's intentions. To say that God is active in everything that happens is thus not to declare without qualification that everything that happens is good. It is to confess, however, that in, through, and beyond all human intentions is the divine intention. There is no area of life, no event in history, no brilliant discovery, no national tragedy in which we are not confronted by God.

8. To say that God governs this world and is active in whatever happens is not to speak as if his action was automatic, fatalistic or mechanical. We do not hold that everything that happens in human history has been pre-determined, nor that human freedom is an illusion. The images we use to indicate God's relation to the world are important. Thus we declare our conviction that God's relation to the world is more like that of a father to his children than that of a manufacturer to his wares; more like that of the ruler to his realm than that of the designer to his machines; more like that of a wise king who uses even the meanness of his subjects to promote the public welfare than that of an author of a play who predesigns the role that every actor will perform. We are aware of the inadequacy of all images in speaking of God; some, however, seem less inadequate than others.

9. Our confidence that God is the Lord of history who governs all events leads us to the conviction that our revolutionary age—with all its promise and peril—has emerged not through fate, chance, or accident, nor primarily through the plan, intention, or design of man, but through the ordering activity of the dynamic One who continually does new things in our midst. In the face of all that is and is to come we declare in faith: "This is the Lord's doing; it is marvelous in our eyes."

II. GOD WORKS FOR RECONCILIATION

10. Secondly, we affirm our conviction that God's basic intention and work in this revolutionary age, as in every age, is for the reconciliation of the world to himself. Therefore, we hold that the inmost meaning of the events of our time can be known in terms of God's reconciling activity.

11. We realize that to refer only to God's reconciling work is to risk over-simplifying and therefore falsifying the interpretation of God's activity. The Biblical witness makes it abundantly clear that no single term is adequate to describe God's manifold work. The Bible itself uses a great variety of terms; God creates, rules, judges, redeems, exalts, destroys, calls, justifies, sanctifies, renews. However, it seems to us that the least inadequate way in which to describe the divine activity in our midst is to speak of God's reconciling work. Paul uses this term when he declares that "God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself" (2 Corinthians 5:19). He speaks of the same theme when he writes, "For he has made known to us . . . the mystery of his will . . . to unite all things in him (Christ), things in heaven and things on earth . . ." (Ephesians 1:9-10). John testifies that Jesus came and lived and died "to gather into one the children of God who are scattered abroad" (John 12:52). Many other Biblical witnesses look forward to the time when "the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together" (Isaiah 40:05). We join these in affirming our faith that in this revolutionary age God is reconciling the world to himself.

12. Reconciliation, as we are using the term here, is that work, process and activity in which two or more persons who belong together but are in fact estranged, are brought back together again. The word presupposes two facts about the parties involved. One is that they already have some sort of relationship with each other. We speak, for example, of a husband and wife, or a father and son, or two former friends being reconciled. They belong together. The other pre-supposition is that these who really belong together have become estranged from each other. Something has come between them. There has been a misunderstanding or a grievous wrong. The tie has been broken. They no longer live together in peace and harmony and mutual regard. It is against this background of an existing but broken relationship that the work of reconciliation is done. Reconciliation is that work in which barriers are broken down, old wounds are healed, relationships are renewed, and justice, love and companionship replaces injustice, enmity and alienation.

13. In light of this concept of reconciliation, to say that God is at work reconciling the world to himself is to say three things about God and the world. It is to say, first of all, that all men and nations belong to God and to one another. In Biblical faith our relation to God cannot be separated from our relation to fellow man. We are, by the very fact of our birth, born into this two-fold relationship from which, try though we may, we cannot escape. By the will of the Creator, mankind is one under him. While we cannot ignore, violate, or betray our unity, we can never successfully deny it. We belong to God and to each other.

14. To say that God is at work reconciling men to himself and to each other is to confess, secondly, that the ties which bind men and nations to God and to each other are frayed and warped. We were created to trust God as our Father and serve him as our Lord, but we live as if he were not trustworthy and as if he had no claim on our life. We were fashioned to love one another and live together in mutual helpfulness and concern, but we live alienated from one another, with indifference or enmity in our hearts.

15. To say that God is at work reconciling us to himself is, thirdly, to proclaim that God has not left us alone. He has not abandoned his people. He has not washed his hands of the world. Rather, he has come and continues to come to save—to tear down the dividing walls of hostility, to heal sore wounds, to restore broken relationships, and to make men and nations whole.

16. Given the barriers that separate us from God and one another, part of God's reconciling work in our midst must be, or appear to us men to be, destructive. When a wall has been built up between two persons or races or nations, these patries cannot be brought together without first tearing down that wall. Anything that assumes God's place in man's life must be broken. Anything that stands between man and his neighbor must be removed. Before genuine community can be achieved, false fellowship must be shattered. Before reconciliation can be effected, injustice must be corrected. So we recognize in faith that God's gracious, healing, reconciling work includes judging evil, abolishing injustice, and destroying that which is wrong. The great reconciling God is thus also the great disturber of the peace, the shaker of the foundations, and the awesome and majestic judge. As we seek to understand the inner meaning of changes that disturb us, movements that frighten us, or upheavals that threaten us, therefore, we must inquire whether God is not in such revolutions crushing our idols, condemning our injustices, and calling for our radical repentance. It is in such a mood that we must listen to the cries, "Yankee, go home," "Burn, baby, burn," "America will be crushed." Our quest must be for the Word of God that comes to us in, through, and beyond these words of men. He is the ultimate One with whom we have to do.

17. To affirm that God is at work for the reconciliation of the world is thus not to assert that all is well. It is, however, to affirm our confidence that God's harsh judgment is always redemptive in character, that on the other side of painful conflict lies the possibility of genuine community, that beyond the destruction of man's unjust systems and social orders lies God's reconstruction of his world. That the reconciliation of the world is possible only through the healing of many diseases, the correction of many mistakes, the transformation of countless evils, and the forgiveness of an infinite number of sins, and that this reconciliation involves the suffering of many servants for others, has been revealed to us in Jesus Christ. But that such reconciliation is taking place is the gospel we believe and profess. Thus, as we seek to discern the signs of our time we look for and expect to find not only God's awesome call for repentance but also his gracious invitation to new life. It is in this mood that we consider modern technological developments, the growing interdependence of the nations, and widespread discontent with injustice and oppression. We believe that in our time God is opening up for increasing numbers of men new possibilities for the development of full humanity and true community

III. DISCERNING SIGNS OF RECONCILIATION

18. Our third basic conviction is that the discernment of signs of God's reconciling work in the complexities of the social changes of our day is a discipline requiring continual dialogue with the Biblical witness, the mind of the church through history and today, and the best insights of scientists, social analysts, artists, and poets. Fundamental, of course, is serious Bible study, for the Bible is the indispensable witness to God's revelation of himself in Jesus Christ. As such it is our norm. But along with our study of Scripture must go a study of the world in which we are to serve the God of Scripture. We must open ourselves to what the living Lord would say and show to us through whatever means he chooses. We commit ourselves to this discipline and invite others to join us in it.

19. Merely to understand our revolutionary age more fully is not our purpose in searching for signs of God's reconciling work in our midst. Rather, we study, participate, observe, and listen in order that we may respond more faithfully to the Lord who has brought us and our age to this hour. Our search is for the truth that can be known and the good that can be done in living relations with the God to whom the future belongs.

20. We realize that as we draw our conclusions about what God is doing at any particular time and place and about what we should do in response, we may well be completely wrong. What is the Biblical witness to God's action? We may well misinterpret any particular text or series of texts. What is the mind of the church on this matter? The church may well be mistaken at any particular point. What do social analysts tell us about the facts in this matter? They may well overlook the really crucial fact. No matter how sincerely we want to do the responsible thing, we may be wrong. Hence, in any particular situation, all we can do is respond to God's action as best we can discern it, depending upon him for forgiveness.

21. Yet we can act in hope. God does not promise us that we shall be correct in our judgments. He does not assure us that we shall be successful in our endeavors. He does not spare us the historical consequences of our folly, insensitivity, pride, and devotion to idols. But God does assure us that he does not falter when we fail. He has demonstrated that he can convert even our evil to our good. And his promise to us is that his cause, greater than we can imagine or conceive, shall triumph. This is the promise by which we live. This is the hope in which we serve.

RECOMMENDATION #2:

Repenting of Discrimination in Our Institutional Life

1. The Presbyterian Church in the United States has in recent years taken some significant steps in repentance of the sin of Discrimination in its own institutional life. It has issued pronouncements condemning segregation, amended its Constitution so as to forbid policies perpetuating discrimination, and developed various programs to help overcome prejudice. No shame that we have done "so little, so late" should blind us to such progress as has been made. On the other hand, no satisfaction over recent corrective action should blind us to the inadequacy of our repentance. Discrimination—conscious or unconscious—still abides in our midst. Its demonic power is reflected in the fact that we have done many things which we ought to have done.

We have done many things which we ought not to have done . . .

2. In various places in our Church the gospel of reconciliation is apparently being denied, the Book of Church Order apparently violated, and the counsel of the General Assembly apparently ignored.

3. The Book of Church Order declares that "no one shall be excluded from participation in the Lord's house on the grounds of race, color or class" (201-5). Some church sessions reportedly still maintain policies which bar church doors to Negroes.

4. Recent General Assemblies have requested that Negro presbyteries be abolished and that Negro churches and their ministers be received into geographical presbyteries. Some Negro churches and their ministers have not yet been received.

5. The 106th General Assembly (1966) declared that "discrimination on the basis of race, color, or class against any person or his participation in any church activity is manifestly unjust and contrary to the Constitution of the Church" (Minutes, p. 57). Some church camps and conferences reportedly still are conducted on a discriminatory basis.

6. Recent General Assemblies have urged that every Presbyterian college, children's home, home for the aged, and other institution adopt and publicize nondiscriminatory policies. Some Presbyterian institutions still have policies which discriminate against Negroes.

7. We do not know to what extent the Constitution of our Church is being violated by racial discrimination or the requests of previous General Assemblies regarding the racial policy are being rejected. Furthermore, we do not know to what extent actions are being taken by the lower courts to preserve the good faith and integrity of our Church in its racial policies. We believe that accurate information at both points would be beneficial to the whole Church. Therefore,

8. The 107th General Assembly instructs the synods to report the following information to the 108th General Assembly:

(1) What church sessions in synod, if any, have policies which officially or in effect exclude persons from participation in the Lord's house on the grounds of race, color, or class?

(2) What presbyteries in synod, if any, have failed to receive into membership Negro churches in their bounds?
(3) What camps, conferences, workshops, etc. in synod, presbyteries, or local churches, if any, are conducted on a racially discriminatory basis?
(4) What Presbyterian institutions within the bounds of synod, if any, have racially discriminatory policies?
(5) What action, if any, has been taken by synod or any of its member presbyteries to correct abuse at any of these points?

We have left undone many things which we ought to have done . . .

9. While some churches and institutions continue to maintain policies of racial discrimination, most of the Church now acknowledges and abides by the official policy which prohibits this. Our basic responsibility now is to go beyond desegregation in policy to integration in practice. Faithful repentance also demands that we use the resources of the Church for the cause of racial justice and reconciliation. Therefore,

10. The 107th General Assembly urges:
(1) All churches to evangelize without regard to race and sincerely and personally to invite into church membership all persons living within the communities they serve.
(2) All Presbyterians moving into new communities or living in changing communities to consider the benefits, both personal and to the Church, of belonging a congregation whose membership is predominantly of another race, color of class.
(3) All churches, boards, agencies, and institutions attempting to fill pastoral or other staff vacancies to consider the best qualified candidates without regard to the candidates' race.
(4) All presbyteries and synods to recruit actively for their camps, conferences, training institutes, etc. all qualified Presbyterians without regard to race.
(5) All Presbyterian institutions (colleges, children's homes, etc.) not only to adopt and publicly declare non-discriminatory policies but to seek to serve persons without regard to race.
(6) All church courts to examine the racial composition of their various boards and committees and to take steps to insure that they have a representative character.
(7) All boards, agencies, and institutions to adopt policies by which the investment of their capital funds may best achieve the goals set forth in the declarations and pronouncements of the several General Assemblies in regard to race relations.

RECOMMENDATION #3:

(The Assembly received the following message of the Geneva Conference, and transmitted it to the churches for study and appropriate action, with the explanatory introduction. See page 108.)

World Conference on Church and Society

Introduction

A World Conference on Church and Society, sponsored by the World Council of Churches, was held in Geneva, Switzerland, in July, 1966. Over 400 delegates from 70 nations, two-thirds of whom were laymen, explored together for two weeks the Conference theme, "Christians in the Technical and Social Revolutions of Our Time." The participants then issued a Conference Message and various Reports for study, consideration and comment by the member communions in preparation for the next meeting of the General Assembly of the World Council to be held in 1968.

The 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States received the Conference Message of the World Conference on Church and Society and encouraged that the Message be transmitted to the churches for study and appropriate action, with the understanding that in so doing the Assembly is not endorsing civil disobedience. Detailed Reports of the Conference are available from the World Council of Churches, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, N.Y. 10027.

World Conference on Church and Society
Geneva, 12-26 July, 1966

Message of the Conference

1. We, participants in the World Conference on Church and Society, are grateful to God who has brought us together from 70 nations of the world.. We thankfully acknowledge that he has granted us this experience of the world community which is emerging in this age of advanced technology and social revolution. By his grace we have come to a new awareness of the reality of the Church as the people of God, united in diversity, sustained in weakness by the power of the Holy Spirit, and called to participate in the freedom and reconciliation offered us by Jesus Christ.

2. During our days together, we have been reminded of the new possibilities now open before man, as well as of the new threats to human existence. We have been given a new sense of the urgency of the task before us. In the light of what is now happening in our society, we Christians cannot escape the call to serious study and dynamic action.
3. Throughout this conference, our attention has been focussed on four issues:

   Modern technology. Aware of the new hope which it has aroused, we have attempted to understand how it can be so used and controlled that it will best contribute to human liberation, economic well-being and social justice.

   The need for accelerated development in Asia, Africa and Latin America, and for fundamental changes in the relationships between those countries and the advanced industrial nations.

   The struggle for world peace. The importance of doing everything possible to bring an end to the present military conflict in Vietnam and to find solutions for those explosive situations which would provide the occasion for new wars. We have noted with deep concern that a callous and hard attitude grows among many people concerning the means employed to wage war both civil and international. All ancient cruelties and all new forms of warfare should provoke horror for the Christian conscience.

   The problem of a just political and social order and the changing role of the state. Here a fundamental issue is the function of law in our revolutionary times and its theological foundation.
4. It is not easy to come to a common understanding either of these problems or of how to solve them. Our discussions have revealed a wide variety of points of view which are due not only to the diversity of situations from which we come but also to the different perspective from which we think about social questions. Our Christian faith provides us with a common foundation, basic attitudes and common objectives for our service to society; it does not produce an easy consensus on specific social issues. In this conference, however, we have discovered that dialogue is possible between those representing different positions and that such discussion exposes the limitations of our thought and challenges us to greater faithfulness.
5. If the Church is to provide its members with guidance in their service to the world, it must discover how to make possible a constant dialogue between the social scientists and the theologians, and between those who engage in the study of social problems and those who spend their time in the common tasks in society. The presence, in this Conference, of a large number of laymen and of experts in many different fields, has created a unique situation for this dialogue. It has revealed the possibilities as well as the frustrations latent in it, and has led to the recommendation that long term projects for such discussions be worked out.
6. As Christians, we are committed to working for the transformation of society. In the past, we have usually done this through quiet efforts at social renewal, working in and through the established institutions according to their rules. Today, a significant number of those who are dedicated to the service of Christ and their neighbour, assume a more radical or revolutionary position. They do not deny the value of tradition nor of social order, but they are searching for a new strategy by which to bring about basic changes in society without too much delay. It is possible that the tension between these two positions will have an important place in the life of the Christian community for some time to come. At the present moment, it is important for us to recognize that this radical position has a solid foundation in Christian tradition and should have its rightful place in the life of the Church and in the ongoing discussion of social responsibility.
7. In many parts of the world today, the Church represents a relatively small minority, participating in the struggle for the future of man alongside of other religions and secular movements. Moreover, it can hope to contribute to the transformation of the world only as it is itself transformed in contact with the world. The God who sent his Son to the cross and manifests his power in weakness has brought us to this point and offers his people new opportunities of service and witness in it. In this conference, we have been led to perceive some of these new opportunitis, and hav been challenged to prepare ourselves for this task of service.

8. In fact, when the Church lives as servant it may discover the unique vocation that it has at the present time. In the face of the demands for a new relationship between the rich and poor nations and between the powerful and oppressed classes, the Church can understand that the powerful need the help of the weak as badly as the weak need the strong. Societies at different stages of development face difficult problems for which there are no easy solutions. Often they can perceive more clearly the nature of their own problems when they confront societies quite different from their own. The dynamic world in which we live calls for new experiments in social organization and for new structures. In some cases, these new forms may first emerge in the developing nations, where the impact of social change is most acute. The confrontation which has taken place here may prove to be a significant step towards the fulfilment of this vocation.
9. In keeping with the spirit of this Conference, our final word to the Churches must be a call to repentance and to the recognition of God's judgment upon us. It is also an urgent appeal for more effective and vigorous action, as an expression of our witness to the Gospel in the world in which we are living. We realize that this is a difficult task and requires a long and arduous struggle. But we pray for strength, sustained by the promise of Our Lord: "Be of good cheer: I have overcome the world."

RECOMMENDATION #4:

(Instead of the National Council of Churches "Appeal to the Churches Concerning Vietnam", recommended by the Council on Church and Society, the Assembly adopted another paper resulting from a Resolution, and transmitted to the Churches for study the N.C.C. "Appeal." See page 109.)

REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN FOUNDATION, INC. (U.S.)

The Presbyterian Foundation respectfully submits its 101st report as follows:

During its Centennial Year, the Foundation diligently pursued its basic functions of: (1) cultivating among the membership of the Church an increasing sense of the stewardship of accumulated means, (2) receiving and carefully investing funds received through gifts, bequests, gift annuities, life income agreements, and assigned insurance policies, (3) managing funds entrusted to it by synods, presbyteries, committees, and congregations, (4) distributing earned income to various Boards, agencies, and institutions designated by donors to be the beneficiaries of their gifts and bequests, and (5) striving to undergird the total benevolence program of the Church as "the long arm of love" by which the Church reaches out to perform its mission in the world as "the body of Christ."

During the meeting of the 106th Assembly, a service in recognition of the Foundation's Centennial was addressed by former President Paul E. Manners of Atlanta, and Executive Director Frank H. Caldwell. Subsequently, three pilot projects in the form of Estate Planning Seminars were held in Atlanta, Charlotte and Florida Presbyterian College, St. Petersburg. In light of responses to these, other such seminars are to be held in strategic locations in the future.

In the nature of the case, the amount of funds coming into the care of the Foundation varies considerably from year to year, and such an index is not analogous to the dollar amount of sales or earnings of a business enterprise. Two observations, indicative of growth, however, seem to be of significance. (1) The number of individuals in the Church who are making use of the Foundation as a channel of giving reached an all-time high during this year, testifying to the worthwhileness of widespread and persistent cultivation. (2) Gift annuity agreements made by the Foundation had notable growth—from $14,182.00 in 1959 to $905,081.86 in 1966. That this is an increasingly satisfactory method of deferred giving to the work of the Church is further indicated by the number of annuitants who repeat such gifts.

For the Assembly's information and records, the following statistical data are submitted:

Year	Total Assets
1957	$1,974,728.00
1958	2,366,433.00
1959	2,645,886.00
1960	3,156,211.85
1961	3,626,367.87
1962	3,751,717.91
1963	4,253,296.77
1964	4,820,517.63
1965	5,364,138.07
1966	5,613,331.19

Disbursements during the year have been made to 52 agencies and institutions of the Church at home and abroad in the total amount of $241,058.33.

Officers serving the Board during 1966 have been: President, Mr. William F. Mulliss, Charlotte; Vice-President, Dr. C. Newman Faulconer, Greenville, South Carolina; Secretary, Mr. Louis L. Rose, Charlotte; Treasurer, Mr. A. Walton Litz, Charlotte. New members of the Board of Trustees elected by the 106th Assembly were: Mrs. Hal H. McHaney, Kennett, Missouri; Mr. John W. Sterchi, banker, Orlando, Florida; Mr. J. Mason Wallace, Jr., builder and developer, Charlotte; Mr. W. Stell Huie, attorney, Atlanta; and Mr. John A. Tate, Jr., banker, Charlotte. Nominations of new Trustees and of those eligible for re-election are being submitted by the Assembly's Committee on Nominations to this 107th Assembly.

With this report are submitted for the Assembly's information and for such approval as is appropriate: (1) Minutes of the Board of Trustees, and (2) Audit of its finances by Ernst & Ernst.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK H. CALDWELL, Executive Director

REPORT OF THE HISTORICAL FOUNDATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN AND REFORMED CHURCHES

The Executive Committee of the Historical Foundation of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches submits the following report:

With the 1967 meeting of the General Assembly the Historical Foundation completes forty years of service. Constituted by the 1927 Assembly on the basis of the recommendations of an ad interim committee headed by President Thomas Currie of Austin Seminary, the organization began operations as an agency of the Church at Texarkana, Texas, with Rev. Samuel Mills Tenney as curator. In the fall of that year it was moved to Montreat and incorporated under the laws of the State of North Carolina. Dr. Tenney died at the close of 1939 and was succeeded by Rev. Thomas H. Spence, Jr., as administrative head of the Foundation. A modern building, constructed for the particular uses of the institution and situated on Assembly Drive in Montreat, was occupied in 1954.

The Foundation was commissioned by the General Assembly to collect, preserve, and promote the use of materials pertaining to the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches. This report will be largely concerned with its fulfillment of the third of these functions.

The Church and the Foundation

Church workers of every category have utilized the holdings of the Foundation—architects; authors; clerks of the General Assembly, synods, presbyteries, and local sessions; commissioners to the Assembly, directors of Christian education; editors of church papers, executives of boards and agencies: librarians; local, presbyterial, and synodical historians; members of ad interim committees and of orphanage staffs; missionaries; pastors; presidents and professors in colleges and theological seminaries; and many others engaged in various activities.

Academic Relations

While not the most important aspect of its functions, the Foundation's relations with the academic world have been extensive. Fourteen universities, six theological seminaries, and four colleges were represented by faculty members and/or students making use of its facilities in 1966. During the past forty years similar researches from the following institutions have studied in the Foundation Library and Archives:

Publications

Since 1944 the Historical Foundation News has been published as a news and promotional organ of the Foundation. A relatively definitive history of the Institution and its work was published in 1956 under the title of The Historical Foundation and its Treasures. This book was reissued in revised form in 1960. A Survey of Records and Minutes in the Historical Foundation appeared in 1943 with a descriptive chronology of the synods and presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. A study of Catalogues of Presbyterian and Reformed Institutions was prepared and distributed in 1952. In 1965, upon the invitation of the Presbyterian Historical Society of Philadelphia, the Foundation assumed an editorial share in the publication of the quarterly Journal of Presbyterian History.

Microfilming of Records

Moved by a conviction that the records of the synods and presbyteries of the Church should be photographically reproduced in the interests of preservation and availability, the Office of the General Assembly, the libraries of the seminaries of the Church, and the Foundation undertook to microfilm these valuable materials. The enterprise was headed by the Historical Foundation where the greater part of the work was done. This particular project has been substantially completed at the present time.

In addition to the foregoing joint undertaking, the records of the General Synod, the presbyteries, and of such sessions of the Associated Reformed Presbyterian Church as are deposited in the Archives of the Foundation have been microfilmed.

History of Churches and Woman's Work

As sponsor, promoter, and custodian of the History of Churches and Woman's Work, the Foundation has been intimately associated with the History since its inception in 1930. Now shelved in more than 2,800 volumes, this manuscript compilation has gained recognition as one of Christendom's major efforts at preparing an inclusive history of the local congregations of a major denomination. The History is the work of thousands of consecrated women over the whole of the Church across more than a third of a century. It is both a tribute and a monument to their endeavors.

Additions During 1966

Several significant gifts of large proportions were received during the year. These included a collection of more than five hundred brochures and related materials representing local churches, many of them beyond the bounds of our own denomination, from Mr. James LeGrand Birdwell of Bonham, Texas; numerous pamphlets, largely of the Nineteenth Century, from the Library of Columbia Seminary; a file of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian, covering the years 1886-1909, from Dr. Nora Davis of Troy, South Carolina; all current publications of, and from, the John Knox Press; U. P. U. S. A. synod minutes from the Presbyterian Historical Society; several hundred volumes from the Library of Southwestern at Memphis; and ninety rolls of microfilm pertaining to Lexington Presbytery through Rev. and Mrs. Howard McKnight Wilson.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON ASSEMBLY OPERATION

Minutes of the Called Meeting, September 14-15, 1966, and the Stated Meeting January 25-26, 1967, are submitted to the Standing Committee on Assembly Operation for information. Also submitted are the Budget for 1967 and the Projected Budget for 1968 as adopted by this Committee.

1969 Meeting of the General Assembly

The Committee has accepted the invitation of the Government Street Presbyterian Church, Mobile, Alabama, for the General Assembly to meet there, April 24- May 2, 1969.

Study of Comparative Staff Salaries

Information necessary to complete a special study of staff salaries and coordination of salary policy has been gathered and is under study by the Committee. A full report will be made to the 1968 General Assembly.

Additional Expense in Handbook Printing

The Committee noted the action of the 1966 General Assembly directing that in the printing of the Handbook, "margins on each page be made at least three-fourths inch in width", and that "all printed reports for the Assembly's consideration be numbered by lines in multiples of five." (1966 Minutes, page 85)

After a study of the factors involved, the Committee notes that complying with the above recommendation would approximately double the cost of the Handbook. It notes further that though this action would affect the operating expense budget of the General Assembly, requirements of the Assembly's Standing Rules, Section I, pps. 4.4 and 12.4, have not been followed. We therefore request clarification by the 1967 General Assembly, with a recommendation that action requested concerning margins and the numbering of lines be limited only to the text of papers which are recommended to the Assembly for its adoption.

Overtures 19 and 21 Answered in Proposed Standing Rules

In response to Overture 19 to the 1966 General Assembly from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas concerning a pre-Assembly orientation program, and Overture 21, from the Presbytery of Missouri, suggesting modification of procedure to permit nomination of Moderators to the General Assembly by Presbytery, the Committee notes that both Overtures are answered affirmatively in its recommended changes in the Standing Rules of the General Assembly.

Membership on Permanent Committee

Suggestions have been properly made to Assembly's Permanent Nominating Committee concerning attendance of members to this Committee's meeting and concerning the filling of Committee vacancies.

Respectfully submitted,
HARRY A. FIFIELD, Chairman

REPORT OF TRAV (TELEVISION, RADIO AND AUDIO-VISUALS)

TRAV, the television, radio and audio-visuals agency of the denomination, respectfully presents this "Ninth Annual Report" to the 107th General Assembly. With the report are submitted TRAV's volume of Minutes and its financial statement for 1966.

Introducion

For the Board of Directors and staff of TRAV, 1966 was a banner year—one of the most exciting and important in the brief history of the agency.

—It was the year in which program placement for both radio and television programs climbed to new highs.

—It was the year in which a handsome new set of television spot programs was completed and was enthusiastically welcomed by all stations to which they had been offered by years' end.

—It was the year which saw the completion of a five-year old plan for staff development: for the first time TRAV was able to fill all directors' positions.

—It was the year in which there was an almost explosive growth of interest in, and use of audio-visual materials throughout the Church. This was especially notable in the creative and exciting uses made of audio-visuals in Montreat conferences.

—It was the year in which new techniques were developed for publicizing the meeting of the General Assembly via both radio and television.

—It was the year in which TRAV received its first major gift from a foundation, a mobile unit equipped with video-tape system, designed to permit more effective training of the Church's leaders in the use of electronic media.

—It was a year which saw record sales and rentals from the TRAV audio-visual libraries.

—It was a year in which highly successful new "special" programs were completed for use on television at Easter ("What Is Easter?") and for use on radio at Christmas ("Just Before Christmas").

—It was a year in which, for the first time, TRAV had a home which is really adequate for the tasks it is asked to do. Occupancy of the new Presbyterian Center for the last month of the year produced evident increases in the efficiency of staff in its creative and service work.

I. Ministry Through Television

The year 1966 was the first full year in which TRAV has had the services of a full-time Director of Television. The Rev. D. Kirk Hammond guided the Church's television efforts to some significant new achievements. As noted above, these included the production of a new set of TV spot programs under the titles of "Living Hymns" and "Living Truth." These 12 new spots have all been done in extraordinarily beautiful color photography, and have now been added to the growing library of TRAV's color spots, which already includes a 30-unit series of "Living Prayers."

The new spots, ranging in length from 10 seconds to 60 seconds, include several "Living Hymns" which visualize favorite hymns, and others which are TRAV's first efforts to capsule significant truths of the Christian faith. One of these new spots is also TRAV's first use of animation, with a deft touch of humor.

The year 1966 was also marked by the first use of TRAV's new 30-minute Easter special, "What Is Easter?" This program, combining music and drama, is the second feature program produced by TRAV, and is similar in approach and treatment to the highly successful "What Is Christmas?" program produced three years ago. Twenty stations—all that TRAV could afford to provide with tape duplicates for video-tape recorders—used the program. It is illustrative of the type of financial problems which TRAV faces in producing material for television, that it was necessary to pay for the production of this program out of one year's budget, and distribution out of the next.

A new series directed toward youth is now in production. This set will feature teenagers work on and later use of a home-made car. The series will cost about $2500 to produce $3000 to distribute to 100 stations. The music for the series is the original work in Tijuana Brass style of Mr. Loonis McGlohon, elder of Charlotte, N. C.

Another new series, of short programs for children, has been delayed because of lack of production funds. This set of programs, each about four minutes in length and designed to fit into the typical morning or afternoon program for children, was to have been produced if Advance Budget funds for 1966 were made available to TRAV. In the absence of such funds, the badly-needed series remains beyond the financial reach of TRAV. The need is so great, however, that the project will be kept alive in the hope that the approximately $50,000 necessary can be found.

Indeed, financial factors are the only real limitations on TRAV's effective use of TV. There is a constant and pressing demand from TV stations for religious materials: the door is wide open for good quality spots and programs. TRAV staff is now "geared up" to do the production or to shepherd it through production by studios with which contracts are made. Distribution know-how is now developed to the point that effective use of programs can be made once they are ready to put in the hands of station program directors. The only major hitch is simply that the funds for production are lacking. It is TRAV's hope that the Church will take seriously the fact that the Assembly gave TRAV, in 1958, the assignment for developing the Church's ministry in television, and will follow that action with support adequate to do the job. We are all painfully aware that the growth and impact of television has been phenomenal. Almost every home in the country has one television set and many have two or more. More than 67,310,000 people are viewing television in prime (7:30-11:00 p.m.) time on any given evening. The average child spends four to five hours daily viewing TV. More people now get their news from television than from newsappers. It can readily be seen that television can be the greatest tool for evangelism the Church has ever known. Indeed, it is estimated that one good religious TV program will be viewed by more non-Christians than all the ministers in all the churches will contact from the pulpit in a generation.

II. Ministry Through Radio

Through 1966 the Presbyterian Church, U.S., saw slow and steady expansion of its world-wide radio ministry.

The Protestant Hour, in its 21st year climbed to and hovered at its all-time high distribution of 650 stations in this country and abroad. Of this total, approximately 100 stations are members of the Armed Forces Network. Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., was the speaker for the Presbyterian Church, U.S., series on The Protestant Hour in 1966, the eighth time in 15 years that he has spoken for his Church on this great program. The choir of St. Andrews Presbyterian College of Laurinburg, N. C., was the official choir for the 1966 series.

Sunday School of the Air, in its sixth year of continuous broadcasting, continued to be heard over approximately 140 stations. Teachers for this weekly program during the year were Dr. Lawrence I. Stell, St. Petersburg, Florida, the first two quarters; Dr. William Logan, Austin, Texas, the third quarter of the year; and Dr. Thomas W. Currie, Houston, Texas, the last quarter.

Be Still and Know, a daily devotional program was carried by an average of 1250 stations around the world. It continues to be the most widely used such program in broadcasting history.

Seasonal special programs reached additional thousands of listeners. "The Sign Painter" and "The Seven Last Words of Christ" were offered for Easter programing and used on more than 400 stations. And the newest special program, "Just Before Christmas" had an amazing first-run success, with more than 720 stations accepting the program. It was scripted by the Director of Radio, Mr. Gene Smith, and uses a mixture of verse and carols to tell the story of Christmas.

In addition, the fifteen-minute meditation tapes from the "Take Time for Thought" series were used in hundreds of broadcasts and over the inter-com systems of several hospitals and prisons. More than 100 messages are available in this series, and the tapes are made available without charge to ministers and laymen who have need of help in filling broadcast commitments.

TRAV also continues its efforts in cooperative programing. Through the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches, TRAV is one of seventeen denominations which cooperate to get programing by national networks. And TRAV cooperates with the Division of Radio, Television and Audio-Visuals of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., to provide a broadcast ministry to the Appalachian region, through the Presbyterian Appalachian Broadcasting Council.

III. Ministry Through Audio-Visuals

For the first half of 1966, TRAV operated without a Director of Audio-Visual Production, with consequent limitation on the volume of production. Even so, work moved steadily ahead on production of material for the Covenant Life Curriculum for 1967, and delivery of components was completed on schedule. This involved nearly 400,000 separate pieces in production and collation, including:

Audio-Visual Packet, Grades 1-2, containing seven film clips and three records.
Audio-Visual Packet, Grades 3-4, containing six film clips and two records.
Audio-Visual Packet, Grades 5-6, containing eleven film clips and two records.
COMMENT, a set of four records including 14 statements by prominent people—Dean Rusk, Gert Behanna, Jackie Robinson, Charles Schulz, etc.
IMPACT! A set of 19 posters depicting modern problems in a discussion stimulating manner.
Listening In On A Youth Study Group, a record.
People I Live With, four dramatic skits on a record.
Praise the God of Glory, two records packaged together.
Worlds I Live In, a film clip.

At mid-year, TRAV welcomed Mr. Archie Pipe as Director of AV Productions, and the tempo of production picked up rapidly. Production was completed, with his guidance, on two World Missions' filmstrips, "Pioneers and Partners," dealing with Brazil, and "Mission on the Equator," on Ecuador. "Epic," and "Campus Encounter" were completed for the Synods of Georgia and Alabama, respectively. And as the year ended, production was rolling forward for CLC, 1968.

Production activity was a part of the ministry through audio-visuals. The two TRAV libraries of films and filmstrips (Richmond and Atlanta) found a steadily growing demand for their services, and the total volume of rental of films and sale of equipment and filmstrips reached a new high. This activity clearly reflected the continuing growth in the Church's use of the audio-visual media for education and inspiration.

Another measure of this growth was seen in the tremendous expansion of use of AVs in Montreat and other Conferences. TRAV maintains a small office in Montreat during the summers to tape record Bible lessons and major addresses, provide audio-visual projection services for conferences, and advise conferees on audio-visual equipment and material. In earlier years one person was able to handle the work. In 1966 the demand for services and advice more than surpassed the time available from long hours of work given each day by the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Nash. In some conferences, almost every teacher was using their help, with material or equipment, every day.

In other conferences, notably the Church Extension Conference, the whole TRAV staff was challenged to demonstrate how varied and versatile the AV contribution to a conference could be made. The staffs of TRAV and of the Board of Church Extension felt the experiment highly successful with such things as "sound in the round" (four track stereo) and three screen presentations.

IV. Ministry Through Training

Whole armies of commentators, speakers, writers and pundits are commenting these days about the effects which electronic mass communication is having upon our civilization. It is an obvious subject for viewing-with-alarm. It is also perfectly true that few periods in history have seen such changes as instantaneous, total communication is now bringing upon us.

Even the most conservative commentator can find only one or two other periods in human history even remotely comparable—perhaps the discovery of fire . . . perhaps the invention of the wheel or the printing press . . . or maybe the industrial revolution. Whatever the comparison made, the facts are staggering:

What is taking place today is changing mankind, remolding the way he looks at himself and at his world. In the process, man is remaking the social climate, revising the maps of the world once again, shifting the relationships between races and cultures, and posing a whole new set of questions about man and God.

Such is the impact of the globe-shrinking, mind-swelling, all-pervasive wonder of radio and television that no detail of our life can escape it. We are kept constantly aware of every new global hot-spot, painfully conscious of the just aspirations of people in every corner of the world, informed of progress in every new science, and shaken by exposure to new ideas. At the same time we grow accustomed to pseudo-violence, and hardened to real murder and battlefield death, because we are intimately, immediately involved.

All this is changing the social and moral climate in which the Church is attempting to minister. Every person with whom the minister deals is in some degree different from the average person of twenty years ago because of these mind-shaping forces. Even the language which the minister uses if he is to be understood is changing.

But, except as he shares in the radical transformation of the world in which he lives, the minister does not reflect the changes about him. Professionally he is still being trained, for the most part, to deal with a word-oriented world, where time is not in short supply, and instant togetherness is not compulsory. Any man who has been out of the seminary as much as five years was simply not trained to cope with this new world with all its harsh problems; any man who graduates from a seminary this year will still be inadequately trained because the seminaries themselves have not fully comprehended what is happening to the minds of men.

Indeed, practically no one really understands what is happening, and only the most foolhardly attempt to predict what will happen as the result of changes brought by total communication. But if the Gospel is to be adequately proclaimed in this age, the Church must grasp every clue as to the mind of modern man and discover means of communicating truth in ways and forms which he will understand.

We, as Churchmen, are simply not doing this. We are still assuming that the only way to communicate is through carefully organizing the spoken word into sermons. We are consistently ignoring the rapid disappearance of the word-oriented man, and his replacement by the man who is accustomed to receiving ideas through both eye and ear in a setting of almost total emotional involvement. We are simply not speaking the language of the day.

Here and there throughout the Church, brilliant minds are tackling this problem. TRAV is happy to be involved in these efforts by a handful of seminary professors, and by creative young men in a few churches.

In Columbia Seminary and in Union Seminary experimentation is going forward with the use of video-tape for teaching young ministers the ground rules for use of the broadcasting media. At the same time, by exposing the ministerial student to the painful sight of his own pulpit style, and by analyzing his strengths and weaknesses as revealed by the television camera, the seminaries are helping to make a better preacher of him.

TRAV is in its second year of providing experimental funds for development of an Educational Department at Protestant Radio & Television Center, devoted chiefly to learning how to teach young ministers. This Department is developed in coordination with Columbia Seminary, Candler School of Theology and the Interdenominational Seminary, and the professors of these schools work within PRTVC. The experimentation is teaching all of us a great deal about how to talk to modern man.

In addition, through the gift in 1966 of a mobile unit, equipped with video-tape camera, recorder and monitor, TRAV is entering a new phase of its efforts to teach ministers and laymen how to use the broadcast media and how to do a better job of pulpit communication also. The Dodge panel truck and its beautiful new equipment were the gifts of the Christian Communication Foundation of Roanoke, Va.

With this new equipment, and with the know-how being developed in our seminaries, TRAV is now ready to take its mobile unit into any presbytery for workshops where ministers may sharpen their communicative skills.

And TRAV continues its five-year old policy of sponsoring contests within seminaries, offering prizes of tape recorders to the seminarians who demonstrate the most creative understanding of the use of radio and television for proclaiming Christian truth.

Through all these means the TRAV Board of Directors is doing its best to nudge the ministers toward awareness of a new dimension in human communication.

V. Ministry Through Local and Regional Programing

It is perfectly obvious that no central agency for broadcasting can do all that needs to be done in using the airwaves to proclaim Jesus Christ. Some of the work simply must be done locally or in regional settings. It is also obvious that it is creatively sensible and economically sound to produce some programs in a central denominational office and get the advantages of the ultimate in quality and the savings of mass distribution. But neither local or central production will get the job done without the other.

With this in mind, TRAV is increasing its emphasis on developing and supporting local and regional efforts in broadcasting. For many years there have been highly effective local programs, and even some synod-sponsored efforts. Several members of the TRAV Board of Directors have led in such efforts, including Dr. Stephen T. Harvin with his continuing use of television broadcasts of services, Dr. Arthur Vann Gibson and his Peabody Award-winning Atlanta program, Dr. Massey Mott Heltzel with teaching and preaching broadcasts at various times in Richmond, Augusta and Mobile, and Dr. Robert W. Kirkpatrick with his sponsoring of seminary ownership of a radio station.

Many other ministers and churches of the denomination are regularly using radio and TV for broadcasting local services. Recent months have seen an increase in other, different and creative uses of the media. The Rev. Neil Wyrick of Miami has made outstanding use of a short daily devotional program. The Rev. Clifton Dixon of Richmond spear-headed a highly successful teaching experiment on television, and a number of others in Richmond have been involved in regular use of television for Sunday School teaching and discussion purposes. Mr. Bill Wolfe, DCE in Bristol, Tenn., has developed a disc-jockey type program with broad appeal. The Rev. John Allen has developed a discussion program for youth on Atlanta television that has become a part of the continuing programing of WSB and a part of the broadcast ministry of the Atlanta Council of Churches. There are a number of other such efforts under way throughout the Church, but these illustrate the diversity of approaches being made in local situations.

On the synod level, Mr. Ted Daniel, TRAV Director for the Synod of North Carolina, continues to point the way to the sort of thing which synods can and should do in broadcasting. Under his guidance, North Carolina Synod has annually produced either a top-quality state-oriented TV special or a series of hard-hitting TV spots based on North Carolina scenes and needs. During 1966 Mr. Daniel began a weekly religious news broadcast on television which is now being carried by four of the major stations.

In other ways other synods are being involved. The Synod of Georgia TRAV Committee is regularly producing material for state-wide radio use. The TRAV Committee of the Synod of Appalachia is actively supporting the Presbyterian Appalachian Broadcasting Council. And the Synods of Florida and Virginia are exploring ways of developing similar ministries through broadcasting.

It is the conviction of TRAV Board and staff that every encouragement should be given to these and similar efforts. We believe that every opportunity to proclaim Christ should be used, including the countless opportunities for broadcasting which are so frequently ignored by ministers and lay leaders alike. Except in those rare instances where a minister is compelled by his sense of call or mission to develop his own ideas for broadcasting, too little is usually done. Most of us are unwilling to get saddled with the continuing burden of a weekly program of any kind, so we shun the opportunities. The answer lies in strengthening presbytery and synod committees which can develop programs and pass the work load around, and in developing in the larger cities Presbyterian or council-backed groups for local programing. Until such organizations can be developed, local use of the electronic mass media will be sporadic and spotty.

For this reason, TRAV Board is intensifying its staff's participation in local and regional program efforts, and is offering financial aid to synods for getting regional broadcasting organized. Such a TRAV grant-in-aid helped to make possible the development of the North Carolina TRAV effort, and the Appalachian effort, and up to $5,000 in challenge funds is being offered for yet another synod's project to begin in 1968.

TRAV has reported to the Permanent Nominating Committee of the General Assembly the expiration of maximum terms of service of Dr. Robert W. Kirkpatrick, the Chairman of the TRAV Board of Directors. The expiration of the term of service of Dr. Stephen T. Harvin, and his eligibility for re-election, were reported. The expiration of the terms of service of Mr. John Cleghorn and Mr. C. Bosworth Johnson were also reported, together with the report that both men feel changes in their professional responsibilities now make it very difficult for them to discharge their responsibilities to TRAV Board if re-elected.

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

"For 150 years the American Bible Society has grown because of the prayers and gifts of people with believing hearts . . ." said Dr. Robert T. Taylor, ABS General Secretary, to the guests at the Society's 150th Anniversary Dinner. The generosity of the churches of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. is assurance of a deep commitment to the Bible cause plus a desire to share priority tasks in a war against Scripture poverty. Missionaries of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. depend upon Bibles, Testaments and Gospels in the languages of the people they serve; the American Bible Society depends upon the prayers and support of the churches it serves.

For its continuing participation in the "God's Word for a New Age" campaign, the American Bible Society extends sincere thanks to the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. Only with a growing concern for the Bible-less and the generous response of committed Christians for the worldwide program of Scripture translation, revision, publication and distribution can the availability of God's Word in 150 lands keep pace with the mission of the church.

DISTRIBUTION IN THE U.S.A.: 38,981,620 copies of Scripture. This was a record year, as the ABS offered compelling new formats, contemporary editions, and easy-to-read Scriptures for special ministries. Also a signal year, 1966 will be remembered for expanded programs of distribution and significant Anniversary publications: the Greek New Testament (completed in cooperation with four other members of the United Bible Societies); Good News for Modern Man (Today's English Version New Testament in paperback, with Annie Vallotton drawings); Dios Llega al Hombre (paperback New Testament in popular Spanish and the same Vallotton line drawings, which is proving to be a bestseller among Spanish-speaking Americans); The Inside Story (J. B. Phillips' translation of Luke, John, Acts and Romans in paperback).

The American Bible Society's ministry to the armed forces is vital. More than 500,000 Scriptures were given through chaplains to U.S. servicemen and women at home and overseas. Vietnam is an area of deep concern. Requests continue to top fiscal resources as Scripture supplies for Vietnam are given every priority.

The ABS Campus Ministry undergirds student programs of the churches in colleges and universities across the United States. Scriptures in contemporary formats are reaching today's youth with the Christian message. During 1966, some 80,000 foreign students were offered Bibles, Testaments and Gospel Portions in their own languages.

More than 130 years ago the American Bible Society began to put the promises of God into a form that blind people could read. Today the American Bible Society serves the blind not only with Braille Scriptures, but with Talking Bible Records and tapes, too. "The Victory Record" combines passages on faith; "The Kingdom of God Record" contains Jesus' teachings. The Anniversary Album records Fifty Favorite Chapters (RSV) and "Bible Stories for Children" is a Braille edition in two volumes. The generosity of supporting denominations, congregations and individuals make it possible for the American Bible Society to provide the blind with Scriptures without charge; 123,234 were distributed during 1966.

DISTRIBUTION OVERSEAS: The ABS share was 45.5 percent of the 48,417,341 copies of Scripture distributed by the United Bible Societies. In Latin America, the paperback New Testament in popular Spanish, Dios Llega al Hombre, is in its third printing and reaching millions of readers in the Americas. In 1965 the American Bible Society asked churches throughout the United States to share in an unparalleled opportunity, when over a half of a million Bibles and Testaments were ordered for the public schools of Ghana. The $10,000 contribution of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. was one of the pledges which made it possible to ship 520,000 Bibles and 45,500 New Testaments (in six languages) to complete the order. The American Bible Society still seeks approximately $30,000 to close out the balance due.

Translators Institutes were convened in Thailand, Japan and Peru to assist large numbers of missionary and national translators in the preparation of new translations and revisions in more than 500 languages. It is also heartening to report major increases in Scripture distribution in Taiwan, Indonesia, Vietnam and India. However, almost to an area, reports from overseas plead for more Scriptures to meet ever-increasing demands.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES: It was with genuine regret that the American Bible Society accepted Mrs. Paul Moser's request for retirement as Director of the Women's Activities Division. She will, however, continue to serve the Society on a part-time basis as a Special Secretary in the Ways and Means Department. Dr. Dorothy E. L. Haas, formerly Executive Director of American Lutheran Church Women in Minneapolis, was inducted as Director of Women's Activities during Advisory Council. The division's National Speakers Bureau now numbers 103 volunteer women who have been recruited by ABS women Field Secretaries. With deep commitment and valuable assistance, these volunteer speakers are encouraging Bible study in women's groups, distributing Scriptures in institutions which are unable to do so for themselves, writing magazine articles and newspaper columns, becoming resource persons in their communities and keeping the women of their areas alert to the concerns of the Bible cause.

ADVISORY COUNCIL: Mrs. Bluford B. Hestir, Jr. and Dr. Horace L. Villee represented the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. Total attendance was 133 representatives of 62 denominations and eight agencies; five denominational observers. The report of the Findings Committee urged all Christians to place special emphasis upon reaching new literates, school children and students, and recommended that the American Bible Society act as a "clearing house" of information on how the Bible is being used in public education. The Council noted the growing interest in Scripture translation and distribution by the Roman Catholic Church, Orthodox Churches, and other churches not presently associated with the Bible Societies' programs. It called upon the American Bible Society to explore the possibility of making its facilities for translating, publishing and distributing the Holy Scriptures available, should these churches now or in the future wish to be associated with such programs.

The new Bible House (1865 Broadway) was dedicated during the American Bible Society's 150th Anniversary—a significant year observed with special events, new Scripture publications and expanded programs of distribution. The American Bible Society extends sincere thanks to the churches of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. for their recognition of its 150th Anniversary on December 11th, Universal Bible Sunday. The Historical Foundation's exhibit in Montreat of valuable Bibles from its collection was another highlight of the Anniversary year, along with the special emphasis on Anniversary projects which was included in The Plan Book for 1966-67.

As the trained servant of the churches, the American Bible Society renews its resolve to make God's Word available to all peoples, in their own languages, in formats suited to their needs, and at prices they can afford. The second phase of the campaign, "God's Word for a New Age," has been projected. The American Bible Society covets the prayers and continuing generosity of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. toward fulfillment of its tasks during 1967 and its mission to "go into all the world" with "God's Word for a New Age—the Book for New Readers."

> "Is the Bible only good for old-fashioned people . . . or does it really have something to say to our generation? The problems (of the new age) are already here and they are going to keep marching on with acceleration. Our problem is to find out how to make God's Word applicable to the challenge of the exploding population. . . . With the skill of modern communication processes and presses, we are now translating the message of divine love for all men . . . to transform the truth into daily life. As a result of this basic premise, all communication of Scripture and daily life is a translation process. The Bible is a living, dynamic Book that must constantly be translated afresh to interpret God's love to us in the situation where we are."

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION

(The Standing Rules require printing of this report in full. Action by the Assembly upon the recommendations may be found in the reports of Standing Committees to which portions of this report were referred. See page 58.)

The following actions were taken on the matters referred to the Commission under the Constitution, and comprise the Commission's report to be included in the Handbook of the General Assembly:

Item A

Overtures from Presbytery of Central Texas; Synod of Kentucky and two of its Presbyteries, Louisville and Muhlenberg; Synod of Missouri and four of its Presbyteries, Missouri, Northwest

Missouri, Potosi, and St. Louis; Synod of Oklahoma, Presbytery of Potomac and the Presbytery of the Everglades to amend the Book of Church Order to authorize Union Synod and Union Presbyteries, suggesting the amendments therefor, and otherwise related generally to such union.

The Commission recommends that these overtures be answered as follows:

I.

That the proper procedure is for the General Assembly to decide first whether it approves amending the Book of Church Order to permit Union Synods and/or Presbyteries.

II.

That, if the General Assembly so approves, the Commission recommends the appointment of an ad interim committee to serve with corresponding committees of the Churches involved to prepare proposed amendments and a comity agreement covering appropriate administrative matters for approval of and presentation by the Permanent Committee on Interchurch Relations.

III.

That amendments to allow and provide for Union Synods and/or Presbyteries require adoption under provisions of Section 30-3, BCO.

The Commission further recommends that the overture of the Presbytery of the Everglades be answered by reference to ITEM II above.

For reference and background material, the Commission attaches hereto a report of its sub-committee adopted as the report of the Commission.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON "UNION" AMENDMENTS

Overtures from the Presbyteries of the Central Texas, St. Louis, and Louisville, requesting amendments to the Book of Church Order which would make possible union Presbyteries and Synods, were referred to this subcommittee for study and recommendation. The overture from Central Texas submits a specific proposal for union Presbyteries, to be added as Chapter 32 to the Book of Church Order; the overture from St. Louis does not suggest the form which such an amendment should take; the overture from Louisville includes a specific proposal for union Synods but none for union Presbyteries.

The arguments for such amendments are feasibility and expediency ("possibility, practicability, and profitability"), and desirability, because the present division and overlapping are confusing "to our people and the general public, often detrimental to good order, likely to divide the Reformed witness, and certainly conducive to competitive and wasteful administrative, plenary, and financial effort at the local level unless extreme care in communication and planning is exercised."

The precedent appealed to is Chapter 31 of the Form of Government. The Presbytery of Central Texas argues that "the principle of a 'union' judicatory is clearly established by the provision for 'union' churches in the constitutions of both the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. and the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and the possibility of a 'union' Presbytery is explicitly forbidden in neither, thus indicating that such an eventuality is in keeping with the spirit of Presbyterianism in both Churches."

Lousville and St. Louis Presbyteries contend that the General Assemblies of both Churches have "recognized the validity and wisdom of union" through their approval of union churches for more "effective" work and witness. (In this connection, note the action of the 1958 General Assembly cited below.)

What is asked is, in baldest terms, that the General Assembly delegate to lower courts by constitutional amendment a power that has heretofore been its most jealously guarded power.

The task of the subcommittee is not to pass on the merits of the requested amendments but to point out the constitutional issues involved, the changes that would be brought about by their enactment, and, if the changes are deemed desirable, what must be done to ensure that they shall be effected by procedures that are unquestionably constitutional.

It should be pointed out at the outset that an amendment of this type involves issues that go far beyond the mere mechanics of polity. It does not seek simply to clarify something already implicit in or to add something new to the constitution. It involves a shift of power and a fundamental change in procedures that would leave in question the effect on some presently well-defined and efficiently executed responsibilities on the Assembly level. There are pragmatic considerations that ought to be explored in depth before new structural arrangements are made.

The most basic issue involved is that of the unity of the Church visible and the justification of denominational separateness. This is primarily theological, but the Church has given succinct expression to the theological basis of its position in Section 2-2 of the Form of Government, and has spoken to this most recently in 1964, when the General Assembly adopted the paper presented by its Permanent Theological Comittee (in obedience to the instruction of the 1961 Assembly) on "The Presbyterian Church in the United States and Church Unity." The full text of this paper may be found in the Minutes of the General Assembly, 1964, pp. 72-76. For our purposes we would call attention to three passages which are not violated by being lifted out of their context. The first is the statement, "We sincerely hold with the Westminster Confession, as quoted above, that the unity of the one universal Church is not fractured by the mere fact of divisions between the structural forms she assumes."

The next is the warning in the final paragraph, "Church union is never to be entered into lightly, but only after the most serious consideration of the issues mentioned above."

The third is the last of the issues referred to, "The Presbyterian Church in the United States . . . must ask what would be the effect of the union on the efficiency of church operation in general, on the Church's educational enterprise, her evangelistic and missionary witness, her institutions, etc. Such matters are primarily practical, but they may in certain instances be more important than those which are strictly theological."

This same General Assembly of 1964 answered in the negative a resolution proposed in 1963 and referred to the Permanent Judicial Commission, asking that Sections 18-6(13) and (17) be amended by adding after "conformed to the doctrine(s) and order of this Church" the words "or those with whom such a relationship is desired" (13) and "or with other ecclesiastical bodies with which union is desired" (17).

Consideration of the constitutional issues involved requires a look back into the history of the Church's attitude toward the power which it is asked to surrender to lower courts by the proposed amendments. Particular attention needs to be given to the matter of "union churches" because this has been cited as a precedent; because all the churches in union Presbyteries or Synods would become union churches, whether it was the desire of the individual congregation or not; and because it is "grass roots."

From the beginning, the power "To receive under its jurisdiction, with the consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries, other ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed to the doctrine and order of this Church," currently embodied in Section 18-6(13), has been vested in the General Assembly. The concomitant power "To authorize Synods to exercise similar power in receiving bodies suited to become constituents of those courts, and lying within their bounds respectively," currently embodied in Section 18-6(14), was not a blanket authorization but left the power of final decision in each particular case with the Assembly. Both these powers anticipated only "reception" of both bodies which might desire to become a part of the Church. It should be noted that this power was to be exercised "with the consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries," a check which would not prevent such change, if it was really wanted, but which would cause those who would make it—both those who desired it and their brethren whom they would persuade—to take a long and careful look, lest they do in haste what they might later repent at leisure.

In 1914, the power "To unite with other ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed to the doctrines and order of this Church, such to be effected by a mode of procedure defined elsewhere in the Form of Government (see Section 30-3)," currently embodied in Section 18-6(17), was added. This "procedure defined elsewhere" requires approval by the General Assembly and recommendation to the Presbyteries, advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries, and approval and consummation by a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly. And it states specifically that "These provisions can be amended only by the same method which is prescribed for the amendment of the Confession of Faith and the Catechisms of the Church. (See Sections 18-6(13) and (17).)" The references to 18-6(13) and (17) are a part of the text, indicating that the requirement is intended to apply to both. To amend the provisions governing union requires the same procedure as is required for effecting union.

In 1955 the General Assembly adopted a recommendation of its Committee on Cooperation and Union that it "authorize its Moderator to appoint an Ad Interim Committee, consisting of the Stated Clerk and three other members—including at least one pastor and one ruling elder from typical 'united' or 'federated' Presbyterian congregations—to collaborate with similar committees of the USA and UP General Assemblies in working out and recommending to the General Assembly plans and procedures for resolving present constitutional problems and for enabling such 'united' or 'federated' Presbyterian congregations more effectively to carry on their work." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1955, p. 152; see also p. 70, for this was the Assembly that dissolved the old Committee on Cooperation and Union and set up the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations.)

This Ad Interim Committee was appointed, met with representatives of the other two Assemblies, and, finding that more time was needed, asked to be and was continued by the Assembly of 1956. The committees of the three Churches met again as a joint committee and agreed to present identical reports to each of their Assemblies in 1957. They had prepared the "new chapter on union churches, which is to be submitted in 1958," but it was withheld that year "because of pending union" of UP and USA Churches. The report submitted in 1957 presented a plan regarded as "preferable" by the committees, but it was pointed out that its effectiveness would "be dependent upon substantially the same action being taken by the other two churches." It began,

> "1. In view of the fact that the Joint Committee unanimously agreed that the preferable way to handle communities where our churches overlap in jurisdiction is neither as a federated church or a so-called 'union' or 'united' congregation, but rather as a comity arrangement between Presbyteries and Synods whereby one Presbytery takes responsibility with the agreement of the other. . . ."

There follows an agreement, adopted by the Assemblies, for the transfer of property "whenever it appears that a particular church of one denomination desires to be transferred to another." The full text of the reports and agreements (identical) may be found in the Minutes of the General Assemblies for 1957: US, pp. 149-50; UPUSA, pp. 120-22. A new agreement substituted in 1962 removed the financial considerations involved in such transfers but indicated the feeling on the part of the General Assemblies that they should have a voice in even these, in the requirement that "the two General Assemblies ask their respective Presbyteries not to receive or dismiss particular churches (note: a constitutional power of Presbytery!) without having first consulted their General Assembly through the Division of Ecumenical Relations of the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations of The United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, or through the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, as the case may be, to enable the Church at large to examine and give counsel as to the general effect of such transfer upon the overall relations between the denominations." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1962, p. 76.)

In 1960 the General Assembly adopted the recommendation of its Standing Committee on Judicial Business that "the proposed material on 'United Churches' be enacted as a part of Chapter 31 of the proposed Form of Government, to be numbered Section 31-2 and have the subtitle, "Union Churches."

This was "in view of the vote of 83 Presbyteries, to wit: 62 for, 9 against, 12 not voting, and in view of the understanding reached between the Committee on Revision, the State (sic) Clerk of this Assembly and the State Clerk of the UPUSA Assembly." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1960, p. 59.)

The following year, 1961, the Form of Government, including this Section, was enacted, having been approved by 81 of the 83 Presbyteries. It should be noted that Section 31-1 provides that "A Presbytery may permit one of its constituent churches to enter a 'federated' or 'union' relationship with a particular church of another Reformed body under the specific terms of an agreement entered into by the highest court of each denomination."

To recapitulate briefly, Section 31-2 was drawn up by a joint committee of the (then) three Churches, charged with the task by their Assemblies, who even before they submitted it agreed unanimously that "the preferable way" was for the churches to become either one or the other rather than both. A comity agreement was entered into by the Assemblies to implement "the preferable way" for those who chose to take it, and that agreement, as revised in 1962, is still in effect. A look at how the churches have responded to these provisions (Section 31-2 and the comity agreement) might be instructive.

Insofar as it is possible to determine from the statistical reports of the churches (for 1965) in the 1966 Minutes of the General Assembly, there are three federated churches indicated as being "United and Federated Churches (US and UPUSA)," and there are two other churches called "union" but not indicated as "United and Federated Churches (US and UPUSA)" by the symbols and footnotes. The three federated churches (Owensboro, Ky., First; Meridan, Miss., Central; and Corsicana, Texas, Westminster) were federated before the enactment of Section 31-2 and have not changed. The five "union" churches are in two Presbyteries: Bowling Green, Franklin and Hopkinsville First, in Muhlenberg (Kentucky); and Fort Worth First and Grace First of Weatherford, in Central Texas. All of these (with the possible exception of Bowling Green, which may have been "united") were federated before the enactment of Section 31-2 and became "union" afterwards. An ironic footnote is the explanatory notation in the 1961 statistical report of Fort Worth First, the largest of the "union" churches, "Losses reflect change from Federated to Union Church." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1962, Part II, p. 116.) The two "union" churches not marked "(US and UPUSA)" are St. Mark of San Angelo, Texas, and Emanuel Presbyterian Hebrew Christian Congregation of Baltimore, Maryland, organized June 3, 1962. The other "united" and "federated" churches of the earlier period, a scattered few in border areas, and some not in those categories, took the "preferable way" and went to one Assembly or the other, with the balance favoring the U. S. Church slightly.

Before turning from the actions of the General Assembly dealing with these matters of union at a lower level than the General Assembly, let us note an action of the General Assembly of 1962, recorded in its Minutes on page 59, that possibly had a bearing on the requests for the amendments. The following recommendations of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business, a part of its report, were adopted:

"II. Referring to the official minutes of the sixteen (16) Synods, recommendations are:

" . . . (c) That the minutes of the Synod of Kentucky be approved with the exception of the report on p. 17 of the Joint Study Committee on Merger. The attention of the Synod should be called to the fact that the Book of Church Order; 18-6(17); 30-3, makes no provision for union or merger on Synod or Presbytery levels. "(f) That the minutes of the Synod of Missouri be approved with the exception of . . . on p. 36 the report of a resolution calling for a committee to study the 'bringing together of their overlapping Synods. (UPUSA and US) The attention of the Synod should be called to the fact that the Book of Church Order; 18-6(17); 30-3, makes no provision for union or merger on Synod or Presbytery levels."

Provision for union or merger on Synod or Presbytery levels, which the Assembly in the exercise of its power of review and control had pointed out to these Synods was not provided for in the Constitution, is what the overtures from Presbyteries of these two Synods and the Presbytery of Central Texas ask. They say, in effect, "If you are not yet ready to unite with other Churches, amend the Constitution so as to make it possible for us to do so." And they support their request with their reasons.

The reasons offered for desiring merger on Synod and Presbytery levels are "primarily practical." But there are also problems that may be raised on Assembly and congregational levels to which "serious consideration" should be given. One of these would arise from the fact that all churches in a Union Presbytery or Synod would become union churches, whether they would or not. Provision has already been made for union on the local level, for those who want it, in Section 31-2, and few have taken advantage of it, but no provision is made in the proposed amendments for exemption from union of those congregations which may not want it.

It should be noted here, because the point has been raised that a "union church" under the provisions of Section 31-2 is not a "union judicatory" even though it does lead to the establishment of one. The "judicatories" (Sessions) originally involved are not "united" by any action on their part. They may be in favor of it, or not, but it is the congregations, with the approval of the Presbyteries, who make the decision. But a Presbytery is not analogous to the sum of the congregations which "belong" to it, nor is a Synod. If either were united under the provisions of the proposed amendments, all their constituent and subordinate parts (willing or not) would be 'united'—Presbyteries, churches, and ministers. No church in a united Presbytery or Synod would have the privilege, granted under Section 31-2, of "ceasing to operate" as a union church. They would be irrevocably united as long as the Presbytery was a union Presbytery, and under a union Synod, such would be the case for its Presbyteries —and their churches.

The "power" of the General Assembly would be fragmented in other ways than merely the matter of union. All Ministers involved would become "full and responsible" members of both, or even three, Presbyteries and/or Classes. And the churches would also be "members" of two, or three, denominations, on half- or third-scale, with exemptions and special privileges that would not apply to their brethren who were non-union.

Whose program and literature would they choose? Some conflicts are anticipated, and there is the effort to make provision for them, but even this recognizes that they must ultimately be thrown into the laps of their General Assemblies, and it does not take into account the problems that may be created for some of the agencies of those Assemblies. To suggest only one, the proposed amendments would provide that a minister should be a member of the "pension plan" of one of the Churches, the one he already belongs to, or the one of his choice if he does not belong to one. This seems simple and reasonable enough, but what of the church he serves? If its next minister belongs to the "plan" of another Church, it will have to shift its payments and perhaps pay at a different rate. And what of the "pension plans" themselves? At the very least, it would vastly complicate their accounting, as well as cutting down on sustaining income. Presbyteries, ministers and churches would be ambivalent (if not trivalent) bodies, a part of both, yet different, and, in case of conflict, free to choose which "master" they will serve, and which "brethren in the Lord" they will be subject to.

Another vexed question is that of "dual membership" for ministers. The General Assembly has consistently ruled against it when the matter was brought up by itself, and an amendment which would have permitted it for foreign missionaries, sent down to the Presbyteries in 1955, was rejected by a vote of 66 against, 21 for, and one not voting. (See 1966 Assembly's Digest, p. 90, for rulings; 1956 Minutes of General Assembly, p. 40, for vote. On the other hand, by the provisions of Section 31-2, ministers of union churches do have dual, and might even have triple, membership; and this Commission has been instructed by the General Assembly of 1966 to draft the proper amendments to the Constitution, for the consideration of the 1967 General Assembly, to allow "dual church membership of missionaries." This will include both "ordained and unordained." What the General Assembly of 1967 will do about this, and the Presbyteries thereafter, if it is sent down to them, remains to be seen.

If it is the will of the General Assembly to delegate its power of union to lower courts, after "the most serious consideration" of the issues involved, it must be remembered that the Constitution had hedged this power about with a requirement that any change be with the approval and recommendation of the General Assembly, the advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries, and the approval and enactment of a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly. Any attempt to circumvent this safeguard by ruling otherwise would seriously undermine the whole concept of constitutional government in our Church. To be unquestionably constitutional, such amendments must have the advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries.

As to the wording of amendments which would effect what is asked,, if it should seem desirable to the General Assembly, we would refer to the advice of the joint committee which drew up Section 31-2 and the comity agreement, that any such plan, to be effective, would be "dependent upon substantially the same action" being taken by the other Churches involved. To be assured of such action, it is our judgment that the amendments ought to be agreed on before submission by some such representative committees of the Churches involved as those which jointly drew up the present Section 31-2 of the Book of Church Order. According to a press report, the UPUSA Assembly approved and sent to its Presbyteries an amendment which it understood was identical to one that had been presented to the US Assembly. A suggestion that the proposal be studied "in view of the Presbyterian, U.S., action" (referring the proposed amendments to this Commission), was replied to by Dr. Blake (the Stated Clerk) who said, according to the report, "that if this were only a two-way overture, it could be held for parallel action, but since the RCA General Synod will have it in hand also, the requested action should be taken." Our information, from the Stated Clerk of the RCA General Synod, is that no such amendment was submitted to or acted on by them, and no such amendment has been discussed by official representatives of the UPUSA Church with official representatives of the RCA General Synod—or of our Church.

If the General Assembly should be tempted to take independent, unilateral action, without such consultation, it should take note that differences will have to be reconciled, after consultation and agreement, by later amendments. An expression of willingness, unless it is properly implemented, would have little meaning and could lead to confusion and controversy.

Our recommendation would be that, if the General Assembly thinks such an amendment should be submitted to the Presbyteries, the overture of St. Louis Presbytery, which simply asks the General Assembly to "amend the Book of Church Order making possible the formation of union Presbyteries, Synods and Classes where these judicatories of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Reformed Church of North America, may deem such united effort wise and consistent with the needs of the Church," be answered (1) by inviting the other two Churches to join with us, if it should be their will to do so, in appointing special ad interim committees which would be charged with (a) jointly drafting a uniform, mutually acceptable form of amendment for this purpose, (b) considering any changes that would make Section 31-2 of the Book of Church Order and their corresponding enactments uniform, and (c) drawing up a comity agreement covering matters of administration at Assembly level where there might be conflict; and (2) by appointing such a committee for consultation with the committees of the other two Churches, if it should be their will to appoint them. We would recommend further that the overtures of Central Texas and Louisville Presbyteries be answered by reference to this action, if it be taken.

With regard to the "comity agreement" referred to in the recommendation of the preceding paragraph, Section 31-1 of the Book of Church Order provides for a "federated" or "union" relationship of a particular church with a particular church of another Reformed body "under the specific terms of an agreement entered into by the highest court of each denomination." There should be such an agreement, submitted to and "entered into by the highest court of each denomination" prior to or simultaneously with the approval of any amendment permitting union Presbyteries or Synods. This should, in line with the suggestions of the report of the Permanent Theological Committee adopted by the General Assembly in 1964, take into account matters relating to the work of Assembly agencies such as "Annuities and Relief," the "Minister and His Work," the field program of the Board of Education, the relationship of union Presbyteries and Synods to the Board of Church Extension, etc. If there is not such an agreement, an amendment covering only the "court" relationships of union Presbyteries and Synods could create more problems on the Assembly level than it would solve on the Presbytery and Synod levels.

Item B

Overtures from Synod of Mississippi, the Presbytery of the Everglades, the Presbytery of Knoxville, the Presbytery of Asheville, the East Alabama Presbytery, Harmony Presbytery, and Tuscaloosa Presbytery to rescind as unconstitutional the action of the General Assembly of 1966 which made the Presbyterian Church in the United States a participant in Consultation on Church Union.

The Commission, having made a study of the constitutionality of participation by the Presbyterian Church in the United States in the Consultation on Church Union, recommends that these overtures be answered in the negative for the reason that the General Assembly is authorized to correspond with other Churches, Section 18-6(16) BCO, and authorizing the Church to participate in Consultation on Church Union falls within this power. The Commission notes that Union may be effected only with those "ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed to the doctrines and orders of this Church." Section 18-6(17) BCO.

Item C

Overture from the Presbytery of Harmony relative to circularizing the Church.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

"The properly authorized distribution of a publication by an agency of the General Assembly does not violate the injunction against circularization of the Church and its members."

Item D

Overture from Westminster Presbytery to amend Section 13-2 BCO by adding thereto a new sentence as follows:

"The General Assembly shall elect a Vice-Moderator from among the Commissioners of the Court, who shall automatically be a Commissioner to the next meeting, at which he shall be in nomination for Moderator.'

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the statement: "The language is sufficient and appropriate to accomplish its intended purpose."

Item E

(See page 57.)

Referral from the 1966 General Assembly of overture (h) from the Presbytery of Kanawha relative to the term "men" in the Book of Church Order.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

"With regard to church officers, wherever the nouns 'man' or 'men' or the personal pronouns 'he,' 'him' or 'his' occur, such words shall be interpreted in the light of the last sentence of Section 9-2 of the Book of Church Order, which reads, 'Both men and women shall be eligible to hold Church offices.' "

Item F

Referral from the 1966 General Assembly of Item 2 of the report of the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures (Minutes 1966, p. 86) and the referral from the 1966 General Assembly of Item V, 2, of the report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business (Minutes 1966, p. 100) relative to "regular procedure in communication among courts and individuals.

The Commission recommends that these items be answered with the following statement:

"Except where necessary for the administrative and judicial business of the Church courts, the Book of Church Order does not prescribe any procedures for the regulating of correspondence among Church courts and individuals. However, each Church court and individual bears a special responsibility to see to it that all such communications shall be directed toward the promotion of the peace, harmony and purity of the Church and shall be consistent with and within the affirmances of the Book of Church Order and the pronouncements of the General Assembly. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp. 115-116.)"

Item G

(See page 57.)

Referral from the 1966 General Assembly of overture (f) from the Presbytery of Mecklenburg relative to "limited term for officers."

The Commission recommends that proposition 1 of this overture be answered in the affirmative. (See BCO, Sections 29-1 and 29-11.)

The Commission recommends that both parties of proposition 2 be answered in the affirmative. (See BCO, Sections 29-1 and 29-11.)

The Commission recommends that the first part of proposition 3 be answered in the negative, except where such a commission is expressly constituted as a judicial commission. (See BCO, Sections 19-2 and 19-3.)

The Commission recommends that the second part of proposition 3 be answered in the affirmative, but with the understanding that such a separate commission does not necessarily have to be made up of different individuals. (See BCO, Sections 19-2, 19-3 and 19-4.)

The Commission recommends that proposition 4 be answered with the statement that the powers of a particular judicial commission cease with the rendering and reporting of its verdict and the commission must be reconstituted in order to function thereafter. (See BCO, Sections 19-4 and 118-3.)

Item H

Referral from the 1966 General Assembly of Item X, 2, of the report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business (Minutes 1966, p. 106) relative to "ministers serving the Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson, Mississippi."

The Commission recommends that this item be answered with the following statement:

"If a minister shall request permission of a Presbytery to accept work not under the jurisdiction of the Presbytery and if the Presbytery determines that the nature of the work is proper to the ministry of the Gospel and that the particular work serves the best interests of the Church and the minister, it may grant such permission. (See BCO, Section 29-9.)"

Overture from the Presbytery of Atlanta relative to retired ministers.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

"A retired minister must secure approval of Presbytery for all work in which he desires to engage. (See BCO, Section 16-2, and Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 91.)"

Item J

Overture from the Presbytery of South Carolina relative to the examination of "extraordinary" candidates.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

"Section 27-5 of the Book of Church Order requires that the type of examination for extraordinary candidates be determined prior to the examination, and the motion for approval of the examination for extraordinary candidates must be made at the meeting at which such candidates are examined, the motion to be voted on at a subsequent regular or called meeting and requiring a three-fourths vote at such subsequent meeting for approval."

Item K

Overture from Harmony Presbytery to clarify Section 27-5 BCO. "And shall be voted upon in a meeting subsequent to the one in which the motion is made" with particular reference to whether a "subsequent meeting" may be an adjourned meeting of the one at which the motion was made and, if so, how much time must elapse before holding the subsequent meeting.

The Commission recommends that the overture be answered with the statement:

"A subsequent meeting is not an adjourned session of the same meeting but a later meeting, either the next stated meeting or a special meeting regularly called upon not less than ten days' prior written notice in the manner prescribed in Section 16-9 BCO."

Item L

Overture from the Board of World Missions (Minutes 1966, pp. 27, 101) to amend the Book of Church Order to permit missionaries of our Church, both ordained and unordained, to establish full ecclesiastical relationship with both the Church in the United States and the Church to which they are related in missionary service abroad.

In answer the Commission recommends that Chapter 8 of the Book of Church Order be amended by adding thereto Section 8-17 as follows:

"A member who is serving abroad as an unordained missionary under the Board of World Missions may become a member of the Church to which he is related in missionary service. The Session of his Church shall retain the member's name on its active roll, and he shall be considered a member of both Churches. The provisions of Section 29-10 BCO, shall be applicable in the case of a member who is an officer in his Church."

The Commission further recommends that Section 16-2 BCO be amended by adding thereto a sentence as follows:

"A minister who is serving abroad as a missionary under the Board of World Missions may become a member of a Presbytery of the Church to which he is related in missionary service. His Presbytery, in such case, shall retain his name on its roll, and he shall continue to be a full and responsible member of it, subject to its jurisdiction, in every respect."

Item M

Overture from St. Louis Presbytery and Washburn Presbytery that the Book of Church Order be amended to allow to local churches the option of organizing their officers as a unicameral system.

The Commission recommends that these overtures be answered in the negative, affirming the statement approved by the General Assembly of 1965 (Minutes, pp. 29, 99):

"An unicameral system already exists in that the Session has supervision and authority over the Deacons (Sections 12-5 and 15-6, BCO) and thereby has ultimate authority for the proper discharge of the functions of the Deacons. Nevertheless the Deacons must organize as a board with officers and regular meetings (Section 12-4) for the better discharge of the specific duties with which the board is charged (Section 12-3). It is only in a church in which Deacons cannot be secured that the duties of the office devolve upon its Ruling Elders (Section 15-6)."

The Commission suggests that further consideration of the proposals be deferred pending consideration of union with the Reformed Church in America as approved by the General Assembly of 1966 (Minutes, pp. 25, 101-102).

Item N

Overture from Hanover Presbytery to amend Section 16-1 BCO to read as follows:

"The Presbytery consists of all its member ministers and all churches within a certain district. When a Presbytery meets, each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A church whose communicants exceed 750 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 750 communicants."

and to amend Section 17-1 BCO to read as follows:

"The Synod consists of all churches in a district comprising at least three Presbyteries and of the ministers who are members of the included Presbyteries. When a Synod meets, each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session.

A church whose communicants exceed 750 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 750 communicants."

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered in the negative in view of the proposed plan of union with the Reformed Church in America which contains a different basis for representation.

Item O

Overture from the Presbytery of Potomac to make clear in the Book of Church Order the Presbyterian doctrine regarding the ownership of church property.

The Commission recommends that the overture be answered with the statement:

"The Book of Church Order when supplemented by the declaratory statement of the General Assembly of 1953 is sufficiently clear."

The Commission further recommends that the General Assembly reaffirm the following statement with regard to ownership of the property of a particular church:

"Item I

The beneficial ownership of the property of a particular church of the Presbyterian Church in the United States is in the congregation of such church and title may properly be held in any form, corporate or otherwise, consistent with the provisions of civil law in the jurisdiction in which such property is situated. The congregation, with respect to such property, may properly exercise any privilege of ownership possessed by property owners in such jurisdiction. In every instance nothing in the manner of tenure of such property or the use thereof shall be in violation of the obligation of such congregation to the body of the Presbyterian Church in the United States as established by the Constitution of such Church.

Item II

Disposition of the property of a particular church rests in the will of the congregation of that church. The congregation is that body of persons recognized as members of that particular church by the respective courts of the Church."

Item P

Overture from the Presbytery of Atlanta that the General Assembly rescind as unconstitutional its statement:

"The Presbyterian Church, U.S., desires at this time to reaffirm the obligation of all her obedient sons and daughters . . . (4) to continue to support and regard with compassion those who practice civil disobedience . . ."

and the overture of South Texas Presbytery to interpret the said statement so that it does not tell any person what his obligation is but leaves all men free to make their own decision.

The Commission recommends that these overtures be answered with the statement:

"The General Assembly has the right and the duty to make pronouncements on all issues and to give counsel on matters of conscience (Section 14-3(2) BCO). The pronouncement to which objection is raised is an in thesi deliverance of the General Assembly and is entitled to serious and prayerful consideration, but an in thesi deliverance is not binding on the conscience of Church courts or individuals when, after prayerful consideration, a different conviction is held. The General Assembly has recognized the right of private judgment belonging to every Church court and to every individual member in matters of conscience. Such differing judgment must be held with great humility. Section 14-3(1) BCO; Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp. 71-72."

Item Q

Overture from the Presbytery of Louisville to interpret Section 27-4 BCO to make it permissible for a Presbytery, upon request of a judicatory of another denomination, to examine and ordain one of its own candidates and to transfer to the other judicatory such candidate as an ordained member.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered in the negative with the statement:

"Section 27-4 BCO does not lend itself to the interpretation requested. The Commission points out that candidates who think that they may receive calls from another denomination should request that they be permitted to take the examination as and when required by such other denomination."

Item R

Overture from Presbytery of Northeast Texas to amend the Book of Church Order to provide (1) for the Session granting certificates of dismission to another congregation to include information whether the person so dismissed has ever been ordained and has served as an officer; (2) for the format of Certificate of Dismission to provide for such information; and (3) for Sessions receiving as members persons who have previously served as officers in other churches to record such information.

The Commission recommends that the overture be answered in the negative with the statement:

"Although such information may be desirable, such amendment would unduly burden the Book of Church Order with administrative detail. It is noted that the information required under Section 15-6(5) BCO is essential because baptised children are non-communing members of the Church."

Item S

Overture from the Presbytery of Washburn to determine whether the Book of Church Order, as presently constituted, gives sufficient guidance to Presbyteries in the matter of ministers or candidates wishing to serve temporarily in other branches of the Church in other countries and if not then to amend the Book of Church Order to make such service possible.

The Commission recommends that the overture be answered with the statement:

"The Book of Church Order as presently constituted does give sufficient guidance to the Presbyteries in the matters of ministers or candidates wishing to serve in other branches of the Church in other countries as set forth in Section 16-2, 26-9, and 24-6 BCO."

Overtures from Washburn Presbytery requesting the General Assembly to determine and declare whether a presbytery may require a minister to adhere to certain doctrinal positions as essential to subscribing to the Church standards.

The Commission recommends that the overture be answered with the statement:

"The Presbytery has original jurisdiction to examine ministers, Section 16-5, BCO, and to receive them, Section 16-7(13) BCO, and, in doing so, may, in good faith, exercise a broad discretion not to be questioned except when exercised with manifest bias or prejudice and then only in specific cases brought to the higher courts by regular judicial process, or by review and control, Section 113-1 BCO, Section 117-1 BCO, Presbytery of Central Mississippi v. Synod of Mississippi, Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp 252 ff."

Item U

1. Case of Judicial Process styled: Complaint
   Presbytery of Tuscaloosa v. Synod of Alabama
   Restyled: Complaint
   W. S. McAliley et al, Complainants v. Synod of Alabama, Defendant.
2. Commission found the complaint to be in order subject to complainants' filing formal complaint with Stated Clerk of General Assembly within sufficient time.
3. Notice directed to be given to each complainant.
4. Record of the case found to be sufficient and complete except for filing a formal complaint.
5. Member of Commission directed to read record of the case Section 116-7 BCO.
6. Commissioner Alexander Henry recused himself as being from the Synod of Alabama.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM NASH, Chairman

MODERATOR'S REPORT AND OBSERVATIONS ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH

Frank H. Caldwell

The adjournment of a General Assembly turns out to be the count-down for its Moderator to be blasted off into "orbit", from which he makes re-entries to his accustomed place of work occasionally to re-arrange the confusion of his desk.

During these months, Mrs. Caldwell and I spent three inspiring weeks visiting missions in Brazil, and I have filled other engagements in fifteen synods, most of which involved the preaching of sermons or the making of addresses. No attempt has been made to analyze and classify these engagements or to compute the miles travelled or the letters written in these fifty-nine weeks.

I wish to express, however, my gratitude for this memorable year of enriching experience, and my thanks to Dr. James Millard and his staff for their ready assistance in many ways, to the numerous individuals throughout the Church who have so graciously expressed the ideal of Christian hospitality, and especially to my associates in The Presbyterian Foundation—Mr. A. Walton Litz and Miss Betty Hutchison—who have so willingly carried a double load while I was engaged in these activities.

With a view to possible clarificaiton of the status and functions of future Moderators of General Assemblies, I propose to submit to this Assembly as new business some proposals supplementing Section 2 of the proposed new Standing Rules dealing with the Moderator. Meanwhile, for my successor in office, I could express nothing better than the hope that during the 107th Assembly and the months following he may encounter the high quality of decorum and cooperation in plenary sessions, and may be the recipient of the heart-warming hospitality during his travels, that I have received during this year.

Before making some observations on the current state of the Presbyterian Church in the United States as I see it, I would like to say a few words about mission work abroad, oriented primarily to Brazil and to the forthcoming Consultation in July. The visits in Brazil last summer were especially illuminating by virtue of comparisons made with a previous visit in 1959 for the Presbyterian Alliance meeting in Sao Paulo and the celebration of the Centennial of the Presbyterian Church in Brazil at Rio de Janeiro. Also, we were able during this more recent visit to attend the annual meetings of two of the three missions in Brazil, thus becoming acquainted with approximately one hundred of our missionaries serving on that field.

In the gratifying new climate of cooperative Roman Catholic-Protestant relations generated largely by the ecumenical statesmanship of Pope John XXIII and Vatican II, the opportunity for a constructive and far-reaching impact of the Gospel in that key Latin-American country seems to me to be the greatest in its history. Our Board of World Missions is alert to this opportunity, as well as to comparable opportunities in other lands with which I am less familiar. Since the illuminating Consultation held at Montreat in 1962, that Board has been in the process of carefully considering the implications of that Consultation for strategy and tactics of mission work in the face of the rapid changes taking place throughout the world. At another Consultation to be held in Memphis in July and primarily involving a large company of representative missionaries from our various fields, the Board's thinking and planning will be shared and discussed with a view to maximum communication and understanding as these missionaries return to their fields to carry out The Great Commission of our Lord. Without the slightest implied depreciation of the constructive work also being done by the other program Boards of the Church, the Board of World Missions is to be commended for the alertness and far-sighted planning of its particular phase of the total mission of the Church in today's world.

As to the state of the home Church, it is not likely to lapse into a Rip Van Winkle sleep or to decompose in dry rot for any lack of prodding criticism, both from without and within. Moreover, if we are to live up to the ideal of being a "Reformed Church always reforming itself", we shall be wise to listen with discernment and discrimination to such criticism as may point the way toward needed renewal and reform. We should be guilty of sheer arrogance to assume that we are "the true Church", and that it is only the churches with Bishops wearing rings to be kissed which need reform!

The Presbyterian Church faces problems and weaknesses which will not just go away if we ignore them and proceed with "business as usual". In both the rate of net membership growth and establishment of new congregations, we confront what someone has called "the decrease of the increase". In candidates for the ministry, it is just decrease—17.5% in a period of five years. In per capita giving, Presbyterians show up very well in the context of comparison with other denominations, and for the first time in our history, the Church came within a minor fraction of 1% of providing benevolence funds for all Assembly Boards and agencies as budgeted and approved. This achievement was made, however, less by notably increased giving than by cutting budgets to the bone. Our stewarship of means more validly warrants a blush of embarrassment than a flush of pride when viewed in comparison with the development of teh Gross National Product, the number of hungry and diseased Lazaruses crouched in wretchedness at the gates of our affluent society, or the lavish expenditures made for status-symbol luxuries and for indulgence in major and minor vices.

Long ago, Presbyterians were analyzed in terms of three kinds—Reformed Presbyterians, United Presbyterians, and those neither united nor reformed! More recently, the Presbyterian Church, U.S., has been analyzed in terms of five groups—"Concerned Presbyterians", the "Fellowship of Concern", those concerned about the "Concerned Presbyterians" and the "Fellowship of Concern", the unconcerned, and the confused! Putting labels aside, any realistic report on the state of the Church today must acknowledge the existence of tensions not easy to categorize either as to their real causes, the seriousness of their actual or potential destructive effects, or the possibility of positive and constructive fruits.

The Gospel is indeed a Gospel of peace. But whatever else the Scriptural term shalom means, it surely does not sanction the relaxation of complacency. The peace that Christ promised His disciples is somehow to be geared in with the occasions when He declared His own soul to be "troubled even unto death". He was not just making soothing rhetoric when He said, "Do not think that I have come to bring peace on earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword."

Most of the great leaps forward in the lives of individuals and in the life of the Church have come out of tension. The Church faces its task today in the midst of multiple explosions —of populations, of knowledge, and of technology, as well as of the bombs of war and the clamoring of oppressed peoples at home and abroad for freedom, justice, and the dignity of man.

Differences of perspective, insight, and conviction among churchmen striving to carry out the mission of the Church are as inevitable as the upward flight of sparks. "When everybody thinks alike, somebody is not thinking!"

After a year of travel in various parts of the Church, a Moderator is by no means equipped to be an ecclesiastical cardiograph, capable of tracing the heartbeats of the people of God within his communion. He is, however, afforded a rich and intensified opportunity to know the executives, staffs, and members of the Boards and agencies of the Church, who, at the level of the Assembly, are charged with the planning and direction of the programs and activities approved by successive Assemblies.

I find them to be Christian men and women endowed with superior talents, and dedicated to their tasks under a sense of the call of God. They are acutely aware of the problems confronting the Church in the midst of perhaps the most cataclysmic revolution in history. They do not pretend to have infallible solutions of all problems or pat little answers to all questions. They share with the Apostle Pau the human limitation of those who "know in part and prophesy in part". But, with a faith that both drives and sustains, a hope that both lures and guides, and a love that responds in gratitude to God and in self-giving service to man, they are faithfully and earnestly seeking to fulfill the ministry which God has given to the Church in Christ.

I do not depreciate the tensions, the problems, and the perplexities which confront the Church at this time. But not in my lifetime have I know as much ferment of earnest, creative, imaginative, and constructive thinking and pulling together as a team in the service of the Lord as that which is in process among the Boards and agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the United States today.

This is no time for Christians to express distrust in the Holy Spirit by selling short the Church. It is no time to embrace change just for the sake of change—or to resist change because it is so much easier to be complacent and maintain the status quo. God is not dead, nor is He restricted to the insights of our honored church fathers of the seventeenth century or the patterns of programs which worked well in the nineteenth century. The Church is not obsolete, but it must be alert and resilient enough to be prepared to alter its strategy, tactics, or structure in order to fulfill its mission in this rapidly changing world. Now is the time of all times to hear and to heead Paul's plea to that problem-ridden congregation at ancient Corinth when he said to them: "Strive to excel in building up the Church."

The way of the future does not promise to be smooth or comfortable, but I am confident that it will be forward and upward under the leadership of Him Who is "the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

STANDING RULES

SECTION II. THE WORK OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY BETWEEN ITS MEETINGS

20. Agencies and Committees

20.1 The General Assembly may create the agencies needful for its continuing work of evangelization, nurture and benevolences. Those agencies on which the largest areas of responsibility are placed shall ordinarily be titled "Boards." The Assembly may create the committees, both ad interim and permanent, needful for its work as the highest court of the Church.

20.2 A statement of the area of responsibility assigned to any new agency or permanent committee shall be approved by the General Assembly before the new body is created. This statement shall be incorporated into the manual of such agency or committee.

20.3 Each agency or permanent committee shall operate under a manual approved by the General Assembly. A newly-created agency or permanent committee shall present such a manual to the Assembly within a reasonable time.

20.4 Every amendment to such a manual shall receive the approval of the General Assembly before becoming effective. Any civil charter or amendment thereof needed by an agency or permanent committee shall similarly receive Assembly approval before being presented to the civil authority for recording. The full textual wording of any amendment to such a manual or civil charter approved by the General Assembly shall be printed in the Minutes of the General Assembly.

20.5 Each agency and committee shall submit annually to the General Assembly, in the spirit of faithful trusteeship but with all practicable brevity, a report concerning its area of responsibility and its discharge of that responsibility. Such reports shall include minutes of the proceedings of its policy-making body, audits of all accounts for which it is responsible, and, in conclusion, all of its recommendations.

21. Ad Interim Committees

21.1 Any motion, resolution or overture involving the appointment of an ad interim committee shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee, which shall recommend to the Assembly whether such committee is needed, or whether the matter can be better handled by reference to an existing agency or committee with instruction to study and report; and whether an ad interim committee ordered by the Assembly shall be appointed, and the chairman named, by the Moderator.

21.2 A vacancy occurring on an ad interim committee may be filled by the Moderator's appointment.

21.3 Any recommendation by an ad interim committee which would affect the Benevolence Budget must be presented to the General Council by February 1 preceding the General Assembly meeting. The General Council shall present a specific recommendation on the matter to the General Assembly. Any recommendation by an ad interim committee which would affect the current Operating Expense Budget must be presented to the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation by January 1 preceding the General Assembly meeting. The Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation shall present a specific recommendation on the matter to the General Assembly.

The General Council has particular responsibility in the area of immediate and long-range planning for the program of work for the whole Church and in the area of finance for the agencies through which this program is accomplished. It shall be related to the agencies as provided under the Manual of the General Council. Any request for the General Assembly to make adjustments in the division of responsibility among the agencies or to create new agencies shall be referred to the General Council for its recommendation to the General Assembly meeting.

23. Permanent Committees

23.1 For continuing aspects of its work as the highest court of the Church, the General Assembly maintains the Permanent Judicial Commission and the following Permanent Committees:

Assembly Operation

Instructions To Stated Clerks

Reports from Presbyteries

The General Assembly instructs the Stated Clerks of Presbyteries as follows:

1. Secure from the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly the latest forms of blanks. Order just enough for the year, allowing a few extras for churches which may lose the set sent them.
2. Make the report in clear, distinct writing, especially the columns of names and figures in the Statistical Tables. Omit all fractions of a dollar in the money columns. If it is $10.50 or less, enter $10.00; if $10.51 or more, enter $11.00. Add all columns, if possible, on adding machines. Proofread the adding machine work before mailing. Attach adding machine slips to the report. Make the vowels in the names of Ministers, churches and post offices very distinct. Printers have much difficulty with vowels which look very much alike.
3. When a church does not make a report, enter it in the listing according to post office; give number of Ruling Elders, Deacons, and members from the last report.
4. When a Stated Clerk of Presbytery is ready to make out his statistical report to the General Assembly, he is requested to study the report of his Presbytery in the Minutes of the General Assembly for the preceding year. All of the statistical reports are uniform in arrangement and each Stated Clerk should use the report of his Presbytery in Assembly Minutes as a pattern.
5. Fill out the statistical report blank, giving list of churches according to post office. Where there is more than one church at a particular post office, list those bearing numerical titles first; follow these with other churches alphabetically arranged. If a Minister serves more than one church, the number of churches should be indicated by the figures in parenthesis opposite his name. Ministers who are not serving a church or churches in the Presbytery must be listed at the bottom of the statistical report with occupation and post office. Give number of candidates. The Stated Clerk of the Assembly must have this list to perfect the alphabetical list for the Minutes.
6. At the close of the church year, the Stated Clerk of the Assembly will forward to each Presbytery's Stated Clerk an Official Roll of the Ministers and licentiates as of December 31. This list must be carefully checked as to: degrees, occupation and mailing address. Immediately upon completion of this roll it should be returned to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly.
7. Mail to the Stated Clerk, Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., 341 Ponce de Leon Ave., N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30308, all reports from the Presbytery just as soon as they are prepared. The Standing Rules requires that all these reports shall be in the hands of the Stated Clerk by March 1.
8. Mail overtures and other official correspondence, including a list of Commissioners, at earliest possible date; otherwise, the printing of the Handbook will be delayed. Send each overture upon a separate sheet of paper, written only on one side, duly signed by the Stated Clerk. (Read also Standing Rules 7 and 8.)
9. Notify promptly the Stated Clerk of the Assembly when a change is made in the Stated Clerk of Presbytery.
10. Notify the Stated Clerk of the Assembly on cards supplied by him of the reception and dismission of Ministers within forty-eight hours after the meeting of the Presbytery, or, when dismission is done after action by Commission on the Minister and His Work.
11. Stated Clerks of Presbyteries are instructed to send Sessional statistical reports, along with Presbytery's statistical report, to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly.

Reports from Synods

The General Assembly hereby instructs the Stated Clerks of Synods as follows:

1. Notify the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly before the meeting of each Assembly of the formation or dissolution of Presbyteries within the bounds of their respective Synods; of the time and places of the next meeting of these bodies; of any changes which may be made in the Stated Clerk of Synod. These three things should be attended to immediately on the adjournment of Synod. A marked copy of the printed minutes is not an official notification. An official letter should be written covering the items mentioned above.
2. Send an attested copy of Synod minutes to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly for presentation to the Assembly. Such copy shall be marked on the cover "Attested Copy," and the formal attestation shall be placed at the close of the journal minutes. (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1960, pages 61 and 155.)

PRAYER FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States fully recognizes the efficacy of the prayers of God's people, and the necessity for divine guidance in its own deliberations; therefore,

Resolved, First, That the General Assembly recommend to all the churches under its care to offer special prayer during the devotions of the Sabbath preceding the meeting of the General Assembly in each year, that God would be of great mercy so give the Assembly the wisdom that cometh from above, and so direct all its plans, discussions and decisions as to promote His own glory and to advance the kingdom of Jesus in the earth.

Resolved, Second, That the above preamble and resolution be printed annually in the Appendix to the Minutes of the Assembly.

INDEX OF CHURCHES

The General Assembly of 1930 directed that the Alphabetical List of Churches be printed in the Minutes (see page 80 of 1930 Minutes).

Explanatory Note

Churches are alphabetized both by name and by postoffice.

Where the name of the church appears first the Presbytery is then given in parenthesis, followed by the name of the town or city, and the date given indicates year of organization. Street addresses shown under names of towns or cities. Towns or cities are listed first when similar names of churches occur.

The Presbytery is used instead of a page number for reference to Statistical Reports. For the convenience of those who are not familiar with the presbyteries, an alphabetical index, with page number for each presbytery is given on page iv-Part II.

This index is as accurate as it could be made by comparing the reports of the presbyteries with the reports from the individual churches. Where any discrepancy occurred as to postoffice, the report of the latter is used. In some instances, therefore, this index will vary as to postoffice from the statistical tables printed in the Minutes.
